

Read Novel When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2924

Novel When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2924 -Elliot heard the voices of Avery and Layla clearly.

He didn't know if it's because he slept well last night, but a thought flashed through his mind!

"Since you said that the child looks a bit like me, is it possible that this child really belongs to our family?" Elliot strode to the dining room.

After Elliot said these words, Avery's eyes suddenly became murderous!

"Dad! What the h-e-l-l are you doing!" Layla's little heart was beating violently.

"Don't get excited! Although I can't tell that the child looks like me, but you two think that he does have a bit of similarity. Others will not send a child to our family for no reason, so... This child may really belong to our family! But," Elliot said here, the subject changed, "but it's not mine."

Avery, Layla, Hayden: "..."

"Hayden is like me, and Robert is like me... Is it possible that the child belongs to both of them?!" Elliot silently praised him for his change of thinking.

Whether he had done anything wrong or not, he was very clear about it. There was no way the child was his.

Therefore, if this child did not belong to their family, it could only be the good deeds of his two sons!

Hayden was speechless.

Avery and Layla: "!!!"

Hayden lost his appetite in an instant. He hadn't found a girlfriend yet, how could he have a child?

He had only lived once in his life so far. It was the night of Layla's wedding, at the hotel.

It's impossible to get a woman pregnant at once, right?!

"Wife, do you think I'm right?" The more Elliot thought about it, the more excited he became, and he desperately hoped that Avery would stand by his side.

In addition to wanting Avery to stand in line, he also wanted to prove whether his statement was possible.

Anyway, he thought the possibility was quite high.

After thinking briefly, Avery nodded.

Although this matter sounded ridiculous, but! It was very possible!

Avery always treated her two sons as children, but in fact, the two sons had already grown up!

The two of them were very good at home, but she had no idea whether they had messed with women in private.

“It must be Robert!” After digesting her father’s words, Layla made a judgment, “Robert is a b@stard! He even made a child outside! I’ll call him back now and ask him for clarification!”

Avery: “...”

Avery wanted to stop Layla, but she didn’t.

Because if Elliot’s guess was true, then Robert might really be causing the trouble.

After all, Hayden had always been an insulator of the opposite s-e-x, and there were no women around him.

But Robert was different.

Robert had played well with girls since kindergarten.

He now had many close friends who identified as the opposite s-e-x.

Robert took the initiative to tell his family these things.

Avery had no issues with Robert making friends with people of the opposite s-e-x or with him falling in love. Since Robert was older than eighteen, falling in love now was not regarded as young love.

It’s kind of outrageous just to have kids out.

After all, Robert hadn’t graduated yet.

Layla took the mobile phone, went to the side and dialed Robert’s number.

Seeing that his wife and daughter agreed with what he said, Elliot's pressure finally eased.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read Novel When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2925

Novel When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2925 -"If that child belongs to Robert, it's actually not a big deal." Elliot touched his nose to hide his inner joy, "There's nothing wrong with holding a grandson early."

Avery's face flushed with a 'shua'.

Hold grandson early.

She...became a grandma.

This incident made her feel very complicated.

When she looked in the mirror every day, she felt young.

It was part of her wish for Hayden to wed, but she never imagined becoming a grandmother at such a young age.

"When Robert comes back later, don't blame him." Elliot felt that this was not a bad thing, but something to be happy about.

"Is that why you want to hold your grandson so much?" Avery glared at Elliot.

Elliot's cheeks were slightly red, and his face was radiant: "Don't you think so? If that child is really Robert's child, don't you like it?"

Avery: "..."

It's terrible!

She never thought that Robert would have a child now.

In her eyes, Robert was still a child.

But thinking about it now, if that child was Robert's child, of course she would like it very much.

Layla called Robert several times, but Robert didn't answer.

Robert was in class now, and the phone mode had been adjusted to silent.

But Robert saw her sister's call.

After Robert hung up the phone, he sent a message to his sister: [Sister, I am in class! What's the matter!]

Layla: [Is that child yours?]

Robert: [Ah! What are you talking about, sister! Do you know what you're talking about Ahhh!]

Layla: [Stop it! Come back after class! Dad said that the child is definitely not his, but the child is like ours, so the child can only be yours!]

Robert fainted!

This thing was really too big!

He took his textbook and schoolbag and stood up.

"Teacher, something urgent happened at my house, I have to go back quickly!" After reporting the situation to the teacher on the podium, Robert immediately left the classroom.

Coming out of the classroom, Robert immediately dialed her sister's number.

"Didn't you say you were in class? Get out of class is over now?" Layla asked after answering the phone.

"No, I just asked for leave. What did you say in the message you sent me! Sis, I think I'm still a child. Why do you say that child is mine? Did the paternity test come out?" Robert was anxious.

"The paternity test has not come out. But now we suspect that the child is yours." Layla pointed out, "How could Dad betray Mom? I think it is impossible after thinking about it carefully. So this child is probably yours!"

Robert: "Ah... this is impossible! Sis, do I look like the kind of person who messes around? I haven't had a girlfriend before, so how could I have a child?"

"You didn't have a girlfriend, did your brother have a girlfriend? My brother doesn't even have a female animal, let alone a woman! But you, there are many beautiful female classmates around you! You often attend their parties!"

"No! Since my little sister came back to our house, I seldom attended their parties. Didn't I want to accompany my little sister?" Robert felt that he was too wrong. In order to prove his innocence, he had a plan. "How about I do a paternity test with that child?"

Layla didn't even think about it, and replied: "Okay! Then you come back now and have an appreciation with the child."

Robert: "Okay."

After saying this word, Robert frowned, feeling confused and inexplicable.

"Sister, I'm still a virgin! I haven't touched a woman; how can I have a child?" Robert suddenly remembered this important matter.

Layla was also confused: "Are you sure?!"

Robert: "How can I still lie? I will lie to no one and I will not lie to my family members! I have never touched a woman before!"

Layla took a deep breath and began to rack her brains to figure out what the problem was.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read Novel When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2926

Novel When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2926 -"Is it possible that you are not virgin anymore?" Layla analyzed, "Didn't you often attend their parties before? Didn't you still drink at your parties? Your drinking capacity is not very good. Is it possible that after you were drunk, Those female classmates of yours molested, but you don't know?!"

Robert: "Ah! Sister! Stop talking! I have goosebumps! We are all serious students, not what you think! That's against the law, and they definitely wouldn't dare to do that!"

Layla: "You are too simple. In other words, I think you are a bit stupid. You don't know that people are sinister. You are protected by your parents too well. This society is very complicated, and school is a small society."

Robert was desperate: "Sister, please stop talking. I'll go back and do a paternity test with that child."

Layla: "Well, you don't have to be so sad. Mom and Dad are quite happy. If the child is yours, you don't have to worry, Mom and Dad will help you raise it."

Layla's tone softened a lot.

But Robert's mood was extremely solemn and very, very sad. He didn't think about whether his parents would blame him at all, but he was thinking—"When did he lose his virginity, and who was the child's mother, if the child was truly his?".

These two things could depress him to death.

After talking on the phone with Robert, Layla suddenly felt better.

Probably the family crisis was resolved.

It makes no difference whether the child belongs to the older or younger brother as long as the child does not belong to the father; it is a happy event!

“Dad, are you really sure that the child is not yours?” Layla was not at ease and confirmed with her father.

Elliot felt that he could catch his breath today: “Why don’t you trust Dad?”

Layla: “It’s not that I don’t want to believe you. Robert said he never touched a woman, he’s really innocent!”

Elliot: “...”

So, the child was not Robert’s.

Elliot immediately turned his attention to Hayden.

“Hayden is even more impossible?” Avery began to have a headache.

She didn’t expect Robert’s innocence to be the same.

When the child is an adult, even if he secretly makes a girlfriend outside, he won’t say anything. But Robert was still as blank as paper.

“I have a headache.” Layla patted her head, “Dad, when will the appraisal result come out?”

Elliot took out his cell phone, but there was no message from the organization, indicating that the result hadn’t come out yet.

Elliot: “Wait a little longer! When the results come out, others will notify me as soon as possible.”

...

Hayden became more and more uneasy.

After eating, he decided to go out to get some air.

Hayden: “I’m going out for a while.”

“Brother, where are you going? I’ll be with you!” Layla habitually liked to follow Hayden.

She had been Hayden’s follower since she was a child. Even now that she had grown up and started a family, she still liked to follow Hayden.

“You stay at home. I’ll be back soon.” Hayden refused.

Because Hayden planned to go to the hotel where Layla held the wedding before.

Robert would not lie to his family. That child could not have belonged to Robert and his father was sure that the child was not his, so...

If this child really belonged to their family, it could only be his.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read Novel When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2927

Novel When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2927 -But before the matter was clear, he had to go to that hotel to investigate.

Hayden called the driver to drive.

After the car drove out, Elliot and Avery looked at each other.

“My son just came back and didn’t take a good rest. Where is he going?” Elliot was very curious.

Avery: “I don’t know! It seems that he has something on his mind.”

“I can see it too. Especially after I said that the child is not mine, but maybe his and Robert’s, he seems to have stopped talking.” Elliot had doubts in his heart when he said this.

“Do you think the child belongs to Hayden?” Avery asked, “Do you think this is possible?”

“Why isn’t this possible? Then you still doubt me! I’m in front of you every day, don’t you know what I do every day? Hayden only comes back a few times a year? Why can’t you doubt him?” Elliot remembered being hurt the day before and still felt a little pain in his heart when he suspected various scenes of being left out.

Although Avery allowed him to sleep in the master bedroom last night, the hurt in his heart did not disappear so easily.

“Then what do you think? My son is already in his twenties. Even if he really had a child with a woman outside, I can’t say him! Can he have the same nature as you?” Avery said. She stood at the door and looked outside, “I’ll ask him when he comes back.”

“I’ll go and see the child.” Elliot now thought of the child as his grandson, so he didn’t hate that child so much.

....

at hotel.

Hayden went directly to the manager of the room department, trying to find out the female employee who provided him with ice water on the night of Layla’s wedding.

“Mr. Tate, do you really want to find that employee? I have to check the shift schedule ten months ago, but I may not be able to find it.” The manager was a little embarrassed, “In fact, the turnover of Our guest room department is relatively higher than that of the entire group. Because the work of the housekeeping department is relatively hard, and the salary level is average.”

“You didn’t even check, so you tell me that you can’t find it?” Hayden frowned, “Go and check now!”

The room manager immediately nodded, and then asked in fear: “Mr. Tate, can you tell me why you insisted on finding that employee? Did she offend you?”

Hayden: “I’ll tell you after you find her!”

If the woman couldn’t be found, there’s no need to tell about that.

“Okay.” The manager of the room department had an idea, “Mr. Tate, how about I show you the photos of all the staff in our room department. You should still have an impression of the appearance of that employee, right?”

Hayden thought about it for a while.

He no longer had a particularly deep impression of that woman, but if he saw her again, he should be able to recognize her at a glance.

So Hayden nodded.

The manager brought Hayden to his office, turned on the computer, retrieved the information of all the employees in his department, and gave Hayden the location for Hayden to check.

Hayden sat down in the chair and began to check one by one.

Soon, he read the information of all employees.

Not the woman from that night.

“Do you have any information on the employees who have resigned in the past ten months?” Hayden asked, “If there is no woman I am looking for, she must have resigned.”

The manager immediately held the mouse and found a form for resignation personnel.

“The departing staff are all in here.”

Hayden looked at the names in the photos and asked, “Are there no photos of these?”

“Yes, but I have to look for it. I may have deleted it. Do you remember the appearance of that woman? Is it very beautiful? I still remember the appearance of the employees in our housekeeping department, at least within this year.”

“Normal.” Hayden replied.

Hayden’s eyes were higher.

He felt that ordinary-looking women were definitely considered beauties in reality.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-