When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2834—“Oh, I didn’t even know I could wear a watch!” Sloane laughed at herself.

“As long as it is not weird, you can wear it. If it is inappropriate to wear, we will remind you.” The staff explained, “Such as earrings and necklaces, you can also wear it. As long as the style is not too fancy.”

Sloane nodded, and looked at Hazel on the big screen again: “Is the watch in her hand cheap?”

“I don’t know. But she is a fresher, so she must not have money to buy a famous watch?” The staff asked back.

“She doesn’t have the money to buy it herself, maybe someone else bought it for her... Hazel is very good at interpersonal relationships.” Sloane said this sentence with the simplest expression.

The Staff: “Oh, our director also likes her very much. In fact, not only the director, but we also like her very much. Not only her, we all like you interns. The current students are getting stronger and stronger Already!”

Sloane replied with a smile: “In terms of ability, Hazel is better. When she first entered university, she still had an accent! See how well she broadcasts now! It’s only been half a year She is not only hardworking, but also talented. Compared to her, I really feel ashamed.”

Sloane praised Hazel and left the studio.

Sloane had originally believed that Hazel entered through relationships, but it now seemed that even if this were the case, her strength would still be required to get people to stop talking.

After half an hour, Hazel’s show ended.

After Hazel came out of the studio, she immediately turned on her phone.

Her mom said she would call.

After she turned on her mobile phone, she first saw her family chatting in the group.

“There is actually a selection event...” Hazel muttered softly, “Should I canvass for votes? Just forget about it and simply follow my own agenda.”

Avery called at this time.

Seeing her mom's call, Hazel immediately answered the call.

Avery: "Hazel, are you off work now?"

"Yes. I'll return home after I change my clothes." Hazel said, "Mom, how is my broadcast? I feel a little nervous when I broadcast, especially at the beginning."

"How come? I didn't see that you were nervous." Avery's tone was a little excited, "You played the broadcast very well, with a graceful demeanor, smooth broadcast, and no typos. And those professional hosts can't see the difference!"

"Mom, you praised me too much. But I'm so happy." Hazel smiled, "Mom, go to bed quickly! I'm going to change clothes."

"Hmm. The driver has already arrived at the gate of the building."

After talking on the phone, a staff member walked towards Hazel.

The staff: "You are calling your family!"

"Yes! They are all watching my show." Hazel replied with a smile.

"You performed very well today! Your senior sister also praised you. She said that you still had an accent half a year ago. Your progress is really fast! By the way, how much is your watch?"

The staff looked curiously at the watch on her wrist.

Hazel heard from her sister that she didn't buy an expensive watch on purpose, so she showed the watch generously to the staff: "I don't know how much it is, it's an internship gift from my family."

"Oh, this brand is not cheap, at least thousands of dollars. Your family loves you very much!" The staff glanced at the brand logo on her watch.

It's a mid-range brand.

Hazel nodded: "Did my senior really praise me?"

"That's right! It's a compliment! She said that you are better than her." The staff member held a water glass in her hand, and was about to go to the tea to drink water. "You work hard, and you will have a bright future in the future."

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2835 –

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2835–Hazel then went to the dressing room to change her clothes.

Unexpectedly, the senior sister was still there.

Hazel thought of what the staff said to her just now, so she couldn't help talking to Sloane: "Senior sister, why don't you get off work?"

"There is no taxi available at this time." Sloane showed a gentle smile to Hazel, "Hazel, I misunderstood you before. The classmates around me said that you got this internship through your relationship, and I thought you were like that before, but now that I watched your show, I changed my opinion."

Although Hazel no longer cared so much about what the outside world thought of her, she felt very happy when she heard what her senior sister said.

Hazel: "Senior sister, you're also great. I also watched your show tonight."

"Hahaha, didn't you have to memorize the script back then? You didn't take it seriously!" Sloane teased.

"I came here after 10 o'clock in the evening. When your show was broadcast, I had almost recited it." Hazel unbuttoned her coat and prepared to change clothes.

Sloane: "Hazel, do you live near the university? At this point, there is no bus or subway, how do you plan to go back?"

Hazel was stunned for a moment, then said: "I'll take a taxi."

Sloane: "It is very expensive to take a taxi back to university. I plan to stay here until after 6 o'clock and take the subway back."

Hazel blushed and explained: "Because it's my first time to work, my parents are more worried about me, so they gave me the taxi fare."

"Oh...it seems that your family's conditions are really good." Sloane was envious, "Did you know that there will be a popularity selection for trainee anchors? I asked the staff, and the staff said that the most popular intern anchors in previous years were all able to sign formal employment contracts with the station."

Hazel: "Oh, it seems that it hasn't started yet?"

“The voting channel will open at 12 noon tomorrow. Real-name voting, one ID card can only cast one vote.” Sloane was a little worried, “I haven’t figured out how to solicit votes yet, do you have a solution?”

Hazel shook her head:” If you hadn’t told me this, I wouldn’t have known about it!”

“Oh, your parents should be very supportive of your work, and they will definitely help you canvass for votes, right? I can’t do it, my parents are both from the countryside.” Sloane felt a little regretful, “I really envy your good family.”

Hazel wanted to say something, but she didn’t want to lie.

So she changed quickly, then picked up her phone and checked.

Hazel: “Senior sister, the car I called has arrived downstairs, I’m leaving first.”

“You go! Be careful!” Sloane watched Hazel leave.

When Hazel came home, she didn’t expect her parents and brother to be waiting for her in the living room.

Hazel was both moved and guilty.

“Why don’t you go to bed? I work the night shift alone, and you all stay up all night, and I will feel very uncomfortable.” Hazel put down her bag and pulled her parents up from the sofa.

“We slept through and didn’t get up until almost 3 o’clock.” Avery explained with a smile, “Today is your first day at work, and we are quite excited. Next time you go to work, we won’t stay up late.”

“Okay! Now get some rest! Before dawn, there are still a few hours!” Hazel urged.

“Are you hungry? Would you like something to eat?” Avery asked.

Hazel replied, “I’m not hungry. I just want to sleep now.”

“Then go to bed quickly. Wash your face first before going to bed.” Avery reminded her as she looked at the makeup on her daughter’s face.

Hazel: “Um.”

After watching her parents go back to the room, Hazel turned to look at Robert: “Brother, you should go to sleep too! I really didn’t expect that you would be waiting for me at home.”

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2836 –

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2836—“I didn’t expect that either. After your show ended, Mom and Dad suddenly came out of the room and went downstairs to eat supper.” Robert looked shocked, “I think the two of them are too excited.”

Hazel: “It’s just an internship, why are they so excited?”

“I think you’ve grown up! We see you are so capable, and you can support yourself without relying on your family in the future. This is definitely something they should be proud of.”

“Okay Go! Brother, you should go to sleep too! Stop playing with your phone all the time.” Hazel pulled him and pushed him towards the elevator.

“I’m not playing with my phone, I’m looking at business information.” Robert showed Hazel a look at the phone interface, “Dad asked me to work at the grassroots level, so I can’t embarrass him.”

“How could you embarrass Daddy? You are so outstanding.” Hazel boasted, “Brother, you are in my heart, super invincible and powerful. You can do everything.”

“Thank you for complimenting me so much. But I still changed my ID card. In Dad’s company, I dare not be surnamed Foster.” Robert said.

Hazel: “Well, don’t the people in your company know your identity?”

“Yes! I have the ability to live and work alone.” Robert’s decision was largely influenced by Hazel.

“You will do well. Brother, you should go to rest quickly! You can’t stay up late in the future, and you have to keep an eye on our parents at home, and you can’t let them stay up late.” The more Hazel thought about it, the more she felt guilty.

Robert: “Okay. You go upstairs with me, and you go to bed early.”

Hazel: “Yes.”

On the second floor, after returning to the room to remove her make-up, Hazel changed into soft pajamas and lay down on the bed.

It made sense that she should be able to fall asleep soon.

But after turning off the lights, she kept her eyes open and didn't feel sleepy.

She replayed her performance tonight over and over again in her mind.

No matter how her family praises her, she must keep a clear head, because even if she was not good enough, her family would praise her.

It's a pity that she couldn't see the replay yet, and she couldn't objectively judge how her performance was.

There was a bit of tension in her heart, but also a bit of joy.

This joy came from the fact that she finally got a decent job.

No one could understand the earnest desire for a decent job after living at the bottom for more than 10 years.

The biggest regret in her heart was that she couldn't let her mother-in-law see her current life.

How happy her mother-in-law would be if she saw that her parents treated her so well and that she was working in a TV station now!

Thinking of this, her eyes couldn't help getting wet.

She had to go back to Thopiavelle in the future, because her mother-in-law is buried in Thopiavelle.

Not long after, It's dawn.

Hazel didn't wake up until noon.

After waking up, she rubbed her hungry stomach, washed up briefly, and went downstairs with heavy steps.

She slept well, but it was the first time she tried to work the night shift, and her body was very uncomfortable.

After all, it hurt to stay up late.

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2837 –

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2837—“Hazel, did you sleep well? How do you feel? Are you tired? I asked your aunt to make tonic soup for you.” Seeing her daughter, Avery immediately stepped forward to hold her hand.

Hazel didn't want her mother to worry, so she replied with a smile, “I've slept well, but I'm just a little hungry.”

“It's unscientific. Hospitals generally don't arrange night shifts for doctors and nurses consecutively.” Avery said distressedly.

“Mom, I'm fine. I'm going to work one more day, so I can take two days off!” Hazel walked towards the dining hall, “What kind of soup did you cook, it smells so good.”

“Eat first to replenish blood and energy. Have some more soup after dinner.” Avery sat down at the dining table with his daughter.

“Mom, have you eaten yet? Where's Dad?”

The house was quiet. Hazel looked at the time when she went downstairs, it was exactly 12 o'clock.

It made sense that mom and dad ate dinner at home around this time.

“Your father went to the company. We ate at 10 o'clock, so we're not hungry right now.” Avery didn't get up until after 9 o'clock today, and the meal at 10 o'clock happened to be between breakfast and lunch, so he should only eat two meals today.

“Mom, is your schedule messed up with Dad? Don't stay up late with me anymore. Otherwise, I'll feel really guilty.”

“No, last night I mainly wanted to be with you and let you know I'm not alone. Besides, I'm also curious about how you officially become the host. After watching your show last night, I am very satisfied. I will never worry about it again.” Avery looked at Hazel lovingly, “Baby, when you are working, you are full of brilliance.”

Hazel blushed when her mother praised her: “Mom, thank you for always praising me. But I know, you and Dad was even more powerful. You and Dad are my role models.”

“You can be a role model, but don't put pressure on it. Because we don't ask you to be successful. What is more important than success is a healthy body and an optimistic attitude.” Avery paused for a while, “You, let's eat first.”

Hazel obediently finished her meal, and Avery immediately filled her with a bowl of soup.

After Hazel finished drinking the soup, Avery turned on her phone and showed her: “Baby, you’re on the hot search.”

Hazel: “...”

Hazel just ate a big meal, and she still hadn’t gotten back to normal. Her mom’s words left her speechless.

“Your TV station’s official Facebook released the activity for the popularity selection of trainee anchors, and attached photos of the eight of you and a link to the show replay... Because of your outstanding appearance and excellent hosting ability, everyone likes you very much.” Avery was actually very happy that everyone liked her daughter.

Avery was worried that her daughter won’t be able to bear the influence of fame.

A person’s words and deeds would be scrutinised closely once they became famous.

Moreover, after becoming famous, someone would try to investigate Hazel’s identity background. She’s afraid that her true identity would not be hidden for too long.

Hazel took her mom’s mobile phone and scanned the comments of netizens on the official Facebook page.

–Hazel is so beautiful! Young and beautiful! She is superior to those in the entertainment industry in terms of personality and appearance!

–I was also attracted by Hazel’s face. Her eyes are so clean, and her temperament is also very special. The point is that she is also very capable in business! If you don’t believe me, watch her show!

–Sister Hazel laughed a little when the program finished sorting out the manuscript! That smile just hit my heart!

–It’s finally time to vote! I voted for Sister Hazel!

In fact, there were also supporters for other trainee anchors under the comments, but most of them support Hazel.

“Hazel, what do you think?” Avery asked her daughter, “If you don’t want netizens to pay too much attention, I can ask the program team to cancel this selection event.”

“No need for mom. The host circle is not the entertainment circle. Communication won’t be as popular as in the entertainment industry, and it won’t be long before this will be over.” Hazel said and returned the phone to her mother, “But I didn’t expect everyone to like me so much. I didn’t think I was particularly good-looking either! “

As she spoke, Hazel touched her face.

Avery: “Aren’t you good-looking? Layla told me in private that you look better than her!”

In Avery’s eyes, both Layla and Hazel were the most beautiful.
