Chapter 11

Their intentions “Don’t you dare to touch him!” Ace gasped at the loud voice before hiding behind Dominic’s back. He crouched down and turned himself into a small ball. He clutched Dominic’s shirt tightly in his small fist.

“Stacey? What the hell is this behaviour?” Dominic asked with a deep frown.

He didn’t like how Stacey just barged into his room, without his permission. On top of that she was acting as if she owned this place. Her attitude was not acceptable to him at all. “You think something is wrong with my behaviour? What are you doing?” Stacey asked with a mean frown as she invited herself in the room by herself and walked toward him. She stood in front of him with a clenched jaw and hardened eyes. She glared at Ace which made him crouch some more.

MAN

“Stacey! You are scaring him!” Dominic snapped at her in irritation while holding Ace’s little hands assuringly. “What are you doing here with him, Dominic?” Stacey asked in irritation. “That’s none of your business. What are you doing in my room without my permission?” He asked in a cold tone. He didn’t like the interruption at all.

“Exactly what I am talking about! It’s your room. No one has the permission to come here, not even me and here you brought this rogue pup. Why?” She asked with a deep frown.

Stacey couldn’t take it anymore. At first she had to bear that woman’s attitude and then Dominic’s ignorance and now this stupid pup is taking space in Dominic’s heart as well! This mother-son duo is getting on her nerves and it’s been hardly one day. “Stacey, you are sounding ridiculous. He is hardly two years old and you are competing with him?” Dominic asked as he was reaching the end of his patience.

If only she wasn’t, he would be Luna! “You can call it whatever you want but I don’t want him here. Throw him out of the room right now.” Stacey demanded while fuming. She couldn’t bear him there another second. “What right do you have to order me that?” Dominic asked in an intimidating tone as he glared at her. He didn’t like the disrespect she was showing him. “I am the future Luna of this pack!” She said in a prideful tone with her chin held high. “And I am the Alpha of the pack. So, keep your tone and eyes both down while talking to me.” He let out a small growl as the colour of his eyes flickered.

Stacey looked at him in shock. It’s the first time he used his alpha tone in her. It happened because of that stupid little rogue pup. She looked down at Ace who let out a whimper in fear after hearing his growl. He felt the negative energy. “Fine. If you don’t throw him out of here, I will do the work!” Stacey declared with gritted teeth before forwarding her hand at Dominic’s back where Ace was hiding. “Stacey, what a-..!” “I will break your hand if you dare to even think of touching him. I am not even kidding.”

Everyone turned around to see Athena standing there with her canines half out. Her wolf was half in control. She really wasn't joking when she said she would break Stacey's hands. Her mother instincts were high in alert and she can cross any limits to make her baby feel safe and protected

"Mommy!" Ace exclaimed as soon as he saw his mommy standing at the door. He came out from Dominic's back in a flash before running toward her. He jumped in her open arms before hugging her tightly and hiding his face at the crook of her neck.

"What did you just say?" Stacey asked with gritted teeth but for some reason she was trying to hold in her frustrations inside her.

"Exactly what you heard." Athena said in a cold tone while glaring at Stacey and Dominic. "Stay away from my son. I don't want YOU anywhere near my son." Even though she was talking to Stacey, her eyes were on Dominic who was glaring back at her as well. She turned around to leave the room with Ace after giving him one last look.

"Did you just hear what she said?! How dare she! She is staying in my pack and dares to talk to me like that! Are you going to do anything about that?" Stacey snapped while fuming as she looked at Dominic for an answer.

"Stacey, I don't know what's wrong with you but you are getting on my nerves. Please leave." He said as he closed his eyes and pinched the bridge of his nose. He wouldn't have tolerated her for so long if it wasn't for....! "Oh, now you find me irritating. Is it because of that rogue and her pup?" Stacey asked in a shaky tone as she looked up at him with teary eyes. "Stacey, calm down. Why are you getting so insecure over them? You are going to be my Luna in a few days. You are not supposed to act like this."

Dominic said in a tired tone. He didn't like what he just said but he said anyway. "You might be right. I am maybe looking too much into things but I can't help it, Dominic. I love you. I can't lose you. I am afraid of that. Please save me from this." She said in a soft tone as she stood really close to him. Her hands were holding his hands. She looked him in the eyes with hope.

"How can I save you from something like this?" He asked in utter confusion while slowly trying to pull his hands back from her hold. Stacey noticed his tries but ignored it as she tightened her hold around his hands.

"When is the ceremony of me taking up the role of Luna?" She asked, suddenly getting serious. He frowned hearing his question as he couldn't understand where it came from.

"It's after two weeks. You know that." He answered.

"Yes, I know. And I want you to make it after one week." She announced her demand in a strong voice, making him frown at her deeply, "After one week? Isn't that too soon? What's the hurry?" He asked, not liking the idea at all. He wouldn't have any complaints if she demanded that two days ago. But things have changed now. With his rejected mate in front of his eyes, in his pack and with the crazy mate bond, it's too much for Dominic. He needs time to sort things out with his rejected mate first before taking a step forward with Stacey, And one week is very little time to do that. But he can't say no to Stacey. That will ruin everything he worked for!

"It's not soon, Dominic. Rather you have taken long enough to fulfil the promise. You need to make it happen after one week. Otherwise you know what I can make happen." Stacey said in a hard tone as she looked him in the eyes.

His eyes darkened hearing her. He didn't like her attitude nor did his wolf. He let his wolf take control for a moment. His canines came out with his eyes turning completely black as he gripped her throat tightly. He let out a loud and scary growl. "How dare you threaten me?! Don't forget who I am. I am Dominic, the Alpha of Alphas' of this region! And you, a brat, think you can threaten me?" He asked and his voice echoed in the room as his wolf was talking as well. "D...do.. Dominic... yo...you are Hu... hurting...me..." Stacey tried to free herself from his grip but he wasn't budging it. "What were you saying? You were talking about making something happen, right? Do you have any idea what I can make happen? I can fucking kill you right here for disrespecting me." He growled on her face before letting go of her throat. She fell on the ground immediately after that as she coughed out loud to get some air inside her lungs. She was breathing hard as she looked up at him with fearful eyes. "I... I...am sorry, Dominic... it's just... I love you too much and I want to be yours as soon as possible. I don't want to lose you." Stacey cried while looking down on the floor. Dominic closed his eyes to gain control once again. He fisted his hands tightly to control his temper. "Fine, I am going to do that." He said in a cold tone. She looked up at him in surprise. "Going to do what?" She asked slowly while hoping it's what she understood. She stood back up and looked at him hopefully. "You ceremony. It's exactly one week from now on." He announced in a cold tone. Her eyes sparkled in happiness as soon as she heard him but before she could celebrate that, he spoke up again. "But I have one condition." She frowned hearing him. "What is it?" She asked. "You are not going to interfere in any of my business and completely mind your own business till the ceremony." He stated. Even though she didn't like that idea, nevertheless she agreed because she was ready to do anything for the ceremony. "That I can do. Thank you, Dominic. I love you." She said with a happy smile and went forward to give him a kiss. But he stepped back with a dark look on his face. "Leave and next time knock and wait for my permission to get inside here." He said in a cold tone and turned around to leave for the bathroom. Stacey stood there with fisted hands as she kept looking at his retreating back. She did so much to get this man. She can wait for a few more days. Then he will be her and she will get everything else she wants. Just a few days more...

(Is Stacey the villain? But I liked the name so much! Whose name is your favourite in the book and who is your favourite character so far? Also, what do you Stacey did and why is Dominic agreeing to her demands? Let me know what you think in the review section! And don't forget to leave me a review! I will be waiting! Love you all!]
