

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 1169

Chapter 1169

Elliot held the phone and looked straight at Chad.

“Boss, your phone is ringing, why didn’t you answer it?” Chad put his lunch on his desk and reminded with a smile.

Elliot’s expression was indifferent, and his voice was cold: “Go out.”

Chad immediately withdrew after realizing that he didn’t answer the phone because of himself.

Elliot answered the phone.

“Mr. Foster, the call recording you want has been sent to your mailbox, please check it.” A respectful voice came from the phone.

“Got it.” Elliot hung up the phone, entered the mailbox, and clicked on the new email.

At a glance, he saw a recent recording, which Avery had dialed to Henry.

Elliot turned on the recording, and the content of the call immediately spread in the office-

Avery: [Henry, I will give you what you want as soon as possible. Don’t hurt Adrian again. If you bully him again, I will let you get nothing. He is your relative, not mine! When he died, you buried him, not me.]

Henry: [When are you going to ask Elliot for equity? Give you some time.]

Avery: [Are you in such a hurry?]

Henry: [Do you know how to strike while the iron is hot? The longer this thing drags on, the worse it will be for us. Since you are unwilling to give time, let me set a time for you! How was the week? Just a week!]

Avery: [Good. This week, take good care of Adrian. If he has any mistakes, don’t even think about getting Elliot’s equity]

In an instant, the world went dark.

Elliot looked like someone had pressed the pause button. The body froze, the brain couldn't think, and the eyes stared at the recording on the screen, as if to dig it out.

Avery wanted to give his shares to the person he hated the most for Adrian's sake.

She knew that doing so would anger him, but she still agreed to Henry.

Elliot remembered the last time he asked her, which is more important between Adrian and him. She answered him important.

That's what Avery said he was more important.

Elliot remembered the last time, and she asked him if he could give her everything? Including his company.

He wondered why he was specifically mentioning his company...now he understands. It turned out that Henry asked her for his company.

It turned out that she had already given birth to exchange his company for Adrian.

Does cloud ink match?

Not worthy.

Elliot's eyes were scarlet, his fingers trembling, and he pressed the record and play button again.

He knew that listening to it again would only hurt more deeply, but he wanted to listen.

He wanted to make sure that he didn't have hallucinations just now. He wanted to make sure that the voice in the recording was really Avery's voice.

He even had to make sure that in Avery's heart, Adrian was the most important thing.

After all, Avery always knew that his company was more than a money-making tool for Elliot. It is his relatives, friends, comrades-in-arms!

Without Sterling Group, there would be no Elliot today.

How could Avery agree to Henry's request for Adrian?

She keeps saying that she loves him, is that how she loves him? Oh! no.

At 1 p.m., Avery drove back to Foster's house.

“Avery, have you eaten lunch? If you haven’t, I’ll make it for you.” Mrs. Cooper smiled, “Are you going to the company in the afternoon? We’re going to vaccinate Robert today.”

Avery said, “Then I’ll take him to get vaccinated in the afternoon. I’m not very hungry, you should cook less.”

“Okay.” Mrs. Cooper immediately walked towards the kitchen.

Avery sat down on the sofa, turned on his mobile phone, and clicked on Whatsapp.

She added Cole back.

After successfully adding, she sent a message to Cole: I have basically settled with your father. But I have a request. If you can’t agree to this request, then don’t talk about anything.

Chapter 1170

“Mom!” Robert suddenly came over, hugged her leg, and called out to her.

Avery’s heart was instantly melted.

She immediately put down the phone and looked at her son with a surprised expression: “Baby, mom just watched you play with toys alone, so mom didn’t bother you. I didn’t expect you to come over to find mom.”

She held her son in her arms, and kissed him on the cheek.

“Mom will take you for an injection later, don’t you cry, okay?”

Robert’s black eyes were shining, and he didn’t understand the meaning of an injection at all.

He had injections before, sometimes while asleep, and sometimes with toys to attract his attention, so he didn’t cry much every time.

But now that Robert has grown up, it may not be easy to fool him.

“Avery, if you’re hungry, you can eat some fruit first.” Mrs. Scarlet came over and smiled, “If you told me in advance to come back to eat, you wouldn’t have to wait.”

“I’m not hungry. If I’m hungry, I’ll eat outside.” Avery smiled and said, “I woke up early today and was a little sleepy. So I decided to come back and take a nap.”

“If you are sleepy, you can rest at home. I’ll take Mrs. Cooper and Robert for injections later.”

“I slept for a while. I couldn’t sleep at night after a long sleep.”

“That’s right. When Elliot went to work this morning, Robert cried.” Mrs. Scarlet said with emotion, “If Robert cry in front of your husband, Elliot will definitely not go to work.”

“Robert likes his father so much now?” Avery was very surprised, and kissed his son again, “When mother left, you were still with him. Baby, Why did you cry when Dad left?”

Robert couldn’t answer this question. First, he can’t speak, and secondly, the children cry when they want to cry, not necessarily for any reason.

“If your father knew that you liked him so much, he would definitely be very happy.” Avery said, picked up her phone, took a photo of Robert, sent it to Elliot, and told him about it.

At the same time, she saw Cole’s reply.

Cole: [We can agree to your request. After all, Adrian has already registered with our family. If you don’t return him to us by then, we will see you in court.]

Avery deletes the conversation with him and clicks on Elliot’s conversation.

Elliot didn’t reply.

Avery guessed Elliot is resting now?

He would not see the message until after going to work at about 2:30.

After a while, Mrs. Cooper called her to eat.

She had no appetite, so she put down the dishes after eating a little. She then went back to her room with er cell phone to rest.

Before closing her eyes, she glanced at Whatsapp again. Elliot still didn't reply. She set the alarm clock for 3 p.m. and put down her phone.

Time flickered, it was 3 p.m.

She got up in a hurry and came out of the bedroom.

She put the vaccination book in her bag, and Mrs. Cooper came to her with Robert, who was taking a nap.

After going out, they soon arrived at the community hospital.

Robert was sleeping, but woke up after entering the hospital.

When the medical staff gave Robert an injection, Mrs. Cooper recorded the process with her mobile phone.

During the injection, his expression suddenly jumped from daze to pain, and the reaction was particularly interesting.

"Look, baby." Seeing that his son was about to cry, Avery immediately pointed to the camera, "Let's send the video of your injection to your dad later, okay? Dad will definitely praise you for being a strong and good baby!"

Avery's tears were immediately held back.

The little guy held back his tears, and the amused medical staff also laughed.

After the injection, Avery glanced at the video and sent it to Elliot.

It was already 3:30 p.m., but Elliot still didn't reply to her last message.

Is Elliot busy today?

Avery quickly thought that Elliot hadn't been to the company for a long time because of the wedding. And he used to be a workaholic, so it's normal that Elliot doesn't have time to look at his phone today.
