

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2704

Chapter 2704

Hazel smiled and shook his head: "I can handle it myself. As long as he sends me a message, I ignore it several times. He naturally understands. Don't bother my father with such a trivial matter."

"This ba*tard toad wants to eat swan meat, he really doesn't know what to do." The driver Uncle scolded.

Hazel: "He doesn't know about my family. He came to strike up a conversation because he thought I was pretty."

"That's because a toad wants to eat swan meat! I'm afraid he will not only send you messages to harass you. If he follows you again, you must no longer be so polite. Just drive him away. If you can't drive him away, tell me right away." Driver Uncle was afraid that Hazel would soften her heart.

It's really good-natured to let people follow along.

"Hmm. How is my sister?" Hazel asked.

Driver Uncle: "When I went out, your sister was in the room. They didn't quarrel, don't worry."

Hazel: "Well, the second brother told me. But I think my sister must feel uncomfortable."

Driver Uncle: "Then you go back and persuade her It's just a man, so there's no need to quarrel with the family because of this."

Hazel felt that what Driver Uncle said was reasonable, but people are not cold machines. If she takes care of one side and abandon the other side, it will hurt.

When she got home, Hazel changed her shoes and walked directly to Layla's room on the second floor.

She knocked on the door and called out to Layla.

Layla heard Hazel's voice, got out of bed immediately, and opened the door.

"You leave school so early today?" Layla's expression was quite normal.

Hazel took out a handful of candy from her schoolbag and handed it to Layla: "Sister, I bought it at noon. This kind of candy is sweet and sour, appetizing and refreshing."

“Okay! I’ll try it. I haven’t eaten candy for a long time.” Layla took one, unpacked it, and put it in her mouth, “It’s really a little sour.”

“It’s a little sour in the mouth, and it will be sweet after the sour taste passes.” Hazel also took one off and put it in mouth.

“I’m fine.” Layla pulled Hazel to sit by the bed, “I just don’t have much energy. I haven’t slept well or eaten well.”

Hazel: “Then you can rest at home for a few more days.”

Layla shook her head: “I can’t rest. I like to think wildly when I’m quiet.”

“Then go to work tomorrow! You’ll be fine after a while.” Hazel didn’t know how to comfort her, so she could only say this.

In fact, she also felt uncomfortable thinking about Lucas for a while, but because she had just returned to Foster’s house, the family gave her too much love, so the pain eased a lot.

But Layla’s situation was different, She was always surrounded by the love of her family.

It’s like Hazel was bitter before sweet, and Layla was now sweet before bitter.

“It’s like when you first moved out to live, you were not used to it, but after a few days of living, you gradually got used to it.” Hazel continued to comfort.

Layla nodded: “It’s much better to chat with you. Do you know how your second brother comforted me? Hey, don’t mention him! I have a headache when I mention him.”

Hazel: “Second brother asked for leave today, Is he at home now?”

Layla: “He called Mom and Dad out to play. He probably wants me to be alone at home. I know he treats me well, but he doesn’t speak properly and needs someone to control him.”

Hazel: “Second brother is quite simple.”

Layla: “I’m also a little brainless. I really don’t know what kind of woman he will find as his wife in the future.”

Hazel: “Sister, you are worried that second brother will be bullied!”

Layla: “He is the most thoughtless in our family.”

Hazel: "Maybe the second brother is not really heartless, but he acts more like a fool in front of us."

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2705

Chapter 2705

Layla: "I hope so. After I go to work tomorrow, I won't be staying at home."

Hazel nodded: "Then you will come back on the weekend!"

"Of course. Although I haven't settled with my father, I can't deny my father's love for me for so many years because of this incident." Layla took a deep breath, "Little sister, don't worry about me. Like you said, maybe I'll be fine in a while."

"Sister, let me go out for a walk with you! It's not hot outside right now." Hazel looked out the window, She felt like this was the perfect time to go out and get some fresh air.

"Okay. Give me a few more candies, it's quite delicious." Layla stretched out her hand towards her.

Hazel gave her all the candies: "I bought them for you."

The two sisters came out of the house and walked slowly in the community.

"Sister, when I got out of class today, a male classmate asked for my contact information." Hazel talked about other topics, and wanted Layla to stop thinking about unhappy things.

When Layla heard this, she immediately raised her eyebrows: "Is he handsome? What's your impression of him?"

Hazel: "I don't want to meet a male classmate at all. He followed me all the way to the school gate. It happened that Driver Uncle was waiting at the school gate, I want to get rid of him quickly, so I told him the contact information."

Layla: "Are you concerned that he will continue to annoy you in the future? Be tougher if you're not interested. Next time, he follows you, and you just let him go."

Maybe it has something to do with where Hazel has lived since she was a child. Her mother-in-law taught her that if you can't offend people, don't, and if you can, just put up with them.

So she never thought of letting the other party go away like her sister said.

"Next time he follows me, I'll let him go away." Hazel said.

“Well. You don’t have to be afraid of anything. Our whole family is your strong backing. No one dares to bully you.” Layla hoped that her sister would be stronger in the future so that she won’t be offended.

Hazel responded, took out her phone, and saw the male classmate’s friend request.

Layla glanced at her screen.

“Sister, do I ignore him?” Hazel said.

“If you ignore him, he might call you to bother you. You just tell him to give up now.” Layla said, took her sister’s cell phone and agreed to the friend request.

The male classmate immediately sent a message: [Hello Hazel, I heard that you don’t live on campus! Isn’t it stipulated that our school must live on campus? Why can’t you live off campus?]

Layla replied blankly: [You are so good at inquiring, but you didn’t find out the reason?]

Male classmate: ;Hey, listen to what my classmate said. What students know is limited. Does your family have any relationship with school leaders? In fact, I also have the money to live outside by myself, but according to the school’s regulations, I live outside.]

Layla: [You want to inquire so clearly, do you want to check the household registration? Shall I show you the account book some other day?]

Male student: [Don’t be angry, I’m just curious. You are a local, so the conditions at home should not be bad, right? I really like you, if our talk goes well, I will take you home to show my parents. It’s just that my parents are more particular about being well-matched.]

Layla: [What does your family do?]

Male student: [Our factory produces canned food.]

Layla: [What’s the name of the factory.]

The male classmate immediately sent the name over.

Layla checked, a small factory.

“Sister, let me talk to him! I think he’s a pretty decent guy.” Hazel took the phone over.

“I’m just holding back, I’m afraid that if I say too much, he will trip you up and make you sick at school.” If Layla’s true temper was followed, the other party would have been too hurt to stand up to it.

Hazel: "I have a way to make him give up."

Hazel said with a smile, and sent a message to the male classmate: [My family is poor and owes a lot of money. If you insist on staying with me, my parents will definitely ask you to help us pay off our debts. By the way, I still have two older brothers who haven't found wives yet.]