Chapter 61

Chapter 61

Though Mona made Lauren missing. Mr. Bennett didn't blame her for this. What's more, she gained huge profits from this matter

Sally had to be elegant and kind in front of everyone so there were some things that couldn't be told to others. That was why she decided to give a call to her mother.

Receiving her daughter's call, Mona was very happy because she was lonely and bored alone at home. She picked up the phone,

"Sally!" When facing Sally, Mona was always soft and even flattering. She was proud of Sally, who was smart and beautiful.

In the past, Sally hated Mona's show-off posture. But today, Sally was a little happy to hear that.

She then told Mona that she met Lauren today and saw Lauren sitting in a man's luxury car. Mona immediately asked, "Was she someone's mistress?"

Mona didn't think much and the first thing she thought was: if people know Lauren is someone's mistress, the Bennett family must be ashamed of her.

"That is a good opportunity for us," Mona said with excitement. "You must make the Bennett family know about Lauren being someone's mistress, so Mr. Bennett would not tolerate her and Jeffery will definitely look down on her."

Sally frowned, a little regretting calling Mona because she didn't understand anything at all.

Sally was silent for a long time so Mona asked her directly, "Do you think I am rude and don't understand anything? But I know what you are thinking. You are waiting for the Bennett family to put pressure on the Shaw family and to force Herman to marry

Lauren."

Sally turned over on the bed and hugged the pillow, saying, "Then why do you ask?"

Mona sighed and thought her daughter thought too much. Then she said to Sally, "I know what you are thinking. You want Lauren to marry into the Shaw family because you don't want her to marry well." Sally was her daughter and Mona knew her well.

Sally lowered her head.

Mona continued, "Sally, you should be focused before you could achieve your goals. Don't think you can get anything you want.

otherwise, you might lose everything you have."

Sally was stunned when she heard this.

Mona said, "Don't care about whom Lauren was going to marry, and just do you want to do. You should keep in mind that if Lauren is someone's mistress, she would never be able to marry Sandy again." The Effie family would never accept her if this was true.

Mona was different from Sally. Although she is simple-minded, if she had a clear goal, she would stick to it. For example, she wanted money so she tried her best to stay with Mr. Bennett as his mistress for more than 20 years. It didn't matter if she lost her self-respect, because she got what she wanted.

Later, she hoped that her daughter lives a good life so she deliberately made Lauren missing, and sent her daughter to the Bennett family. Although Mona had been separated from Sally for more than ten years, Mona was still happy because her daughter lived a better life in the Bennett family.

The more focused one was, the easier he could succeed. If one wants too much, he might not get a single one. So if Sally wanted to marry Sandy, so she shouldn't care if Lauren married well or not.

Mona's words made Sally think. After hanging up the phone, Sally lay on the hedging the ears of the cuffed de

Dana's love for Herman had nothing to do with me and the first thing for me to do was to make it impossible for Lauren to marry into the Effie family." Sally thought. Her fingertips tapped a few times on the doll's head and then came up with an idea

In the living room of the Bennett's house

Almost all members were there, including Darren, who had not appeared for a long time. He was lying on the sofa and supporting his chin.

Mr. Bennett senior was still upstairs and Sally sat down next to Darren, saying, "How are you recently?"

Are you going to come back home?

Seeing this, Mrs. Bennett also looked at Darren with expectation.

Darren raised his eyes but ignored Sally. He came back because of Lauren. If it weren't for Lauren, he would not come back forever. Receiving a call from his mother, saying that Lauren might be Herman Shaw's mistress, Darren was so shocked. He couldn't believe it. He thought that was impossible.

Darren would never believe that Lauren was someone's mistress. Darren also remembered that Bob called Lauren his friend with envy in his eyes

"What is he envying? Was Bob envying that I am Lauren's brother?" Darren thought and was still very confused. Darren actually was very smart, but sometimes he couldn't control his temper.

He remembered Lauren's indifference in her room that day and was immersed in thinking.

After leaving Bob, Darren went to test his blood. The result really surprised him! There was actually that substance in his blood which meant someone in his family tried to hurt him! Since then, Darren moved out and he didn't know who to trust. He didn't tell his to anyone yet.

Darren loved and trusted all his family members so he did not want to suspect them or face them, and that was why he moved out. Perhaps, going abroad was a good thing for him.

After knowing that irritability was not his nature, Darren deliberately suppressed it. Therefore, during this time, he was much calmer than before.

Mr. Bennett senior still had not come downstairs, and Mr. Bennett junior was already burst into a rage.

He called Lauren man imes, wanting to know about the relationship between Lauren and Herman Shaw.

Mrs. Bennett said next to Mr. Bennett junior, "We still don't know the truth yet. Let's wait for your father to come down to make decision." After knowing Lauren might be Herman Shaw's mistress, Mrs. Bennett was also very angry.

Chapter 63

Chapter 63

Though Mrs. Bennett was angry, she also felt more sorry for Lauren. She was guessing that maybe Lauren met some difficulties so she had to be Herman's mistress. It was difficult for a beautiful woman to climb the social ladder without the support of the family "Dad," Sally poured a cup of tea for her father and patted his back, saying. "Don't be angry Please believe Lauren. Maybe it is not true at all. Anger is not good for your health"

Mr. Bennett junior turned to look at Sally and the anger in his heart dissipated a little. "Sally is a great daughter! She is smart and considerate!" Mr. Bennett junior thought," As for Lauren, I shouldn't have found her back. She was a shame! I will lose face because of her!"

When Mr. Bennett junior thought of Lauren, he said in disgust, "But it is true that she was sitting in a luxury car. She is just a student and how could she afford this car? Even if this car is not Herman's, it must be others."

Sally thought for a while and explained, "Maybe she bought it herself. Didn't grandpa just give the shares of the company to her?" "Silly girl," Mr. Bennett junior was amused and patted Sally's shoulder, "Shares are not cash. I know your mother gave her a car and I gave her a credit card, but it was definitely not enough to buy a car like that."

Of course Sally knew this and she just pretended to care about Lauren to make a good image for herself.

Jeffery had been sitting on the sofa, using his phone to do his work. He was asked to go back home by his mother in a panic so he thought something big happened, but it turned out to be just a rumor.

Jeffery wanted to leave soon after arriving home, but because his grandfather had not come down yet, so he was still here.

After a while, Mr. Bennett senior took the elevator down. His legs became worse and worse, so he needed help when walking. "Father," Mr. Bennett junior supported his father to sit down while holding his phone, saying, "I have asked someone to investigate this matter."

Mr. Bennett Senior raised his eyes and glanced at Mr. Bennett junior quietly, sighing, "Aren't you afraid if the Shaw Family knows about this?"

"This is not a business matter but it is related to the reputation of the Bennett family so I have to be cautious," Mr. Bennett junior seemed to be sure that Lauren was Herman's mistress and wanted to punish her as soon as possible.

Mr. Bennett senior did not directly scold Mr. Bennett junior but said, "Call Lauren back. After all, she is family and we should ask her about this first."

"Will she tell us the truth?" Mr. Bennett junior frowned and insisted, "I am afraid that she would deny it!"

Mr. Bennett senior couldn't bear it anymore and hit Mr. Bennett junior hard with a crutch, "She is your daughter! How can you not believe her?"

Seeing this, Mr. Bennett junior was even angrier. He thought he was caring about the Bennett's reputation. If it was true that Lauren is Herman's mistress, she would be a shame for the Bennett family! All the family members would lose face because of her! Mr. Bennett senior didn't agree with Mr.

Bennett junior, so he asked the housekeeper to take his phone and decided to call Lauren himself. At least they should have a talk at first. It took a long time before the phone was picked up.

Chapter 64

Chapter 64

Sally sat quietly on the sofa with a calm face but she was still acting like she was worried about Lauren.

She didn't care whether Lauren was Herman's mistress or not, because it was not easy for Lauren to deny it.

If Lauren was Herman's mistress, that would be the best result for Sally. But even if she was, the

Bennett would not ask Herman in person if Lauren was his mistress.

As long as Lauren was sitting in his car, she couldn't deny that she had something to do with Herman.

No matter what Lauren said, the Bennett family would not let her marry Sandy.

After all, marriage could be a good way to connect two families. Sally also believed that if Grandpa called, Lauren would have to answer the phone. Sally guessed that Lauren might deny this or keep silent if Grandpa asked her about her relationship with Herman. Anyway, Lauren had to come back and explain this in person. Thinking of this, Sally couldn't control the excitement in her heart because Sally had been thinking about this for a long time.

However, things did not happen as she thought. The person who answered the phone was not Lauren but Kelly.

Kelly said with excitement. "Lauren is in the laboratory right now and she couldn't come out to pick up the phone. Is it okay that she calls back later? Should I take a message for you?"

Sally sneered silently.

Mr. Bennett junior, who heard this, frowned and looked impatient, saying, "Father, let her call Lauren right now."

Mrs. Bennett senior ignored Mr. Bennett junior, but instead chatted with Kelly, "Are you Lauren's assistant?"

"Yes, my name is Kelly," she introduced herself enthusiastically.

Mr. Bennett senior smiled and said, "I once wanted to send Lauren an assistant. It's great that you are with her right now." Hearing this, Kelly was a little embarrassed and said, "I was sent to help Lauren by Mr. Shaw."

In fact, Kelly was not the best potential for Lauren's assistant, but because she and Lauren were close in age, so Herman decide to let her be Lauren's assistant.

Mr. Bennett senior didn't turn on the speaker but every one of the Bennett family in the living room hear it clearly. They heard

Herman Shaw's name.

Mr. Bennett junior began to frown and Mrs. Bennett became nervous. It seemed that Herman was very concerned about Lauren Was it possible that Lauren and Herman were in love with each other right now?

Mr. Bennett senior paused and then asked Kelly, “Were you saying Mr. Shaw from the MY company?”

“Yes,” Kelly explained, “He is from MY company.” Kelly knew Mr. Bennett senior was a little confused, so she explained, “Laure is the leader of the research and development department in MY company.”

His Secret Millionairess Wife

Chapter 65

Chapter 65

Hearing what Kelly said, everyone in the living room was stunned.

They almost forgot that Lauren was a high-achieving postgraduate student in biology so she could work at well-known enterprises. The strange thing was that she was just a staff member but Herman chose an assistant to her in person.

Mr. Bennett senior also thought of this. He smiled and asked, “It seems that Mr. Shaw pays much attention to Lauren.”

Kelly also smiled and said. “Yes, Lauren is very important to MY company She is one of the shareholders of MY and she made great contributions to the research and development of the products in MY.” And then Kelly continued, “You can even google her. She is an excellent scientist and scholar and known as the most outstanding young scientist in biology in the past ten years.”

Everyone was pretty shocked and Darren said, “I had to leave now.” Jeffery also said that he had to leave because of work. Only Sally sat on the sofa with an embarrassed expression on her face. She remembered what she just said and bit her lower lip hard, feeling more embarrassed.

“How could it be? How could Lauren be a scientist? She doesn’t look like a scientist at all,” Sally thought. In order to verify it,

Sally took out her phone and searched Lauren on the Internet.

Soon Lauren’s information popped up. Most of it was her wonderful achievements and honors. Sally stared at a line of words in disbelief: the first prize of the International Biology Olympiad.

Mrs. Bennett was also surprised and she took out her phone, starting to search Lauren. She started to realize how great her daughter was and suddenly felt embarrassed when she remembered that she once called Lauren’s teacher and asked her to let Lauren quit her job in the lab. That teacher must have laughed at her at that moment!

Mr. Bennett senior was extremely happy to know this and then asked more about Lauren.

Actually, Mr. Bennett senior didn’t know much about what happened after Lauren was five years old so he wanted to know from

Kelly.

“Lauren is so great!” Mr. Bennett senior exclaimed and was very proud of Lauren.

“Yes,” Kelly agreed excitedly because she admired Lauren very much. Kelly continued. “The brand of MY was set up by Lauren who extract the important substance. Lauren was not only the shareholder but also the most important member in research and development department.”

“There was a trick problem that remained to be solved but the R&D team could not solve it for half a year. Mr. Shaw invited Lauren to MY and just within three days, it was solved! Lauren gained much respect in our R&D department which was made up of many famous scientists.”

Mr. Bennett senior smiled and said, “I am so proud of Lauren!”

Kelly nodded and said, “Lauren was capable of doing everything!”

Chapter 66

Chapter 66

After hanging up the phone. Mr. Bennett senior was still smiling. When the servants saw this, they all laughed and praised

Lauren.

Suddenly a female voice came, “Father, I heard that Lauren was back! Why didn't you tell me earlier?”

Hearing this voice, everyone in the room was surprised and then the housekeeper took the maids to welcome her.

Clara Bennett, the eldest daughter of Mr. Bennett senior, was back!

Seeing his daughter, the smile on Mr. Bennett senior's face became even brighter. He said, “You never answer my phone and how can I inform you?”

Speaking of this, Mr. Bennett senior seemed to remember something, and the joy on his face was replaced by dissatisfaction. He complained, “How many years you haven't come back home?” He was getting older, and the most important thing for him was to stay with his family.

Mr. Bennett senior almost cried when he saw his daughter Clara.

At this moment, Mr. Bennett's feelings were very complicated. He was happy to see his daughter but he also complained to his daughter about not coming back for so many years. He missed her very much.

The loss of Lauren back then brought a very heavy blow to both the Bennett and the Betty family. Mrs.

Bennett's mother held up crutch to beat Mr. Bennett junior. At that time, Mr. Bennett and Mrs. Bennett were almost on the verge of divorce.

At that time, Jeffery was still very young, only 10 years old. After knowing his sister was missing, he locked himself in his room and didn't eat anything for three days.

The whole Bennett family was in chaos. Mr. Bennett senior was lying sick in bed and Mr. Bennett had to kneel on the ground apologize to everyone. The Betty family blamed him, and Tiffany almost went crazy. The family was a mess and only supported by Clara Bennett, who was just less than 30 years old.

While reassuring her family, she was trying her best to look for Lauren. She also had to work at her company. She rarely complained and everything was handled by her properly. Everyone in the family praised her. However, only Mr. Bennett senior knew how much pressure she was under.

Tiffany loved Lauren because she was her mother but for Clara, Lauren was her spiritual pillar. When she knew Lauren was missing, it was a disaster for Clara. Clara's life was not smooth. Not long after her marriage, her husband died in a car accident, and the shock caused her to miscarry.

Clara even wanted to commit suicide. It was Tiffany who brought the newborn Lauren to her hospital bed and told her that she would be her daughter in the future.

Clara watched the baby and held her little hand. She thought she shouldn't give up. After she recovered, Clara regarded Lauren her daughter.

Chapter 67

Chapter 67

It can be said that when Lauren was little. Clara spent more time with her than her mother. After the Bennett family was stabilized, Clara went abroad alone and didn't return for more than ten years.

Clara came back with a girl in her twenties.

When Mrs. Bennett saw this girl, a smile appeared on her face and she said, "You must be Erica."

Clara, who was talking to Mr. Bennett senior, heard this and immediately said with a smile, "I forgot to introduce her! She is Erica Finn." The Bennett family knew Erica, but they didn't see her in person.

Erica was the daughter of Clara's assistant, who had been with Clara for many years. Clara liked Erica very much because she didn't have her own child.

Erica was not supposed to be so close to Clara but when she was 12 years old, her mother, Clara's assistant died of liver cancer, and Erica became a child without a mother.

Erica's biological father divorced from her mother for many years and her stepmother was not willing to accept Erica. She suddenly lost her mother and her biological father was so cold that Clara decided to adopt her.

Clara didn't force Erica to call her mother. She just wanted to give her a place to live. Erica was very filial to Clara and was kind to her. Slowly, Clara treated Erica as her daughter.

When Clara was abroad alone, everyone in the Bennett family was worried about her, and they were a little relieved when they knew she was accompanied by Erica.

Mrs. Bennett lovingly grabbed Erica's hand and praised her repeatedly. "She is so good-looking."

Sally sat next to Mrs. Bennett, hugged her arm, and said, "Mom. Don't forget me! I am your daughter!"

"You little girl," Mrs. Bennett turned around and nodded the tip of Sally's nose.

Because Clara returned, the maids started to get busy, some preparing lunch while some cleaning up the room. Mrs. Bennett was happy and asked Clara, "What do you want to eat?"

Clara said with excitement, "I am not hungry right now. Where is Lauren? I really miss her!" Clara suppressed the tears in her eyes. Hearing this, Erica, who was sitting beside Clara, lowered her head in sadness.

Erica had been concerned about this since she was abroad, not because she was curious about

Lauren and cared about her, but because she was always reminded of Lauren by someone around her.

Erica was adopted by Clara, but she still had no right to inherit Clara's property.

Clara had no children and she would definitely give Erica a large inheritance in the future. But now the situation was different. Lauren, who Clara cared about most, was back now!

Chapter 68

Chapter 68

Mr. Bennett senior called Lauren and it was still Kelly who answered the phone, saying that Lauren was conducting a very important experiment and that it would take a long time before she finished.

After Mrs. Bennett heard this, she frowned and said with displeasure. "How could Lauren still be doing her stupid experiment? Is that experiment more important than her family? You go straight into the lab and ask her to come back home right now."

Kelly hesitated.

Mr. Bennett, different from Tiffany, knew how important the experiment was to Lauren. The research that Lauren was doing was of great value. So he asked Kelly, "So Lauren can't come back home right now?"

Kelly didn't know much about Lauren's experiment but she asked Lauren's classmates and they said the experiment was very important.

Hearing this, Mr. Bennett hurriedly said. "Then don't disturb her. Please tell her to come back home and tell her Aunt Clara is back."

"Yes," Kelly responded, "As soon as Lauren comes out of the lab, I will tell her immediately."

Hanging up the phone, Mr. Bennett senior looked at Clara. Clara smiled brightly and there was no displeasure on her face. She said proudly, "Lauren is so great!"

For so many years, Clara had thought about many possibilities for Lauren's life. She even thought Lauren was sold by the human trader into a poor country. But fortunately, Lauren was better than she thought.

For so many years, Clara had been praying for the safety of Lauren and she did a lot of good deeds, including donating a lot of money to the impoverished area. She believed Lauren could be helped if she spread kindness. Since Lauren was back. Clara could wait for her.

"I am okay with that. I am going upstairs to sleep for a while. Don't urge Lauren to come back since the experiment is very important to her. Safety comes first. I could wait for her to come back.

Mr. Bennett senior nodded.

The maid quickly led Clara and Erica upstairs. And then Mr. Bennett senior turned to Tiffany. Now that Erica had gone upstairs he reprimanded Tiffany, "What were you talking about? Even if you don't know how important the experiment is, don't act like a fool."

This was the first time that Mr. Bennett, who was most of the time a peacemaker in the family, criticized looked at him in shock.

Tiffany so Tiffany

Mr. Bennett couldn't understand why Tiffany, Lauren's mother, didn't care about Lauren.

"Don't talk nonsense in the future. Remember that Lauren is your daughter," Mr. Bennett said.

Hearing this, Tiffany's face turned red because of embarrassment.

Chapter 70

When Lauren came out of the laboratory, it was already past 2 o’clock in the afternoon and she was very hungry. Kelly was an excellent assistant, and she immediately brought food.

Lauren sat in the rest room and Kelly poured a cup of water for her and then sat next to her. Kelly whispered, “Lauren, your grandpa just called, saying that your Aunt Clara is back and she wants to see you as soon as possible.”

Lauren paused for a while. Jeffery once mentioned Clara to her and said she loved her very much. But Clara was abroad and could not be contacted. So Lauren decided to come back home to see her aunt.

After finishing lunch, Lauren changed her clothes and then returned to the Bennett family with Kelly

The Bennett’s house was near the foot of the mountain, surrounded by a tourist area, but only part of it was open, and the rest was used by the Bennett family

The Bennett family even built large tourist areas, which include hospitals, resort hotels, and “office areas. Hospitals and hotels were open to the public but the ‘office area’ was where the Bennett family lived.

Kelly drove the car and was stopped at the gate. It was Lauren who rolled down the window and then the guard let them go. The leading guard stepped forward and asked, “Will you often drive this car back? If you will, we will register this car and you can pass directly.”

Lauren thought for a while, and said, “Yes, recently I will.”

“Got it.” The guard nodded.

Kelly entered the scenic area and then drove to a place close to the house. Lauren got out of the car and slowly walked towards the house. All the way was electronic equipment.

The Bennett’s house was surrounded by many precious trees. Lauren, who was wearing a pair of light shoes, stepped on the grass and walked slowly, but suddenly a familiar voice came into her ears. She stopped.

“Why are you so unhappy?” The man’s voice was a little languid.

“No, I am not,” it was Sally’s voice.

“Come on,” the man laughed, “We grew up together and I know you so well.”

The man leaned on the tree. And after a while, he asked, “Is it because of Lauren?”

“No,” Sally stopped the man.

The man sighed. He knew what was going on. When he arrived at the Bennett family just now, Clara kept repeating that she liked him very much and also mentioned the marriage between him and

Lauren.

“Are you afraid that I might love her?” the man suddenly approached.

Sally lowered her head and said, “She gets back the love from Grandpa, Jeffery, and Mom and Dad. I know that all this was supposed to belong to her. But I don’t want to lose you!”

“Don’t worry,” the man comforted Sally, “I won’t leave you.” His tone suddenly became harsh, “What belongs to you is yours and she can’t take anything away from you!”

Sally knew Sandy well and after hearing what he said, she immediately asked, “What are you going to do?”

Sandy laughed lowly, “Help you take revenge.”

“Don’t go too far,” Sally said.
