Chapter 0050

Fiona's Pov

Elder Freya's words caught me off guard, causing me to stagger slightly backwards, and almost losing my balance. My heart raced rapidly as cold sweat broke out on my forehead.

Was this what they meant by all will be revealed during the festival? Oh my gosh! I'm going to get humiliated, not just in front of the entire pack members, but in front of Tiana also.

"Why me goddess?" I mumbled, almost at the brink of tears.

It's not like I didn't have a wolf, but how will I explain to them that my wolf, Tris, is not stable. They will make a mockery of me, and think that I'm just a pathetic liar. According to my dad, my condition is pretty rare, it's something that has only happened once in the whole werewolf history, and not many people know about it. Despite taking me to several healers and physicians of different packs, no one could come up with a permanent solution. The best that had happened, was making Tris present for three days straight, and that was it. Nothing feasible since then. I guess this is a curse from the moon goddess, because why won't at least one healer have a solution.

Back then at Silver Dawn Pack, only my family and Tamara knew about my condition. The rest of the pack members just assumed I'm wolfless.

"Show us your wolf, Luna Fiona!" A pack member yelled from amongst the crowd.

"I'm sure her wolf is as beautiful and strong like our Luna," another chimed in.

Looking at the pack members as their eyes gleamed with anticipation waiting for me to introduce my wolf, broke my heart.

"Tris?" I called out to my wolf with a silent please. "Tris?" I called out again, But got no response.

"Tris, please," I whispered pleadingly, with a trembling voice.

"Tris please, just this once," I said desperately, but all I got was nothing but a painful silence.

I stood at the center with a weak smile, as all eyes were on me patiently waiting for me to shift, but I could not. I closed my eyes for a few minutes, trying to see if I can connect with Tris somehow, but I could not, It was just plain silence.

"Maybe she's shy," another pack member said aloud.

"Awww....," the pack members cooed in unison.

"Let the alpha give her a boost," a pack member suggested.

"Yes, let him give her a boost," they all agreed.

They soon began to whisper amongst themselves and I could hardly grasp what they were whispering about.

"Do you need help Luna?" Elder Freya asked. I parted my lips but no words came out, and I just gave her a weak smile.

The pack members turned their gaze towards Alpha Izaak.

"Alpha Izaak, please help Luna Fiona out," they pleaded on my behalf. If only they knew that this was not just because I'm shy, it's something far greater.

Seeing how they love and care about me warmed my heart, but the thought of letting them down, shattered my heart into a million different pieces.

Alpha Izaak just sat down on his seat, with a blank expression. I couldn't even tell what he's thinking, not like I cared anyway. But his eyes bore into mine with so much intensity.

One of the elders went over to him, and whispered something in his ears.

As he stood up from his seat, the cheers and applause of the pack member increased, as he walked majestically towards me.

"Tris, don't do this to me please," I pleaded once more, before Alpha Izaak got to where I was.

As alpha Izaak got to where I was, he gave me a bright smile, before taking off his shirt, revealing his powerful muscular body. Leaving me in awe.

"Now's not the time, Fiona," I scolded myself inwardly. I can't afford to get distracted, I should be focusing all my mind and strength towards reaching out to Tris and wolfing out, not lusting over a man, and not just any man, Tiana's man.

Alpha Izaak soon began to shift into his wolf form, his eyes glowed as his ears grew longer, his shoulders broader, his claws were long and sharp, his fangs were so stunning, revealing a majestic gray wolf.

Seeing Alpha Izaak's wolf, my mouth fell wide open, as I stared at him. He looked even more powerful than alpha Izaak himself, and he exuded an aura that commanded respect.

The pack member stared at him in awe, as their eyes sparkled from admiration, and I could see how proud they were of Izaak as their alpha, in all his majestic alpha glory, why wouldn't they, he is not called the most powerful werewolf for nothing.

"Hello Fiona. I'm Luo," his wolf looked at me with those glowing eyes of his, making me gulp. "It's nice to finally meet you," he said, and all I could do was stare. I couldn't even utter a single word. "I can't wait to meet your wolf."

Wolf?

At the mention of wolf, I snapped back to reality. Realizing that everyone is waiting for me to shift.

"Tris, let's do this together," I called out to Tris one last time, with the hope that seeing Alpha Izaak's wolf would make her come out, but I was met with nothing but complete silence.

"Luna Fiona, everyone's waiting," Elder Freya whispered to me. I looked over at all the pack members whose eyes were watching me like a hawk. But this time around, the glint in their eyes was no longer there, some had pity in their eyes, while others had something I could not really interpret.

Panic washed through me, and tears threatened to fall, as I trembled inwardly. The pack members whispered amongst themselves, as they stared at me occasionally. I know what they are probably thinking is, why am I not shifting? Because if it was due to the fact that I was shy, Alpha Izaak was present, so I am not expected to have any excuse for not shifting.

"You don't have a wolf?" Tiana blurted out, loud enough for everyone to hear.
