

When His Eyes Opened Read Novel Chapter 3132

Novel Chapter 3132 -Seeing Lucas hesitate, Hazel took the watch back: “How about I send it to Miss Yoder! I have her contact information.”

Lucas: “Hazel, why did you help me?”

Hazel: “I am your employee now, of course I want to help you!”

Probably because of drinking, Lucas’s expression was more reckless and bold than usual: “Why don’t you tell the truth? I have my own judgment on everything you say to me. Don’t think I’m a fool!”

Hazel blinked: “Boss, did you drink too much? How about I go make you a cup of flower tea!”

Lucas reached out and rubbed the center of his brows.

His overall sanity was online, but his head was indeed a little dizzy.

He didn’t stop Hazel from making tea.

Hazel took the information, took Lucas’s teacup by the way, and walked towards the tea room.

After arriving at the tea room, Hazel first made a cup of scented tea, then took out her mobile phone, took a photo of the information, and sent it directly to her brother.

Hayden knew her handwriting, so even if she took a photo and sent it to Greta, Hayden would still know that she filled out the information form.

The reason why she dared to do this was because she felt that her brother had gone too far.

It’s okay to test Lucas, and it’s okay to send a woman to seduce Lucas, but the issues on the data sheet that touch Lucas’s privacy were particularly disrespectful.

Even if Lucas was not as rich and powerful as the Foster family, he was still a living person. How could Hayden treat him like this?

If Lucas knew Hazel's true identity in the future, and knew that Greta was sent by her brother, Lucas would definitely feel that he was being tricked.

After Hayden received the photo from Hazel, he directly made a call to Hazel's mobile phone.

Hazel saw that there was no one in the tea room for the time being, so she walked to the window and answered the phone: "Brother."

Hayden: "I asked Lucas to fill out the form, why did you fill it out?"

Faced with her brother's questioning, Hazel's courage faltered immediately: "He dictated it, and I filled it in."

Hayden obviously didn't believe what she said, "I'll send other people to check it out again. Come back as soon as possible! Don't tell me you won't attend my wedding with Joanna?"

Hazel: "Brother, are you ready for the wedding?"

Hayden: "It's almost there!"

Hazel: "Oh...okay! Then I'll go back this weekend. Is that okay?"

Hayden hesitated for a moment: "Okay."

Hazel: "Brother, are you planning to send someone over to test Lucas after I go back?"

Hayden: "Are you worried about him?"

Hazel: "No... I have confidence in him. No matter what kind of woman you send over, he won't be hooked."

Hayden: "Since that's the case, then you can come back with peace of mind! Don't think wildly. If he can pass my test, it only means that he has passed my test."

Hazel was stunned: "Brother, what do you mean?"

Hayden: "He passed my test, and he still has to pass the test of his father, mother, your sister, and your second brother."

Hazel: "..."

Help!

Hazel thought that as long as she passed the test of her oldest brother, she could confess her identity and be together with Lucas.

After talking on the phone, Hazel returned to Lucas's office with scented tea.

Lucas lay on the table, closed his eyes, and seemed to be asleep.

Hazel put the tea cup on the table, picked up the remote control of the air conditioner, raised the temperature of the air conditioner by two degrees, then sat down in the chair and stared at him.
