Chapter 2435

At this time, the driver braked, and the water in the water bottle suddenly poured out.

The clothes on Hayes's chest were wet, and Gloria's left hand was also wet.

Hayes immediately screwed on the lid of the water bottle, and then apologized to Gloria: "I'm sorry! Are your clothes wet?"

The driver glanced at the back and immediately handed them the tissue box: "I'm sorry, I'm sorry, there was a car suddenly Squeeze to the front, this person is too incompetent!"

Hayes took the tissue box and took out several sheets of paper and handed them to Gloria.

"It's okay. You drive seriously, safety first." Hayes said with a good temper.

Gloria took the tissue and wiped the wet area on her arm.

The wristbands were also wet and uncomfortable to wear. So she took off the bracer.

The light in the carriage was particularly dim, but because her arms were very white, Hayes could still see the faint scars on her wrists.

Hayes seemed to have been hit by an electric current, and he couldn't come back to his senses.

He stared blankly at the hideous scar on Gloria's left wrist, thinking of the task Norah Jones had given him...

Gloria noticed that Hayes seemed to be looking at her wound, so she put on the wrist guard again...

"Brother Hayes, did I scare you?" Gloria asked nervously.

"No..." Hayes looked at her clean face and forced a smile, "What's the matter with the scar on your wrist? Could it be..."

"It's what you think. When I went to the interview, President Tate also asked me." Gloria didn't want to repeat it, "I didn't want everyone to ask me this question when they saw it, so I wore a wrist guard."

Hayes nodded and didn't continue to ask: "You are from Yonroeville, right?"

Gloria: "Well."

Hayes thought that Elliot and Avery had been to Yonroeville before, and it seemed that something happened in Yonroeville as well.

So he became more and more certain that Gloria might be the person Norah was looking for.

Norah was not a kind person. Norah had deliberately tried to find Gloria, but there must be no good thing.

Thinking of this, Hayes's mind became a mess. Should he tell Norah about this immediately? If he told Norah, then Gloria would definitely be in trouble.

Aside from the fact that Gloria was from Yonroeville, Hayes had a little fondness for Gloria.

Like Gloria, a girl with a pure and pure first love face, which man could not like after seeing it?

The car quickly stopped at the gate of the community where Gloria rented.

Gloria wanted to pay the fare, but was stopped by Hayes.

"You don't have to be polite to me for this little money." Hayes said, "It's very late, you should go back and rest!"

Gloria: "Thank you then!"

Hayes wanted to say 'you're welcome', but the words came to the fore.: "Contact again when you have time."

Gloria nodded and got out of the car.

Seeing Gloria entering the community and disappearing from sight, Hayes retracted his gaze and said to the master, "Drive!"

The driver smiled and glanced at Hayes from the rearview mirror: "Do you like that young lady? Just go after her if you like it.

She is so beautiful and has a good figure."

Hayes: "She is from Yonroeville."

“What happened to the people of the Yonroeville?
When a woman marries a man, that is to marry a chicken, follow a chicken, marry a dog and follow a dog.” The driver encouraged, “My daughter-in-law is from another province. At first,
her parents did not agree with her marrying me. Later, she was not married and gave me two big fat boys. Hehe!”
Hayes heard the driver’s words, and his mind was a little shaken.
