

CLAIMING HIS RESISTING MATE

Chapter 61 – A Little Planning

JOHN'S POV

“Damn that bastard, I knew it should have been his work” Cassius angrily slapped the table. He had that furious look on his face. “Demon’s work strategy is really good. He knows where to pinch to make his enemy hurt”

“I was not expecting him to do such a thing. He attacked my pack from the west side. Though there was no major crisis reported but it still got affected” Hardwick looked apathetic. It was his pack we are talking about yet he didn’t seem concerned about it.

“Your pack needs your attention. You have been here for quite a long time now. And leaving your pack to run without an Alpha, Demon really took the advantage of it. If you want to check for the damages caused by the sudden attack, I suggest you leave today. After all, your pack needs their Alpha ” Cassius sighed. I can see the unwillingness in his eyes yet as an Alpha he knows the responsibility and couldn’t stop Hardwick.

“Demon could only think of Dark Forest to attack and he knows that it will be a little easier since their Alpha is not there. As for Snow Moon, he couldn’t think since dad is still here handling the pack” Devak said slowly. He tapped the table and continued, “to tell the truth Demon is really clever, he already counter measured everything before laying out his plan. And the first thing he could do to reduce our force is to split us and naturally it will split our power along”

“He had already planned something and we knew it already but he is still not taking the direct action yet playing his cards slowly. He knew he couldn’t go against us directly because even if he is considered powerful, he is still alone while we have the combined power. This is also the reason he couldn’t rest well and play tricks like this” I said, shrugging my shoulders.

“To put everything together, at the end he still affected Dark Forest. Even if it was a minor attack, we still couldn’t ignore it. Given their underground technique, we couldn’t sit still when Dark Forest had no idea about such techniques” Cassius shook his head before his gaze fell on Hardwick again who seemed to me immensely quiet. He hadn’t uttered any concerning words since we sat down for the discussion.

Just then Luna Adriana, Savannah and Tanea walked in. Luna Savannah looked concerned as she walked towards Hardwick and stood beside him.

“What happened? What about this urgent call?” She inquired slowly.

“Demon attacked Dark Forest” Hardwick’s reply was simple and short.

“What?” Luna Savannah gasped, “he attacked our pack? Is there any news of injury or anything?”

“No, just a minor attack. And they had fights so many got hurt during that. The report didn’t state any kind of major problem” Hardwick shook his head. Luna Savannah nodded and her expression relaxed.

Hardwick turned to Cassius who was already waiting for his reply, “This attack proved Demon though he is strong but somehow in his heart he is scared. He was not sure if he could win against us which is why he took such steps. He wanted us to split so it will be easier for him to get the winning crown. But he forgot Dark Forest is not weak, nor will get frightened by his attack. Dark Forest has already witnessed several problems and fought with bravery, his minor attack is nothing but a daily play. He knew clearly he couldn't harm directly this is why he took the minor side" he paused for a moment, "don't worry, I am not leaving until I make sure there is no Demon in this world. As for the security of Dark Forest, my beta is able to handle it. There are people who could run the pack just fine without the Alpha himself. I wouldn't be staying here if I was not sure about my Pack's security in the first place"

Cassius revealed a smile, "thank you Hardwick, Demon's plan was really good, if there others in your place, they would have thought about his pack and wouldn't be this rational"

"The current problem is named Demon. And nothing will be solved even if I return to pack. Though Demon and I didn't have any enmity first, but now we are considered one. So as long as he was there free, and breathing we can never sit still have the peace we all want" Hardwick replied.

"Great, besides I am worried about Reese, if there is a war then we also need to make sure of her safety. She just endured the biggest hit and her body has not recovered yet. Given that her wolf is still unconscious there is no chance for her to help herself. It will be better for us to stay closer to ensure her safety" Luna Savannah said.

"Right, we are trying hard to cheer her on. She was deeply hurt and she needs a long time to finally be able to move freely as before" Adriana nodded.

"How about we have a barbecue in the yard today?" Tanea suggested. "She will be happy, to eat together and enjoy the little time. I mean she has been staying in the infirmary all the time, I am really surprised she could endure it. If I were her, I would have been crazy"

"Everyone is not like you" Devak teased her.

Luna Tanea threw him a glare "what do you mean by that? Do you want to-"

“Hands up, I surrender” Devak didn’t let her complete and raised his hands in the air.

“Better” Luna Tanea smiled sweetly.

“But she was restricted from eating meat,” Adriana recalled.

“No problem, because it’s a barbecue, the dish really doesn’t have to be meat all the time. I guess we could still use seafoods, and there will other items too”

“Right, the main point is to help cheer her up, what we eat is nothing as long as she is happy” Luna Savannah added.

I smiled hearing their plan. Though the danger of the war is lurking around, we couldn’t just talk about it. We had already made the plan and were just waiting for the right time. But my mate also needed to be treated well. Since they are planning to enjoy little time it can be managed. I looked at the men who were looking at their wives. They didn’t protest nor interject their plan. Looks like they also want to enjoy time with them. I couldn’t help but sigh inwardly. Once this war problem is done, I will make Reese my wife.

Just thinking about marrying her, I could feel my body getting excited. God, I just couldn’t wait anymore.

REESE’S POV

“Done, I see your wounds are healing fast now. I guess your wolf will be up soon” Phoebe placed down the ointment and smiled.

“Do you think so?” I can feel the excitement inside me. “I just couldn’t wait for Eve to talk to me again. It has already been several days”

“Oh, your wolf called Eve?”

I nodded, “yes, she is always talking to me. And now feeling her silence in my head I feel bored”

She smiled, “don’t worry. She will wake up soon and you two can talk again. Since your wounds are improving I guess you can start your body movements. Try to move your legs and felt it it hurts”

I nodded and tried to move my legs. Because I have been sitting for days I felt like my legs were numb and I could feel anything.

“I guess my legs are frozen” I chuckled, “I couldn’t feel anything at all”

Phoebe nodded, “it’s because you have been sitting for long” she rubbed my legs and pinched in a few places. “Here try again”

“Wow” I was surprised when my legs finally moved. With a grin I looked at Phoebe, “your hands are magic”

Phoebe laughed, “it’s just a function of your nerves that needs little push to let them know they are still alive. Anyways come, try to get up” she moved towards me and held my hand.

Slowly moving my hand I dangled it and took a deep breath before trying to get up. First attempt failed when I fell back on bed. Phoebe said encouraging words and helped me again. This time I was able to stand with her help. Most of my body was leaning to her for support.

“Okay, so try taking slow steps okay” she said and I did.

“Does it hurt?” She asked.

I shook my head “no, but I feel like it’s not energetic as before. I don’t know if I could help myself to stand properly and depends on it”

“After a few more practices you will be fine. Your nerves were not active as you haven’t used your legs. And also because of kneeling too much your knees are hurt and lose their energy. Turner will check it later and provide you with medicine, it will help you regain your energy”

“I must say thanks to Turner then in advance” I smiled. I can move and stand straight.

“Okay I am letting you go. Let’s see how long you can stand on your own”

I nodded. Slowly she let go of my hand but she was prepared for me to help.

“How do you feel?” She asked.

“I feel heavy. I never knew I have this heavy body” I joked and she smiled.

“You are funny”

I nodded “may be. I guess I-” suddenly I felt my legs couldn’t withstand my body pressure and I started to fall back. My eyes widened and I almost screamed in horror when I felt two arms caught me in the mid air.

Chapter 62 – Little Punishment

REESE’S POV

Azrael’s handsome face came into view as he looked at me with a frown.

I heard Phoebe let out a sigh of relief. “Oh my God, Reese you almost scared me to death”

“What the hell is happening?” Azrael hissed. He pulled me up and supported me holding my waist. I leaned on him, feeling my legs had become jelly.

Phoebe shuddered with his expression. I rolled my eyes.

“You don’t have to blame her like that. She was helping to get on my feet. We were just practicing when I suddenly felt my body losing energy and couldn’t call her for help. Before she could help me you came to me” I was sure, even if he didn't arrive in time Phoebe would have caught me before I hit the floor. After all werewolves have fast speed and strength.

He didn't say a word and scooped me up before gently placing me on bed.

"I will come and check on you later" Phoebe had the look of apologetic as she left the room in hurry. I felt bad for her. Poor her, she has been trying to help me yet had to face Azrael's cold glare. I really didn't want that to happen. I sighed, shaking my head.

"Why do you have to glare at her? She looked embarrassed and scared" I scolded him as soon as the door was closed.

"You were about to fall," he reasoned, sitting on the bed facing me.

"She would have caught me in time. She was helping me to walk. And she was too careful about my body condition. You haven't seen how frightened she was when she saw me falling and you scared her like that. That is not fair" I shook my head. Phoebe is such a sweetheart. She has been tending my wounds and helping me with medicine to cure me. I really don't want to leave any kind of bad impression on her.

"Okay I am sorry, I was too concerned about you. Your body was not good and if you fell, it would hurt you more. I was shocked when I saw you falling when I just stepped inside the room. That kind of scene was not what I expected to see. And I didn't mean to scare her like, it just happened naturally" Azrael shrugged. Though he said he was sorry for scaring her, his eyes told another story. I couldn't help but sigh.

"Azrael can you be little serious about it. Phoebe has been tending my wounds since I woke up. I couldn't touch water nor take a bath because it would have the opposite effect on the wounds. But Phoebe helped me to clean my body everyday so that I wouldn't stink. She is helping me so much, with applying ointment and giving me timely medicine. How can I repay such gestures? And you had to make her feel embarrassed. How can I endure it?"

He looked at me before sighing "fine, you win. I will talk to Turner and bring a gift for her as a sorry"

I was surprised "what did you say? You will?"

He nodded and cupped my face "she is helping you so much, at least I can do this small thing"

"Do you know you are impossible? Always know how to drag me in your side"
I shook my head.

"Because you belong with me" he grinned.

"What about the latter from Dark Forest? Is Savannah going back?" I asked. I almost forgot about that matter. The girls left and didn't return at all. It's already evening but there's no sign of them.

"Demon attacked Dark Forest"

I gasped "what? Oh my god"

"Don't be surprised. It is under expectations though. We all knew he was a cunning bastard and also a scared wolf who couldn't wait to bring his claws out. But he forgot his tricks and intentions are long seen by us" I could see him clenching his jaw.

"So what about Dark Forest? Is everything alright there?"

"They are fine. Demon knows he couldn't get upper hands and only caused a few minor damages. There was no report of death from Dark Forest. Hardwick has assured his security system was tight and Demon even if he wanted couldn't go further than that"

"It's a relief then" I sighed, "Demon is born by Satan. All his actions are heartbreaking and full of disgust. I don't understand how such people still have the chance to breathe in this world. He was a thorn in people's peaceful life" I frowned.

"You don't have to worry about this matter. Whether he wanted to or not, he had to face his own Karma. He will pay for everything for what he did in the past. Hardwick has already said he won't be leaving till Demon has the free breath take. If he goes then he will make sure there is no Demon in this world"

"Alpha Hardwick really set his mind on killing the Demon , didn't he?"

"He is. Maybe it started from the day when Demon's people ruined his son's birthday" Azrael chuckled.

"Why are you laughing? What would you do if this kind of thing happened to you? Would you sit still if your son's celebration is also ruined like-" my words stopped in the middle when I realized what I was speaking. Suddenly my heart filled with agony. I almost forgot that I couldn't get pregnant again. This is a curse that is hard to accept. I made up my mind and tried to live. But seeing others having the chance to hold their own flesh and blood my heart clenches inside. I feel the heaviness growing and wouldn't stop until I die.

"I am sorry, I shouldn't have said that" I whispered, lowering my head. I couldn't look into his eyes anymore. This curse was nothing but the karma of my own. For deceiving my own self and rejecting my mate. It was the repayment of every bad thing I have done. How could I celebrate my happiness when I was the one snatching others' peace and making them suffer? After meeting Azrael and feeling his love and care, I almost forgot who I was actually.

Azrael grabbed my chin and pulled my head up so that I could look into his eyes "you are thinking about the past again". There was no regret in his eyes nor any kind of resentment. How come someone is so perfect in every way I look? How come I was so foolish that I didn't recognise his true heart?

My eyes immediately brimmed with tears “I couldn’t help it. Adriana, Savannah and Tanea they all blessed their mates with an heir to succeed their position. And here I am even if I have such a desire I just couldn’t do anything about it. And I also know it’s all because of my own fault. If I was not a fool to see things clearly my body wouldn’t refuse to give you the ultimate happiness” I feel so low and my whole body is burning with regret.

“You think having a child will bring the ultimate happiness?” He questioned pinching my chin.

“Azrael I-”

“You have been with me yet you still don’t know about my intention? If I was thinking about the baby, you wouldn’t be here at all. But that’s not what I want or need. My ultimate happiness is you. If you are by my side, I will be happy. For two years I suffered from the pain thinking you are dead. I couldn’t think of anything. Sometimes I thought it would have been better to have kidnapped you that night instead of rejecting. You would have resisted but for how long? Our bond would have melted you in my arms after sometime” he let out a throaty chuckle. “That was the biggest mistake I made. I didn’t hear my heart but my mind which caused me great suffering. If you think the problem of a baby could make you escape from me then you need to think again darling” his tone became hard and his eyes darkened. He pressured my chin and I could feel pain. But I endured it and looked into his eyes.

“Azrael” I called out his name, almost whispering. He leaned down and claimed my lips with a passionate kiss. He sucked my lips like it was his favorite candy. Slowly nipping my lips his tongue pushed inside harshly. I moaned when I felt him playing his tongue in my mouth. I could taste his masculine darkness tangled with extreme passion. He didn’t stop with that as he rolled his tongue and played with mine before sucking my tongue. I don’t know how long we have been kissing after finally he decided to let it go.

I panted, closing my eyes. What happened? I felt my eyes were blurry. He was so forceful and wouldn't stop until he exhausted me completely. Because of my weak body I couldn't stand his force. He pinched my chin again and made me look at his eyes.

"If you say anything like that again, I will fucking fuck you hard and raw without considering if your body could take it or not" he hissed. I knew he was angry. But his words sent chills through my nerves and my body suddenly got excited. His dark eyes gazing at me piercing my soul.

"I am sorry" I uttered feeling helpless.

He pecked my lips "you should remember it darling. I don't want you to torture yourself with such nonsensical thoughts again. Do you understand me?"

I nodded my head.

"I need words darling," he said, making sure I voice out the answer..

"Yes" I replied knowing he wouldn't let it go until I do as he says.

"Good, now let's go. I came to take you with me" he got up from bed.

"Take me where?" I frowned.

"Well, your friends are too excited and they prepared something for you"

"What?" I smiled. Are these girls planning now?

He smiled "something that will make you happy. It was more like a family time" he bent down and picked me up again.

"I feel like I have a big family now" I replied as I held his shoulder.

"You do," he nodded as he started to walk towards the door.

"What are they planning?"

"You will know soon"

I rolled my eyes. This man knows how to kill a cat with curiosity.

Chapter 63 – Barbeque Night In The Yard

REESE'S POV

“Barbecue?”

My eyes widened as I looked at the yard. Adriana, Tanea and Savannah were all busy there with their mates. The barbecue grill was set. Savannah was getting ready for the food while Alpha Hardwick was busy with the firewoods. Alpha Cassius brought some wine bottles while Adriana was setting the table. Tanea and Alpha Devak were cutting the vegetables. Yard today was full of people and too noisy. A slow music was playing in the background to set the mood. The sky was clear and the Moon was glowing. Under the few lights which were decorated for today I guess the barbecue mood was perfect.

“Are you surprised?” I heard Azrael asked. I was still in his arms and I almost forgot about it. The scene in front of me was totally unexpected. Who could have thought those big cold Alpha's would have such taste?

“This is what you all are planning?” I tore my gaze from them and looked at Azrael.

“Correction, my love, it was all your friend's idea. And we men couldn't resist their request besides we all wanted to stay beside our mate. So grilling food is not a big problem at all”

I chuckled, “I didn't know you arrogant men are this passionate. My observation has changed now”

“We can be more passionate if we want darling. But the problem is if you could handle it or not” I could feel the double meaning in his words which immediately burnt my face with embarrassment.

“Can you stop talking like that? Your double meaning words are -”

“Horny?” I glared at him. This man, why is he so vulgar?

“Superfluous”

He smirked, “yet you like it. Just heal your body fast darling, then I will give you the best example of superfluous with a demo”

I rolled my eyes “enough, you are not even considering there are other people here. Do you want them to hear everything?”

“It’s nothing they hadn’t said or heard before. You don’t don’t have to worry about them” he replied nonchalantly. The corner of my lips twitched as I looked at him. It was just a waste of time to talk to him about it.

“Ah, you are here” Tanea was the first one who spotted us. “Finally girl, you are out of that infirmary room. So how do you feel about it?” She walked to us and grinned.

“Good, I am having fresh air after a long time” I smile.

“Come first take your seat and watch us start the barbecue. You will love it. We have prepared many dishes along” She clapped.

Azrael walked towards the couch which was placed at the side of the yard and gently dropped me before sitting beside me throwing an arm on the back pillow. A small table was there in front of me. From this position I can see everyone and their actions. It felt like a family enjoying a family dinner together. I watched them getting busy with work.

“Hardwick, not like that” I heard Savannah squeal suddenly. I chuckled when I saw how she was scolding Alpha Hardwick.

“Looks like Alpha Hardwick got earful”

“He just wanted to mess with her”

I turned to him, “you seemed like you have known him for quite a long time”

He nodded slightly, “working with those Alpha’s is hard but it’s also a good experience. I wouldn’t say they are not stubborn sometimes and gets in nerves but to be honest they are too good to let go”

“They are good, that’s why they kept their mates happy” I turned my head to look at them again. I can see them while they are working, the Alpha’s are teasing their mates from time to time. I shook my head when I saw Alpha Cassius steal a kiss from Adriana. Even after having a baby, their bond was still fresh like before.

“I never thought they would plan something like this,” I sighed.

“Well Tanea suggested it. She said you have been sitting in the infirmary all day and you needed some fresh air to take. Barbecue idea was also her. Then other girls joined saying they could make it a family dinner in the yard”

I nodded, “Tanea is such a sweetheart. She always has the idea how to use her mind perfectly”

“Oh, you are praising her so much darling. I have some ideas too, would you like to hear?”

I turned to look at him only to find his dark eyes. I rolled my eyes at him “don’t be jealous now Azrael. She is like a sister to me” I pursed my lips. He also gets jealous of Tanea? For god’s sake she is a girl.

“Hey you two” Tanea walked towards us, “I hope you are enjoying the night”

“Nothing can be better than this, thank you Tanea” I smiled. I couldn’t help but feel my heart warm at the sight.

“I hope you won’t mind seafood barbecue. You know you are restricted for meat so we thought you could eat seafood instead”

“Sea food?” I was amazed, “well, I don’t mind. I think trying a new thing is always good” I nodded.

“Great, we first thought of using shrimps but then your mate refused at once and said you don’t like shrimp much so we had to drop the idea. But you don’t have to worry, oysters, mussels are already on the list. I also heard shellfish grills easily and has a sweet, smoky flavor. So yeah you will definitely like it”

“Only barbecue?” I asked. “What about side dishes?”

“Well summer salad, grilled herbed vegetables and yeah bread toast, I guess everything is perfect” she showed her thumbs.

“Perfect,” I returned the gesture.

“How did you know I don’t like shrimps much?” I asked him once Tanea went back to her work.

“I heard you once when you were talking about food,” he shrugged. “Besides, I have to know everything, what you like and what you don’t. I can’t miss a single bit”

I sighed, I felt like my heart was blasting inside my chest. I fear he could hear the loud thumping too. Even if I wanted to control it, I couldn’t grab hold of it. These people around me are more than a family, who take care of me, support me and try to make me happy in every little thing. If I ever had the idea that my future was sealed like this, I wouldn’t have let myself fall for the wrong person and preserved myself for the better one. How could I think that a person who was shameful to accept his real mate would be loyal to me? He was not loyal to his own destined one, mine was far from the topic. The incidents of the past couldn’t stay buried when every action of the present is comparable. Even after so I am glad, I could have Azrael, my mate, the real one. It didn't take time for the barbecue to be ready. Since it was a seafood dish, it was finished before the planned timing. Soon we all are enjoying the meal, talking and laughing.

"Here" Adriana handed me a glass. I looked at the glass then to her. She smiled "don't worry, it's a grape juice which I made earlier. To set the mood we bought wine, and I made it for you, it will give you the impression like you are drinking with us with a fruity taste" she winked.

I chuckled, "thank you". The grape juice really had the color of wine. Other than the taste it was familiar to those they were holding.

"Cheers to the barbecue today" Tanea raised her glass and we did the same offering her the cheer.

"I never thought sea foods are also a good choice when it comes to barbecue" Savannah drank her wine "and finally I can savor the taste of this wine"

"Those shellfish are the best, I can still taste it" Alpha Devak uttered.

"It's because I made it," Tanea smiled.

"When did you make it? It was Sav who was grilling her heart out" Alpha Devak argued back with a frown.

"But still I washed them and added the species. Where were you when I was doing that? You didn't see yet had the heart to blame me? How could you?" Tanea almost barked at him.

"Hey shut up you two. The point is everyone enjoyed the food. It doesn't matter who cooked or not. Now stop arguing, you looked like 5 years old" Savannah scolded both of them.

"He started..."

"She started..."

Alpha Devak and Tanea pointed at each other. This time Savannah rolled her eyes “I am sorry guys but I don’t know these two at all” she sighed and ignored them. Tanea and her mate glared at each other.

“They are always like this?” I leaned to Savannah who was sitting beside me.

“Yeah, it’s good they aren’t pulling each other’s hair” she rolled her eyes. “I have witnessed more and really started to get tired of them. Sometimes I think of talking to dad and asking him to disown Devak. He looks silly sometimes arguing with his own wife. They are more likely to have those siblings type bonding. Sometimes I really wonder if they are really mates.

I chuckled “they already had a son remember?”

“Right,” she grinned. “I can’t help it though. I pity the poor guy, he has to witness the craziness of his parents” Savannah sighed.

“Come on they love each other that’s why they fights more”

“Yeah, I can see that. If Devak doesn’t see her for sometime he will start looking for her. This mate bonding is really crazy. Sometimes really annoying and sometimes overwhelming” Savannah smiled at her brother and his mate.

The barbecue plan was really great. I enjoyed it a lot. After such a long time of seeing the infirmary everyday I finally had the chance to enjoy life outside the boundary. Everything was perfect. This is the best barbeque time I could ever have.

“Are you enjoying it?” Azrael leaned to me whispering in my ear.

I nodded, “more than enjoying. What about you?” I smiled at him.

“I will enjoy everything that includes you”

“Do you really have to be this romantic mate?” I smiled.

“I am always this romantic and passionate,” he whispered.

“You are just...” He didn’t let me speak as he kissed me. I gasped at his sudden action but I couldn’t stop him at all. Oh god everyone is here but I don’t regret it. I kissed him back when I heard Tanea yelling in the background.

“Oh my god, we didn’t planned for PDA”

I pulled away and couldn’t help but laugh. I just love this perfect barbeque plan and this man.

Chapter 64 – His Trick In The Shower

REESE’S POV

“Do you feel any pain?” Turner knocked my knees as he asked. He pressed my knee bone and frowned slightly.

“No, I can walk perfectly now and sometimes can jump too” I smiled feeling all happy. At least I am returning to my old self.

“Good, you are perfect now. I am surprised the medicine I gave you worked so well. You don’t have to worry about anything now. You can go out and do outdoor activities like before” he straightened himself and nodded.

“Can I train again? You know it has been so long I have trained myself”

“Given your body condition you are fine, so yeah you can start your practice” hearing the affirmative answer made me feel happy. Just two days ago Eve was awake and started to talk to me again. I was thrilled to get her back.

“Let’s see the wound on your body” he took my hand and checked my arm. The ointment he sent was awesome, it helped me faster than I could guess.

“Hmm.... your wound is healed, leaving numerous scars behind, but don't worry you it will go with time”

“Can I take a bath now?”

He frowned “you haven't bathed all this time?”

I fought the urge to roll my eyes “it was your instructions to avoid water did you forget already?” My lips pursed in a thin line. “If it was not for Phoebe helping me out, you would run away from me”

“Sorry” he threw a mischievous smile as he rubbed the back of his neck “I almost...” He sighed “yeah, you can. Don't worry your wounds are healed so you don't have to concern about water now. But since you still have scars, let me change the ointment again” he gestured to Phoebe who was standing right behind him. She handed him another ointment pack.

“Here, apply this before going to bed every night. It will reduce the scars” Turner handed me the ointment before instructing. I nodded with a smile.

“Thank you”

“Ah, you don't have to thank me. It's my duty anyway. Besides, you really need to check on yourself and don't get hurt anymore. I am still surprised your little body could withstand such a hard blow. First the deadly poison and now all these wounds. Girl you really surprised me, in my medical life till now I have never seen a woman like you after Luna”

“It was not in my hand but I will try my best to stay away from the dangers” I nodded.

“It's good you understood. Well it's kind of hard work to treat you because you always get the deadly ones and if I couldn't save you, that mate of yours would have skinned me alive in rage” he joked.

I shook my head “don't worry, he won't do that”

“That’s why I said you need to take more care of yourself and spare me from those angry glares. I was scared” he put his hand on his chest in a dramatic way. I rolled my eyes. Before I could say anything I heard him yelp.

“Ouch... what’s that for?” He was looking towards Phoebe who was currently glaring at him.

“What are you doing? Do you really have to be this dramatic? Don’t shame me” she hissed, making me chuckle.

“You women are really -”

“Really what?”

“Well I have other patients to check, so Reese, don’t forget to use the ointment and yes, if there is any problem don’t forget to inform me” Turner said and rushed out of the room in a hurry. Phoebe sighed and turned to me with an apologetic smile.

“Please don’t mind his words Reese, he is sometimes really annoying”

I laughed, “and I guess you are having hard times?”

She smiled “if you were in my place, you would have been crying out in anger. That man is a flirt and would tease anyone who gets on his way. He was got beaten once by Alpha”

“What?” My eyes widened “you said Turner was beaten by Alpha? Why?” Oh my god, I am truly surprised now. I really couldn’t believe her. He is the pack doctor for god’s sake.

“Don’t ask me” she rolled her eyes, “he really deserved that. Who told him to flirt with Luna?”

“But why would he do that? I mean Turner knows Adriana didn’t he?”

“Well, it happened when Adriana was just brought into the pack. At that time she was not Luna officially and only few people knew about her identity. I don’t know what really happened exactly but I heard Luna had a fight with Alpha and injured herself. Alpha called Turner but left angrily. Maybe Turner thought she was ordinary which is why he flirted and got beaten once Alpha knew about it” she shrugged.

I laughed, “Turner really got a good history”

“If it wasn’t for Luna Alpha wouldn’t have spared his life”

“Wait, aren’t you sad because of that?” I frowned. She was explaining like this matter has nothing to do with her and Turner is not related to her at all. “I mean you are his mate”

She shrugged “about that incident not really. I was pissed off by his flirting behavior and also wanted him to teach a lesson but Alpha made it possible so I was happy because he deserved that beating at the end”

“Oh my god, Turner’s history is full” I shook my head. “is he still like that? I can see him carefree but-”

“After that beating he left his flirting behavior” Phoebe chuckled, “and I am glad about that”

“He really learnt a lesson then” I sighed.

“Maybe or maybe not. Okay I am going now. Use the medicine well and also drink more water” she added and left the room.

I sighed and stared at the medicine in my hand. Finally I am free from the torture of staying in the room all the time. I could get out and get some fresh air to lighten my mood. It has already been two weeks since that barbecue night and in these two weeks my body really healed well. I put the ointment on the side table and decided to walk out of the room. When I was walking around the corridor I heard a crying sound.

“What are you doing?” I heard Adriana’s familiar voice. I walked towards the side and peeked at the scene in front of me. Near the garden I saw Alpha Cassius was holding Josue who was crying.

“Cassius he might be hungry, wait” Adriana tried to hold her son but her husband denied it and handed Josue to the nanny.

“Go feed the little man. He is hungry” Josue’s nanny nodded and took Josue before walking away in the other direction.

Adriana glared at him “what all this? Did you forget he is your own son?”

Alpha Cassius revealed a dark smirk “I know well he is mine Peaches but before he could claim his right on you, I have to approve that. Besides he is already a big boy now, he could live without you for sometimes now”

“Cassius, don’t be too arrogant. He is just a child. Now you are jealous of your own son?” Adriana rolled her eyes.

“You know it very well I don’t like sharing Peaches. I am allowing him to stick to you because he is our son. But now he is old enough to learn how to live alone”

“He is just 3 years old,” Adriana argued.

“It’s enough” Alpha Cassius pulled her to him before kissing her. I turned away from the scene and shook my head. This couple is really something. I really want to laugh at Alpha Cassius’s possessiveness and jealousy.

Well now I guess Adriana wouldn’t be free to have a chat with me and for god’s sake I don’t know where others are. I haven’t seen Savannah and Tanea either. Where is everyone? I walked around more checking the yard and garden area where they usually hangout. Feeling tired I decided to walk back to my room. God, I can't find others. It's better to take a nap for a while. Closing the door behind me I sighed and walked towards the bed but stopped when I heard the sound of a shower. I turned to see the bathroom door was slightly opened. Is Azrael back? I felt happy. Good, I could spend time with him then. I walked towards the bathroom and wanted to call his name but my voice stuck in my throat when I heard him groan slightly followed by a low moaning. My eyebrows creased at the sound and I peeked my head inside silently.

My eyes widened as I saw him standing under the shower fully naked, closing his eyes while pumping his hard shaft hard and fast. Water dripped down his hard muscled body, making me clench my thighs. He still didn't recognise my presence as he continued to pleasure himself. It has been so long since we had any intimate connection. Because of my health he restrained himself from touching me. But I know he was trying hard to control himself. And now seeing him like this pleasuring himself I felt my lower region start to awake.

"Oh.... Reese " suddenly he moaned my name making my heartbeat skip. A gasp escaped my mouth as he spilled his seeds and groaned loudly in the shower. But it didn't affect his cock at all. It was still hard and stood like an iron rod. Looks like the self pleasure didn't satisfy him. Azrael frowned and pushed himself on the wall supporting his body with his hand. I heard him sigh.

I walked in and closed the door behind me and leaned onto the wall "so this is your little dirty trick all these time?"

His head snapped towards me faster than lightning speed "what the fuck?" He cursed.

I smiled, "I was wondering how you controlled yourself all this time but looking at you now, it makes sense" I pushed my body from the wall and slowly walked towards him.

“What are you doing here love?” He asked, not bothering to cover his hardness. It’s like he wanted me to see how hard he is.

I slid the glass door and stepped in the shower standing in front of him “you are pleasuring like this all the time?” I touched his cheek. The water drenched me, making me wet. My nipples are already hard and aching for him. I could see the desire in his eyes. And I guess I have the same.

Chapter 65 – Avoiding Him

REESE’S POV

“Pleasure?” He chuckled “it’s fucking torture. Nothing can be more pleasing than you. My cock couldn’t get satisfied with anything other than it sinks into your warm pussy until you drench it with your milk”

I felt thousands of butterflies fluttering in my stomach. It’s not only him but me too. I have been dying for his touch and craving him to be inside me.

“Then what are you waiting for Azrael?” I tip toed and whispered near his lips “fuck me hard, take me like an animal. I am craving for you to be inside me”

“Fuck” he cursed and hold my waist pulling me to him while his hard cock pressed on my belly “don’t tease me like that Reese. You know I have no control when it’s come to you. Do you want to get hurt in the process? If I start then I don’t think I can stop myself anymore”

“I never said to stop. I don’t want you to stop either. It has already been so long that I felt you inside me” I tried to kiss him but he avoided me.

“No, your body still needs to recover perfectly. We can’t do this right now. You have been hurt too much and I don’t want to hurt you with my need” he shook his head.

“My body is fine. Turner already said I can start my practice too. Do you think he will say if I still need healing?”

“That’s another thing. You are healing perfectly well but I can’t guarantee I won’t hurt you while fucking you hard. I have been resisting my need because I wanted you to heal properly. Don’t let my efforts go to waste” he pulled away.

I felt like my heart was breaking because of his rejection. I swallowed hard and tried to persuade him “you are thinking too much. My wounds are already healed. And my body is also good. Azrael you don’t have to wait and torture yourself and me like that. I know you are concerned about my health but I am telling you, it’s fine. I am good” I tried to touch his arm but he backed away.

“No, I have seen your wounds. I know it’s healed but your insides need time too. Just a few more days Reese, I am just asking for a few more days” he sighed.

I clenched my fist “Turner had already checked my body. After his confirmation I started thinking about it. I thought you would be happy hearing that but it seems like I have started to bore you now and you don’t want to...” I stopped when he looked up, glaring at me.

“What the hell are you sprouting?”

“Don’t shout,” I snapped. “Since you are that disinterested in me, fine I won’t force you” I glared at him. I tried to convince him but his rejection really hurted me. I hold back my tears. I won’t let him see it. “It’s my fault I thought you would be happy. I am sorry I bothered you” I slid the door and walked out of the shower angrily.

“Reese, that’s not what I mean. Listen to me first” he grabbed my wrist but I yanked it away.

“Don’t touch me. You can do whatever you like, you don’t have to explain anything to me. I am done with it” I glared at him angrily and turned around grabbing a towel and walked out of the bathroom. His gaze pierced my back until I closed the door with a loud bang.

“What happened to you? You looked angry” Tanea frowned. “Did you fight with your mate?” She raised an eyebrow towards me.

“Tanea what are you saying? Why will she fight with him?” Savannah glared at her.

“Just look at her face, can’t you guess the expression?” Tanea shrugged.

“Really?” Savannah turned to me “Reese did you really?”

I ignored her and grabbed the juice glass before gulping it down angrily. I nearly begged him but he rejected me again and again. Humph. If he thinks I will beg him again then he is wrong. I have been waiting for this moment for such a long time yet he really rejected me. I felt like my chest was full of anger and I didn’t have any place to let it out.

“Why? What happened?” Adriana joined in the conversation. She looked tired and I know exactly why? Seeing her like that I felt my heart clenching in pain. I couldn’t have a child like them and now I can’t even have my mate. To this point I felt like Adriana is really lucky.

“Reese are you okay?” Savannah’s worried tone pulled me out of the thought. I shook my head.

“I am fine” I answered without looking at her.

“Adriana, you looked tired. Don’t tell me your Alpha again had his way with you again” Tanea laughed while Adriana blushed red.

“Do you really have to say that?” Adriana glared. “Talking about others all the time Tanea, yesterday I remember someone was screaming loudly in the middle of the night. I guess someone didn’t get a good sleep at all”

Tanea’s eyes widened “what? I...” She blushed.

“Oh my god stop you two” Savannah rolled her eyes.

“Well some people are lucky and some are not” I said, making them look at me.

“Huh? What happened to you?” Adriana frowned.

“She has been moody since morning,” Tanea shrugged.

Just then we saw everyone was moving towards the training field.

“What’s happening in the training field?” Savannah looked at the crowd.

“Something interesting is happening I guess” Tanea frowned.

“Let’s go and see,” Adriana said and we all headed towards the field. The training field was crowded and full of noises. We can see the members are already at the side while cheering for the people in the center.

“They are testing their strength,” Tanea said as she looked at the scene. The Alpha’s are gathered in the field. They looked like they were about to fight.

“Let’s move under the shade, it’s too hot here” Adriana pulled us where the table and chair were set. I sat along with them and looked at the scene without any interest. Property of “It’s my first time seeing Hardwick fight with another Alpha. It’s really exciting” Savannah looked excited.

“I know right, I never saw Devak to be this excited,” Tanea added.

“Cassius and Alpha Hardwick going to fight first” Adriana said “then I guess Alpha Devak will fight with John?”

“They have become good friends since Demon started to show his existence. I guess it’s all good since they found their reliable companion” Savannah stated.

Soon the fight started. Alpha Cassius and Hardwick were really good fighters. It was like both of them couldn’t be defeated so their fight was unable to decide the winner. And when Alpha Devak and Azrael started to fight, Alpha Devak took few advantages. After all he is the Alpha blood and stronger than a beta. Their fight was concluded with Alpha Devak winning the round. Once they are done they started to walk where we were sitting. Other girls were happy to see their mates. But Azrael and I had the biggest argument so there was tension between us.

“Caring so much Peaches” Alpha Cassius smirked while Adriana smacked his arm.

I handed a towel to Azrael without a word and he took it but his eyes were on me. He looked like he wanted to say something but I turned away avoiding his gaze. Right now I really don’t have any desire to talk. If we talk it will lead to another argument and I really don’t want to create any scene here. So it’s better to shut up.

Later that night we had dinner together. The girl prepared a meal and asked us to join them. Though I wanted to refuse, they didn’t let me. After the dinner we sat at the side to drink.

“Okay now spill the beans, what’s happening between you two?” Tanea asked. Her eyes narrowed towards me.

“What are you talking about?” I feigned confusion. “I can’t understand anything” I sipped on my drink.

“Oh come on. We are not blind Reese, we can see clearly there’s something between you two which is not going well. So stop hiding” she rolled her eyes.

“Agree, I have been seeing you distance yourself from John. Reese what happened? Is everything right?” Adriana asked.

“Everything is fine. You don’t have to worry. It’s just a little argument” I smiled.

“I don’t think so. You behaved like you don’t want to see his face” Tanea argued.

I sighed “it’s not like that okay. I am just a little disturbed. I just need to think for a while”

“Reese don’t tell me you are planning to leave or something ”

My eyes widened as I looked at Adriana “what? No. Why would I do that?”

She sighed “then it’s good. I was scared”

I sighed “don’t worry. I won’t do anything stupid like that. It’s just that there is some disagreement between us. It will be solved with time”

“I hope it gets solved soon. Because looking at your mate’s face, I don’t think he can hold back for a long time” Savannah chuckled. I turned my head to the side where the men were sitting. Azrael was holding his drink but his gaze was fixed on me. Our gaze collided and I felt helpless instead. I rubbed my temple.

“I guess you are right. It really needs to be solved soon” I sighed again. What’s happening? I was so aggressive at that time. He was just concerned about my health, wasn’t he?

“Okay I am done, I am leaving. See you guys tomorrow. Good night” I got up from my seat. The girls wished goodnight and I started to walk towards our room. I need to take a good shower and relax my mind. After reaching I discarded my clothes and directly stepped into the shower. Feeling the cold water drenching my body I felt my whole self cooling down. The closing of the door rang in my ear and I turned my head to see my mate standing at the door completely naked. I gasped at his posture.

“Why are you here?” I asked him in shock. Wasn’t he with the guys? How come he is here so fast?

Chapter 66 – Hot In The Shower

REESE’S POV

My heartbeat skipped as he stepped towards me in slow motion. His eyes held mine and it was like a magnetic attraction which I can’t avoid anymore. I have been avoiding him since last night. But I knew he was trying to talk to me but I didn’t provide him enough chances to do so. I was so overwhelmed and couldn’t think clearly. I was angry, hurt and felt rejected but why? I don’t know.

“I want to know for how long you want to avoid me?” He asked with his dark voice. His tone was harsher than usual and gruffer than normal. I could guess it was laced with anger yet calm.

I stared at him tongue tied. I don’t know how to answer him when I don’t know the answer myself. I could only look at him advancing towards me with his slow yet long stride until he was towering over me in the shower a mere inches away. I could feel the heat of his body. The water drenched his body and my eyes traced down the water running down. He grabbed my chin and made me look into his eyes.

“Care to answer darling? I would like to hear your side of the story because I am tired of your ignorance” he almost hissed. His eyes were filled with hurt and it immediately twisted my heart inside. I hurted him again though I promised I wouldn't.

"I am sorry" I mumbled looking deep into his eyes. "I was too overwhelmed. I thought you don't want me anymore. I thought you were tired of my body and you-" before I could finish my words he kissed me. It was not gentle but rough and strong. It was like he was dominating me, indicating who has the real power here. He forced me to open and shoved his tongue inside, running it around every corner of my mouth. I moaned when I felt how forceful he is. He wouldn't let go yet pulled me towards him and continued to ravish my mouth with his brutal kiss. His teeth tugged my lower lips biting it. I moaned again when I felt the sharp pain. I pushed him away and panted hard. I could feel my lips bleeding but I didn't wipe the blood yet and looked at him.

"Are you satisfied with punishing me?" I asked. He cupped my cheeks and joined our foreheads.

"I couldn't control myself," he whispered. "When you were ignoring me like I don't exist in this world, you don't know how I felt. I couldn't fathom what's going in your mind and you wouldn't let me talk to you. You ignored me like you don't want to have anything to do with me. It felt like you are leaving me" his words were slow but laced with pain.

I sighed "I told you I will never leave you. It's just when you protested I felt rejected. I thought you don't want to me or my body since-"

"Shhh.... I am sorry if I made you feel like that. I never meant it. I have seen how hurt you are when you were brought back unconscious. Those wounds on your body were too severe. Do you think I am happy not being able to touch you properly? Fuck everytime I get near you and kiss you my cock was so hard until it's get painful. I had to release myself or take long cold showers to lower the burning heat and you think I don't want you anymore?"

“I am sorry Azrael ” I hugged him. His hardness poked my belly but I ignored it. “I was wrong. I argued with you even after knowing you just wanted me to be healthy. I was too desperate to think of your good intentions and assumed all that nonsense. I have promised myself not to hurt you but I keep hurting you again and again. I.... Don’t know how to express my guilt, Azrael I...” I sobbed hard. The knot in my heart twisted again making me feel heavier.

“I am sorry too. I should have used another method. Fearing that I will hurt you, I made you feel rejected. But I never meant that. You are the only one I want. Never doubt that” he kissed my head while whispering it.

“I know,” I nodded. His hand went lower and suddenly he cupped my ass giving it a squeeze. I bit my lips trying to hold back the moan erupting in my throat.

“I have talked to Turner about it. I was too concerned about your health and when you were ignoring me I couldn’t rest my heart at all. He said you are fine to have any sexual activities. And I am glad to hear that. Looks like I don’t need to hold back anymore” he pulled back and looked at me, “you said to fuck you like an animal isn’t it darling?” He pinched my chin with a smirk. “Since you are so horny, I would like to see if you can handle my beast” he didn’t let me take a break as he leaned down and started to suck my neck. I hold his shoulder to support. His force was severe and I don’t think I could stand properly without falling.

He bit my neck then licked it again. I moaned in pleasure when he grabbed my breast and kneaded it harshly. He rolled my already hard bud and pinched it making me hiss. I bit my lips as I felt my pussy getting wet. God this is too much. And today he is not gentle anymore. He is so rough with his actions and I love it too much.

He stopped and pulled away “I can smell you dripping wet for me darling. Let’s taste you then” he pushed me on the wall and kneeled down before grabbed my legs and throwing it over his shoulder. My pussy was exposed to his eyes and he didn't waste any time before dipping his head and sucking my already soaked pussy. I moaned as I gripped his hair pushing him more while he sucked, bit and licked my hot area. He parted my soft lips as pushed his tongue inside reaching in my hot center. I screamed when I felt his tongue hitting my wetness and how my pussy was gripping his tongue. He let out a groan and rubbed my clit vigorously as he tongue fucked me harder than before.

"Oh god... Azrael.... I can't hold back..." I moaned. His skilled tongue doing magic in my hot core and I could barely hold back my moan erupting with his each thrust. His tongue stretched me as he pushed deeper.

He continued to thrust his tongue inside more fiercely in my sensitive spot hitting in perfect rhythm. I felt my walls clenching hard, gripping his tongue. With another hit of his tongue I shattered screaming his name. He pulled away and smirked at me. I panted hard as I looked into his eyes. He made me stand and got up "are you tired darling? But I am not done yet. It's just getting started" he grinned and before I knew it he had already hoisted me up and wrapped my legs around his waist "hold tight darling. I am fucking gonna fuck you hard and raw"

His word hasn't finished yet as the top of his cock pierced my already sensitive pussy. With one hard thrust he was fully inside me, filling me with his hardness. The emptiness I felt is now filled again. His cock felt so good and in this standing position it reached deeper.

"Oh god.... Azrael ..." I moaned as I held his shoulder tighter. Content is © by "You felt so good, baby. After such a long time I could finally sink into your warmth. This is home" he uttered and started to thrust. My breast bounced with each thrust. He grabbed my ass and parted it, increasing his thrust.

"I won't last long.... It's so deep and hard" I cried out.

“But you love it don’t you?” He said huskily. “I know how much you want it baby. My cock to be inside you. To reach deep into your warmth. You wanted this, you craved for it just the way I do. You want me to fuck you raw and hard. Like a barbarian king” he thrust harder than before making my body jump.

“Oh god Azrael” I closed my eyes as my body trembled with his dirty words. Under the cold shower I shivered. The slippery sound of slapping skin roared in the shower mixing with the sound of water.

“Fuck, you are damn good” Azrael cursed as he stopped for a second before thrusting hard again. But this time each thrust was hard and deep. It was a slow yet rough thrust hitting my g-spot. Instantly my walls clenched around his hardness gripping it which made him groan in pleasure.

“You are gripping me so tight baby, it’s like you don’t want to let it go” Azrael groaned loudly but he continued his slow deep thrust.

“I can’t anymore....” I cried out. My pussy was already sensitive and his thrust was making it lose and built my climax.

“Just a minute baby” his thrust was hard and My walls were gripping his cock tightly. I felt my inside was about to explode and then....

“Azrael....” I screamed his name as I cummed all over his cock.

“Fuck it’s sweet darling” he grinned and gave another thrust before spilling his cum inside me groaning like an wounded animal. His warm seeds mixed with mine and I felt it’s spreading inside. We panted hard after our hard release. He stayed inside me and I could still feel him hard.

“You are still hard?” I gasped.

“What do you think? It has been long since I had you all to myself. You think one time is enough?” He grinned.

I blushed “where did you get such energy?”

“Darling when it comes to you, I can be more energetic than this. But it’s not the end. Because there’s more to come” he pulled away and put me down on the floor. “Let’s clean first”.

We took a shower and cleaned ourselves. Once we were done I dried myself with a towel and wanted to grab another towel to wear when he stopped me.

“There’s no need for that baby. It won’t stay in your body anyway” I gasped when he scooped me up in his arm and winked “let’s enjoy the bed too. I want to have you in every position we could fit perfectly”

And I thought I have become the horny one but the reality was kind of different.

Chapter 67 – It’s About To Begin

DEMON’S POV

“Alpha, we are ready, as you asked we have already completed the underground way towards the Silver Shine now. Other than us, no one will find that way, including that Alpha of Silver Shine” Jax informed. “Our men are just waiting for the perfect invasion timing”

“Good” I grinned, “it’s finally time to get Silver Shine and it’s treasure this time. I would like to see what Cassius will do to save his pack. Won’t he be too surprised to see his own pack was surrounded by us?” I laughed. “I guess he has been living too well, it’s time to bring some chaos in his peaceful life. I heard his son is 3 years old?”

“Yes, his name is Josue,” Jax replied with a nod.

“Great, now I pity that little boy who wouldn’t have a future to live. I want to see Cassius’s face when his son’s neck would be in my grasp. What do you think about it Jax? Won’t that sight be too exciting? I felt my body is already shaking with pleasure just thinking about that”

Jax grinned “as you say Alpha. Our men are all craving for the blood of Silver Shine. They want to invade the territory and make it a history”

I laughed “I liked that spirit. My brother was wronged and died in his hands. I will never let his death go to waste. The whole Silver Shine has to pay for it” I clenched my fist as darkness clouded my eyes. “that bastard Cassius took something which couldn’t be returned and now I want to see what he will do when I kill his son in front of his eyes and enjoy his mate. I have waited long enough and not anymore”

“Alpha what’s your instructions now? Shall we take the charge?”

“We will but not directly. It will alert the enemies and we couldn’t risk that. I want to attack at the right moment when they are enjoying their time. I want to see those fearful expressions and worried faces. Tell Harry to lead the first troop in the tunnel and hide there. They will be the secret army in the fight. When the enemies has used all their fucking options to go against us, signal then to come out and attack. I want to play good card this time, there’s no taking any fucking risk”

“Yes, Alpha I will immediately inform Harry about the plan. He was already back from the mission you sent”

“He is? Call me first. I want to talk to him”

Jax nodded and after a few minutes Harry walked in. He bowed and stood straight.

“How far have you gone with the work?” I asked as I looked at him darkly.

“Alpha as you asked, we have completed the secret tunnel which reached the ground area near the pack yard. We couldn’t go further since there is a tight security system and any movement would alert them. We had to stop there and make it as our base”

I nodded, “Cassius is really good at securing his area which is why no one was able to invade Silver Shine till now. But that history is going to change and I want to see his face when that happens. The precious pack he was securing his heart out all these years will get destroyed right in front of his eyes and he as the Alpha couldn’t do anything” I gritted my teeth. “What about the other tunnels? Are they ready?”

“Yes, it was ready. As planned the first tunnel covers the outer forest part. Our men surrounded the whole area while the second one was up to their second security base. Though we have enough army to invade it, it won’t be easy. The third one goes directly to their training area which is just near the main pack. They had another security base to protect the pack house but the thing is no guards could be seen there” the Jax nodded. This content provided by N(o)velDrama]. [Org.

I frowned at his information. No one was guarding then how come it was a security part? “Prepare three troops and I want them separately to take charge in each tunnel. First troop should wait outside and Jax I want you to lead the second troop. You should find a chance to weaken the security power and attack them. If possible kill them all then wait for the next signal. As for the third one I will personally lead the troop and directly attack the pack. They won’t take the attack seriously if I don’t show myself. I also want to see what kind of cards Cassius has in his hand” I turned to look at Harry, “you are leading the secret tunnel and would wait there. When you get the signal you will attack them with your troop and catch them off-guard. Once they are surrounded by us and their security doesn’t work anymore, it will be the time to get even with every fucking thing”

“Alpha, when should we start the mission?” Harry asked.

I smirked “right at this moment”

Cassius oh Cassius your doom is coming to grab your neck and strangle you to death. But are you ready? Where will you go at this time? Can you escape the clutch? I am looking forward to it.

JOHN'S POV

“There's a report from the border. It says some movements were noticed under the ground. But it was too light and couldn't be discovered” I said as I placed the report on the desk.

“Demon is starting his plan” Cassius's expression was solid and unwavering. “I guess it won't take time for him to reach here. We must execute our planning too”

“Since they are Hell Hound, it's natural that their planning would include underground techniques. It's not only about fighting but I guess they will be using it to weaken our powers too” Hardwick said.

“Of course they are. What those bastards know other than that. I can see they are leading their army through the underground tunnels to sneak attack. They think they have gotten all the advantages hiding under the ground” Devak clenched his fist. “Those motherfuckers are truly admirable, only knows how to destroy and bring chaos to the world”

“They are all beasts. It's really bad they were born werewolves. In the huge clan there are many great cruel leaders around yet Hell Hound is the only one who were discarded from the clan. Those beasts in Demon's lair eat raw meat and drink blood which already took their sanity long ago” Cassius replied.

“Don't worry, even if their underground technique has high value it won't work this time. If Demon thinks he could get the upper hand and take advantage because he has planned so well then he will be totally surprised for what we have got for him” Hardwick smirked “we weren’t working our ass off to get beaten by them. If they eat meats then we know how make them puke out”

Devak laughed out loud and uttered “waggish”.

“I have already made the map, here” I spread the paper on the desk “if they are using the underground technique they would definitely go for the security system first. Weakening the security part would give them huge advantage as it will weak our power too which will make easier for them to attack and capture our people” I pointed to the area where our security base was located “this area was near the outer forest so it makes easier for them to invade”

“They won’t stop with it ” Cassius frowned as he stared on the map. If I am not wrong, Demon will try to seize the whole area so there won’t be any loopholes and chances for us to escape. Given to his cruel mind, he would want to kill every person present in the pack”

“Let him come” Hardwick pulled out the market and drew a few lines on the map. “Their underground technique will only be restricted under the ground. Once they come out of their shell they are just like others. And obviously they couldn’t fight staying hidden in the ground. So let’s place our people here, to watch them over closely. Clear the security area and replace them with the trainers. Upon watching them from the high I would like to see how long those worms could hide themselves in the ground”

“Demon must be leading the group by himself. But he won’t come alone. I have the feeling I will be facing him soon. He is a miscreant asshole who would play all the dirty tricks he could get in his hand. He must be targeting the pack house specially looking for my weakness” Cassius’s tone was coarse and his expression was hardened.

“Don’t worry, that bastard won’t be able to harm anyone. We will make sure of it. This battle was destined to happen whether it’s today or tomorrow. Let him come, his destruction was dragging him here” Hardwick patted Cassius’s shoulder with assurance.

“Even if they use underground techniques in the pack to get their advantage he has to see if it can work. I have already prepared everything, it’s just a matter of time until he arrives here, ” I told them.

“I can’t wait to face him and shred him in pieces” Cassius gritted his teeth.

When I walked inside my room I found Reese was reading a book sitting on the couch. She was so engrossed in her reading that she didn’t notice me at all. I walked to her and grabbed the book from her hand catching her attention.

“You are back, why are you so late?” She smiled. I picked her up and walked towards the bed.

“Why are you still awake? It’s already midnight” I asked as I placed her on the bed and pulled her to me.

“I was not feeling sleepy and thought of reading a book to kill the boredom. And luckily I found an interesting book”

“You look happy” I traced her cheek with my finger.

“I couldn’t help myself” she smiled, “I have you, my family why shouldn’t I be happy?”

I smiled at her words and leaned down to kiss her. She gasped at first but returned the kiss with equal favor. Our tongue danced in the same rhythm as we fought for dominance. I bit her lips making her moan and deepened the kiss. We panted once we pulled away. Reese touched my cheek gently.

“You look tense. What happened?” I closed my eyes, feeling her touch. It’s so calming and relaxing. I sighed, I fear this war is not only for myself but for her too. I don’t want her to get hurt by any means. Fighting a war never ends with a peaceful treaty; it means to face some loss.

“Azrael?”

“The war, it’s about to begin” I whispered.

Chapter 68 – The Final Planning

REESE’S POV

I gasped, “you mean that beast Demon is finally attacking?”

He nodded “there are some movements in the pack and we believe it was done by them. I don’t think it will take time for him to be here”

I was shocked. After two years of long gap this is the first war I will be facing. The last one was chaotic and I lost many people. But I was careless about them because even if they are related to me, their influence in my life has made me turn into something I wasn’t. It was like a bad phase of my life. I looked at him. This time I don’t want to lose anything in this war. Especially him. I don’t know why I am so restless about this. I don’t know what to say.

“Azrael I...” I paused not knowing what to say anymore.

“Are you scared?” He asked.

I nodded “the last war had took everything from me including my own identity. I was homeless, mateless and became an orphan. I have become the roamer in the forest, a rogue. I thought I would live that way but fate played another game with me and we met. Though I don't regret it but I also don't want my happiness to betray me again" I raised my hand and touched his cheek "no matter what I don't want to lose you. This is scaring me more"

"Reese" he whispered as he closed his eyes. There was a moment of silence in the room. Only our breath could be heard. I swallowed hard and continued.

"All my life I have chased after the wrong people. I have betrayed someone's innocence and hurted a lot of people in the name of finding happiness. I know I really don't deserve this chance I got. I don't deserve you after what I did" a tear escaped my eyes. The pain I felt suddenly surged up in my chest making it unbearable. My chest felt stuffy blended with numerous guilt. No matter how much I try to banish those thoughts I just couldn't. Because it would come running to me again and again.

"But now, you have become the sole part of my life, my other half and the air I breathe to live" I joined our foreheads, "I couldn't lose you Azrael, I would die without you. Life without you is just unacceptable"

"Reese" he whispered and kissed me. I let his gentle touch warm my heart to wash all those unnecessary thoughts erupting in my heart and mind. After the sweet honeyed kiss he pulled away. "There is no way I will leave you or let you leave me. I promised you that didn't I?"

I nodded my head.

"I know you must be scared because of what's happening in our life. But this is how we live and will live. You are my mate, my destined one. I am not going anywhere leaving you alone. To assure you, I will say this again" he grabbed my wrist and pressed my palm on his chest. I can feel his thumping heart under my palm. "Nothing will be able to separate us. Since we are destined this second chance, we will get through every fucking obstacles" his words are too determined to ignore.

“We will get through this” I whispered back. Azrael was about to say something when the howling of thousands of wolves roared outside. I was startled at the sound and Azrael’s expression changed.

“Is this...?”

“They are here” Azrael said even before I could finish my words.

“They mean Hell Hound?” I gasped.

He nodded, “fuck they are kind of fast. We guessed it already but they came before our planned period”

I swallowed my saliva and looked at him “then it’s beginning?” Property of Azrael turned to me and pursed his lips. He knows clearly what it means. He leaned down and kissed my forehead. “Remember what I said, will you? No matter what I will return back to you and it’s a promise” he got up from bed.

Instantly my hand flew to hold his arm. He looked at me frowning. I got up from bed and tip-toed myself to reach his level. I kissed his lips and smiled “I will wait for you”

He nodded before leaving the room urgently. I watched his back and sighed.

~ Are you afraid? ~ I heard Eve say in my mind.

“I am scared he wouldn’t return back” I sighed “I don’t want to lose him at any cost”

~ you can’t underestimate our mate. They are strong, and smart. They know what they are doing. Isn’t it? ~

I guess Eve is right. Of course Azrael is strong and it’s not easy to defeat him. He even killed Kole. I can assure myself with it. Nothing will happen to him. Nothing.

“You are right, I shouldn’t be this emotional” I shook my head. “I have trained myself to face any challenge. I won’t back down because of this” I said with determination. “I won’t let my emotions take over and play the worst card. This is not me, this is not what I learnt”

~ yes, that’s it. Saving this pack is also our responsibility. Let’s give our all might and finish all those bastards. As long as they are breathing, I can’t get our happy end ~

“Definitely” I nodded and took a deep breath before I changed my clothes and walked out of the room. It’s not time to stay indoors and wait. This is not our nature. We are born to fight, to face any challenge and to win over all the obstacles. That’s the real us.

JOHN’S POV

“What’s the situation right now?” I asked as I stepped into Cassius’s study room. Hardwick and Devak were already there with a grim expression.

“You got the warning?” Cassius asked.

I nodded, “they are too noisy, it’s impossible to ignore”

“I did expect them to be here but not this fast. It seems they are too eager to finish this off. Demon couldn’t wait anymore but to come here personally” Cassius’s heavy tone sounded in the room.

“Since they are here, he did all the preparation earlier. But it’s not like we are not cautious about it” Hardwick smirked “even if he thinks with his huge army he could have the advantage in this battle then Demon will be too surprised once he discovers the truth. I really want to see that expression. It would be worth watching”

“It’s his own karma which dragged him here. After Kole’s death he was just too impatient and wanted to have my blood in his hand” Cassius replied “John you need to stay alert. Though Kole was discarded by Demon when he died, he was still related to Hell Hound. Demon's first target will be you. I know you can handle him but remember, as a beta your power is limited while fighting with him. You can stop him for a while but you can't kill him"

I nodded "don't worry, I know when to stop. I won't face him directly but I really want to get on a par with him. I want to see how strong he could be"

"Your prowess is appreciative but don't do anything hastily. We couldn't make any mistakes and everything should go according to our plan. Besides, Demon is my prey. He had been creating troubles in my life for years already and finally I have getting this chance to get even" Cassius shook his head before his gaze falling on me again "and I want you to clear my way towards him and I know you are the best in it"

I smirked "you can count on me"

He nodded "I know you have never disappointed me John and you never will. So let's get back to the planning again" he pointed to the map which was spread on the desk earlier for discussion. "Demon must be here" Cassius pointed to the circled area in the map. "With the speed he could only get here at this moment. He will be taking the charge to attack the pack directly and had ordered his men to spread around"

"Demon will never come alone, he knows it well it's dangerous to step in here without proper planning. I guess he has already had his men surround us" I said to them.

"Let him think he has got all the possible advantages. It's better to let your enemy think he was on the winning point which will excite him more and make him make mistakes which originally give us the chance to advantage ourselves" Hardwick marked a few more areas on the map. "I have already instructed our man to hide here, here and here. These places are perfect for the final execution. If it goes with the plan then Demon is fucking doomed to face his death”

“Since everything is set now I guess ai should leave for the security area. Since Demon is here his army must have reached their pre-planned places to weaken us” Devak suggested.

“Right, I am counting on you in this matter” Cassius nodded.

“Don’t worry, I don’t like bugs and I am really good at kicking them out. Besides, it has been days since I had a good fight. This Demon really blessing me to stretch my body”

“Whatever it is, good luck” Cassius said while Devak grinned and turned around leaving the room.

“I am going to take the position. I will be at backward and signal my men to execute the final plan. And along with that I will clear up the backyard for you” Hardwick said.

“John and I will keep him busy in the front,” Cassius nodded.

“Don’t forget to keep my part too, I still have few things to get even with him” Hardwick winked and left.

Cassius sighed “it’s time which we were waiting for such a long time. Are you ready?”

“I am always ready”

He nodded and we walked out of the study. Before I followed him I turned around to look where my room was located.

“Wait for me baby, I will return soon” I uttered under my breath before turning around and leaving the place.

REESE'S POV

“I was not expecting Demon to call for the sudden war at midnight. My heart almost jumped out when I heard about it” Savannah said anxiously as she patted her son’s back who was sleeping keeping his head on her shoulder.

“It was destined, whether we wanted it or not, we all have expected it anyway” Tanea sighed “I really hated war. This battle in the name of saving pack would kill many, and let the survivors suffer for life time”

“Since we have born in here it’s our destiny” Adriana replied. “we really can’t stop it. I sometimes think that human life is better than ours. At Least, they don’t have to face such a fierce battle. Their lives aren’t bounded in such rules”

“You can’t say that” I shook my head in disagreement. “Whether it’s humans or werewolves, we are born to fight. Though there are no physical battles like us in their life, they still struggle till they die. They also had the pain, sufferings, betrayal and hardships. Other than the shapeshifting ability our lives are comparable”

“She is right, I have experienced it” Savannah added, “I lived over 16 years thinking I was a human bred. I have faced humiliation, pain and turning from others. I wondered at that time being a werewolf is great and I used to curse myself because I wasn’t one of them. But after the betrayal when I ran away and found my original being, though I was glad but after experiencing the events I finally understood we all are the same” she shook her head.

“Demon is considered strong and powerful. I heard when he fights he doesn’t stop until the opposition party dies in his hands and he baths in their blood. Just thinking about the scenery makes me puke” Adriana made a disgusting face. “I know Cassius is not alone there and I have faith in his ability but battlefield is something that doesn’t let the heart go in peace” we sighed unison. What she worries about is familiar to us.

I looked at the closed door of the hall and felt my heart tightening in my chest. I couldn’t help but worry about him. Though I couldn’t stop this mess, I also want him to return safely.

“Don’t worry, he will be fine. He is not alone there and the other party won’t be able to take any advantages” I heard Savannah say trying to console my anxious heart.

I chuckled “saying the one who was worrying a moment ago”

She laughed nervously. “I can’t help it”

“Since we have kids here, we also needed to prepare ourselves. We need to be cautious about our surroundings and couldn’t let any untoward to happen and put us in disadvantage” Tanea said and we nodded. She is right. At this moment we couldn’t take any risk. Savannah and Adriana need to safeguard their sons. While Tanea and I will protect them if any situation arises to fight.

“Reese, why don’t you hold Aldric? I mean if you take care of him, I help better” Savannah said, making me frown.

“What are you saying?” I shook my head “you are his mother and he needs you more than me. Don’t talk nonsense now, keep him close to you”

She sighed, “but you are still recovering yourself from the last hit. I know you have healed your wound and rested well but that doesn’t mean your body could withstand any hard blow. Though you have stabilized your formation but you still needs time to strengthen it to be better”

I smiled “don’t worry I am fine. My body is completely healed now. I can fight like before and I also have started training myself again. It’s just a matter of time. And we are werewolves, we heal faster than ordinary humans and regain our strength” I said trying to assure her.

“Will you be fine?” She still looked worried.

I nodded “I am perfectly fine. You just need to protect yourself and your son, okay?”

“Don’t worry, we will be sticking together so even if there’s a situation to fight, we will help each other” , Adriana said interrupting us. “As long as we stay together, we can handle any battle isn’t it?”

I smiled “right, let them come if they want, we won’t be backing off anyway ”

“Hell, I have been practicing rough punching. The punching bag was also torn because of my practice. Now it looks like I can practice some more with living target” Tanea rolled her shirt sleeves. “It will be kind of fun if there any opportunities”

“You look so energetic. You are damn excited about this war aren’t you?” I rolled my eyes. I am sure she is looking forward to fighting with enemies.

“Of course I am. I also want to join the battle outside. But Devak clearly instructed me not to go outside and let them handle it. Fuck, that man always shoves me behind and took credit for all right himself” Tanea huffed.

“Come on he is just afraid you will get hurt” Savannah tried to comfort her.

“Afraid for what?” Tanea rolled her eyes in annoyance. “he just wanted to show off his abilities. He wanted to prove he is the best Alpha living in the pack. I mean come on I am Luna for heaven’s sake yet he wouldn’t let me do anything and prepare everything by himself. Where is the fair in this situation?”

“We are facing war yet you are still complaining?” I shook my head.

“This is why I really want to take a chance to kill a few,” Tanea grinned. “I have faith in them and also know they were prepared for this. But as a Luna I also have to live up to my title and name, I couldn’t let all the men take advantage of the situation and present themselves as the only hero” Team huffed.

“Funny, Devak will faint if he hears your words” Savannah mocked making Tanea pout her lips.

The commotion outside the door started to grow wider which caught our attention. It felt like they would barge in any minute.

“Have you heard? It felt like the fight was fierce outside” Adriana looked at the door seriously.

“I guess they are changing their plan. Of course a Satan like Demon wouldn’t only target the males. Their kind would like to use all possible cards to ensure their winning ” Tanea gritted her teeth.

“I really hate this unruly creature. Why did the Moon Goddess make him so vicious? A heartless monster who only drinks others’ blood to safeguard himself” Savannah cursed him.

“Their kind is here that’s why we are here too” I said, fixing my gaze at the door. If there’s no evil then how could angels live in this world? Of course there have to be opposite sites to attract each other”

“What a definition, Demon should listen that you are praising him behind his back” Tanea teased.

I rolled my eyes “I was merely stating the fact”

Suddenly the door was bumped causing us to be startled. We looked at the door again. The closed door continued to shake if someone tried to invade inside.

“They are trying to attack us,” Adriana said. “Be cautious,” she warned. Immediately a few women rushed in the hall and stood in the middle. They are the maids working in the mansion. They stood like a stone wall, like they were protecting us by shielding. The door continuously shook before it suddenly flung open since it couldn’t take the hit anymore. As soon as the door opened a few men rushed in, but blocked by the maids. They were in position looking at the intruders.

“Stay behind, you aren’t allowed to come forward,” one of the maids yelled.

“Humph, a bunch of idiots” one of the black clothed men mocked “get out of the way. Today we will ensure Silver Shine never existed in this world”

“Bastard, who are you to decide? Who gave you such an idea that fools like you would have the chance to fight with us? Scoundrels” Tanea shouted at them.

“What are you looking for? Attack” the black clothed man barked angrily to his men before they charged towards us and started to fight with those maids. Those maids originally looked weak yet when they were fighting and blocking the enemies they were really skilled.

“Since they have invaded inside I guess it wasn’t all” just as Adriana’s words fell out of nowhere another group of enemies rushed in.

“Prepare” Tanea yelled, “they are here, I guess they used secret methods just to reach up here and take control over the situation”

“We have no choice but to fight them” I gritted my teeth.” Adriana, Savannah, take care of the kids and stay behind if possible. We have got this and block the attack from the front” I told them. Savannah and Adriana moved backwards. Their son was still in their arms as they made the position. Tanea and I stood together glaring at our enemies.

Those black clothed men didn't utter a word as they rushed towards us. Their intentions were clear, to kill us. That bastard Demon knows well that if anything happens to Adriana and others the males fighting outside would get weakened and he could easily control them. But did Demon really think we women are easily bullied?

"Bastards, kill them" I shouted as Tanea and I jumped on the enemies and started to fight with them. I kicked one of them before shoving another. Tanea grabbed one of the black clothed men and started to throw punches on his face. Well she was right about her punching practice. She is making good use of it.

"Reese behind you" Savannah's concerned time reached my ear and I moved my body as dodged the attack of the enemy. I glared at the man and angled my body before raising my leg and kicked his chest. His body flew away before falling on the ground.

"You scoundrel what the fuck you think of yourself" Tanea screamed and jumped on the back of the man who was lying on the ground. He puked out a mouthful of blood. As I turned around I saw another man reach towards Adriana and about to grab her. This content provided by N(o)velDrama]. [Org. "Squat Adriana" I yelled and grabbed the vase on the table before throwing it towards him. Adriana immediately sat down and the vase hit the head of the enemy. Savannah at the side turned around and threw a punch to the man behind her making him stumbled backward before falling on the floor. Soon the floor was covered by the black clothed man. Those maids who were fighting stood at the side as they defeated the enemies. Few of them were hurt during the fight.

"Go get your wounds treated" Adriana ordered.

I looked at the enemies being thrown on the floor lifelessly. I looked up to see the fight was still on outside. No matter how much I want to go out and take a look I can't.

I just hope everything is fine out there.

Chapter 70 – Demon's Viciousness

JOHN'S POV

"They are using the underground technique as their shield. They won't be coming out if there's no necessary" Cassius said as he glared at the ground. We stood outside while our men were fighting the enemies who showed up.

"They can hide there all they want. But it won't be long before they are forced to show themselves up" I replied.

"Better hurry up. Demon is a weasel, he wouldn't hold himself back for a long time. I guess he must have different strategies to take us down. And finishing the task here we need to return fast"

I was about to reply when someone ran towards us "Alpha". It was Jaxson. He was panting like he ran for a long time.

"What happened to you?" I asked him.

"The pack house was under attack. Few of the enemies barged inside dodging the security system" he informed me, making me curse inside.

"Fuck" Cassius growled. "Savannah and Adriana are with the kids so it will be hard for them to fight back. As for Reese, she just got better recently. It won't be easy for her to fight leaving only Tanea who is able to fight back. We they able to fight with the enemies and protect themselves?” He looked at Jaxson and ordered ” take a look at what’s happening inside. We need to finish the task here before we could move towards them and lend help. I want you to take care of them until we are there”

Jaxson nodded and immediately left. I clenched my fist. I really don’t want her to get hurt this time. Demon is really smart. He wanted to use them to get the advantage against us.

“That wretch” Cassius almost roared. “He thinks he is the smart one here. Bastard just show yourself up in front of me. I will show you how to take advantage of the situation” he gritted his teeth. I can feel what he is feeling because I am going through the same phase. We could give our life to protect what’s precious to us. And in this whole world nothing is more precious than our mate, they are our soul, the reason for our living.

“Cassius, you need to calm down. Even if Demon thinks he got a handful of himself and could easily defeat it then he needed to give another thought about it. Besides the women there are not some ordinary ones. Three of them are Lunas and also a mother and you know how strong a mother’s instinct is. You can’t underestimate them and their power”

He looked at me then heaved a sigh “you are right, I know Adriana could handle a few thugs easily, even so it’s just I couldn’t help myself but to worry about” he shook his head.

“Look” I whispered, gesturing towards the bushes when I felt the leaves slightly moved.

“He is here” Cassius gritted his teeth. Just as his words fell the ground opened up and few people showed up. Among them was a bulky man who had scratches on his face from forehead to his neck. He has those evil smirk throwing towards us.

“Demon” Cassius hissed angrily. His body seemed to spread the danger aura. My gaze was fixed on the man who was walking towards us.

“My, my, isn’t it Cassius the great Alpha of the Silver Shine?” Demon laughed “I guess you still recognised me Cassius. Afterall it has been years since we met”

“How can I dare to forget you Demon? Afterall you are one who is the reincarnation of Satan. If I forget you, then wouldn’t it be an insult to your existence?” Cassius mocked.

“You are still the same Cassius, that cold blooded one” Demon smiled.

“And you are still that who stabs from back” Cassius replied, “I must say all these years, you and your disgusting techniques has never changed. You should think of changing the use of the same old tricks again and again. It would bore others”

“Fuck that Cassius. If you think you can defeat me like you did to my brother then you should do it again. He was naive to fall for your tricks. You could have let him go but you didn’t. He killed him and snatched the only family I had” Demon’s eyes turned red. His anger bursted as he talked.

“Family?” Cassius chuckled “oh you even understand the meaning of that? It was said by the one who killed his own father to become the Alpha? Don’t make me laugh, Demon. Your own words are deceiving you anyway”

“Laugh all you want Cassius because this will be your last time you have that chance. We will see who has the last laugh at the end” Demon glared and yelled to his man “kill everyone here, attack” his roar echoed around the area.

Cassius and I looked at each other and gave a slight nod of understanding. It’s time to execute our first plan. I turned around and fixed my target on the army behind Demon. I made a gesture with my fingers and charged towards them. Demon ran past me targeting Cassius while his army circled around.

They had the look of arrogance just like their master. I could understand what they were thinking.

“Beta John, this is the time for you to die. I hope you won’t have any regret for dying in such a way” one of them laughed and attacked me. I dodged his move and snapped my fingers again. This time before any of them had the chance to attack they were all suppressed by my men who jumped out behind them.

“What the fuck” Demon growled.

“Are you surprised?” Cassius made a tsk sound. “I told you earlier, didn’t I? You should think about changing your technique. After all all using the same old trick could put you in disadvantages”

“Humph even if you think you can win because of this let me remind you, this battle has just started” Demon yelled and charged towards Cassius with a hard blow but Cassius dodged it skilfully. Their fight started to get severe.

“Kill them” I ordered my men who were holding our enemies. In a swift moment the lifeless bodies fell on the ground. But that wasn’t the end because more people started to come out of the ground attacking us.

“Fuck” I cursed and looked towards Cassius who was still fighting with Demon. They both are strong and till now it’s hard to tell who had the advantage here. I turned my head and gestured for plan B. They nodded and hid themselves in the bush. After a few moments the ground started to shake and those who were still hiding in the ground started to jump out.

“Attack , kill them all. Not a single soul should escape” I shouted charging towards them. Killing those ants is not hard. After clearing the area I went towards Cassius who tackled Demon on the ground twisting his arm.

“You made the right choice by coming here. Today I will ensure there will be no Demon in this world anymore ” Cassius snapped while Demon laughed.

“Don’t take things so lightly Cassius. No one could predict the future, you and I are just a character here” Demon laughed “but I can still change the game and turn the table. Do you want to see how?” Demon said before whistling. Before we could know another group of Demon’s army jumped out of the ground and circled us.

“Now, now. Did you like my surprise?” Demon laughed.

“Fuck” Cassius cursed and pressured on him making Demon groan in pain.

“Get the Alpha out. Attack” the man who was leading the group yelled and started to charge towards us.

“Not so fast” I jumped between Cassius and then and smirked. “It’s not like only you guys got the brain to use. Anyone with two eyes working perfectly could see clearly what you have been planning. But alas all your efforts will be gone for nothing” I snapped my finger and our men surrounded them. They looked at our people shockingly.

“Fuck” I heard Demon cursed. I turned to look at him. He was still on the ground while looking at the scene with his eyes wide.

“You won’t be thinking that it’s only you who could have thought about good planning, are you?” Cassius let out a chuckle. “Demon, Demon you are strong I might say and your pack is beastly yet you are still stuck in the old age even your tricks are turning gray”

“Just because you got a handful this time, don’t let your hopes fly higher than it should be Cassius. This is not the end. You can’t think I will be here only with this?” Demon laughed with evil gleam as he moved and freed himself from Cassius’s clutch. Before anyone could know, the Demon suddenly disappeared from sight, shocking us.

“Fuck” Cassius cursed angrily.

The group who appeared later attacked us and the fight began again. I kicked one of them and shoved another one. Cassius joined the fight, killing a few of them.

“Where did he disappeared?” I asked grabbing one of the Hell Hound wolf and wrung his neck. The body fell from my hand and I kicked it away.

“Demon knows few tricks to hide himself. But it won’t be too long for him to hide so be cautious and keep a good eye around. Using his disappearing trick he won’t be able to stay hidden for a lifetime”

I nodded “got it”. Then we started to fight again. Demon’s people are strong. They had those coarse bodies and bloody eyes. It seems they won’t stop until they drain even the last drop of blood we have in our body. We have killed most of them and the ground started to fill with the bodies of our enemies. Few of our men died and few got injured during the fight. But the members of Hell Hound are still coming in and we have to keep fighting. As I turned I saw Demon showed himself up but his gaze was fixed on Cassius who was fighting with his enemies. My eyes widened when Demon pulled out sharp long iron claws and charged towards him.

“Fuck. Cassius behind you” I shouted as I ran towards him.

“Die bastard” Demon jumped on him. But it was lucky I got near him in time and shoved Cassius away while Demon’s claws pierced on my shoulder making me groan in pain. I could feel blood dripping while I hissed when Demon pulled out the claws sharply.

“Bastard” Cassius roared and jumped on him as my body fell on the ground.
