

When His Eyes Opened Read Novel Chapter 3154

Novel Chapter 3154 -Hazel: "What I said is true. But Lucas is unwilling to go to Aryadelle with me. After all, this is his hometown. It must be difficult for him to let him go to another country for me."

Mrs. Hogan shook her head and kept shaking her head: "Hazel, he refused because of inferiority, not because of his deep feelings for the motherland. If he had feelings for this place, he would not have chosen to study in Eozambiulle. Not to mention Choose to start a business in Eozambiulle. Hazel, you must not give up on him. Give him a hand! He will definitely treat you very well in the future."

Hazel nodded: "Okay. I will work hard."

Coming out of the hospital, Hazel saw that Lucas's face was a little dark, so she teased him: "What are you thinking! Actually, I really like chatting with your mother. No matter what she says, I like to listen to it."

Lucas: "I didn't think about anything."

His mother was the one who raised him, and he felt powerless in the face of his mother's illness.

He was unwilling to give up his mother's life, but the doctor told him clearly that his mother's illness could not be cured. If the treatment is forced, it will only make the mother more painful.

In addition, his mother was unwilling to continue the treatment, so he could only watch her lose weight day by day.

He could feel that death was infinitely approaching.

Hazel: "Lucas, spend more time with your mother in the next period of time!"

Lucas's voice was choked with sobs: "Yes."

In fact, he had nothing to say to his mother. Every time he visited his mother in the hospital, she would let him go soon. Afraid of delaying his work.

"Are you hungry? Let's go eat! I invite you!" Hazel cheered up, "No matter what, life must go on!"

Lucas glanced at Hazel: "What do you want to eat?"

Hazel: "I can eat anything! Let's find a restaurant on the side of the road to eat!"

Lucas shook his head: "The places near the hospital are not very good. Let's go to another place!"

Hazel followed Lucas to the parking lot.

Lucas drove the car away from the hospital and came to the city center.

Lucas chose a restaurant that was closer to Hazel's hotel.

The two entered the restaurant, and the waiter handed the menu to Lucas.

Lucas handed the menu to Hazel.

"You order! I'm not picky eaters, I'll eat anything." Hazel handed the menu to Lucas again.

After Lucas ordered, he handed the menu to Hazel again: "Order what you like!"

Hazel took the menu with a smile, flipped through the menu, and said, "You are so polite to me now! I'm not used to it."

Lucas: "I'm not used to it either."

Hazel: "Just get along with me like you did before!"

Lucas: "I can't ignore your identity. I need some time to digest this matter."

Hazel: "Okay! This incident is indeed a bit unexpected. It took me a long time to calm myself down."

After Hazel finished ordering, she handed the menu to the waiter.

The waiter checked with the two of them what they had ordered, and then walked away.

Lucas poured a glass of water, and poured a glass for Hazel as well.

“I returned your elder brother’s investment.” Lucas said.

Hazel looked surprised: “Why? Are you embarrassed? My elder brother is a very nice person. He should have no other intentions in investing in you.”

Lucas: “I didn’t doubt your elder brother’s intentions, but I didn’t want to accept this kindness. I’m not in trouble now. I don’t need your family to help me like this.”
