

“Elliot is now in Aryadelle. Even if it is useful, we can’t see it.” Emilio, who had been silent all the time, spoke at this time.

“Hehe, if it’s really useful, Elliot was tortured to death by us. Do you think the people around Elliot would not tell Avery? As long as Avery knows that something happened to Elliot, she will naturally find a way. Hahaha! It’s starting to be fun.” Travis said.

Leland Sirois was a little surprised: “Mr. Jones, we earn our money, so there is no need to be an enemy of Elliot, right?”

Leland Sirois didn’t know that Travis was deceived by Elliot of $14 billion.

It was impossible for Travis to tell such a shameful thing to outsiders. So he just made up reasons.

“I have a grudge with Elliot. It was Avery and Elliot who exposed my scandal before.” Travis looked gloomy, “Mr. Jones, you wouldn’t be so brave, would you? If we can control Elliot, then don’t Elliot and Avery just listen to us? Their money and their connections can be used by us. When our wealth surpasses theirs, do we still need to look at their faces?”

Leland Sirois was very embarrassed: “Elliot and I have no grievances and no enmity. I don’t have to go through this muddy water.”

“Don’t worry. I can’t fight an uncertain battle. I’m just trying now to see if I can control Elliot. If I can’t, I definitely won’t take the initiative to trouble him. My energy is limited now. Of course, all of it is used to make money.” Travis said.

“If I can control Elliot, I won’t do too much. After all, we now have our own way to make money. Elliot’s thinking is too simple. Elliot’s success depends not only on him, but also on the entire think tank behind him. Sterling Group is not owned by Elliot alone. If you want Sterling Group, I advise you to dream less. Don't lose yourself and lose your army again."

Leland Sirois reminded.

Travis was much clearer than before.

Travis: "Don't worry, my focus now is on our project."

After speaking, Travis looked at Otto Wiens: "Take me to see the method that you said we can control Elliot."

Otto Wiens immediately led the way.

Emilio followed behind his father step by step to see the method together.

What he was most worried about, he didn't expect to happen so soon.

If the method of controlling Elliot was useful, his father would definitely torture Elliot to threaten them.

At least the $14 billion deceived by Elliot will definitely come back.

And Elliot's character may not be able to bear this loss.

It must be another bloodbath by then.

"Look, the pattern on this screen is the pattern of the device in Elliot's head. I can use the computer to trigger the device in his head." Otto Wiens explained in detail, "These buttons are contraction, relaxation, and electrical stimulation. ...Even if I can't kill Elliot, it should give Elliot a severe headache."

Leland Sirois frowned upon hearing Otto Wiens's words.

Isn't this thing the key device of the resurrection technique? How come there are only so many functions?

"Okay! Hahaha! Mr. Wiens, try it now!" Travis laughed, "Keep stimulating his brain, don't stop until Avery comes to me."

Otto Wiens hesitated, then replied: "Okay. I'll try it. It may not work."

"Mr. Wiens, I believe in you. You will definitely not disappoint me!" Travis said, and sat down in the chair next to him.

Aryadelle. 10 o'clock at night.

Elliot came out of the study and planned to go back to the room to take a bath and rest.

But the footsteps just stepped out of the study, and suddenly there was a sharp pain in the head!

He grabbed his head with one hand and propped himself against the wall with the other.

This pain was not unfamiliar.

When Margaret controlled him before, he threatened Avery like this.

Margaret was dead, who was manipulating him now?

His face turned pale with pain, and beads of sweat appeared on his forehead.

WHEN HIS EYES OPENED

Chapter 2179

He gritted his teeth tightly, preventing himself from screaming in pain.

The two children have already slept, and now the quiet needles can be heard in the villa.

In his case, even if he went to the doctor now, it would not help.

Just wait for the pain to stop on its own.

He thought that as long as he endured, the pain would disappear after a while... But after half an hour, the pain still did not disappear.

He was on one knee, his body weight against the wall.

His thoughts began to wander, his body trembled uncontrollably... The only thing that didn't change was that he still clenched his teeth and made no sound.

It would be fine if he just died.

At least Avery would free in the future!

"Mr. Jones, if he continues to stimulate his brain with electricity, it will be life-threatening for a long time." Otto Wiens kept staring at the time. After half an hour, Otto Wiens reminded Travis.

Travis glanced at his phone.

Avery didn't call herself.

"Dad, why don't I call Avery and ask!" Emilio was afraid of losing his life and it would not end well, so he approached Travis's ear and discussed, "Elliot is not with Avery. Even if he is in pain to death now, I'm afraid I won't tell Avery. I'll call Avery now and ask Avery to take a look..."

Travis was afraid that Elliot was really dead, and the money that was defrauded would not come back....

"Go and call Avery." After Travis finished speaking, Emilio immediately took the mobile phone and came out of the laboratory.

He found a secluded place and dialed Avery.

"Avery, hurry up and call Elliot, or call the rest of Elliot's family to see how Elliot is doing now." Emilio's tone was a little urgent, "People from Margaret's team said they found a way to control Elliot. Just now They tried it for half an hour, and I don't know if it worked."

Avery heard the words, and the calm on her face disappeared.

She hung up the phone and immediately called Elliot.

Elliot's cell phone rang, but Elliot couldn't answer it. Because he has fainted in pain.

The call was made, but no one answered, so the system hung up automatically.

An ominous premonition rose in Avery's heart.

If Elliot was fine, he would definitely answer the phone at this point.

Avery was so frightened that her heart twitched and her eyes became sour.

With trembling fingers, she opened the address book and found Mrs. Cooper's number to dial.

Avery: "Mrs. Cooper! Is Elliot at home?"

Avery's voice made Mrs. Cooper get out of bed immediately: "Sir is at home! He came back for dinner at night and didn't go out."

"Go find him quickly! I want to see him. I can't get through on the phone, I suspect that something has happened to him!" Avery said this, his voice already crying.

"Okay Avery, don't worry. He didn't answer the phone because he fell asleep. It's very late here." Mrs. Cooper comforted Avery, but her heart was already confused.

Mrs. Cooper trotted all the way to the second floor.

As soon as he was on the second floor, he saw Elliot who fainted in the corridor.

"Sir!" Mrs. Cooper forgot to talk on the phone and exclaimed as she ran over.

On the other side of the phone, Avery heard Mrs. Cooper's exclamation, and the picture of Elliot's accident already appeared in her mind.

WHEN HIS EYES OPENED

Mrs. Cooper ran to Elliot's side and wanted to help Elliot up, but Elliot was too heavy, and Mrs. Cooper couldn't help him up by herself.

Mrs. Cooper ran downstairs quickly and called the bodyguard to help.

"Why did the boss faint? Could it be that he is sick? Did you call an ambulance?" The bodyguard hurried upstairs.

Only then did Mrs. Cooper remember that she had a mobile phone in her hand, and the call interface with Avery was still there.

"Avery, Mr. Foster is fainted! I'll call the ambulance first! I'll call you later!" Mrs. Cooper said, hung up the phone and called the emergency center.

Not long after, Elliot was sent to the hospital.

Avery was not in the country, so she was anxious and had no choice at all.

She called Wesley and asked him to go to the hospital.

After that, she called Emilio back.

"You guys are too much!" Avery trembled slightly with anger, "Emilio, if Elliot has any mistakes, I won't let you go! I'll do what I say!"

"What happened to him?" Emilio could feel in her tone that something might have happened to Elliot.

"Elliot fainted! Now he's taken to the hospital!"

"Oh... my dad doesn't want Elliot to die. Avery, you definitely don't want Elliot to be tortured in the future, right? My dad also wants to. It's clear, as long as you return the money you swindled from my dad before, I can persuade my dad to stop bothering Elliot in the future." Emilio discussed with Avery, "If you think it's ok, I will now Just go and tell my dad."

Avery had no choice at all.

After thinking for a while, she agreed to Emilio's request.

If the money was returned to Travis, it would be worth it to stop the endless torture.

At least she doesn't have to worry about it anymore.

Emilio finished talking on the phone, returned to the laboratory, and strode to his father.

"How? Is there any effect?" Travis asked.

Emilio nodded: "Elliot fainted and was sent to the hospital."

"It's amazing! It has such a strong effect!" Travis was very satisfied and looked at Otto Wiens, "Mr. Wiens, you really didn't disappoint me. You work hard, I will never treat you badly."

After the laboratory inspection, Leland Sirois left.

Emilio and his father got into the car.

Travis lowered his face and asked, "What did Avery say?"

"Avery said she was willing to return $14 billion to us. Dad, if she returns the money to us, we will stop threatening them with this matter. It's not that I'm afraid of them, but I don't want to make extra troubles.

Right now, our project has a lot to do. We concentrate on our own business, and we won't make less than them in the future."

"I'm tired of fighting with them. The main reason is that we can't keep up."

Travis leaned back in his chair, pondered for a few seconds, and then said, "You tell Avery that in addition to the 14 billion, they must give me a compensation. As long as she can give me compensation, I will never threaten them again in the future."

Emilio knew that his father would not settle things so easily.

Emilio: "Dad, how much compensation do you want?"

Travis said without hesitation, "I don't want more, just $6 billion! Just round up my $14 billion and give me $20 billion together."

Emilio was frightened by this number and changed his face.

Father, this was the big mouth of the lion.

Even if Elliot and Avery were rich, it was impossible to give out so much money to Travis casually.

"Emilio, just tell Avery like this. If she doesn't want to pay, then let her watch Elliot suffer!" Travis made up his mind.

Emilio saw his father's resolute expression, and knew that his persuasion was useless.
