

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1771

Chapter 1771

At 7:30 in the morning, Layla received a video call from Mike.

“Layla, I’m going back to see you and Robert! Are you having a good time?” Mike was packing.

“Ah! Really?!” Layla jumped up excitedly, “Is my mother back too? Are you two coming back together?!”

Mike knew that Layla would ask.

Mike: “Don’t tell anyone when I go back to see you alone? I’ll be sad if you do this.”

Layla’s joy diminished sharply: “Why didn’t my mother come back with you?”

Mike: “Because of your father. She doesn’t want to see your father or quarrel with him. So I’ll go back to see you and Robert first. After your winter vacation, I’ll take you to see your mother.”

“Okay, okay! I told Uncle Eric as well. Well, he can take me to Bridgedale too! Can he take Robert with me?” Layla couldn’t let Robert go, “If I left alone, Robert will be alone at home, how lonely! He must be think of crying!”

Mike: “Let’s see if your father will allow us to take Robert to Bridgedale. After all, he is relatively young and has never traveled far, so I guess your father won’t be relieved.”

Layla: “Humph! I’ll put Robert in my suitcase and take it away!”

“Layla! Don’t do that! You’ll choke your brother to death!” Mike said.

Layla: “I’m talking about that kind of bag for pet dogs! That kind of bag won’t suffocate Robert!”

“You take your father for a fool. Do you know that your every move is under your father’s surveillance? Every time you secretly make a video to your mother, do you think he doesn’t know? How naive!”

Layla immediately raised her head. There are cameras everywhere in the room.

Layla: “I don’t have a camera in my room!”

Mike: “Don’t you know about the hidden camera? As long as he wants to control your life, he will definitely not let you discover the existence of the camera.”

Layla's anger suddenly burned.

Mike: "Layla, be nice these days! Don't let your dad stare at you. It won't be convenient for us to meet then."

Layla: "Okay! I promise I won't be mad at him today!"

After the video call, Layla was in a good mood.

After washing up, Layla was ready to go to breakfast as usual. But today, before going to breakfast, she especially wanted to see her father.

She quietly walked to the door of the master bedroom and gently opened the door a crack.

On the big bed, Elliot slept soundly, completely unaware that his daughter was peeking at him.

"Slacker!" Layla murmured and went downstairs to breakfast.

Time flickered, it was noon.

Elliot was woken up by the phone ringing. When he opened his eyes, he was groggy and hadn't slept enough.

His long arms reached to the bedside table and picked up the phone.

Seeing that Ben Schaffer's call, he immediately connected and closed his eyes.

"Elliot, I heard some news just now." Ben Schaffer's voice was a little tight, and his tone was a little horrified, "Avery seems to have sold AN Technology!"

Elliot's closed eyes opened immediately!

Avery sold AN Technology?

Ben Schaffer spoke quickly, "The accuracy rate of this news is at least 80%! It is said that it was sold at a low price. Because the Tate Industries branch opened, everyone is not optimistic about AN Technology. Avery's shot at AN Technology at this time will definitely not sell good price but she still chose to sell it. Elliot, do you regret it?"

Regret?

Elliot was a little confused for a moment.

Avery quietly sold the company.

In the eyes of outsiders, Elliot definitely forced her to do this.

“Elliot, are you satisfied that you pushed her to this point?” Seeing that Elliot didn’t answer, Ben Schaffer spoke again, “She has already fled to Bridgedale, you two are clearly not guilty of water, so you have to go. Bridgedale has to tell everyone with great fanfare that you will continue to work on AN technology... Although Avery will not starve to death in the future, have you ever thought that it is really low for you to do so? Hayden is not yet an adult. You broke Avery’s back. Do you want your son to suffer too?!”

Elliot listened to Ben Schaffer’s accusations quietly and did not refute. He never thought that Avery would sell the company.

But what Ben Schaffer said was right, since Elliot replaced Vice President Locklyn of Tate Industries and let Norah Jones take over, the relationship between him and Avery was destined to deteriorate all the way.

“You treat Avery like this, don’t you want Hayden to come back to you after Avery has nothing?” Ben Schaffer diverged his thoughts, “Hayden’s personality is like yours, if you treat Avery like this, Hayden will starve to death, I won’t choose to come back to you.”

“Have you said enough?” Elliot’s Adam’s apple rolled up and down, “I don’t regret it!”

On the phone, Ben Schaffer was stunned for a moment. Tonight, he drank a lot of wine. He was taking advantage of the alcohol, so he made this call to Elliot.

Hearing Elliot saying that he had no regrets, anger burned in his chest.

“Elliot, why did you become like this?” Ben Schaffer no longer cared about his feelings, and told his whole heart, “Why do you keep pretending that Avery owes you?! It’s clear that neither of you owe you anything. Who is it, at least in my opinion! Can you not always regard yourself as the center of the world, whoever does not listen to you, you will take revenge on someone, you are really naive!”

“I regard myself as the center of the world. I’ll take revenge on her?” Elliot was startled by his words.

Ben: “Isn’t it? I always think you are a reasonable person, but you are unreasonable to Avery! You think she gave you three children, so you can bully her casually, and she will end up doing it for the children. Stay by your side! You didn’t expect that you made the wrong abacus! So you became angry!”

Ben Schaffer's words made Elliot really angry.

Elliot: "In your eyes, she is so pitiful?"

Ben Schaffer angrily said, "Isn't she pitiful? Elliot, your conscience won't hurt? I didn't know why she insisted on divorcing you, but she was still with you. I scolded her in front of me. Later, I learned the truth, your actions subverted my imagination more and more! You..."

Before Ben Schaffer finished speaking, Elliot interrupted him and asked coldly: "What truth do you know?"

How could he not know the so-called truth?

"You really want me to say it? I didn't mention a word because of your face..."

"Speak!" Elliot shouted angrily, "Tell me the f*ck!"

"Okay! Since You are shameless, then I don't have to worry anymore!" Ben Schaffer also roared, "When something happened to the Jobin family, when we were going to Yonroeville, you received a call from Avery at the airport, why didn't you say Avery? An accident happened too? After all, you don't care that much about Avery! You f*cking told me, I can let you go to Yonroeville?"

Elliot seemed to be given a sap in the head. He clenched his fingers tightly holding the phone, a thin layer of sweat on his palms.

"You said just now... Avery had an accident at the time?" Elliot heard his heart pounding. There were countless noises in his mind, mixed with a clown-like laugh.

Ben Schaffer listened to his rhetorical question and scratched his head: "Avery said you know, do you have to pretend here?"

Elliot: "What happened to her? Ben Schaffer, make it clear!"

His face turned red and white, There was a layer of hot sweat on his forehead, but his body was shivering with cold.

"You're still pretending?! Elliot, you feel guilty, don't you?" Ben Schaffer sneered, "Avery couldn't see and called you, but you left her alone and ran to Yonroeville. I will insist on divorce from you!"

With a 'boom', Elliot felt something collapsed.

“She can’t see? You said she can’t see?” Elliot murmured and repeated Ben Schaffer’s words.

“What do you mean? It’s boring for you to pretend!” Ben Schaffer said angrily.

Dudu Dudu!

Call disconnected.
