Chapter 2381

“You don’t have to force yourself to smile at me, it’s really unnecessary.” Eric let Elliot relax, “You are too polite to me, and I won’t dare to come in the future.”

“Heh...” Elliot chuckled, “Avery said to treat you as her younger brother, I and she are husband and wife, and her younger brother is my younger brother, so...”

“No need. I can be Avery’s younger brother, but I don’t want to be your younger brother.” Eric refused decisively.

Elliot was a little angry, but after thinking about it, he was relieved.

As long as Eric recognizes Avery as a sister, it doesn't matter whether he recognizes his brother or not.

After dinner, after everyone was seated, Layla couldn't help but ask her mother, "Mom, is honeymoon fun?"

Avery was stunned for a moment: "It's okay."

She and Elliot walked to the resort on the first day, looked at the beautiful seascape, and met tourists from Aryadelle. The tourists from Aryadelle recognized them and enthusiastically stepped forward to take a photo with them.

The next day, the two of them stayed in the room and did not go out.

Not to say it's fun, not at all.

Avery could stay with Elliot all the time, even if Elliot just looks at each other, he will not get tired of it.

But the way the two of them got along, children must find it boring.

“Then what did you guys do? Didn’t show me the pictures.” Layla complained.

Elliot answered first: “I didn’t take many pictures with your mother. Because we stayed in the room and hardly went out.”

“Ah?” Layla looked surprised. “Why don’t you go out? Isn’t it fun to be outside?”

“Layla, honeymooning is different from ordinary travel!” Mrs. Cooper came over with the soup and talked to Layla, “You will know when you grow up.”

Layla looked up, more curious: “Why is it different?”

“Layla, eat!” Hayden stopped Layla from continuing to ask.

“Okay! Just eat, but I’m not very hungry.” Layla said, picking up the bowl and taking a mouthful of rice.

“Eric, you can stay here for one more night tonight!” Avery saw that it was already dark, so she held back.

“My agent will pick me up later.” Eric said, “I’m going to start work tomorrow.”

“Okay! Since you’re going to start working, I won’t keep you. You can come and play next time during your break. Elliot and I welcome you.”

Eric: “he told me. You better let him be normal!”

Avery: “ ... ”

Elliot: “ ... ”

The next day, in the morning, Layla and Robert went to school.

Elliot and Avery sent Hayden to the airport.

Today Hayden, Mike and Chad set off for Bridgedale together.

Arriving at the airport, Chad reluctantly said to Elliot, “Boss, I have sent you the copy of the recruitment notice. You can see if there are any changes to be made. If you can’t find a suitable assistant, I can come back at any time.”

Mike’s hand was on Chad’s back and twisted him.

Elliot: “You can go to work in Bridgedale with peace of mind. You don’t have to worry about domestic affairs.”

Chad was a little sad: “Okay. I will work hard. Although I have gone to Bridgedale and I will report to you every day.”

Elliot: “You can report to Avery directly! The Tate Industries is under Avery’s control.”

An unexpected expression appeared on Chad's face: "Avery, are you going back to work too?"

"Well. You don't need to report to me every day. It's too troublesome. You can report once a week. I trust you." Avery said.

Chad: "OK."

Avery looked up at Elliot: "You send me a copy of the recruitment notice Chad gave you, and I have to hire an assistant."
