

Chapter 293 Blood Feud

"Don't worry. Tomorrow, I'll accompany you to Lutong Advertisements."

I calmed Chu Xiaoxiao down with great difficulty. I wondered where I was going to sleep that night, but Chu Xiaoxiao did not sleep either. She curled up on the sofa and stayed up until morning.

I felt extremely guilty when I saw how miserable she was. I could only hope that things could be resolved as soon as possible.

Chu Xiaoxiao and I were ready to leave at seven in the morning.

To my surprise, I bumped into Han Kun again while eating breakfast.

I did not dare to say too much to him. He was too smart, and I was worried that I would give the game away.

Chu Xiaoxiao had no interest in eating. She urged me out of the door, but when she drove onto the highway, she did not drive in the direction of Lutong.

I felt wary, but I dared not ask her where we were going.

After half an hour, we stopped in front of a high-end office building.

"We've arrived?"

"This isn't Lutong," Chu Xiaoxiao replied, "We're here to see an accountant who's an old friend. He has links with the tax department. I want him to investigate Juen's taxes."

I did not know much about tax, so I followed her upstairs.

It seemed that she was not close to this friend. He was not very friendly to her, and might not be much help.

After the accountant, we went to see a lawyer.

It was afternoon by the time we were done, and we headed to Lutong.

The employees at Lutong had no idea that something had happened to me. They happily greeted Chu Xiaoxiao when she arrived.

"This is my personal bodyguard. Where's Mr. Lu?" asked Chu Xiaoxiao.

"Mr. Lu went overseas. He'll be back in a few days. Also, the accountant is looking for you, Manager Chu," the receptionist said.

Chu Xiaoxiao motioned for me to follow her into her office and called the accountant to come over. The accountant rushed in and closed the door behind him. "Manager Chu, our project with Juen is completed, but it's been more than two weeks since the invoice deadline and they haven't paid us yet. I can't pay for a number of things without the money. We put a lot of money in the Juen project."

Chu Xiaoxiao frowned. "Have you chased them?"

"Of course. Today, Juen's finance department replied me to say that our advertisement was badly made and that they won't pay!"

"What? They already ran the ad." She ground her teeth together. "Chen Yuzhou did this on purpose. How shameless!"

"What can we do now? If we take them to court, it will take years. We're just a small business and our cash flow isn't great. If we don't get paid for this, we'll lose money this year."

"He came to knock on my door even though I didn't go look for him," Chu Xiaoxiao mused, "Alright, thanks for coming by. I'll think of something."

After the accountant left, Chu Xiaoxiao said darkly, "Lu Tong's a sly fox. He must have heard the rumors and left the country to stay out of the battle. Juen is a powerful company. Even if we win them in court, they'll only lose some money while we might be dragged to death. What should I do?"

"Isn't business about trust?" I asked.

Chu Xiaoxiao sneered, "Chen Yuzhou is used to having his way. He doesn't do trust."

I smiled. "You don't understand what I mean. Business is about trust. How many advertisements in Tong City are created by Lutong? If you look at it that way, everyone in Tong City knows that Chen Yuzhou isn't being reasonable. He's being shameless, and we can go tit for tat."

Chu Xiaoxiao's eyes lit up. "That's right! We have three huge LED screens in Tong City. Two are at the big mall and one is at the train station. We'll use them." She immediately called one of the designers Xiaomin in.

Chu Xiaoxiao requested that Xiaomin make an advertisement that was a complaint. Dazed, Xiaomin asked, "Is it too much? 'Shameless'? 'Pay what you owe'? We might get sued."

"Let them sue us. We'll deal with it when it comes," Chu Xiaoxiao assured her.

I shook my head. "No, you can't do that."

Chu Xiaoxiao was startled, and Xiaomin quickly chimed in, "Yes, even if the Juen Group is being shameless, we're no match for them."

I laughed. "I mean that that's not enough to anger him. Add 'Chen Ruhai took the hit for his son'."

They both gasped. Chu Xiaoxiao said, shocked, "You're vicious."

"You can't be conscious about your image in a war of words. It's about how shameless you are. There's only one way to beat a shameless person: by being more shameless than them. Chen Yuzhou is only hiding in the back right now. We need to make him really angry," I repeated, "We can screen videos as well. If you have any of Chen Yuzhou's embarrassing incidents, you can put them on repeat all day and night."

Chu Xiaoxiao perked up. "Of course there is. Someone recorded it and put it online. I just need to download it and we can play it. Do it at once, Xiaomin."

Xiaomin looked as if she was about to cry. "Boss, I think Juen will kill us."

But Chu Xiaoxiao was ruthless. "If the company goes down, I'll compensate everyone with one year's pay. I only want revenge. I don't want anything else."

I was so touched that I did not know what to say. If I ever did anything to betray Chu Xiaoxiao in the future, I would castrate myself.

In fact, Lutong had many smaller billboards in addition to the three LED screens. However, the LED screens had the widest reach with the lowest cost.

Posters needed to be customized before printing. We could use that method after Chen Yuzhou had responded to Chu Xiaoxiao.

"After Zhang Chao injected capital into Lutong, we bought some marketing accounts. We can use them too," added Chu Xiaoxiao, "I'll contact them now. We were going to use them to increase our competitive edge, but now we're using them to take someone down."

I could not hold Chu Xiaoxiao back. She seemed like she would rip out the throats of everyone who harmed me with her teeth.

When that was all done, she turned her attention to Liu Rong, Zhao Zichen, and Rock.

I told her to calm down. "You're Zhang Chao's girlfriend and what you're doing represents him. Now that you're aiming at Chen Yuzhou, if any of the others really have a feud with Zhang Chao, they would definitely help him. I don't need to look for them. They'll come looking for us."

Chu Xiaoxiao nodded. She was overwrought, overexcited, and running on adrenaline. My heart ached for her and I was worried, but there was nothing I could do.

It barely took a minute before the billboards started making an impact. The three LED screens were in very prominent positions and it was as if Chu Xiaoxiao was scolding Chen Yuzhou in front of the whole city.

Additionally, Chu Xiaoxiao had downloaded the video of Lin Kang urinating on Chen Yuzhou. This had been secretly recorded by all the witnesses. It had gone viral then, but going viral online had very different connotations from being played on repeat on a big screen in the middle of the city.

It was barely two in the afternoon and the Internet was already buzzing with excitement.

Chu Xiaoxiao and I even drove to see one of the billboards. The plaza was filled with people, all pointing at the screen and laughing.

By three o'clock, it was all over the news.

After Chen Ruhai's death, Chen Yuzhou's control over Tong City took a big hit. The news would never dare to air this if Chen Ruhai was still alive.

Within a short while, Lutong employees called Chu Xiaoxiao. The police were there, demanding to speak to the person responsible.

She told them, "Tell them that I'm responsible and that none of you know anything. All of you take a week's break."
