

HIS LORDSHIP ALEXANDER KANE BY USELESS CAESAR

Chapter 471

Chapter 0471 "Mister Kane." The phone connected as Afred sat in his Mercedes, his face and voice filled with an indescribable shame. "Just now..." He recounted the events that had just transpired, his face full of self-blame. "I failed in handling the matter, Mister Kane. I ask for your punishment." At this moment, Alexander had just arrived at the Rabaldiston branch, about 200 kilometers from Deephaven.

He listened to the news coming from the car stereo and spoke softly, "So he's Paul Homer, the market supervisor of Deephaven?" Afred replied with a 'yeah', his eyes bloodshot. "I've been here four times already. The first three times were all rejected at the door, and this time..." "Understood." Alexander turned the steering wheel with one hand, speeding toward Deephaven. He said calmly, "You return to the branch first.

I will handle this." An hour and a half later.

In the office, Paul held a brush, proudly practicing small painting. He looked up at the high-end electronic clock hanging on the wall and sighed lightly.

It was almost time to get off work.

Since becoming the market supervisor of Deephaven, he had lived a comfortable life, enjoying flowers and practicing painting. Backed by the six major northern families, even the mayor had to respect him. Although his position was not high, he wielded real power and enjoyed substantial benefits. This time, when the new product of the Chesire Corporation entered the market, he had received signals from the six major families to delay as much as possible and let the market hype completely fade away.

"Too bad, too bad." Paul put down the brush, changed into casual clothes, and sneered. "Talking about a thirty percent profit is just an excuse. Even if the company agrees, I won't give them approval! "The Xanthos family isn't the only power going against the New Chesire Group. There are many influential families in the North, and the six major families form a community of shared interests. With the new product of the New Chesire Group entering the market, they have offended too many people-" Paul's monologue was interrupted when the office door was kicked open from outside. The entire corridor fell into silence as over 20 people lay scattered. Standing at the door was only a young figure holding a paper document-the approval for the new product of the New Chesire Group.

"Are you... Alexander Kane?" Paul was initially taken aback, but in an instant, he reacted and looked at the young man at the door. His gaze swiftly scanned the man's face, quickly identifying his identity.

Of course it was him.

The new head of security for the New Chesire Group, the son-in-law of the Chesire family, the husband of Amber - Alexander.

"How dare you be so insolent?!" He stared coldly at Alexander, pointing at the workers scattered in the corridor, his face filled with fierceness.

Chapter 472

Chapter 0472 Paul's head had taken a beating, more than once. Just with that last strike, his skull cracked open under the force, and he saw stars dancing before his eyes. It felt as if Alexander was on a mission to shatter every bone in his head.

"I'll sign! I'll sign right away!" He desperately clung to the table, his legs swaying uncontrollably, devoid of any inkling of hope.

Alexander was no ordinary man. He was a devil, a tyrant, a ruthless character who knew no bounds. A lawless outlaw. The document must be signed, or death awaited.

"You could've avoided all this trouble," Alexander coldly snorted, shattering the palette in his hand. He released

Paul's head, his voice chilling, "you have one minute, don't make me wait any longer!" Paul, his head throbbing with pain, raised a hand to cover the wound on his forehead. He staggered to the back of his desk, trembling as he fumbled to retrieve the official seal from the nearby safe.

Dipping the seal in ink, stamping, signing-in less than half a minute, all the procedures were completed.

"Not so fast!" Alexander stepped forward, examining the final signature on the customs clearance document.

He snorted lightly and said, "There are six customs clearance departments, and you're just one of them. Who are the other five in charge?" Paul's body stiffened, his lips mumbled but failed to utter a single word.

With the New Chesire Group product I launch causing tension, aside from the Xanthos family, the six major influential families were on high alert.

They had infiltrated the six customs clearance departments in Deephaven, placing their people in each. Paul was just one of them.

For the approval to be effective, all six departments had to sign. Otherwise, it was meaningless.

"They... They..." After just three seconds of hesitation, Paul dared not I delay any longer.

Trembling, he spoke, "They are all in different offices, on different floors. Howlett Cinder in the inspection office on the second floor, Daniel Foster in the epidemic prevention office on the Then, nervously, he looked at Alexander. "Mister Kane, I've told you everything I know. I hope you..." Alexander could not be bothered to deal with him. He simply grabbed the approval documents and, turning around, strode out of the office.

The heads appointed by the six major wealthy families? He would beat them one by one, and it would not take much time.

Approximately 20 minutes later.

"Paul!" In the Market Inspection Office, five middle-aged men with bruised and swollen faces, moaned in pain. j Pointing accusingly at Paul, one of I them roared in anger, "You did this Why did you betray us? Alexander is I about to beat us to death!" Paul covered the wound on his head, his face stained with blood, and his eyes bloodshot.

As long as they rallied manpower, they could overturn Alexander.

Even with exceptional skills, he was just one person after all. The security personnel at the Rabaldiston branch of the New Chesire Group totaled only a little over 20 men, hardly worth mentioning.

"Deephaven is two hundred twenty kilometers from Rabaldiston," said Paul, covering the wound on his head.

A glint of cold light flashed in his eyes.

"Guys, no time to waste. Let's act separately. Each person should arrange at least three vans and gather at the highway entrance. The more manpower, the better.

"Attack Rabaldiston overnight, retrieve the customs approval, and overturn Alexander!" The five leaders immediately set out, exuding a murderous aura. They sought revenge against Alexander. They must reclaim the territory! Meanwhile, in Rabaldiston, at the northern branch of the New Chesire Group.

Alexander was nonchalant as if he had done a trivial thing. He gently placed the customs approval on the comprehensive office of the marketing department.

The entire office, including Alfred, was petrified.

Dozens of business elites, along with Alfred, had racked their brains and made several trips to Deephaven.

Despite almost breaking their legs in the process, they failed to obtain the customs approval.

As for Mister Kane? He just made a round trip and somehow got the job done in less than five hours! Deephaven was the first checkpoint between Ol' Mare and northern regions, with countless nails planted by northern aristocratic families.

There were six department heads alone in the customs department.

Mister Kane managed to handle all six of them? Although aware of Mister Kane's formidable abilities, the efficiency with which he handled things was almost exaggerated... No, it should not be described as exaggerated. It was terrifying. Whenever Mister Kane took action, he never failed to impress!

"Long live Mister Kane!" "We'll forever support you, Mister Kane!" "Our new products will surely sell well.

Mister Kane and Miss Chesire will grow old together, enjoying a harmonious life for a hundred years..." In the entire office, it was unclear who spoke first, but the employees instantly echoed the sentiments, cheering with excitement.

"Mister Kane!" Alfred quickly walked up to Alexander, glancing down at the customs clearance documents. His excitement was hard to conceal.

market!" "Go!" A group of men rushed out of the valleys, ignoring the CCTV cameras all over the streets, and headed straight for the New Chesire's Group branch.

It was chaos! It was rush hour after work. There were cars and pedestrians on the street, but no one dared to stay or watch from a distance for fear of annoying the group of burly men. People quickly fled, and the orderly street instantly turned to chaos.

"A bunch of goons!" The leader was a strong man, armed with a wide-bladed machete. He snickered and cursed at the passing WJ *15BONUS crowd. He led the rest of the men into the lobby of the office and then yelled, "Are Amber and Alexander there? Tell them to get their asses out here! I'm here to send them to hell!" "Who's in charge here? Get the hell in here!" "Who has the customs permits? Hurry up and give them to me!" The group of men shouted and cursed loudly. They would have frightened the employees of an ordinary company.

However, all the employees in the lobby of the New Chesire Group office seemed to turn a deaf ear to their screams, and no one gave the group of intruders a second glance. No one showed any respect! "Fuck!"

The leader of the group was stunned at first but soon became angry. "Are you all deaf? Didn't you see the weapon in my hand? I'm talking to you!" The lobby was quiet.

The people in the office remained busy.

The young and beautiful receptionist, the skilled operator, the serious and responsible janitor... all went about their tasks in an orderly fashion, completely ignoring the group of burly men! "Screw you all!" The leader became even more angry.

Swinging the machete in his hand violently, he shouted to his people, "Guys, go all out! Smash everything you can, take everything you can, and find the customs permit!"

Clatter! Behind him, the large group of men, waving weapons in their hands, pushed past the crowd and rushed madly toward the employees of the office. "How dare you all cause a ruckus in here?" A clear voice calmly sounded from behind the reception desk of the lobby; a young man in a casual suit slowly walked from the stairs to the center of the lobby, his eyes slightly narrowed as he looked at the faces of the group of big men.

Chapter 475

Chapter 0475 More than 130 stout and strong men launched an attack simultaneously.

What a scene.

If the lobby of the office were not spacious enough, it would be impossible for so many people to fit in there at the same time. Besides the intruders, there were the employees, the receptionists, and the janitors, making a total of 200 people in the lobby.

The two opposing sides were clear and distinct! On the side near the lobby entrance, all the men had their weapons, ready to attack. Their daggers flashed cold light, their steel pipe looked imposing, and their machete had a killing aura. On the other side, the office workers were busy with their work, their heads hanging down, not paying attention to the shocking scene in front of their eyes. All because they believed they were safe! Standing in front of them was Alexander Kane, the husband of the General Manager of the New Chesire Group, Amber Chesire. He was the head of the security department and an invincible martial arts expert. He deserved to be called the King of Ol' Mare! "Did Paul Homer send you here? Oh well." Alexander lowered his head, not even looking at the group of intruders. He went straight to the VIP waiting area in the lobby and sat down on the sofa with his legs crossed. "T understand that you are just being paid to do your job, and I will go easy on you all.

"Now go back to where you came from and get Paul Homer to come to me.
"You should be grateful for the chance.

This is your only chance." The leader was a little stunned to hear Alexander's remark, but soon, he burst out laughing maniacally. He thought how naive Alexander was to think he could make over 130 men return in defeat with just one sentence. There was no way Alexander was a Lord of War. The leader thought he had heard the best joke ever! "Hey, you. I don't think you should get too cocky!" The leader brandished his machete and snorted at Alexander. "Honestly, I'm not afraid to tell you, we are all martial artists. We all have vital energy in our bodies! So what if you are powerful in the martial world? You can't possibly stand up to so many people! "T don't think you stand a chance against 130 pigs, let alone us martial artists. Guys, cut the crap and get him!" No one dared to move! Alexander was sitting on the sofa, his eyes sweeping calmly over all the men before him.

However, the air seemed to be filled with an indescribable, terrible pressure, like a high mountain range stretched over each of their heads, ready to press down and strike a fatal blow! The leader swallowed, slightly uncomfortable, but returned to tighten his machete once more. Gritting his teeth, he shouted, "People, we've all been paid for this! All of you are going to chop up Alexander with me. After it is all done, each of you will get another $7,500!" Without hesitation, the group of men rushed Alexander, pointing their weapons at him.

"Sigh!" Alexander slowly let out a sigh.

"They are so stubborn! I already gave them a chance. I can't be blamed if they don't appreciate it. There is no need to waste any more time here.' Strike!

Chapter 0476 In the lobby, the battle began and ended abruptly. The whole process was ridiculously and amazingly fast! The employees who had been working in the office for a long time did not react too much to the scene in front of them and seemed to have known that Alexander could easily handle the group of men.

The new employee, like the beautiful receptionist, watched Alexander's calmness from a distance and took a deep breath. Her eyes were filled with admiration.

'Is this the legendary and invincible Mister Kane? He's really handsome!'

"Everyone, continue with your work." Alexander smiled faintly and nodded to the staff before slowly standing up, walking over to the burly leader, and saying, "Paul was able to gather so many fighters from Deephaven. It seems that the dark forces in Deephaven are much more chaotic than I imagined.

"If so, I should work hard again and bring Deephaven back to safety!" The more than 130 men had broken their calves and were writhing on the ground, but they could still hear Alexander's voice clearly. They looked at each other for a few moments, noting the uncontrollable fear in each other's eyes.

They wondered what Alexander could possibly mean by taking Deephaven back to safety.

'Could it be that Alexander wanted to completely destroy the dark forces in Deephaven? This was crazy!' "Alexander, you are too arrogant!" The burly leader on the ground clenched his teeth and suddenly craned his neck, shouting madly, "Do you know how deeply rooted the dark forces are in Deephaven? Let me tell you, the foundation of Deephaven's dark forces is the six major families of the North! "With the six major families joining forces, even the most powerful northern tycoons wouldn't dare take them lightly! If you dare to lay your hands on the dark forces of Deephaven, the six major families will definitely not let you go. Mark my words!" Alexander smiled! He walked to the entrance and looked at the bustling streets under the night sky. His gaze seemed to travel hundreds of miles, landing on the distant Deephaven.

'The six major families formed the dark forces in Deephaven? Then I should give them a taste of pain!' That night was not meant to be peaceful.

In the living room of Paul's mansion located Deephaven, the representatives of the six major families were like ants on a hot pan, anxiously awaiting news from Rabaldiston.

"How long has it been, why is there still no news?" "What a bunch of losers! They're paid about half a million dollars, yet they can't even complete such a small task.

The mayor of Rabaldiston had made a strong move to purge the dark forces in the city that very night. All the representatives of the six major families were imprisoned! The news spread, and within two days, it had reached the entire northern region. All the six major families were shaken, and they immediately held a secret meeting.

Three days later, they met in the hall of the Campbell family's mansion.

"Who can tell me why the mayor suddenly attacked us?" The head of the Campbell family sat on the main seat and gritted his teeth.

"These people may indeed have acted in a high-profile manner, but they did not act rashly. The mayor has always been high up in the power hierarchy, so why on earth would he intervene in such a trivial matter?" Some other family heads looked grumpy. They pondered for awhile before someone spoke in a deep voice, "Although the mayor has arrested some of our subordinates, he has taken no action against us six major families.

Our people must be evacuated from Rabaldiston, and we cannot insult the mayor anymore!" "I'm fine with the mayor. What worries me is the Xanthos family!" "Some of you may not know, but the Homer Family scouts came back with the news that the raw materials for the new products that the New Chesire Group is producing are being provided by the Callie Group. Do you know what that means? "It means that the New Chesire Group's foray into the northern region is most likely in collusion with the Xanthos Family! The Xanthos family is involved in the health and beauty industry, and they have long regarded us as a thorn in their side! "If my guess is correct, this is a plot by the Xanthos Family to deliberately get us and the New Chesire Group into a firefight and then use the power of the mayor to suppress us!"

That was a wake-up call! I The Xanthos family was undoubtedly the biggest business giant in the healthcare industry in the northern region, although the six major families had a fairly large market share. Chapter 478

Chapter 0478 After the head of the Homer family spoke, there was a brief silence in the hall.

They were pondering over the idea of the strongest envoy of the six families completely wiping out the New Chesire Group.

Even though it was a bit much, as long as it worked, it would be a permanent solution. They could rest easy and never have to worry about the threat posed by the New Chesire Group's interest in the northern region market! "Paul is right. We should really push hard and fast for this!" The other five family heads exchanged glances and nodded in unison.

The reason they were able to make a name for themselves in the northern region, where there were many powerful families, was because the six major families were united in the same spirit. When they joined forces, they were on par with the Four Tycoons.

They were determined to join forces after the unified decision was made! "Today's meeting ends here. Everyone, go home and get ready." They were at the Campbell family mansion, and of course, the head of the Campbell family spoke last. "As suggested, let's send one of our families' strongest envoys to uproot the New Chesire group."

"Oh, right, the next hurdles the New Chesire Group has before entering the northern region market are Blossomtown and Veridian. Together with the Simmons and Waine families, who have influence over these two cities, we can gather at least eight Grandmasters for this operation." "I believe that we would succeed with that kind of strength!" Speaking of the Simmons and Waine families, the other family heads immediately felt relieved.

Although the strength of the six major families was great, it was only after they joined forces that they could barely reach the first-class level, while the Simmons and Waine families were both top second-class families, second only to the Four Tycoons. If the Simmons and Waine families were to go all out, they might be able to bring out the hegemonic figures who have been living elusive lives for a long time. Slalch Thi FindNøvel.let website on Googll to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Blossomtown and Veridian were their territories, and they would never let the New Chesire Group pass through easily. In that case, Alexander and Amber would have to face not only the six major families but eight families! After the other five family heads left, the head of the Campbell family looked at the night sky above his mansion with a stern, cold light flashing in his eyes.

"This is a make-or-break moment! "The moment Alexander and Amber set foot in Blossomtown and Veridian, it will be their time to die!" Blossomtown was adjacent to Veridian, and the two cities were indistinguishable. They were the last two barriers to the northern region from Ol' Mare.

Even though the New Chesire group had managed to pass through the previous three cities, no one looked favorably upon them because the Simmons and Waine families held down the fort! "Mister Kane, these last two barriers are not easy to handle!" In Deeaphaven, at the New Chesire Group branch, Afred looked worriedly at Alexander, who was sitting on the chair. "The six major families are watching us, and the Simmons and Waine families are doing their best to stop us. We are far from being their opponents." "A total of eight families have joined forces against us. Let's not talk about entering the northern market; it would be difficult to maintain our foothold in Deephaven. Mister Kane, do you have a good idea?" Alexander chuckled in his head. He did not think they were in such a bad situation.

Alexander smiled faintly and reassured Afred, "Do you think we need to keep our foothold in om Deephaven? Since Blossomtown and Veridian are the only remaining barriers, we'll just push past them. We should accelerate our entry into the northern market, no more delays." The content is on ! Read the latest chapter there! Afred was surprised. He hesitated before saying, "Mister Kane, I know you have extraordinary strength, but we are facing the Simmons and Waine families on top of the six major families. They're just too m powerfull lomy humble opinion, we'd better..." "We'll make the first strike!" Alexander raised his hand to cut Afred off. Then he smiled and said, "The best defense is to attack. Both cities have a market supervisor, so the easy way is to get the customs permits, isn't it?"

Alexander narrowed his eyes slightly before continuing, "I will leave them alone if they do not offend me. But if they dare to cross me, they must be prepared to be killed. I don't care if it's the six major families or the Simmons

Chapter 0479 Meanwhile, in Blossomtown, the news of the New Chesire Group passing the customs in Rabaldiston spread, and the ordinary citizens of Blossomtown cheered! After Rabaldiston was Blossomtown.

The New Chesire Group's new product was specifically designed for the physique of northerners, which could bring the most improvement to the skin. The product was also priced economically; even the basic working class could afford it.

Compared to the millions of ordinary people, the Waine family and the Simmons family reacted diametrically.

In fact, the relationship between the Waine family and the Simmons family was not close. They often butt heads because they were also second-tier families in the north, and they were both after the market vacated by the Four Tycoons.

Besides the Waine family and the Simmons family, the other three northern tycoons had no idea who was behind the destruction of the Jackson family. Jackson's family, once one of the four northern tycoons, was destroyed by Alexander! "Alexander's strength cannot be underestimated." In the evening, somewhere up north, the head of the Waine family, Ryder Waine, and the head of the Simmons family, Zayn Simmons, sat in an elegant and secluded private cafe. They laughed and talked.

"But he probably doesn't know that although our two families are competitors, we are now united against our common enemy. We have done a good job running Blossomtown and Veridian." "He also didn't expect that the six major families had already joined forces with us. This time, a total of six Apex of Grandmasters and two supreme grand martials were sent to supervise the two customs." "With such strength, even today's three tycoons must be afraid of us, let alone a mere Alexander!" Zayn narrowed his eyes grimly, the teacup in his hand spinning incessantly.

The six major families had been sharing information with them. It was no secret that Walter Shennagan of the Callie Group had been secretly supplying raw materials to the New Chesire Group.

In other words, the Xanthos family and the New Chesire Group must have some unknown connection; they secretly colluded, intending to occupy the health and beauty markets in the north was ambitious! "The New Chesire Group is not that scary, and Alexander is not worth mentioning. What we need to be afraid of is the old fox, Ywain Xanthos." Zayn drank all the tea, threw the cup away, and took his cell phone out of his pocket. A grim look flashed in his eyes.

"Ryder, let's talk about this later. Let me inform the executor first, They need to be aware of what the Xanthos family is doing behind our backs!" After that, he immediately called the supreme grand martial executor that the Simmons family had hired at a high price.

On the other side, the streets of Blossomtown became deserted as night fell. The big city had a vibrant nightlife, and traffic was expected to be busy, but that night, it seemed like a curfew was in place. By eight in the evening, there were almost no pedestrians on the street.

Office workers who had worked hard all day, street vendors, and owners of small and large supermarkets all went straight home after work. They waited anxiously at home behind locked and secured doors.

There seemed to be an unusually gloomy atmosphere in the air, and even the lowest of the city's residents felt the strange atmosphere of the city that night. Something big was about to happen! "This doesn't feel right." Eight people were sitting cross-legged at the Blossomtown Stadium, in the middle of the standard soccer stadium. Among them, an old man dressed in red suddenly opened his eyes and stared at the entrance of the stadium.

"They ordered us to guard Blossomtown, ready to kill anyone from the New Chesire Group at any time, but..."

Chapter 0480 Alexander! As soon as they saw the young man, the two supreme grand martialists and the six grandmasters stood up simultaneously. The vital energy in their bodies surged, and their fighting spirit was immediately aroused.

They were facing a fierce enemy! With their cultivation level, they could detect movements from a hundred meters away. However, Alexander had managed to get within ten meters of them, and no one had noticed his presence except for the old man in red! "Are you from the North Sahara Two Poles Sect?"

Alexander looked at the old man in red with a broad smile. "The Two Poles Sect is located in the extremely cold parts of the northern desert. Their disciples practice two kinds of techniques, extreme cold and extreme heat, and they are extremely sensitive to temperature changes." "Presumably, you detected my arrival from the temperature difference in the surrounding air? Not bad, very interesting!" The old man in red looked fierce.

The North Sahara Two Poles Sect had long been forgotten by the contemporary martial arts circles. The Artic Ice Palace mentioned in many martial arts stories or the Northern Mysterious Sect originated from the North Sahara Two Poles Sect.

The last time the North Sahara Two Poles Sect appeared in history was in the early years of the Ming Dynasty.

The founding emperor, Emperor Hongwu's opponent, Koke Temur, once had a martial arts expert subordinate. The subordinate was a master of the Freezing Palm Technique.

The sect master was the last known member of the Two Poles Sect. As time passed, only a few people knew about the existence of the Two Poles Sect. The old man in red was greedy for worldly fame and wealth, so he gladly accepted Zayn's invitation and became the Simmons family's executor. Little did he know that Alexander would tell him where he came from when they first met!

"You have extraordinary knowledge at such a young age. You deserve to be the uncrowned King of Ol' Mare." After a brief moment of shock, the old man's eyes narrowed. He gave Alexander the death stare and said in a cold voice, "Did you just say you wanted to kill us all? "Since you knew where I came from, how dare you be arrogant and speak defiantly!" Alexander still had a smile on his face.

The Two Pole Sect was indeed terrifying, but that was only for ordinary people.

Alexander commanded powerful soldiers and generals as the Lord of War, and his reputation shocked the world. He had won every battle and topped the charts as the world's most formidable Lord of War! How could he be wary of the Two Poles Sect with such formidable strength? No matter how big an ant was, it was still an ant. The Two Pole Sect was nothing more than a giant ant! "I treat everyone equally, so my rules have always applied to everyone." Alexander stared at the two supreme grand martial arts and six grandmasters before him. Then, he smiled and said, "As I said, it's a pity to kill you all. As long as you repent and work for Wyverna from now on, I can let the past be the past and allow you all to live." Since the eight experts were able to cultivate up to the realm of grand martial arts and grandmasters, they were strong people. They would not be easily intimidated by the young man in front of them. They were brave men who fought with honor until their last breath, especially the old man in red.

The palms of the old man's hands radiated a cloud of green and red aura.

The back of his left hand was covered with frost, and the skin of his right hand was red like fire. He let out a long laugh. "Alexander I have always appreciated talented people. If you are willing to leave the dark side and become my disciple, I'll give you a chance and save your life.
