

Novel When His Eyes Opened Novel Read Chapter 3102

Novel Chapter 3102 -Lucas looked at Hazel in shock.

Hazel realized that she had exposed too much.

Lucas: "Are you really not going to explain to me what's going on?"

Hazel: "I know your maid, so I know a lot about your family."

Lucas: "You know too much! Those who don't know think you did it in our house."

Hazel: "Don't be afraid, I know a lot, but I won't talk nonsense outside."

Lucas stared at her face, fascinated.

Hazel: "Go to work quickly! Go home early after get off work!"

After Hazel finished speaking, she ran away.

Hazel went to the supermarket first, bought some vegetables, and then took a taxi to Lucas's house.

After taking the dishes to the kitchen and putting them away, Hazel's cell phone rang.

Hazel picked up the phone and saw that it was her sister calling. Hazel immediately answered the phone.

Hazel was very happy: "Sister!"

Layla: "Little sister, when are you coming back? You've only been away for a few days, and I miss you so much!"

Hazel: "I miss you all too much. I'll go back after playing here for a few days!"

Layla immediately felt relieved when she heard her sister's words: "With your words, I am at ease! I am really worried that you will be abducted by that Lucas!"

Hazel: "Haha! Sister, he's not that kind of person! And he doesn't know I'm Siena! I don't dare to tell him, I feel a little embarrassed."

"You'd better not reveal your identity. Once your identity is exposed, it will be difficult for you to distinguish whether others approach you for your money, or if they really like you. This is the biggest thing I have lived with my parents all these years." Layla told her from her own experience, "So I have been friends with people of the same class since I was a child, because only in this way, I don't have to bother to think about the problem I just mentioned."

Hazel: "Aaron told me about this. But I didn't tell Lucas, because I was afraid that after he knew my identity, he would distance himself from me even further. He is very sensitive."

Layla: "I don't like sensitive people. It's tiring to be with them."

Hazel: "Sister, he is not the complicated person you think. I used to get along with him very easily. He is very simple. If you treat him a little better, he will also treat you very well."

Layla: "You defend him so much, and you still like him!"

Hazel: "I feel that he hasn't changed from before. So I still have a good impression of him. But I know that I can't be with him... After all, I can't stay in Thopiavelle for him. I still want to stay Mom and Dad's side."

Layla laughed loudly: "Little sister, seeing you are so clear-headed, I'm completely relieved! I will tell my parents later, so they don't worry!"

Hazel: "Sister, are parents worried?"

Layla: "Of course! Dad has planned to go to Thopiavelle to find you in two days!"

Hazel: "Huh?"

Layla: "Haha! I'll go find him later and tell him not to go!"

Hazel: "Sister, do I not let you rest assured?"

Layla: "Hahaha, the main reason is not to be afraid of 10,000, but just in case. We have never seen that Lucas, so we must be prone to wild thoughts."

Hazel: "Yeah. You go tell your parents and reassure them."

Layla: "Okay! What are you doing now?"

Hazel: "I...I just bought vegetables and I plan to make dinner."

Layla: "Little sister, why do you still cook by yourself? Are you not used to the restaurants over there?"

Hazel: "No! I cook for Lucas. I plan to cook for him for a few days before returning home."
