

Chapter 234 Absolute Trust

It was not safe on the deck. I dug through the rescue bag and found bandages to wrap around Lin Kang, then heaved him onto my shoulder. I moved towards the cabins, drying him off as I went.

I opened a random cabin door. Lin Kang had already vomited out all the water he had swallowed. I laid him on the bed and checked that his breathing and pulse were normal. It looked like he was out of danger, so I smacked his face a few times. As I expected, he started waking up.

"Ahhh!"

He started screaming the moment he woke up, and I rushed to cover his mouth in shock. When he calmed down, he recognized me.

"Zhang Chao, what are you doing here?"

I rolled my eyes. "If I wasn't here, you would be dead. Do you remember what happened?"

At the mention of what happened, Lin Kang sat down heavily. "Oh my God, of course I remember. Chen Ruhai wanted to kill me! Let go of me, I'm going to look for him."

He was ridiculous. I wanted to check to see what actual trash he had in his brain. Why did he not use it once in a while?

"What are you looking for him for? The people on this ship will take his side. The boss is his close friend. And now that we're in international waters, he can get rid of you without taking any responsibility. What's the use of looking for him? Think!"

At this, Lin Kang shrank back, unsure of what to do.

"I can't just leave it like that." He put a hand over his stomach and spoke, his lips trembling. "I want to duke it out with him. I want revenge. Damn it, Chen Ruhai, fight me!"

Lin Kang was unable to calm down after his brush with death. He was soaked to the skin, and his eyes were brimming with anger. He muttered to himself but did not rush out. It was now my chance.

I poured him a cup of hot water. "This is my cabin. No one will find you if you stay here. When we reach the shore, wear a hat and follow me off the ship. You aren't badly injured. Once we get back on land, go overseas, and don't think about revenge. You're no match for Chen Yuzhou and Chen Ruhai. Tong City belongs to them, they hold all the power."

"No! Brother-in-law, you don't understand. I have a way to make Chen Ruhai beg. This time, I won't give him a second chance. I want him dead, no, I want his life to be a living hell." Lin Kang leaned closer to me. "Brother-in-law, I haven't told anyone this before, only you. You saved me, so I believe that I can trust you. Did you know? Chen Yuzhou killed someone!"

I obviously knew that Chen Yuzhou had killed someone, I had seen the footage. However, if it was just for this knowledge, Chen Ruhai would not be so afraid of Lin Kang. I felt that Lin Kang must have some proof on hand.

"Is that why Chen Ruhai played along with you just now?" I asked.

"Yes."

"I advise you to forget it. Just because you know he killed someone, it won't make a difference unless you have proof," I told him.

"Of course I do! I know where the body is. I helped him bury it after the deed."

I had wondered what kind of proof Lin Kang had that he was holding over both Chen Yuzhou and Chen Ruhai.

I had not expected that he helped Chen Yuzhou bury the body. With a body, the evidence was enough to convict Chen Yuzhou. No wonder Chen Ruhai had been so scared.

However, I could not be sure if Lin Kang was telling the truth. I could not fully trust a gambler's words.

Therefore, I asked, "How did you bury a body? I can't believe you dared to. Also, you haven't done this before. Why would Chen Yuzhou ask you to do it?"

Burying a body was no easy feat. It was difficult to hide a body so that no one would find it for years.

Tong City was near both the mountains and the sea, and seemed to be a good place to discard a body. However, no one really hid a body in the deep mountains, because it was too difficult to bring a heavy body there. It was even harder to dispose of a body in the sea. Even if you tied rocks to it, the current would bring the body back to shore in a few months. This murder had taken place long ago enough that there was no way that the body had not been found.

"I'm not that smart," Lin Kang admitted, "But I'm not stupid either. My sister taught me how to."

"Your sister?! Lin Fang taught you to dispose of a body?"

"Pretty much, yes. When Chen Yuzhou committed murder and didn't know what to do, he approached my sister, and we disposed of the body together."

"You told Chen Ruhai that only you knew the secret."

"I lied to him. I was afraid he wouldn't cough out the money."

I was not sure which new detail shocked me more: that Lin Fang had been involved in the murder that Chen Yuzhou committed, or Lin Kang's absolute shamelessness.

"You want to use this against him?" I asked.

This was a given, but I wanted to goad Lin Kang on.

"Yes. Hah, once I reveal this, Chen Yuzhou will be sentenced to death by firing squad. Chen Ruhai will understand what it means to live life in a living hell."

"I support you," I said.

Lin Kang was happy to hear that. He nodded and smiled at me, thanking me.

I was still shocked by what I had heard.

What kind of relationship did Lin Fang and Chen Yuzhou have?

According to her, it was one-sided, with Chen Yuzhou pursuing her relentlessly. I had seen that for myself.

According to him, he had been scammed by Lin Fang into giving her money. This had been backed up by multiple people and Lin Fang herself did not deny it. It could not be made up.

I always thought that they had been telling partial truths and keeping the whole truth hidden. Perhaps Chen Yuzhou had been pursuing Lin Fang relentlessly, and Lin Fang had used Chen Yuzhou for money.

I thought that they were using each other and antagonizing each other, but I had never imagined that they might be working together.

Chen Yuzhou had gone to Lin Fang after killing someone. If that was not absolute trust, what was it? At the same time, Lin Fang had helped Chen Yuzhou dispose of the body. This was not the body of a cat or dog but an actual person. Being an accomplice was also a crime!