

Chapter 229 Rage

Lin Kang had not expected that not only had nothing happened while he was at the police station, but he had even gotten five thousand from a police officer. He was so happy that he barely remembered who he was.

The five thousand was not enough to pay back his debts, but it could be used as an opening bet. Maybe he would have a stroke of luck and win big.

He had just reached the door when he heard a deep voice behind him call out his name. He turned to see Chen Ruhai walking over to him, hands behind his back.

Lin Kang did not have a good impression of any member of the Chen family.

Especially Chen Ruhai. If not for his intervention, Sis might have married into a rich family. Chen Yuzhou's money would then be his money, and he could use it however he wished to. All his debts would be gone.

Lin Kang thought that Chen Ruhai was looking for him regarding what he did to Chen Yuzhou today. Fearful of retribution, he tried to ignore Chen Ruhai. He spun away after just a glance, but Chen Ruhai's tone changed.

"Lin Kang, Zhou said that you were brought to the police station and asked me to bail you out. Are you alright?"

Lin Kang was stunned. Since when had Chen Ruhai been so nice to him? He used to either scold or chase him and his sister away. Why such a change of heart today?

Suddenly, he thought of a possibility. The father-son duo were afraid that he would leak what he knew.

Lin Kang could not help but feel overjoyed. The Chens were always so arrogant, but now they were bowing and scraping in front of him.

"I'm alright. What's the matter?" Lin Kang asked casually. "Are you here to pick me up? Hurry up and bring the car over. What are you standing there staring for? Can't you see? I'm exhausted."

Chen Ruhai was shocked and he looked furious. It had been decades since someone last dared to speak to him this way.

Even the movers and shakers of Tong City were polite to him and would never walk all over him.

Trash like Lin Kang was speaking to him this way!

But this piece of trash was withholding a secret. Chen Ruhai swallowed his anger and forced out a false smile.

"I'll drive the car over. You can wait for me here."

Lin Kang initially wanted to test the waters. He had not expected that Chen Ruhai would not only not fight back, but speak to him nicely.

This was Chen Ruhai, the man who usually held his nose so high up it touched the clouds. And he was actually listening to him.

Lin Kang felt his heart soar. Did this mean that he could order the Chens around however he wished to in the future?

Haha, Chen Yuzhou, Chen Ruhai, your day has come!

Lin Kang got into Chen Ruhai's car. Xia Genghuai and I followed behind in Xia Genghuai's car.

Along the way, I could not hear what Lin Kang and Chen Ruhai were saying, but I could see Lin Kang reach out and pat Chen Ruhai on the head, like an older brother affectionately patting his younger brother's head.

I figured that Chen Ruhai must be hopping mad. The old man was very conscious about his image and Lin Kang was stepping all over him.

Lin Kang must feel so powerful to be able to tear down the might Chens.

The car drove through the downtown area, not heading towards the Chen family home. Instead, they headed towards the marina with the most tourists in Tong City.

How strange, I thought. Where was Lin Kang going? I was just wondering if he was going to escape by boat when Chen Ruhai's car stopped at the marina.

To my surprise, Lin Kang really did get on a boat. It was not the kind to escape in, but a luxury cruise ship.

He breezily swaggered toward it, and Chen Ruhai followed quietly behind him.

This luxury cruise ship had been operational in Tong City for less than a year and was the biggest cruise ship in the city.

Interest in gambling had increased in the past few years, but casinos were illegal. As Tong City was by the sea, some enterprising businessmen from the tourism industry had procured a cruise ship. Once it set sail in international waters, they would open the casino.

The way Lin Kang made his way familiarly around the area, it was clear that he was a regular.

The cruise ship was eight stories high and got more luxurious the higher you went. Lin Kang had Chen Ruhai buy entry tickets and climbed up the stairs. I trailed them from far behind.

"Yo, who's this? If it isn't Lin Kang. You still have the cheek to show up here."

They had just reached the third deck when four young men stepped out and blocked the way.

The four young men were not dressed as security. Rather, they were wearing floral shirts and looked like they were up to no good.

The leader of the men had a shaved head and was skinny. He did not look like a local, but more like a southerner, and his accent was different.

Baldy was the shortest of the men, but the fiercest, and his swearing left Lin Kang reeling.

"F you. How dare you show up here? When are you going to return the hundred thousand you owe Boss Ho? If you don't pay it back today, we'll take one of your legs."

Not only was Lin Kang not cowed, he even stuck his chest out proudly. "It's just a hundred thousand. Who said I wasn't going to return the money?"

"Meh, you have money? Did you sell your sister to Black Alley? Don't you think we know how poor you are? To tell you the truth, we've already calculated how much money you have on you right now. You're only worth your internal organs. I'll deal with you once we're in international waters."

Lin Kang did not back down. "Baldy, don't say it like that. He's going to be taking care of my debts from now on."

He patted Chen Ruhai's chest as he said that. Chen Ruhai's eyes widened and he instinctively asked, "What?! Why?"

"You don't want to? Well, then I've got plenty to tell the police," was Lin Kang's reply.

Chen Ruhai swallowed his fury. "Fine."

Lin Kang burst into laughter. "Heard that? You can't tell me you don't know the head of the Juen Group, Chen Ruhai. Your measly hundred thousand is nothing to him. Get out of my way. Don't block my path to fortune."

Even from where I was, I could see Chen Ruhai's eyes flash with burning rage in the split second that Lin Kang turned away.

Lin Kang moved forward, then noticed that Chen Ruhai was not keeping up. Chen Ruhai was not a young man anymore, and could not climb stairs that quickly. He was not as strong as a younger man, and could not move as fast.

In a fit of pique, Lin Kang grabbed him by the collar and yelled at him, "Stupid old man, stop dawdling. Walk faster, damn it!"
