

CLAIMING HIS RESISTING MATE

Chapter 71 – He Was Hurt

JOHN'S POV

“Hahaha, can you feel the pain Cassius? How does it feel like seeing your best man getting hurt? You do have loyal people around you who saved your precious life” I heard Demon’s sarcastic laugh. He was tackled by Cassius and was lying on the floor yet there was a smug look on his face. Cassius threw a hard punch on his face.

“Who are you talking to, you bastard ? A scum like you who can kill his own mate doesn’t have the right to ask such a question. You say you are here for avenging your brother? Do you even know how to love someone? You killed your own father, your hand is already stained with innocent blood. But I won’t let you go this time. You fucker you are fucking gonna pay for everything” Cassius roared and started to beat him severely. “Since you love your brother so much, I send you where he is now” Cassius roared and grabbed his neck.

“Stop him” someone from the enemy group shouted at his top lung. “save the Alpha. We need to save him”

I gritted my teeth when I saw a group of enemies were charging towards Cassius. I clenched my fist and tried to pull myself up. But the pain in my body repeatedly failed my attempt. The claws that Demon used to attack were not ordinary ones. I guess it was poisoned. That bastard really used his vicious means. I have to help Cassius or he will be in trouble. But how? My body is not giving me any strength.

I dragged my body towards him. My wolf growled in disapproval. "Fuck" I groaned out. "Cassius watch your back" I yelled.

Few men jumped towards him but before they could get their hands on him another group stopped them in the middle.

"I just went for some time yet you all started to mess around. " Hardwick jumped out and gestured to his man. Those who came to attack were finally pulled away. Hardwick held back Cassius "I told you to leave a few pieces for me. Are you going to devour him all to yourself? That's not fair" he pushed Cassius away and grabbed Demon by his neck. "I heard you are too smart to get caught but your over smartness has pulled you down to this situation"

"Huh, do you think it's the end?" Demon let out a laugh. His face was bloody but his face was still showing the arrogance of evilness. "My men had already surrounded the whole area. Don't think you will get any advantage from it. Even if you kill me right now, Silver Shine is fated to be doomed"

"You really know how to joke," Cassius said, glaring at him. "You are not the only one who eats food and drinks water. If you think you have gotten hold of the situation then you are underestimating us. Don't you know never underestimate your enemy even if he is a fool?"

Demon glared back "don't be too happy Cassius. My men had already destroyed your security system and I guess your men were dead by now. Do you think you can compare your few moves with our underground technique?"

"Who said we have the desire to do so?" Hardwick asked. "You guys like to hide underground because all of you are too cowardly to attack from the front. A backstabber like you don't get the right to talk about pride here. We are real men who know how to fight face to face. You still hold onto your underground technique and think you can beat us? Have you ever thought, how ridiculous that sounds?"

"You-" Demon didn't get the chance as Hardwick threw a hard punch on his face making him fall on the ground and had him groaning in pain.

"You can't beat us, my men had-" Demon started again.

"You mean this bunch of fools" another male voice sounded. I turned my head to see Devak walking towards us. He dragged dead bodies along with him which were tied together. "I must say they really put on a good show of fighting. But you should know your men are skilled more in hiding under the ground. Once they are out of shell, they are just comparable to neophytes"

"Bastards today will be the end of your everything" Demon suddenly roared and shifted into his gray wolf form.

"Humph you think you have gotten all power here you asshole" Cassius roared out and shifted into his Reddish brown wolf. His wolf looked majestic and strong. He let out a growl and released his killing aura. He jumped on Demon and their fierce battle started again.

"Are you a fine man?" Devak pulled me up. I hissed when I felt my wounds were touched. Fuck the pain was severe.

"Oops it was a mistake" Devak said as he observed my wound "it's turning black. Man you need to get checked by doctor. I don't think it's a normal attack. If it was a poison then your body couldn't withstand for long.

"I know," I nodded.

"Take him back to the pack house. The battle is almost over. All the members of Hell Hound are dead already leaving only Demon. And I don't think Demon has a long time left to live anyway. I will clear everything here then head back" Hardwick yelled and changed into his wolf before joining Cassius.

“Let’s go!” Devak pulled me.

“Wait, what if they need our help?” I asked.

Devak looked towards the place where they were fighting “it doesn’t seem like they need us anymore. Now let’s go”

REESE’S POV

I paced around the room anxiously. I couldn’t go out nor could I get any news of what’s happening outside. All I could hear was the loud commotions which suddenly stopped too. I looked towards the door again. This waiting is about to kill me. What am I going to do now?

“Luna?” A manly voice echoed and my head snapped around to see the source. A man ran inside and looked around. “Are you all alright?” He looked panicked and panted slightly.

“Jaxson, what’s happening outside?” Adriana walked forward asking the question.

“Demon has already surrounded us and is now fighting with Alpha. Though most of the enemies are cleared, we still have to be cautious. I was sent by Alpha to see everything is fine here. He got anxious when he heard the pack house was under attack”

“We are all fine. Fortunately we could fight them in time and save ourselves. You said Demon and Cassius are fighting?” Adrian frowned.

Jaxson nodded “yes, Demon was already beaten by Alpha. I guess it will be the last battle they are fighting. I would have come faster if I was not surrounded by the enemy party. I guess they will return soon”

“I just hope Cassius could kill the Demon for good” Adriana sighed “that Satan is creating troubles in our peaceful life making us worried sick. Are all the enemies caught?”

“To be honest those who showed up were all dead. Alpha Devak handled the outer security system and put all the enemies under the ground while Alpha Hardwick cleared the backyard. Everything is clean now. The last thing I saw was Alpha and Demon fighting in their wolf form before I head back here”

He is only talking about Alpha and others. What about Azrael? I got really anxious this time. Has something happened to him and he was not willing to tell me that? I stepped forward. I couldn't wait anymore.

“What about Azrael? Is he okay?” I frowned at him.

Jaxson looked at me “well John that...” Before he could finish, the door of the hall opened again. A loud gasp left my mouth when I saw the scene. My heart almost screamed at the scene. It was like my chest was tightening against my skin.

“Azrael” I called out and ran towards him. His shoulder was bleeding and his clothes were shocked in blood. My heartbeat raised instantly. “What happened to you? Why are you like this?” I touched his arm.

He smiled weakly “I am fine, don't worry”

“How can you?” My eyes brimmed with tears now. He was already this hurt yet he was comforting me?

“Call Turner here fast” Adriana told and Jaxson nodded swiftly before disappearing from the room.

“Let's settle him on the couch first” Alpha Devak helped Azrael to sit on the couch. I sat beside him holding his arm.

“It must be too painful,” I said, biting my lips trying to hold the sovs that were threatening to come out.

“How did this happen?” Tanea asked as she stepped closer to her mate.

“It was Demon himself. Originally the attack was for Cassius. He wanted to kill him in one single attack but John saw him and blocked the attack by himself. I was returning back when I witnessed this scene” Alpha Devak explained. “but I guess the iron claws Demon used were not ordinary ones. He might have used some poison in it. See the wound is turning black”

My gaze fell on the black wound on his shoulder. He was right. That Demon is too vicious to explain with words. I clutched Azrael’s arm making him look at me. Though his expression was pale, he smiled at me. He squeezed my hand lightly.

“Don’t worry nothing will happen to me”

I just nodded my head, unable to say anything.

Turner didn’t take time to arrive. As soon as he saw Azrael he frowned slightly. Then he opened his medical box and started to treat his wound.

“How come you are hurt this badly?” He asked. “I was tending patients in the infirmary when I heard of your news. But I wasn’t expecting it to be this serious” he said as he cleaned the blood. Azrael sat there topless but his body was covered in red stains.

“How’s the wound? Is it poisonous?” Alpha Devak asked.

“It is lucky he is getting the treatment in time” Turner replied. “the attack was vicious and yes it was poisonous. The blood is also turning black. After all, no enemy would be merciful enough to let his opponent go just like that. He would definitely try to kill them. If you guys were a little late then I feared it will be hard to stop the poison spread in his blood completely” Turner pulled out a syringe which has black coloured liquid in it.

“Well, this will help you clear the poison in your body” Turner injected the syringe in Azrael’s arm. “Now we have to wait for the poison to be out of his body before we start the treatment process to heal his body”

“How will it go out?” I asked him.

Turner smiled “wait for him to puke out every last drop of poison”

And again my heart started to get anxious as my eyes fell on my mate.

Chapter 72 – Making The Promise

REESE'S POV

“John, I don’t know how to thank you” Adriana’s eyes glittered with tears. “It’s not the first time. You saved his life several times and I really don’t know how to express my gratitude to you”

“Luna, it was my duty. Please don’t talk like this and make it a burden on my shoulder. Cassius and I have been friends for years. We have more connections than the Alpha and beta relationship. Saving his life is also like saving myself” Astral replied.

Adriana smiled “I know. You are more than a brother thing. But still as a wife and Luna, I want to thank you for saving my husband and mate. I couldn’t imagine what would have happened if you didn’t blocked the attack taking it on yourself”

“I would do anything for him. After all, there was a time when he stood by my side when no one believed my innocence” Azrael said, making me look at him. What does he meant by that.

“You two are really something” Adriana chuckled then her gaze landed on the door again. “I just hope he will be back unharmed. God this waiting of anxiousness is truly unbearable. I have experienced it once and now I have to do it again” she sighed.

“Don’t worry, he will be back soon. This time the Demon is finished for good. After today, there will be no Demon in this world. And all of this happening because Demon himself wanted this. He was the own reason for his doom” Azrael assured.

“That bastard will pay for his fucking sins” Alpha Devak groaned.

“Oh my god, Devak, how could you curse so freely? Don’t forget there are kids here” Tanea scolded.

“Hey, that’s true,” he argued.

“You are too ruined. You are not even considering the innocent ears taking your words” Tanea angrily pinched his arm making him groan.

“Do you really have to do that?” Alpha Devak glared at her.

“Stop you two. It’s not a time for that” Savannah frowned at them. “You said Hardwick is also there with Alpha Cassius, brother?” She looked at Alpha Devak.

“Yes, they will clear the mess there before returning. You don’t have to worry” Alpha Devak walked to her and assured her keeping his hand on her shoulder.

After like an hour Alpha Hardwick and Cassius finally graced us with their presence. Adriana almost threw herself in her mate’s arm. I can understand how worried she was. Though it was already confirmed our winning in the battle, how could a woman rest until she makes sure her man is safe and sound. I sighed and looked at Azrael again. His face was pale but there was a small smile on his face. This man really made me anxious to hell. Unconsciously I squeezed his hand tightly grabbing his attention.

“Are you still scared?” He asked.

I shook my head “no, the only thing I feared was losing you. And now that fear has long gone. But I couldn’t help myself but to worry”

“I am fine. I told you, I will return back no matter what”

I smiled “I know, you kept your promise and I knew you would. I trust you and your words”

He looked at me intensely before letting out a small curse “fuck, if the situation was not wrong, I would have fucking kissed you”

I chuckled “not a chance, you still need to heal your body. Until then no funny business mister”

“Are you challenging me?” He raised an eyebrow.

“No” I shook my head “I am reminding you because I care for you. Didn’t you hear what Turner warned you about?”

“Forget what he said” his answer made me roll my eyes. From the corner of my eyes I saw Alpha Cassius was striding towards us. I got up from the couch and stepped back a little. Alpha Cassius stood right in front of Azrael.

“John, how are you feeling?”

“I am fine,” Azrael replied with a weak smile.

“Thank you John. If it weren’t for you, I would be the one in your position” he sighed, “but again why did you jump in the middle? It could be dangerous for you. It was fortunate that the claw wasn’t stabbed at the wrong place or if something would have happened to you, how do you think I will answer your mate when she will ask where you are? Why didn’t I protect you when it was my duty as an Alpha? Have you thought about this matter?”

I looked at Alpha Cassius with shock. I wasn’t expecting him to think this far. I know if something happened to Azrael I would have been killed myself. Because the only person I have is him, and if he wasn’t there then there’s no point of living. I would lose the last hope of my existence. But hearing Alpha Cassius say such a thing, I got to know one thing. Though he seemed serious and dark on the surface, he does have a good heart who thinks about his pack before himself.

To answer him Azrael just smiled “what would you have done if you were in my place?”

“Of course to protect you, it would be my first priority” Alpha Cassius replied immediately.

“That’s what I did, and I don’t regret it a bit. I would do it again and again if the situation arrives”

Alpha Cassius sighed then patted his other shoulder which wasn’t wounded “John, in the past you were alone, but now don’t forget you have a mate too,” he glanced towards me before fixing his gaze on Azrael again “and you need to consider her feelings too. I know you are close to me, like a brother but your life, it’s not only your share anymore. Your mate has the same right to you. So promise me, from today onwards if there’s any situation like this you wouldn’t take such rush action. Do you understand me?”

“But that was-”

“No, you are going to promise me” Alpha Cassius stopped him in the middle. “Your responsibility is not only your pack but your mate too. You can’t ignore it. As an Alpha of the pack I am ordering you to promise me”

Azrael looked at him for sometimes then slightly nodded his head “alright, I promise you”

“Good. Now what about your wound? Why didn’t Turner treat it?” Alpha Cassius frowned.

“Cassius, John is poisoned” Adriana said holding his arm “Turner had already injected him with medicine to pull out the poison from his body. He said he couldn’t start the treatment unless the poison was out of his body. Turner left because he had patients to treat” she explained slowly.

“That bastard” Alpha Cassius cursed under his breath, clenching his jaw.

“What about Demon?” Azrael asked.

“He was too desperate to meet his brother so I granted his own wish and sent him where he could find his brother and stay together with him” Alpha Cassius replied emotionlessly.

“His body-”

“It’s already turned into ashes” Alpha Cassius’s reply stopped all the questions. I sighed inwardly. Finally that monster is out of this world. That Satan has caused so many damages which are unable to explain in words.

“Finally the war has-” Azrael stopped and clutched his chest. My heart jumped seeing his reaction.

“Azrael what happened?” I hold his arm. “Are you feeling pain?” My voice trembled suddenly.

“I...” He coughed severely.

“Azrael” I called out in horror. I patted his back trying to ease his pain.

“Call Turner right now,” Alpha Cassius growled.

“Azrael?” I gasped when he held my hand. His expression was painful and his complexion turned dark. He took deep breaths like he was having a breathing problem.

“Azrael” my body was shaking and my hand trembled in his grasp. Then he leaned towards the floor and suddenly puked out black blood. My eyes widened immediately. What’s this? Black blood?

“Oh god, is this the poison Turner was speaking about?” Tanea asked.

I looked at Azrael who was puking. It must be the poison in his body. Oh god, it must be. Turner was here in less than a few minutes. By then Azrael already finished and leaned his head on my shoulder. His body felt weak and his breath was slow.

“Good, the medicine worked well. This poison in his body is out. Since his body is clear now, I will start the treatment” Turner said and pulled something out of his medical box.

Later I brought Azrael into our room. I made him sit on the bed and put a cushion behind his back. Turner had already bandaged his wound and gave him medicine.

“Do you feel any pain?” I asked as I sat on bed.

“No, I am feeling fine now. My wolf also sounds good”

I smiled “I am glad. Do you want to eat something? You know you haven’t ate anything”

“Did you eat anything?”

I shook my head “I was too tense, I couldn’t even digest anything. It was impossible”

“Reese?”

“Hmm..”

“Are you angry at me?”

I looked at him “why would I be angry?”

“Because I put myself in danger knowing anything could have happened. All I was thinking about was saving Cassius and being careless about you. At that time all I could see was Cassius being dragged in hell and as his friend and beta of the pack, I couldn’t let that happen. I could endure anything but I couldn’t see that Cassius was hurt when I could help it” he shook his head.

Hearing him something came in my mind “earlier you said something about Alpha Cassius helping you. What does that mean?” I asked. “I mean you said he believed in your innocence when others didn’t. Why is that? What happened back then?”

He looked at me “do you really want to know?”

I nodded my head. I wanted to know everything about him.

“Okay I will tell you but promise me you won’t feel hurt” he said.

I frowned “why is that? Is there something wrong?”

“There’s everything wrong” he shook his head.

“Just tell me what happened?” I asked. I don’t know why but my heart was about to explode inside.

Azrael sighed “in the past, I was being accused of molesting a woman”

Chapter 73 – Something About His Past

REESE’S POV

I gasped at him. What did I hear? Was it right? Or my ear was just buzzing with nonsense? I shook my head and looked at him closely.

“Molesting? And you?” My voice was filled with doubts? Even if The Moon Goddess would come down to personally deliver this information, I wouldn’t believe her too. This matter is fucking baseless and impossible.

“Why?” Azrael smiled, “don’t you believe it? I am a man after all. I also have needs and beautiful women are the greatest prey. How long do you think I could handle my desire of release in my hot-blooded youth?”

I rolled my eyes “you are really funny Azrael. Whom are you deceiving here?”

He laughed out “you are still not believing it darling?” He tugged my hand with his free hand and smiled “what if the accusations are true? Haven’t you thought about it?”

I stared at him, pursing my lips. A man who drowned in agony for me, who waited even after rejection. Who would go crazy if he hadn’t seen me for a while and who would be too jealous if a man walked past me. How could I build the seed of doubt in my heart? The thought already sounds so stupid.

“Just tell me the truth. Don’t try to provoke me” I warned him, throwing a glare.

“Oh?” He raised an eyebrow with a challenging look “what are you intending to do?”

I smiled “Azrael do you want me to lock you in the room and get myself comfortable outside. I don’t mind spending a night in another room. Besides, I think that’s a good idea. You are already hurt and your wound is still fresh. You really need a scheduled time for yourself to heal better. I will ask Adriana to arrange another -”

“DON’T FUCKING THINK ABOUT IT” his yelling stopped me in middle. God, this man almost made me deaf.

“Why are you shouting? I was considering your health. Don’t you want to heal faster? I was just offering you good planning for that” I faked innocence and blinked my eyes to him.

“Don’t test my patience Reese, it could run out anytime. I don’t even know what I would do if that happens” he groaned.

“You are funny Azrael. You were asking to believe the accusations yet you couldn’t even prove it with your action”

He looked at me “wait, was that-”

“I am not accepting anymore crap here. You better tell me about the accusations. And I want the truth”

He sighed “fine, I am sorry. I just wanted to tease you”

“So what happened?” I asked curiously.

“Well it happened before I found you. The woman who accused me was none other than Cassius’s own cousin”

My eyes widened “what? Alpha’s own cousin?”. This was shocking since Adriana never said a word about Alpha Cassius having a cousin too. She only spoke about his parents. I guess the matter was taboo here.

“That matter was silenced by Cassius and no one would mention her ” Azrael shook his head, “After Cassius took the Alpha position, there was only his cousin as his family. Her name was Riahna, and her parents were dead long ago. She was raised alongside Cassius and they shared the siblings’ bond. But unlike Cassius, Riahna was too arrogant. She even had discord with Luna too. There was a time when Riahna insulted Luna and Luna being the fierce one punished her in front of Cassius. Cassius was in trouble and couldn’t take their side. So he left the matter as it was and stopped interfering in their matter. Luna was not in favor with him so Cassius feared his any action would upset her ” he chuckled.

“It sounds like Riahna is a stubborn and kind of bitch type?” I frowned at my own words. Oh my god, did I just say that?

“You can say that. Riahna didn’t like Luna so she was always against her. One day she asked me to help her. She even confessed that she has feelings for me. But I rejected and avoided her advances. She was always trying to find a chance to seduce me” Azrael sighed.

“Was she beautiful?” I asked.

“Well, yes. But that doesn’t mean everyone will love her because of the beauty she has. One day, when I returned from training she was there in my room wearing almost nothing and waiting. She even tried to use her charm and left no stone unturned to seduce me. Instead of feeling aroused I felt disgusted. In anger I slapped her. She was angry and scolded me calling names before storming out of the room. I almost thought it was the end but man I was wrong. Because she played another trick and accused me for trying to molest her”

I gasped “she is such an evil. She really played a disgusting role”

“Almost everyone believed in the pack. Because I was single at that time and a mateless wolf will always be in great heat. So Riahna just took the advantage of the situation”

“So Alpha Cassius didn’t believe her?”

“No, though she tried hard for Cassius to believe but Cassius was furious at her. He didn’t listened to her words and directly banished her from the pack”

“It must be a hard decision for Alpha, after all they grew up together and shared the siblings bond for years” I sighed.

“This is what I admire in Cassius. He is strong and could take the right decision no matter how hard it is. He always proved that he really deserves the title of being the Alpha”

I smiled “Silver Shine has him which is why the name was still glorious”

Azrael nodded in agreement “right”.

“Okay, it’s already late now. I think you should take some rest. Turner said you need good rest and let your body heal properly” I tugged the duvet over him.

“Everything seems lonely without you sweetheart” I couldn’t help but laugh at his words.

Next morning I met the girls in the garden. They set the hot coffee and snacks there. It was like enjoying the view with a hot coffee.

“Everyone looked so refreshed” I smiled as I sat down.

“Yeah, finally that monster is out of the tension” Tanea rolled her eyes while sipping her coffee. “I couldn’t believe he is really no more”

“Believe it because this is the truth. I heard Hardwick say that Alpha Cassius was too vicious towards him. Demon’s limbs were cut before he was beheaded. His body was burnt in the end. Alpha Cassius wanted Demon to become ashes” Savannah said as her face twisted in disgust.

“That serves him right. Who told him to interfere in other’s lives so much? He was a kind of person who drank blood and ate others alive. For a person like him to stay alive is already a great sin on this earth. I still wonder that he could live all these years and rule a pack under his watch” Tanea frowned.

“Demon was a dark existence in our life. Even after his brother’s death we couldn’t live a peaceful life because the Demon was still there lurking around. But I knew there will be a time for everything to get settled. And I believe that today is the day” Adriana smiled. “Finally Silver Shine can take a breath of relief”

“Everyone took part in this battle. And if it weren’t for all of you, we couldn’t get through these hardships” I said, making them smile.

“Demon not only has his influence on you but also on us. Until he was perfectly removed from the surface of the earth we couldn’t stay peaceful”

“Tanea is right” Suddenly Savannah looked sad. “all these days, we didn’t even know how it went” she sighed. “We have experienced a lot together and get to know each other better. Even our relationship became stronger. And now that everything is settled here, I guess it was time to return our home”

The thought of separation had us saddened. We sighed. It was fun to have all of them here. We have enjoyed so much and learnt many things together. But we can’t stay like this since everyone has their own responsibility to fulfill.

“It’s really sad. Oh my god, I felt like I was about to cry” Tanea waved her hand.

“Have you decided when you are going?” I asked with a heavy heart. I really don’t want them to leave. Not at this moment.

“Devak and I will be leaving today, ” Tanea said. “It has been a long time since we left home. And now I started missing my little man back there. Last night dad called and told me my son was too desperate for me. I couldn’t wait for long, ” Tanea replied with a sad smile.

“Hardwick has some work with Alpha Cassius so he said we will live tomorrow,” Savannah said.

“It’s like, it will be only me and Reese from now on,” Adriana smiled.

“Come on, it’s not like we will never be able to meet again. Cheer up girls. It’s not the end. It’s just a temporary separation with a promise we will meet again” Tanea said.

We looked at each other and smiled. She was right. It’s not the end.

“Let’s cheer for us” Savannah raised her coffee cup “with a hot coffee” she grinned.

We laughed and raised our cups to join the cheer. In this time we found the happiness we were looking for. The war we faced together has given us an enormous chance to build a strong bond. Someone says correctly everything happens for a reason and we have to go with the flow. We could not predict our future but could only live in the present. Let our Karma decide our fate.

Chapter 74 – Wildness Drives Crazy

REESE’S POV

A month later....

“Come on Josue, stop crying” Adriana tried to console her son but failed miserably. She shook her head and looked at Josue bawling.

“What happened to him? He never cries like this” I frowned looking at the little man.

“I don’t know either. He has been crying since his father left him from jogging”

“Alpha Cassius takes Josue with him when he went out for jog?” I asked surprisingly. Well I knew once Josue turned 5 his werewolf training would start but I was not expecting Alpha Cassius to start the planning from now on. But again, who can predict what's going in their mind?

"Yeah, Cassius thinks it's good for kids to get some exercises and I believe Josue likes it. He seemed happy and content but today he planned to torture me with his crying" Adriana rolled her eyes.

I laughed "he must be like – why the running suddenly stopped" I couldn't help but tease.

"Yeah, from such a young age he is taking after his father's traces. I don't know what I am going to do when he grows up. I mean handling Cassius is already hard and given to this man, how the hell am I going to endure it?" Adriana rolled her eyes. Suddenly Josue stopped crying and looked at her with his shining eyes.

I grinned, "ah I think your son understood what you are saying. See he has even looking at you"

Adriana glanced down at her son and sighed "you stubborn man, did you know what mommy said?"

"Are you expecting an answer?" I laughed.

Adriana smiled "well I must say, no matter what I am glad I have this man in my arms. When I was pregnant with him, he was such an obedient little baby. He did not even kick hard for once but after coming out..." Adriana frowned "how come, he took all the character traces of his father alone? He is my son too, he should have taken some of my traces" she complained like a kid.

I roll my eyes "we can't decide that. You are now more childish than your son"

"Come on, as a mother I could hope this a little" Adriana groaned. "I want my son to have my traces too"

“Then how about another baby Peaches?” A cold and dark voice reached us. We turned to see Alpha Cassius with Azreal. Though he had recovered and he could freely move his hand, he still needed time to heal properly. He silently followed Alpha Cassius in the dining room.

“Cassius?” Adriana called out.

“You haven’t answered my question Peaches” Alpha Cassius walked towards her in an imposing manner. His dark gaze was fixed on her not moving an inch. And little Josue was also looking at his father with big eyes.

“What question?” Adriana frowned. “We already have Josue in here, why do we need another baby?” She huffed, “handling Josue is a enough torture so don’t even think about it”

“You don’t want it?” Alpha Cassius raised an eyebrow.

“Cassius, what happened to you so suddenly? You are now talking about such a thing?” Adriana frowned slightly.

“Aren’t you complaining that Josue has taken all my traces? So I just want to fulfill your wish and help you feel justified” Alpha Cassius smiled.

“Oh, your intention is appreciated but I am not after it, humph!” Adriana got up from the chair and left the dining area. Alpha Cassius looked at her back then followed her right away while calling out her name.

I chuckled at their bond and sighed inwardly. I got up and looked at their way. Suddenly I felt a presence behind me then a pair of arms circled around my waist pulling me to a hard chest. I instantly leaned onto him.

“What happened? You sound dejected? Are you upset?” He asked with his gruff tone.

I smiled “how can I be dejected?” I shook my head. “Adriana and Alpha Cassius’s bond overwhelmed me. They are so sweet”

"Yeah, they have been together even before we met. They both are the same, strong willed and unruly. Even if they are arguing they wouldn't let themselves down" Azrael chuckled.

"Hmmm.... It seems their bond is strong even when they cross the limits sometimes?"

"Right" he nodded and leaned down kissing my neck. "But you should give more attention to your mate, don't you think you have to take care of him?" He asked as his hand was roaming over my body then suddenly reaching up and cupping my breasts. I bit my lips holding back the moan which was about to leave my mouth. The sudden eruption of desire had my body tremble.

"Azrael" I called out, "stop it"

"No" he rejected instantly. "You have been depriving me from having you. How long do you think I can endure it? Are you planning to keep me on verge and let me explode?" He squeezed my breast as his tongue traced over my sensitive skin.

I closed my eyes as my toe curled. I bit my lips trying to stop my body from reacting. But I knew he wouldn't stop. He is too good for that. I sighed inwardly. My wolf was purring in happiness while my body was giving up to his seduction.

"You don't know how long I have been waiting for this. Fuck, I had to force myself to stop everytime you rejected" he said as he bite my neck.

"Azrael, you need to stop please" I almost pleaded to him.

Suddenly he stopped and turned me around to face him. My heart clenched tightly when I saw hurt flashing in his deep beautiful eyes.

"You don't want me to make love to you anymore?"

"No, that's not what I mean" I shook my head.

“Then what?” He frowned.

“Do you think we can do it here?” I looked around. “We are in the kitchen,” I whispered to him.

He grinned, “is that what’s troubling you then....” Before I knew it he threw me over his shoulder making me squeal loudly.

“Ah ... Azrael.... What are you doing?” I cried out in horror. “Your shoulder would get hurt. Have you forgotten you still need time to heal properly?”

He laughed “don’t worry darling, you weight nothing to get me hurt”

Once we reached the room Azrael dropped me on bed. He took his shirt off then his pants. In a second he stood in front of me in naked glory. His cock stood proudly glaring angrily. It was like he would want to get inside me at any second. He got on bed and hovered over me with a smile.

“I have been waiting for this for such a long time. Fuck I felt like my body is about to explode in excitement” he leaned down and kissed me hard. His hand reached to my dress and in a swift second I heard a tearing sound. I gasped in his mouth and felt him cupping my bare breast. My nipples hardened with his bare contact. He rolled my hard bud between his fingers and pinched it. Material ©

He trailed down the kiss from my lips to my jaw then to my neck. His action was rushed and hungry and I could feel myself getting hot all over again. He left my breast and reached down to lower and cupped my panty covered pussy. He slid the material at the side and pushed his finger in.

I moaned closing my eyes while he cursed “fuck, you are so wet darling. So ready for me to fuck you hard. I don’t understand how I stayed so long without making love to you”

“Oh Azrael” I moaned and held his shoulder.

"I want you wetter baby, do you know how?" Before I could know what he meant, I felt pain rushing in my sensitive spot and it made me wet even more. He slapped my pussy before cupping it roughly again. He rubbed my inner lips sensually before slapping again.

"Ahhn..." I cried out and felt my pussy releasing more cum. My panty was soaked and sticky.

"You are so beautiful" Azrael groaned and in a snap tore my panty.

"You...." My eyes widened.

"I can't wait for it baby" he grinned mischievously. "I have been waiting for this moment, do you think I can wait to take the panty off?"

I rolled my eyes and sighed. Now I am fully naked for his eyes to feast. His hawk eyes were piercing me didn't as he raked it over my naked body. I couldn't help but blush under his gaze. I can see him gulping down hard.

"I couldn't believe you are mine" he whispered and leaned to kiss me again.

"Are you sure you are fine?" I asked, breaking the kiss.

"Positive my love, nothing can be better than this" he said and I felt his hard tip poking my entrance. "Fuck, so desperate" he groaned and started to push his thick length inside me.

My eyes rolled back as I felt my emptiness start to fill. It has been so long that he made me feel like this. This time it was different. Mixing it with sweetness and pleasure it felt like my heart was about to explode.

"Are you okay?" He asked, looking down at me.

"I am fine, don't stop," I said, biting my lips. He moved his hips pushing deeper hitting my walls.

“Oh... God Azrael. I missed this so much” I moaned when he stated to fuck me harder and faster. And I loved his pace.

“Fuck baby, you don’t know how much I love this. Your warm pussy always knows how to excite me with extreme pleasure” he groaned.

“You do the same” I moaned again. He fucked me hard and rough making my body bounce upwards. I held the bedsheet, twisting it as the pleasure shot in my veins. It feels so good.

“Damn, you are too good a baby. I can’t stop myself” Azrael let out a groan like a wounded wolf as he fucked me faster. The slapping sound of the skin echoed in the room and even though my face was red due to blushing yet I didn’t want him to stop. I want him hard, fast and deep.

My walls started to clench hard around his cock and gripped it tightly. Azrael groaned again but his face was bathing in pleasure.

“God, you are squeezing me fucking hard darling. I felt like I could cum any moment”

“I am so close” I moaned.

“Yeah, cum for me baby. Clench that sweet little pussy of yours. Let me see how much it love my cock to fuck” he increased his pace and his each thrust would sent me to higher and higher. It didn’t take long and with a little more thrust I felt myself cuming. I screamed his name with great pleasure.

“Ah...” Azrael let out a low growl before thrusting a few more times and finally letting himself out. His seeds spread inside me, warming my pussy. He dropped his body on me and sighed. This is what we wanted, to be close to each other and feel the love.

“It was wild,” I muttered.

“And crazy,” he added.

I chuckled “do you know I love you?”

“And I love you more” he looked up and sealed my lips with a heated kiss.
And all over again my body heated up.

Chapter 75 – She Left?

JOHN’S POV

“After Demon’s death the whole Hell Hound is scattered. Those who didn’t join the battle become rogue. Though most of the members are dead, there’s still a few left. But they are not threats to us,” I said as I looked at the report. I looked at Cassius who seemed to be thinking deeply.

“Are you okay?” I frowned.

“Yeah, I am fine” he shook his head.

“You were engrossed with something” I put the report on the table looking at him seriously.

“There’s nothing serious. I was just thinking about the past incidents that happened recently. Who could have thought that the great threat of Silver Shine would end like this? Though I am glad it really happened but all of these sometimes amaze me”

I nodded “you aren’t the only one. I think the same. The battle was fierce and anything could happen. I was scared when I went out at the last minute thinking what if I couldn’t keep the promise I made to my mate. I would be ashamed at the end. And especially when Demon’s claw stabbed me fiercely I almost saw stars in my head”

Cassius frowned “don’t even do that again. And you must remember the promise you made to me. I don’t want you to break it, no matter what”

“I will as long as I can. But protecting you is my duty and I couldn’t neglect it” I shook my head. It was a difficult promise he made me to keep. But I will try as long as I can.

“You shouldn’t have second thought over it or I will replace you as my beta”

I smirked “can you? Do you think you can trust others like you do to me?”

He glared at me “I don’t want any argument over this John. I have told you before, you are not alone anymore. If you sacrifice yourself for me then where would I get the courage to face your mate? What will I reply when she asks where are you? Do you want to push me into trouble?”

“If I wasn’t there, she would understand,” I shook my head.

“Will she?” Cassius challenged. “It’s not long since you guys got together. But looking at Reese’s face and those times when she looks at you speaks everything. You are my beta, the member of my pack yet my close buddy. As long as I live there’s no way I would put your life in dagger. But next time before you jump in to risk your life, think about the one living with you”

I sighed “are you threatening me?”

He shook his head “no, I am just pointing out the truth. You need to consider her feelings. It was you who brought her here and even used tricks to make her stay and now you are taking her lightly? You haven’t gotten enough proof how strong a woman could be?”

“You really don’t need to dig into the past,” I shook my head.

“It’s just a little reminder for you”.

“Fine, you have already made me promise what else you want now?”

He chuckled “just beware of the promise you made. Now that everything is settled, I will send people to burn the Hell Hound pack. I don’t want that pack to be there by any form” his expression turned serious.

“You know, you have to answer the clan elders if you burn the pack. They will question you about your decision”

“Don’t worry, I have already prepared everything already. I know how to close their mouth even before they could open it”

I smiled, “when are you planning to fix the meeting?”

“This weekend. I want everything to settle as soon as possible. I don’t want to wait anymore”

I nodded, “since that’s the case, I will fix the meeting and invite your clan elders. They must have gotten all the news by now” “It’s fine with me,” he nodded.

When I walked out of the study I went to the training field. The boys were practicing in moves while my gaze fell on Jaxson sitting in the corner. His face looks dull and pale. In normal times he would be training with others but today he looked distant. Frowning, I walked towards him.

“Hey Jaxson, why are you sitting here? Aren’t you going to train?” I asked as I got near him.

He looked up, there was a sadness pulling in his eyes, “Yeah, I will go in a minute” he replied forcing a tight smile.

I sighed “okay what happened to you?”

“Nothing. I was just tired so I wanted to take a rest for a while. But I guess I am fine now” he got up. “Are you going to train?”

I nodded “yeah, I will train for few hours”

“Great then let’s join others” he said and walked past me.

“Jaxson” I called and he stopped. I turned to look at him. “you can try to hide but I can see it clearly. You shouldn’t force yourself like that. At least be honest and tell me what happened to you”

I don’t understand why he is hiding? Is there something that is causing him pain yet he was reluctant to speak about it? Jaxson heaved a sigh as he turned to look at me again. There was a small smile on his face.

“There’s nothing you should know, John. Besides this matter is already a taboo in the pack”

I frowned “what are you trying to say?”

Something flashed in his eyes “Zaniyah is dead”.

I was shocked “she died?” I really can’t believe it.

“How long do you think she can survive in such a place? Her body was buried last night. What saddens me is I couldn’t even say a last goodbye to her. As a brother I really failed” he gritted his teeth and turned around leaving hurriedly.

I looked at his back, still shocked by his reply. Zaniyah was the dearest sister of Jaxson. He would always protect her. But her end was too tragic. She died where there’s no family. She couldn’t even see anyone she knew. I sighed, it’s not like I feel pain but I do pity her. If she hadn’t crossed the limit and tried to think over the matter she was doing would anything like this have happened? Who’s fault is that? Mine? Reese’s? Or herself? I shook my head. I guess I am going to skip the training today. Right now I need a cold shower.

When I opened the door of my room I was about to call Reese I found the place empty. I was expecting her to sit on the couch and read a book or enjoy music. But looking at the place it seemed like there was no one for a long time.

“She must be with Adriana” I muttered to myself and walked towards the bathroom. I will take a shower first then go out to find her. After 30 minutes I walked out of the room and looked around. Where did she go?

Walking around the corridor I found Adriana was sitting in the garden with her son but there’s no one beside her. I should ask her, maybe she would know.

“Luna?” I called as I walked towards her.

“John?” She looked up. “What happened? You looked restless?” She frowned.

“Have you seen Reese?” I asked.

“Reese? Yeah, I saw her earlier. We had breakfast together”

“Do you know where she is now?” I asked curiously.

Adriana tilted her head “ay, looks like you don’t know. Didn’t she say anything?”

“Say about what?” I frowned, not understanding her words at all.

“Say that she is-” before she could complete Josue started to cry. “oh god Josue what happened to you? Why are you crying like this?” She tried to console her son.

“Luna?”

“John, since she didn’t inform you then I can’t say anything. But I can assure you she will return, may be by evening”

“But why? Where did she go?”

She chuckled “don’t be restless John, she won’t leave you. But she went for something and I am not in place to tell you anything. When she returned in the evening and you can ask her personally ” she got up and left. I stood there dumbfounded looking at her retreating back.

Fuck, where did she go? Why didn't she say anything when she was going somewhere?

Later in the evening I was pacing in the yard. My heart was already filled with anxiousness. I couldn't stand still until I saw her. Where the fuck is she? It's already dark yet she is not here. When I turned to look at the gate I saw a figure walking in. It was her. I walked towards her.

"Where have you been?" I almost growled.

"Azrael" she called with her sweet voice.

"Fuck it" I pulled her to me and kissed her hard. I don't fucking care if others are watching us. She gasped with my sudden action but returned the kiss in equal favor. We kissed like there's no tomorrow and fuck I could finally settle my heart.

Breaking the kiss I looked at her "where did you go? Do you even have any idea how worried I was? You haven't even tell me anything"

She smiled "I went out for something. I have told Adriana about it"

I rolled my eyes "do you think that mischievous woman would tell me anything. She likes to see man suffering"

Reese chuckled "were you that anxious?"

I nodded "yes, you are the reason behind it, so darling you are going to take the responsibility" I picked her up making her squeal.

"Oh my god Azrael what are you doing? Others are watching put me down now"

"No way darling. You are gonna pay for it" I smiled.

She rolled her eyes and hold my neck with her arms "may be but no today mister"

I frowned “why is that?”

“Because there’s something that preventing us”

I raised an eyebrow “and what is that?”

She leaned closer and whispered something in my ear, making my eyes wide.
Did she really? Fuck I almost ran towards our room making her laugh.
