Chapter 2383

Avery: "..."

"Avery, don't think wildly. When children grow up, they will definitely have their own thoughts. As long as they study hard and don't make major mistakes, we don't have to be so nervous." Elliot comforted Avery and left.

Mainly because Avery entered the company without waiting for Elliot to finish speaking.

After Avery entered the company, she immediately called the new vice president.

About a quarter of an hour later, the vice president rushed to Avery's office.

After the two met, Avery was stunned for a moment.

She didn't expect the newly recruited vice president to look so young.

In fact, the new vice president was in his forties, but his mental state and body maintenance were not bad, and he looked in his thirties at most.

"Hello, Ms. Tate. Let me introduce myself first. My name is Jesse Caldwell. The first time we met, I think you look much prettier than you look in the photos." Jesse Caldwell introduced himself.

Avery politely said: "Hello, Mr. Caldwell."

"Don't be so polite! You can just call me Jesse." When Jesse Caldwell said this, the conversation changed, "You didn't invite me to your wedding with Elliot. To be honest, I'm a little sad."

Avery was startled for a moment:
“Hahaha, I’m sorry! Our New Year’s Day wedding was planned by a friend. Elliot and I didn’t know we were going to have a wedding until New Year’s Day.”

Jesse Caldwell nodded: “I heard. So I’m not so sad anymore.”

Avery: “Hahaha! I’ll bring candy for you tomorrow.”

Jesse Caldwell: “Thank you! I thought that Elliot transferred Chad to manage the Tate Industries’s Bridgedale branch, so he wanted me to compete with Chad...”

“You think too much. Chad transferred his job because he needed to live in Bridgedale. You are not in a competitive relationship, you must unite.”

Avery said, “You can communicate with him more in the future.”

He works by Elliot's side. For many years, his ability is very good. I heard Vice President Locklyn said that you have been working abroad before, and now you choose to return to Aryadelle for the sake of your family. Vice President Locklyn told me that you are very good, so I can't wait to call you when I come to the company already."

"I don't really know Vice President Locklyn very well. He has inquired about me with many people in the industry. I think he is more sincere, so I came to try it out. My way of doing things and his ideas and concepts are actually very different."

Jesse Caldwell said, "I took a look. The company has achieved the current status, relying solely on product upgrades, which is definitely not enough. I talked to the R&D and technology side, and now the development of drones has encountered a bottleneck. If you want a big breakthrough, yes it's very difficult. But the market is still good, so if we want to break through, we have to change our thinking."

Avery nodded: "You show me your idea as a plan. We will have another meeting to discuss it with other executives at that time."

Jesse Caldwell: "Okay. Then I'll go to work first."

Avery: "Um."

After Jesse left, Avery turned on the computer and glanced at the office.

Norah used this office before, because the layout had changed a bit from when she used the office before.

But Avery didn't mind.

When Norah was in the Tate Industries, the Tate Industries developed very well.

Norah was still capable, but she was too ambitious and had a bad mind.

The greater the power, the greater the danger.

Avery finished looking at the office and regained her mind. She opened the bag and took out the thermos cup. Immediately took out the tissues, hand cream, portable alcohol and small snacks and put them on the table.

Maybe it's been too long since she went to work, and suddenly there was a sense of freshness.

After putting the bag away, she sprayed the desktop, computer, and mouse with portable alcohol.

After completing the disinfection work, she sat down and logged in to her work social account and email account.

She found Jesse's resume that Vice President Locklyn had sent to her before, and clicked it.

After reading the resume, she forwarded it to Elliot.

Then send him a message to urge: [you forward the email that Chad gave you to me, and I will look at the revision myself.]

After Elliot replied with an OK gesture, he forwarded the email to her.
