

When His Eyes Opened Read Novel Chapter 3041

Novel Chapter 3041 -Avery told her that Hayden was very good at work, but in life, he was not very good at taking care of himself.

Because he put all his energy on work, and was usually taken care of by a nanny in his daily life.

This time when he came out for team building, he lived in a tent, not a hotel, so Avery had a lot of worries.

The main reason was that Hayden would not eat well or sleep well.

Joanna understood what Avery said.

People who were born in wealthy families since they were young must be poor in taking care of themselves.

For example, Juliette didn't know how to cook or do housework.

Hayden was richer than Juliette, he knew nothing about life, Joanna would not be surprised.

Avery said that Hayden didn't eat spicy food, too salty, sour, or too sweet, and his taste was relatively light.

On the dinner table, there were two hot pots full of peppers.

It should be to cater for the tastes of most of the employees, so the dishes were not completely ordered according to Hayden's taste.

Joanna saw that the boiled prawns were good in size and relatively fresh, so she put on gloves and began to peel the prawns.

Everyone didn't dare to turn the tables when they saw her peeling the shrimp.

Joanna peeled three shrimps in a row. After peeling, she handed the dish to Hayden.

She remembered that Hayden liked to eat shrimp.

But usually the nannies at home peeled the shells and fried them.

When Hayden saw the peeled shrimp that Joanna handed over, he felt a sense of being cared for.

Who could resist being treated tenderly?

“Auntie said you don’t like sour, so I won’t bring you any dipping sauce.” Joanna whispered.

“What else did my mother tell you?” Hayden put a shrimp in his mouth.

The meat of the shrimp was sweet, just like the heart at the moment.

“Auntie is afraid that you won’t eat well outside.” Joanna saw him eating shrimp, so she continued to peel the shrimp for him.

“You don’t have to listen to my mother, I’m not that spoiled.” Hayden felt that as a man, he shouldn’t let a woman take care of him like this.

After Hayden finished speaking, he took a shrimp from the shrimp plate and peeled it by himself.

As a result, the shrimp was not peeled well, and he was stabbed by the head of the shrimp!

After being stung, he didn’t cry out, just stared at his fingers for two seconds.

Sitting next to him, Joanna immediately took the prawns away when she saw his fingers bleeding.

“Don’t move, I’ll bandage you!” Joanna quickly took out the disinfectant and anti-inflammatory powder and a band-aid from the backpack.

Everyone watched this scene in shock, not knowing what to say for a moment.

In their hearts, Hayden had always been an aloof and cold boss with extraordinary abilities!

They usually ate together occasionally, but this had never happened.

Because Hayden had never peeled shrimp by himself.

After Joanna bandaged Hayden’s fingers, she said again: “I’ll peel it for you. I peel shrimp very quickly. You must never touch water with your fingers, be careful of infection.”

Hayden was embarrassed and wanted to explain that it was simply an accident.

“Eat it!” Joanna quickly peeled another shrimp and put it directly into his bowl.

He looked at the shrimp in the bowl and decided not to explain.

After the warm lunch, the vice president said to Hayden: "President Tate, your finger is injured. You can just give a speech for the afternoon event. You don't need to participate in person. You can go to the nearby commercial street with Ms. Picard. "

Hayden wanted to say that I just got a small cut and my hand was not broken, but suddenly he thought of Joanna.

He brought Joanna out, but he couldn't really make her like an employee.

Recommended Novels