Chapter 2390

“Didn’t he meet the right one yet? Let’s wait until he finds a girlfriend!” Layla put her eyes back on the paper, “Mom, you are suddenly so serious!”

“Have you?” Avery was afraid that her attitude frightened her daughter, and she immediately laughed,

“Mom just considers that your uncle Eric doesn’t have much vacation, and you want to be with him every winter and summer vacation, so he won’t have time to find a girlfriend at all. It had a big impact on him.”

Layla pursed her lips.

“You also know that Uncle Eric’s parents are forcing him to have a blind date. His family especially hopes that he will find a girlfriend soon and get married. After all, your Uncle Eric is not too young.” Avery explained to his daughter patiently that the age gap between Eric and her.

“Mom, how can you think the same as those people? How old is Uncle Eric? He doesn’t want to find a girlfriend or get married, so you can’t force him.” Layla looked at her mother again, complaining for Eric.

Avery smiled: “Baby, I didn’t force him. I just told you about his situation. We don’t force him, but his parents will still urge him. If you keep pestering him, what will his parents think? Don’t you think you’re delaying him too much?”

“I don’t know his parents, so I don’t care what they think! As long as Uncle Eric plays with me.” Layla said nonchalantly.

“Layla, your mother is actually worried about you.” Avery hesitated for a while, and then said what was in her heart, “You are not too young now, and your mother is afraid that you will have an extra-normal relationship with Eric.”

“Mom, I like Uncle Eric, and I like to be with him. Because he is very kind to me, he listens to me in everything.” Layla did not shy away from her liking for Eric.

Avery nodded, she understood her daughter’s mood.

Eric was not only very kind to Layla, but also to Avery.

Just when Avery thought that she might be thinking too much, Layla said word by word: “Mom, when I graduate from college, and Uncle Eric hasn’t found a girlfriend yet, then I’ll marry him! What do you think?”

Avery: “...”

Layla: “Mom, don’t you like Uncle Eric? How good Uncle Eric is! He is handsome and rich. The key is to be nice to others. He is not only good to me, he is also good to our whole family. Don’t you want such a son-in-law?”

Avery: “!!!!!!”

Avery’s whole portrait was struck by lightning after hearing her daughter say this.

Son-in-law...

Eric will be her son-in-law! Whoa, whoa, whoa!

She didn't know how Eric would react when he heard Layla's words.

But she was sure that if Elliot heard these words, it would be a blast!

"Mom, why are you in a daze?" Layla stretched her hand and pulled her mother's arm, and asked anxiously, "Mom, don't you want to scold me?"

Avery shook her head in a conditioned reflex.

Avery: "Of course mom won't scold you. You are at this age, and you don't understand a lot of things..."

"What do I don't understand? You married my father because my father likes you, and you like my father too? Then I like Uncle Eric, and Uncle Eric also likes me, why can't we get married?" Layla looked at her mother with a puzzled face.

“The age gap between you is too big.”
Avery gave the reason, “Also, your uncle Eric won’t agree.”

“Mom, let me ask you.” Layla asked casually, “Auntie Gwen’s age between Uncle Ben’s age, It’s quite big, right? Why didn’t you object to the two of them being together?”

Avery: “...”

“Mom, don’t you like Uncle Eric too? Then why don’t you let me marry Uncle Eric?”

Layla was puzzled, “If I marry Uncle Eric, aren’t we relatives? Can’t we be together forever?”

“Layla, you can say these things in front of your mother, but don’t tell your father. Your father will be mad if he hears you say this. Maybe I will also run to find Eric for trouble.” Avery said solemnly, “You have to focus on your studies now, it’s still too early to get married!”
