Chapter 276 Opponent

I always thought that she hated me because my uncle, who she loved so much, had died in the car accident too. But if she had been having an affair for so long, why did she hate me?

"Master Li, this way please. You finally came today, Xiaoke waited for you all yesterday."

As I was thinking about my aunt, the elevator door opened near me and in the midst of the polite greetings, Li Ge was escorted out.

I backed away quickly and bowed my head. Because of my cap, Li Ge did not recognize me. Actually, judging by how eager he was, Li Ge was probably not interested in even glancing at me.

He practically ran to the private room; you could feel a breeze as he went by. Xia Genghuai was right, Li Ge was addicted.

At the room, Li Ge prevented anyone else from entering. All the staff stood outside.

He fished out two hundred notes and gave the two staff one each, "This is a tip. Go get yourself a drink."

Haha, he had not gone overseas for nothing. He knew to tip the prostitutes.

The two staff knew what to do. After Li Ge closed the door, they moved further away. There was not even a naked woman kneeling outside the door of his room.

How strange. Everyone on this floor was here to have a certain type of fun. Since he was already here, why was he worried about being overheard?

He was only deceiving himself. Did he think that no one would know why he was here if no one heard him? He was clearly here to visit a prostitute, not to learn English behind closed doors.

After confirming that no one was watching, I slowly strolled over before realizing that I had been too careful. This area had no staff and no surveillance cameras. It was a blind spot.

I was sure that Li Ge had picked this spot on purpose. How mysterious. It was already obvious that he was here, what did he want to hide?

This room was isolated at the end of the corridor. There was a window to the left. I would have to enter the room via the window.

This was simple for me. And with no one around, it could not be easier.

I climbed out of the window into the still. There were no security systems outside, and there was an eight-story building below. I used a similar method as the one I used with Tsai Xiaobing and easily slipped into the room's window.

All the private rooms here had an entertainment area and a rest area. There was a large bed in the rest area, as well as a bathroom. I happened to come in via the bathroom.

I quietly sneaked out to see Li Ge pulling on a pair of leather pants.

Yes, it was definitely Li Ge. He had taken off his suit and changed into an entire outfit made of shiny leather. The leather top was very revealing. It looked very flamboyant, like the ones that male prostitutes wore.

That was not all. He also put on a dog collar with a chain and turned to kneel in front of Xiaoke who was wielding a leather whip.

Damn, city slickers certainly knew how to have fun.

I had only been in Lady Of The Night for a few hours, but I had already endured more shocks than I could bear.

I could not tell who shocked me more. Li Ge in front of me, or Zhang Mei just now.

These people seemed to take off their masks and reveal a hidden side of themselves in this place.

Xiaoke seemed to be a completely different person from the person who accompanied me. She was dressed in a German military uniform and wore army boots. She had one foot on Li Ge's... balls.

Li Ge did not look like he was in pain. In fact, he looked like he was enjoying it.

He knelt on the floor and looked up at Xiaoke with beseeching eyes that were brimming with tears.

"Mistress, Doggy did a bad thing. Please punish me."

Xiaoke whipped him hard and he cried out. But you could tell from his tone that he was enjoying it...

I really had nothing left to say.

At this point, I no longer had sufficient vocabulary to describe what I was witnessing. I mutely took out my phone and started recording everything in front of me.

Li Ge was so polite and refined in the daytime, but he was indulging in such nighttime activities!

After filming one hour of footage, the two finally finished. Li Ge lay back on the bed to catch his breath and Xiaoke also looked exhausted.

It was about time, and I emerged from the bathroom.

The two of them looked at me in shock, unable to react. After a while, Xiaoke cried out,

"Ahhhhh! Who are you!"

"Zhang Chao! What are you doing here?!"

They both tried to hide beneath the blanket. Li He tugged harder and covered his whole body, while Xiaoke lost and could only cover her head.

"What are you hiding for? I've already recorded everything. I have to say, Master Li, you've got some strong tastes."

I mercilessly ripped off the blanket and took a few more photos of them. Li Ge tried to hide, but I caught hold of the chain around his neck and yanked him back. He had not taken his outfit off yet.

"Zhang Chao, let go of me. There are no grievances between us. Why are you doing this to me?"

I scoffed. "No grievances? Master Li, do you have amnesia? Who was the person who tried to steal my girlfriend from under my nose? Did you think I was blind?! You should be glad I didn't punch you."

"A graceful lady is well-suited for a gentleman. You and Xiaoxiao aren't married yet. Why can't I pursue her?!"

I backhanded him and laughed in his face. "Do you think you sound reasonable? Take a look at what you're wearing. In what way are you qualified to pursue her?"

Li Ge winced, but he remained stubborn. "Don't forget who I am. My father won't let you get away with this."

His immaturity amused me. "I know you're Li Liang's son. When I post these photos online tomorrow, I'll be sure to indicate clearly that these are Mayor Li Liang's son's photos."

Li Ge was close to tears. "Zhang Chao, I'm begging you for mercy. My father will kill me. If not for my sake, at least do it for his sake. He treats you well."

He was close to getting down on his knees. I laughed and reached over to smack Xiaoke's butt. "You can leave first."

Xiaoke had been afraid at first, but now she turned to me with a dazed look and did not move.

She pressed lightly on my shoulder, as if needing support, and pushed her full breasts against my arm.

"Master Zhang, I fell asleep before I was satisfied the last time. Perhaps..."

I smiled, "You want to go another round?"

Xiaoke had dropped the innocent act. She licked me on the neck with her soft pink tongue.

"Master Zhang, I'll take good care of you."

Li Ge watched eagerly as Xiaoke seduced me. Anything to keep my attention off him.

I moved and chopped Xiaoke in the neck. She collapsed without a whimper.

I covered her body with the blanket, saying, "Since you want to, you can take another nap."

Li Ge was frozen with fear. He scooted back into the furthest corner of the bed. "I'm warning you. Don't come any closer. I know how to box."

I smiled. "Then show me."

How could he dare to? His fancy moves were fine against normal people, but he was a poor opponent for a special forces soldier like me.

There were tears in his voice as he begged, "What do you want? I really won't bother Chu Xiaoxiao again, okay? I was wrong. Please spare me."
