Has he gone insane?

Leonardo Bernardi.

How can he act so reckless?

What was he doing here without proper arms and without a single guard? All alone. In this scorching afternoon.

What an impulsive act?

Something was definitely wrong with him. Otherwise, he won't have acted the way he is doing right now.

Frustrated, infuriated with himself for his own irrational behaviour, he banged the steering

There was a voice in the back of his head nagging to take such an illogical move on his part.

To see her for once.

What the fucking hell!!!

He wasn't some random guy to park his car beside the by lane of a girl like some.... some brainless, foolish man who has lost his mind after a girl. Just because she showed care and kindness towards him? So what? It was so unlike him to drive all the way for some girl.

No.

He is the boss. A mafia boss. He wasn't supposed to act out of his wits.

Taking a deep breath, he raked his fingers through his thick wavy hair that now reaches few

Like the previous time, he forgot to take a breath seeing her.

Clad in a white full sleeves ankle-length dress she came walking through the lane. Her face looks like an epitome of purity. Peacefully beautiful. Those big forest green eyes were downcast watching on her every step. Her dusky black wet hair opens which reach till her hips.

All he saw was her and he couldn't help but his whole concentration was on her. The beating of his heart escalated in an insane level.

Ana moved a step in backward to stay rooted in her spot. A cheerful smile adoring her lips as she ruffled the hair of each bundle of joy.

As if her presence brought another new feeling along with her. An unknown feeling.

How skilfully and effortlessly without doing much she has captivated him. Even now he is all focused on her.

One of the kids spoke to her something, her eyes widen and the next she tilted her head back

Without removing his gaze from her dainty figure, he closed the door behind his back.

His legs followed behind her stealthily. With slow and cautious steps. She kept walking without any idea. His eyes were shamelessly examining her back. Starting at her bumps and curves, one thing he was sure from his prior experiences that with time her figure will grow in a desirable woman.

His eyes glowed imagining and a slow yet soft sinister smile curved on his lips.

standing at the threshold of the church. His eyes darted around the inside of the place.

The interior arches of the church are constructed of laminated wood. The ceiling rises to a height of 40 feet at the base of the altar. One of the features of the church provides for ample seating for the parish size. The interior of the church follows the design of a Gaelic cross

Like a magnetic pull Leonardo made his way following her direction and soon he was Walking through the sloppy lane Ana reached the gate of the old church. Entering into she strides straight towards the huge mahogany open door of the church and entered inside.

There she was sitting in one of the benches set in rows along with other people. The priest was busy reciting some verse from the holy Bible.

Leonardo had never visited church till his 28 years old span of life. Being trained to become a mafia boss he was never been introduced with the religious beliefs. Neither Fernando had time not he himself had ever been to any religious places. Lust of power and money keeps Leonardo wondered what was she doing unknown to any religious gesture.

After few minutes she made some movement with her hand and rose up gracefully from her sitting position.

Taking the right turn she was out in the open sky unaware that someone was still trailing

Walking through the pathway she approached the nearby lake which is situated in the back

Lifting her dress up she stepped aside her flat slippers and climbed down the solid stairs.

Reaching near the water she dipped her legs relishing the cold water easing her feet.

The area around the lake felt so serene in the lap of nature.

Leonardo felt a rush of excitement he never felt before watching her. He never felt as strongly about anything as he felt at this moment. He gulped the sudden desire that developed within him to feel the velvety skin. It was a huge turn on. He felt his manhood twist in his pant.

Was it some kind of game. Let him see but not too

Weird but this was the first time someone precisely a small girl whom he had barely met
