

Chapter 14

Izaak's Pov

"When did you get back?" I asked as I pull her into my arms, finally a person to call my own, till I felt pressure as she pushes me away

"Tiana, what's wrong?" I asked, looking into her eyes as she tried to avoid my contact.

"You got married!" She yelled at me, I heard a deep sigh from behind and I turned to Rick, he glared at me, in a way of telling me to bare my cross.

That coward.

"Tiana I can explain, just let me___" She interrupted

"Explain? What exactly do you want to explain that would undo the fact that you got married behind my back Izy!" She lashed out.

I could feel the pain in her voice as she snuffle the sound of tears and continue to glare at me

"I had no choice, the Elder made the decision I could not do otherwise, it was for an alliance, trust me Tiana, I have no feelings whatsoever for that woman, she just needs to fill in the post as the Luna, she's absolutely nothing but a ceremonial Luna that's all" I explained to her, still pulling her into my arms

"Yes Tiana, you have to trust him, you know how much he cares for you" Rick chimed in, trying to help with my case. At least he's being useful.

"You stay out of it!" She yelled at Rick and turned to me "If all she needs is to fill the post as Luna, what about me? What am I then? What was your plan for me? Did you stop to think about how I would feel when I found out you were married after all the times we spent together!" She raised her voice amidst the tears falling uncontrollably.

"Tiana!" I called her name as her pain kept breaking my heart, "Tiana come on!" I whined pulling her closer, she pulled away.

"I would ask you one question, You've never said it in words ever since we got together, Izaak," She said with her eyes set as lasers as they pinned me down

"Do you ever love me?" She asks and all I did was stand and stare like a zombie, I could not move nor reply to her question. 1

She scoffed "You are disgusting!" She lashed out and dashed out of the room.

"Tiana!" I called out to her but she turned a deaf ear and slammed the door behind her.

"Why didn't I say a word?" I mumbled to myself. I love her, I love Tiana but why didn't I just tell her that?

Gosh, I face palmed internally. I'm such an idiot.

"Aren't you going to run after her?" Rick's annoying voice came from behind, I turned around and my eyes had changed, my wolf was furious and so was I. 1

"Easy pal" He said, taking calculative steps backwards towards the door and left the room, he peeped through and whispered "You can't have them both Izy"

FIONA'S POV

"Lily!" I called out, as she ran surely around the green field, I have never wanted to have a child so badly.

"I'm envious, Mrs Teresa," I said to her in a calm and warm voice

"Why would you say that, Luna?" She replied to me calmly with a smile on her face.

"You have such a lovely granddaughter, I am beginning to wonder what it would be like if I have a child of my own, would she be as cute as Lily, would I be able to do a great job raising her as you did with Lily?" I poured my heart into her, she looked at me warmly

"May I?" she asked as she gestured

"Sure," I replied and she held my hands, they were so big, they covered my two palms together.

“You would be a great mother, Luna, I believe you would do a better job raising your child, much more than I do,” she said with so much excitement, it was as though I was already pregnant and expecting a child.

“You flatter me too much Mrs Teresa” I replied shyly.

“I dare not,” She said with a bow instantly. I pulled her up with a smile as I noticed she misunderstood me.

“I was only pulling your legs, you didn't have to bow like that,” I said to her.

“You are Luna, I can't do things recklessly, forgive me if I overstepped my boundaries,” She pleaded with another bow.

Then it dawned on me, I was no longer in my father's house, I don't have to watch my father store Stella with so much with me hanging, and I don't have to get stepped by Rhian and her friends, right here I am equivalent to a queen, I smiled at her.

I heard the sound of stilettos as they touched the locked floor, I turned around for a better view and noticed a lady in tears as she stormed into her car.

“Who is that?” I asked Mrs. Teresa as I watched the lady in her black short dress and her dark hair flowing behind her, she was so pretty despite the tears that flowed down her cheek

“Who do you inquire of?” Mrs. Teresa turns around, following my gaze, looking out for the person.

"The one in the black dress" I pointed out.

She started coughing before she could reply me.

"Are you okay?" I asked as I began to path her back, allowing her to breathe properly.

"I'm so sorry Luna," She said amidst the cough as she continued to cough repeatedly

"Enough with the apologies, let's see the packs doctor this instant" I glared at her as I tried to lead her into the house.

Lily rushed toward me as she noticed her grandmother's state.

"Grandma, are you okay?" She asked with tears rolling down her cheek, it was as though a faucet was turned on, as the tears kept flowing down.

"I'm so sorry Luna, I do not mean to make you worry," Mrs Teresa said to me as she pulled herself together, she turned to Lily and wiped off her tears, consoling her.

"I'm fine Lily, she replied with a reassuring smile.

"Are you sure you're okay? Do we really not need to visit the doctor?" I asked, my voice laced so much concern.

"I am better Luna, thank you" She reassured me and I felt a bitr elieved till I noticed a set of eyes glaring at me from afar, the lady in the black dress.
