

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1733

Chapter 1733

“Why is he suddenly interested in the field of Mechanical Engineering?” Avery wondered, “He didn’t tell me.”

“No one else can guess what your son is thinking. As long as he doesn’t commit crimes. Let him do whatever he wants to do.” Mike is now completely free to Hayden.

Avery was not at ease. “Mike, go and see that professor. I want to know why Hayden chose to be this professor’s student. Let’s see what they talk about in private.”

Mike said, “Wait after your surgery. Let’s talk about it later! If your surgery is successful, I’ll go and make an appointment with that professor.”

Avery responded. After she took a nap, Mike came out of the ward.

Gwen and Ben Schaffer stood outside the ward, wondering when they came here.

“Has Avery rested?” Gwen asked.

“Well.” Mike looked at Ben Schaffer, “Avery doesn’t want to see you.”

“I guessed it.” Ben Schaffer had already found Avery’s attending doctor just now, and heard that Avery chose artificial cornea.

Although he can understand Avery’s choice, he still feels a little regretful.

Mike: “Although I hate Elliot and you. If the artificial cornea is not suitable, Avery will use the cornea you found.”

Ben Schaffer looked confused, “Why do you hate me? Gwen hates me too. I didn’t do what Elliot did. It’s enough that you hate him, can you not take your anger on me? Even if you have to take your anger out, why don’t you take your anger out on Chad? Me and Chad are both The people around him!”

This question is really tricky.

Mike couldn’t answer, so he changed the subject, “Avery is asleep, you two, let’s go. She has surgery tomorrow, you don’t have to use it.”

“Ben Schaffer won’t come, I’ll come.” Gwen has already asked for a good leave.

Ben: “Aren’t you busy?”

Gwen said, "I took three days off. Avery operation, I will definitely come. I know I can't help, but I want to be with her."

"Then you Come again tomorrow." Mike said, teasing, "Ben Schaffer came all the way, definitely not just to send corneas."

Mike went to the smoking room to smoke.

Ben Schaffer coughed lightly and said to Gwen, "Let's go and eat! I'm hungry."

"Oh..." Gwen's cheeks flushed, and she followed him towards the elevator, "I'm coming to the hospital tomorrow, so I don't have time to accompany you."

"Didn't you take three days off? Today is the first day, right? I'll go back after your vacation is over." Ben Schaffer smiled when he saw her embarrassed expression. To ease the atmosphere, "We've known each other for so long, why are you still shy?"

"Long time we've known each other doesn't mean we know each other very well. The number of times we've actually met can be counted." Gwen retorted him.

Ben: "Isn't that because you have to work hard here? You can obviously go back to Aryadelle with me..."

"Why should I go back to Aryadelle with you? I can go back to Aryadelle alone." Gwen corrected his words.

Ben: "Then go back by yourself. When you go back to Aryadelle, we can meet every day."

"Are you unconscience?" Gwen frowned and reasoned with him, "When I was at my worst and desperate, it was Hayden helped me. He opened a company for me, and the company has only one model. If I leave, what will happen to Hayden's company?"

This question put Ben Schaffer in an embarrassing situation.

If Avery and Elliot didn't divorce, he could directly ask Hayden or Avery that he could give Hayden the money for opening the company in private.

But now, neither Avery nor Hayden will pay attention to him.

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1734

Chapter 1734

"I will at least let Hayden recover the cost and help Hayden make some money before I can leave." Gwen said his plan, "I will not leave here for at least two years."

The expression on Ben Schaffer's face immediately dignified.

"Ben Schaffer, I know you are getting old, and your parents want to hug their grandson quickly. So I don't want to delay you." Gwen explained the matter to him.

Ben Schaffer secretly said: "My parents began to look forward to holding their grandson when I was 20 years old. After so many years, they have long given up hope."

Gwen: "Oh. I'm serious with you. If you like woman, you just..."

"I'll wait for you for two years." Ben Schaffer interrupted her, "Gwen, I'm very grateful that you confessed to me your next plan today. I'm sober now. It's not without reason that I've been single for so many years. I'm really picky."

Gwen was amused by his words.

"It's pointless to say this now. The plan can't keep up with the changes." Gwen adjusted her emotions and changed the subject, "Although Avery refuses to use the cornea you found, I still want to thank you."

Ben: "You have thanked you several times. No need to thank you any more."

"Because I don't know what to say to you." Gwen frowned, "As long as I think of what Elliot did to Avery, I'm annoyed..."

Ben Schaffer said patiently, "Let's sort it out for you! The divorce was brought up by Avery, and your second brother doesn't want a divorce. Avery insisted on divorce and took Hayden away, but your second brother couldn't accept it. I didn't favor your second brother, just stand in his point of view and tell you why he changed."

"Avery has already given Elliot the domestic company, why does he still target Avery's company in Bridgedale? Elliot wants to break Avery. Is there a way back?" Gwen worried that Avery would have no source of livelihood in the future.

"As long as Avery's eyes are cured, no one will be able to break her back." Ben Schaffer reassured her, "Even if AN Technology really goes out of business, she can do her old job and be a doctor."

Gwen: "It means that Elliot really intends to bring down AN Technology?"

Ben Schaffer shook his head: "He wants to make the company bigger and stronger. There is also an element of anger with Avery."

Gwen: "Oh..."

Ben: "We are brothers and well known each other for so many years. Elliot can't be so cruel to Avery."

"You're nice but you're not my second brother, how do you know what he thinks in his heart. Do you really want to put Avery to death?"

Ben Schaffer stopped: "If your second brother really does this, then I have nothing to do. No matter what he does with Avery, his three children have a Mother and he can't force Avery to death no matter what."

"You'd better remember what you said now." Gwen had an idea, "If my second brother has any plans to deal with Avery next, you must tell me as soon as possible."

"Okay."

The next day.

Avery received a corneal transplant. The surgery went relatively smoothly.

After the operation, she was sent to the ward.

"It smells good." Avery smelled an elegant floral fragrance.

"Avery, I bought the flowers." Gwen walked up to her, "I felt that the ward was empty and smelled of potion, so I bought a bunch of lilies."

Avery now has gauze wrapped around her eyes and can't see anything.

The anaesthetic in her eye hasn't worn off, so she doesn't feel any pain.

After the operation, she felt much more relaxed.

"Is Ben Schaffer left?" Avery asked.

"No! He's leaving the day after tomorrow." Gwen held her cold hand, "He's staying in the cafe outside the hospital. Originally he wanted to come to see you secretly, but I didn't let him come."

"He actually wanted to come secretly? Does he think Avery's dead?" Mike teased.

"Mike, he is different from Elliot. He is not as bad as Elliot." Gwen defended Ben Schaffer.

Ben: "Tsk tsk, what did Ben Schaffer do to subdue you so quickly?"

Gwen smugly said, "You're wrong. I subdued him. I will let him stare at Elliot in the future. If Elliot has anything I asked him to tell me immediately about the unfavorable plan for Avery."

Mike gave her a thumbs up: "Avery didn't hurt you in vain."

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1735

Chapter 1735

Cafe outside the hospital. It was 10 o'clock in the morning and there was no one in the cafe.

After receiving the approval of the coffee shop owner, Mike started smoking by the window.

It's not that he's addicted to smoking, but the waiting process was really boring.

Ben Schaffer really wanted to call Elliot to chat. Even if he doesn't talk about Avery, he can talk about something else. But he was afraid of disturbing Elliot's rest.

—After Elliot divorced Avery, he not only had to be busy with his work, but also took care of the emotions of his two children.

—Outsiders can't help with these things.

After thinking about it for a while, Ben Schaffer still called Elliot—

—The user you dialed is on a call, please try again later.

Who is Elliot talking to on the phone so late?

Ben Schaffer put down his phone and lit another cigarette.

When Elliot finishes talking on the phone, he should call him back.

He actually knew very well that when he got on the phone with Elliot later, he would definitely not help mentioning Avery.

Although Avery refused to see him, he imagined her current situation and felt particularly uncomfortable.

He can still have such compassion for Avery, how could Elliot not have it at all? He remembered that when Avery happened something trivial, Elliot could change his face in a hurry. How could the love between them disappear?

About half an hour later, Elliot called.

Ben Schaffer put out the cigarette between his fingers in the ashtray.

“Elliot, who are you talking on the phone with!”

“Norah Jones.” Elliot picked up the water glass and took a sip. “She doesn’t understand my rules. I have told her not to call me after 9 o’clock in the future.”

Norah Jones was the new vice president of Tate Industries. She not only had excellent management experience, but also a proud highly educated.

“Did she fight so hard? Or is she trying to take you down because of your free window?” Ben Schaffer teased.

“We didn’t talk about anything other than work.” Elliot frowned and put down the water glass.

“She wants to gain your trust first. When she gets to know you better, she will talk to you about other things.” Ben Schaffer was afraid that Elliot would be taken advantage of, so he reminded him, “You need someone to comfort you right now. You have to stay awake and don’t be so easily bewitched.”

Elliot felt that Ben Schaffer had been single for too long and his thinking was wrong.

Not to mention that he doesn’t have the energy to take care of personal relationship issues now, even if he has the energy, he can’t find a woman to fall in love with again.

Avery broke his heart.

Elliot didn’t want to talk nonsense with Ben Schaffer anymore, so he hung up the phone.

Seeing that it was 11 o’clock at night, he rubbed his aching temples and turned off his phone.

Norah Jones made a detailed work plan tonight and was very satisfied, so she called him and reported to him.

This report was more than an hour.

Norah Jones’s ambition was to make Tate Industries’s brand of drones the world’s No. 1, so that AN Technology had no place to stand!

When Avery listened to Norah Jones’s report, her face appeared in her mind countless times.

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1736

Chapter 1736

Elliot didn't want to destroy Avery's AN technology. But he seems to be doing it.

He hired Norah Jones and acquiesced to Norah Jones to set such a huge goal.

Regardless of whether Norah Jones can accomplish this goal or not, Avery must have known about it by now.

The funny thing is that even if Avery knew about it, she didn't come to him.

Seeing that the phone was hung up, Ben Schaffer dialed his number again without thinking.

But came the system prompt tone that his phone had been turned off.

"What are you doing?" Ben Schaffer looked at the call that was automatically hung up by the system, and he said himself "I haven't said a word of what I wanted to say! If I knew it earlier, I would n't mention Norah Jones."

Ben Schaffer was very tight in his chest, so he came out of the cafe.

He walked to the door of the hospital and called Gwen.

In the ward, Avery heard that Gwen had answered Ben Schaffer's call, and immediately said to Gwen, "Gwen, go accompany him! I just happened to be a little sleepy and I was going to sleep."

Gwen knew Avery was lying. She had just finished the operation, and soon the effects of the anesthesia would wear off.

It was so painful, how could she sleep.

"Gwen, let's go! When she falls asleep, I'll squint for a while." Mike also opened his mouth.

"Okay! Then I'll go first. I'll come to see you at night." Gwen left the ward.

Mike went to the hospital bed and tucked the quilt for Avery.

"Mike, I'm not cold." It's summer, and despite the air conditioning in the ward, she's still a little hot.

Mike pulled the quilt down a little.

“After a week, your eyes will gradually be able to see things... Looking forward to it?” Mike said this sentence, his tone could not hide his excitement.

The corners of Avery’s mouth rose: “I look forward to it, I hope everything goes well.”

Mike: “It will definitely be. The doctor said that your illness is not a serious one.”

“I know.” Avery always knew that her illness was not serious, but it will affect daily life. “I feel much better now.”

“Well, the professor I told you before, I called and contacted him. He heard that you had surgery today, so he planned to come and visit you at night. I know you really wanted to talk to that professor about Hayden, so I agreed.” Mike said.

Avery hesitated for a moment, then responded.

...

Gwen came out of the inpatient department and saw Ben Schaffer who was waiting at the entrance of the inpatient department.

“Didn’t I tell you not to come to the hospital?” Gwen complained.

“I didn’t go in. I was calling you from outside the hospital gate. I heard Avery asked you to come with me, so I walked in.” Ben Schaffer heard Avery’s voice just now, and his heart was very complicated.

Her voice was as soft and quiet as ever.

The blow of divorce, the blow of illness, did not seem to break her down.

“It’s all because you called me. If you don’t call me, she won’t drive me away.” Gwen glared at Ben, and said, “If something happens, just send me a message.”

“I called your second brother, and he hung up on me. Not only did he hang up my phone, but he also turned off the phone. So I was very annoyed.” Ben Schaffer explained to her, “I originally wanted to tell him about Avery’s surgery today, but after we got through the phone, we talked about another woman, so we’re done.”

“Another woman?” Gwen wondered.

“The new vice president of Tate Industries is a very capable woman. This woman is not only capable, but also quite young.” Ben Schaffer said in a sour tone, “I have to obey, there are some young people nowadays who are getting more and more incredible.”

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1737

Chapter 1737

“How old is she?”

“33 years old.”

“Oh...isn't this older than Avery? To me, this woman is an old sister.” Because Gwen resented this woman, So the tone is very rude.

“Haha...” Ben Schaffer laughed.

Gwen: “Why are you laughing! What are you talking about with Elliot about this woman?”

“She called your second brother for more than an hour. It's late at night in Aryadelle.” Ben Schaffer asked her, “A woman called a man late at night to report. Do you think she is really dedicated to her work, or does she have other intentions?”

“There must be intentions. She wants to hook up with Elliot, it's obvious.” Gwen said and added, “Although I haven't seen but I really hope the two of them are together. In this way, Avery can be completely freed!”

Ben Schaffer: “...”

In the evening.

A senior professor from the School of Mechanical Engineering brought Hayden to the hospital to visit Avery.

After the professor and Avery greeted politely, Mike immediately took Hayden out of the ward.

After the door of the ward was closed, Avery said to the professor, “I don't know why you chose my son.”

The professor smiled and said, “Miss Tate, it was Hayden who sent me an email first and asked me some questions.”

Avery Unexpectedly speechless.

“Let me introduce myself first. My name is Stephen Lewis. I am a professor and vice dean of the School of Mechanical Engineering. I have long stopped taking students. But I like Hayden very much, so I took him as a student.” Stephen said, “I'm 66 years old this year. Your country, Aryadelle has a policy of retiring when you reach the age, but we don't have it here. I love my job, so I still work every day.”

"Mr. Lewis, what did Hayden say when he sent you an email?" Avery especially wanted to know his son's inner thoughts.

Since Avery lost her eyesight, the mother and son have rarely communicated.

Most of the time, it was Hayden who comforted her. If she asked about Hayden's situation at school, Hayden would only choose a good answer to her.

"He told me about his grandfather. He said that his grandfather was an engineer and had been working on driverless cars during his lifetime."

Avery: "Yes, my dad passed away many years ago. Hayden never met his grandfather."

"But Hayden is very interested in driverless systems now. He thinks it's cool. He sent me his resume. I read his resume and thought he was the talent I needed." Stephen Lewis said frankly, "Unmanned systems are actually a high degree of fusion of mechanical engineering and computer science..."

A week later.

The gauze on Avery's eyes was removed.

She tried to open her eyes and feel the world in front of her.

Before the surgery, she couldn't see anything at all.

During the day there was a red light in front of the eyes, and at night it was a vast darkness.

But now, her eyes were no longer a monotonous red light.

She could vaguely see the figures in front of her, but she couldn't tell who was who.

"Mike!" Avery said excitedly.

"I'm here!" Mike held her arm, "How are you feeling? Can you see? Even if you can't see, it's fine. The doctor said it may take half a year for you to return to normal vision."

"I can I saw something." Avery pushed his arm away, "That's the door over there, right?" Her finger pointed towards the door of the room.

Mike was overjoyed, "Yes! That's the door over there!"

"Don't help me, I'll walk over by myself. I can do it." Avery took a deep breath and walked towards the door step by step.

Outside the door of the ward, a voice of discussion entered her ears.

“Avery is really pitiful. I heard that her ex-husband found a new love, and she is still blind.”

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1738

Chapter 1738

Avery’s footsteps stopped suddenly.

“I can’t say that either. After her surgery is successful, she will be able to recover. It can only be said that men have always been fond of the new and disliked the old, and have little affection. Especially rich men.”

Another said, “Avery divorced him, not necessarily. What a bad thing! Maybe her luck is behind.”

Avery heard this and turned back to the ward.

“Doctor, can Avery go home to recuperate?” Mike asked the doctor.

The doctor reminded, “Yes. But you must be careful not to let her go out alone. She should not be able to see clearly now, so she should ask a nurse to watch. If you feel uncomfortable, contact me immediately.”

Mike: “Okay.”

“Also, Avery has stitches in her eyes, and the stitches will be removed in three months.” The doctor said.

Mike asked, “Okay. Is there anything else to watch out for?”

The doctor continued, “Pay attention to eye cleanliness, keep a good mood, and don’t cry. As long as you hold on for a while, you will be relieved when you fully recover.”

“Well, thank you for your hard work.” Mike sent the doctor out of the ward.

The nurse helped Avery to sit beside the hospital bed.

“Miss Tate, do you want to lie down?”

“I’ll sit for a while.” Avery has been lying down for the past few days with a sore back.

“Your eyes will recover soon, why are you so frowning?” The nurse didn’t seem very happy to see her, so she smiled and comforted her, “I have worked as a nurse for many years, taking care of many patients, and seeing many sick people. How painful. I think a healthy body is more important than anything else.”

“I think so too.” Avery smiled, and continued, “Actually, I’m in a good mood. When my eyes recover, I can do a lot, what I want to do!”

Mike: “Yeah! Would you like some soup?”

Avery: “Help me serve it. I’ll drink it myself.”

Mike: “Okay.”

After a while, Mike took the discharge sheet and returned to the ward.

Avery finished the soup and handed the soup bowl to the nurse.

“Avery, the discharge procedures are done.” Mike walked up to her, “I want to take you to the resort to recuperate.”

Avery: “Is this necessary?”

“The sea view room, it’s okay to look at the sea, it’s good for your eyes.” Mike has already booked the house.

Avery readily accepted: “you don’t have to stay at home with me from now on. I’m much better than before.”

“I’m fine again...” Mike supported her and walked out of the ward.

“I heard you talking on the phone last time.” Avery was silent for a few seconds, then said, “Elliot fired Vice President Locklyn and replaced him with a new. He planned to deal with AN Technology.”

These were Mike’s original talk.

Mike looked at her in surprise: “Why haven’t you told me?”

“I don’t know what to say. Even if I asked you to work in the company before, you wouldn’t listen.” Avery’s tone was calm, “AN Technology is me. If you don’t have me, you don’t have to be so tired at all. You don’t have that much interest in starting a business and working.”

Mike: “I’m not as wasteful as you said. Although I don’t really like work, I also need a sense of accomplishment.”

Avery: “Then what do you think?”

"I'll go to the company when your eyes are better." Mike reassured her, "I won't let Elliot hit us."

"Mike, we don't have to fight with him. If we are really not his opponents, then we will accept the result of failure indifferently." Avery prepared for the worst, "I will even join the Tate Industries. I've given up, and I don't feel so bad."

Mike: "It's not there yet. You don't have to be so pessimistic."

Avery: "It's not pessimistic, it's to plan for the worst first, so as not to be caught off guard."

Mike: "Well."

After leaving the hospital, Mike drove Avery to the beach more than an hour away from the hospital.

This was a famous seaside tourist city in Bridgedale.

After staying at the Sea View Villa, Mike took her to the balcony.

It was 4 o'clock in the afternoon, the sun was not as hot as noon, and the sea breeze blows, bringing bursts of coolness.

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1739

Chapter 1739

Mike: "There was a blue-green sea in front, can you see it? The sea is very beautiful."

Avery tried hard to see the world in front of her. Her eyesight was a little blurrier than when she first removed the gauze. So she didn't answer Mike's words.

She could only vaguely see a patch of blue, not the blue-green he was talking about.

"I told Hayden that we are here. It's too far from Hayden's school, so I asked Hayden to live at Gwen's side first, and then come here on the weekend." Mike changed the subject.

"Well." Avery wanted to rest her eyes for a while, "I seem to see a reclining chair."

Mike: "Yes, there is a reclining chair on the balcony. Would you like to lie down for a while?"

Avery: "Okay."

Mike helped her to the reclining chair Lie down.

She closed her eyes and immersed herself in a new environment.

Time flies, and summer vacation was fleeting.

It was September 1st and the weather was fine.

In the morning, Mike made a video call with Layla, and it was night in Aryadelle at this time.

Layla tells Mike that she and her brother are going to school tomorrow.

Robert took a summer early childhood education class and had already adapted to the life of the nursery.

Avery was very shocked after hearing the news.

–Isn't it cruel to send Robert to a nursery when he is only two years old?

If Avery was there, she wouldn't let the child go to nursery so early.

However, Layla said in the video call that Robert was having fun with the children in the nursery, so Elliot decided to continue sending the children.

After Mike finished the video with Layla, he was ready to go to work in the company.

Avery's eyesight is much better now than when he was discharged from the hospital.

If Mike was standing in front of her, she could see Mike's face clearly, and if she stayed away, she could only see the outline of his body.

Her current condition was similar to high myopia.

The only difference from myopia was that she could feel that her eyes were getting better every day.

Since being discharged from the hospital, she has strictly followed the doctor's orders and has never opened her mobile phone. Occasionally Mike would videotape Layla, and she would sneak a peek at the child.

She plans to wait for the stitches to be removed, and then find a chance to make a video call for Layla.

"Avery, the weather is nice today, let me accompany you out for a walk!" The nurse said.

“Yeah.” Avery would go out for a walk every day, accompanied by a nurse.

The nurse took a large satchel and led her out.

After coming out of the villa, the nurse immediately put on a sun hat and sunglasses for her.

Resorts generally have fewer people in the morning and more people in the evening, so they go out every morning.

After walking for a while, Avery vaguely saw a group of people ahead.

“Miss Tate, someone is playing with a drone in front.”

Avery stopped and looked up at the sky.

The drone had just taken off, and it wasn't flying too high. She could see a shadow moving in the air.

“Ms. Jones, Avery has been in Bridgedale for several months, but I asked, she has never been to AN Technology. It is estimated that she has been locked at home every day for the past few months, and she is very sad. Because I really can't find out about her. What have you been doing for months. She didn't appear in any public places at all.”

A man's voice came.

“The divorce was proposed by Avery, how could she hide at home and cry? If she is so clueless, how could she create AN Technology and Tate Industries?” Norah Jones's voice was cold and rational, “Her relationship in Bridgedale is stronger than in Aryadelle. You can't find out about her, it's normal.”

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1740

Chapter 1740

“Ms. Jones, you mean that Avery is secretly planning?”

Norah Jones said, “Hehe, no matter how she is planning, it will not affect my plan. I will step on AN Technology sooner or later. In Bridgedale The establishment of a branch is just the beginning of the game!”

“Mmmm! With the support of President Foster and your courage, President Jones, it will be a matter of time before AN Technology will be killed.”

“Yes! President Foster values you so much, and you will take Tate Industries’s large and small affairs are entrusted to you, which shows that he trusts you very much!” Another person boasted, “Everyone in the company guessed that President Foster is after you!”

Norah Jones laughed confidently: “He really treats me. I’m very trusting. But don’t worry about emotional matters. I’ll talk about it when I finish my promise to him.”

Avery stood not far away and heard their conversation clearly.

Norah Jones brought her team to Bridgedale to set up a branch, with the goal of stepping on AN Technology.

Not only that, Elliot handed over the entire Tate Industries to Norah Jones.

Avery’s face was pale, and her fingers clenched uncontrollably.

She told Mike not long ago that she gave up the Tate Industries, and it was not as uncomfortable as she imagined.

It turned out that she was not uncomfortable because she thought that Elliot would make the Tate Industries run well.

Unexpectedly, he directly lost the company to others.

This person may be Elliot’s favorite object.

Otherwise, how could Elliot trust her so much?

“Avery, let’s go back!” The nurse also heard the conversation of the group in front.

She saw that Avery’s face became pale and angry, and without waiting for Avery to answer, she directly supported her and walked back.

“Avery, don’t be angry with those people. You have already divorced your ex-husband. What happened to your ex-husband and other women is their business.” The nurse was afraid of her sadness and tears, so she clumsily comforted her.

Her eyes finally recovered to the current level, and in more than a month, the stitches can be removed.

After the stitches are removed, she can live a normal life.

If because of these things, sadness and tears affect the progress of recovery, it is really worth the loss.

Avery exhaled heavily, her voice desolate and hoarse: "I'm fine... I'm just a little disgusted."

–Elliot couldn't wait to suppress her career and wanted her to be completely finished.

–Did he think that if he did this, he would make her impoverished and make her utterly destitute? !

Back at the villa, Avery entered the bedroom and closed the door.

The nurse was worried that she couldn't think about it, so she called Mike and explained the situation to Mike.

"I see, I'll go right over." Mike replied.

It was far from the headquarters of AN Technology.

Mike usually came over on Friday afternoon and left on Monday morning. Sometimes he came here on Wednesday, sometimes he didn't.

The nurse regretted it after calling Mike.

Today was Monday and Mike just left in the morning.

It is estimated that he just arrived at the company not long ago.

If Avery knew that she called Mike and asked Mike to run more, Avery would definitely be unhappy.

...

Avery's home in Bridgedale was in the main urban area of the capital of Bridgedale.

Elliot has been here, and more than once.

Elliot decided to come here this time, apparently to inspect the work progress of Norah Jones's team, but in fact, because of the divorce, he still couldn't forget Avery.

They have been completely out of touch for more than two months.

Avery not only didn't contact him, but also didn't contact her friends in Aryadelle, and even didn't contact Layla.

Elliot couldn't figure it out anyway.

–Why is Avery so hard-hearted.

After getting off the plane, Elliot came out of the airport and stopped a taxi on the side of the road.

After getting in the car, he reported Avery's home address.

About 20 minutes later, the taxi stopped at the gate of the wealthy community where Avery lived.