Forgive Me

Charlotte spotted us instantly, and a smile plastered on her thin lips as she came to us.

'Relax, please,' Ellis's mind linked me. I glared at him, 'She's innocent and timid. Already she feels bad this is happening,' bad this happened, I bet she loved it.

"Love! I'm sorry about what happened at the party," Charlotte said urgently, sitting next to

I roll my eyes but still keep my cold demeanor. Charlotte didn't look like someone who felt

- "Love! I'm sorry about what happened at the party," Charlotte said urgently, sitting next t Ellis, closely might I add.
- "It's not your fault, Charlotte," I grumbled tightly, unable to be nice to her.
- " I feel so guilty that we had sex yesterday knowing well he is your boyfriend," My heart started to race in my chest... Sex? My body was shaking at the realization that they mated, and my Lycan was wincing at this betrayal, Ellis lied to me.
- sorry, my friend," Charlotte cried. I was stunned, numb at what I heard. My wide stare snapped at Ellis. He looked incredibly guilty, my lips were suddenly quivering.

 "Y- you told me nothing happened," my voice trembled. Ellis glared at his mate, she

"Oh love, I'm such a horrible person. It just happened over and over. It is the mate bond, I'm

- cowered in fear of him, yet I could swear I saw a faint smirk curl on her lips, she wanted me to find out they slept together.

 " It wasn't- Love, you're my everything, and I- I didn't mean for it to happen," He was
- stuttering, this was the first time I heard him stutter. He tried to hold my hand but I revolted against him.
- " My lycan, he-"
- " Enough," I growled, releasing my alpha aura. Charlotte jumped from her seat, scared, and not looking at me.
- "You betrayed me, both of you," I said, glaring at them, Vee was growling now, all the sadness from earlier was replaced with anger, anger towards these two.

Tears were building in my eyes, but I refused to cry. I wasn't going to in front of them. The tension in the cafe was palpable now, and the other customers were still, watching us. My bloodline was powerful, my parents were both alphas hence, my aura was oppressing, and commanding. It was usually light, calming people around me, now it was dark.

"Love, tame your lycan," Ellis said through his teeth. I glared at him for a long time, and I could sense his inner lycan was trying to surface. We were both alphas, but this was his territory, defianing him like this, in front of people couldn't be tolerated no matter how much he loved me. I looked away but refused to submit to him.

He looked over to Charlotte as if getting his silent message, and she bowed to us

- "Forgive me, Love," She still couldn't look me in the eye. She turned to leave while I glared at her retreating. Bitch. I noticed everyone in the Cafe left, it was just the two of us now.
- " I was confused and disoriented after having so much to drink and I thought it was you," he was restless, trying to justify his actions. I didn't stop the tears that were streaming down my face.
- "Forgive me, please," he begged. I felt so much contempt for him. I've done nothing but love him yet he betrayed me like this. I inhaled and stood to leave, but he grabbed my arm and spun me to him. He holds me in an embrace tightly. My whole was shaking and hot sobs escaped my lips before I felt darkness overtake my senses.

My eyes opened later and I found myself in my bedroom, did I faint? Arms were surrounding me, it was Ellis. I carefully got out of bed but he woke up, looking panicked.

- "Love, babe, you passed out, how do you feel?" he asked, sitting up. I step away from him and rush into the bathroom, locking myself in. I sat on the floor, wrapped my arms around my knees as I breathed in and out, in and out, trying not to cry.
- "Love, Love, please open the door. I'm sorry, I'm so fucking sorry for the hurt I caused you," he is banging on the door. The door opened, and he walked in. Ellis got on his knees and tilted my head towards him. However, I refused to look at him. I push him away from me.
- "Leave me alone," I implored, "I don't want to see you, Ellis," I buried my face in my legs.

 "No. Love"
- " No, Love,"

 " You lied to me!" I shouted angrily, hitting his chest severely, but he didn't budge, " You said
- you wouldn't hurt me, but here we are! You fucked her, shared with her intimate parts of you,"

 He was silent after my sudden outburst, filled with shame.

gently grabbed my wrist and carried me to the bedroom despite my struggle. He laid me on the bed and sat next to me, stroking my hair.

"Rest, I'll see you tomorrow evening," he said, but I didn't answer him, just closing my eyes.

The next day, I was ready to go to class. I had bags under my eyes because I didn't get

"I hate you, and I wish I didn't love you!" I screamed, tears rolling down my cheeks. Ellis

I step out of the elevator only to find Charlotte in the lobby of my building. I frowned as she approached me with a grin on her face. She was wearing a short skirt and a white dress shirt that I recognized as Ellis'.

The omega reeked of my boyfriend, and my hands balled into a fist.

"Hi, Love," she waved, and I narrowed my gaze at her.

"May I help you?" I asked, looking at her icily, and she took a step back, intimidated by me.

enough sleep so I wore sunglasses.

- "Well, I just wanted us to walk to class together," she said
 I don't answer her and proceed to walk to the campus, "You hate me, don't you?" Charlotte
- suddenly said after a long silence.

I stared at her sharply, my gaze piercing, "You slept with my boyfriend, should I commend you?"

Comments (2)