

HIS SECRET MILLIONAIRESS WIFE (LAUREN)

Chapter 73

Chapter 73

Lauren ignored Sally and continued, "A bastard."

She wanted to say that Sally's mother was just a mistress, but she felt this might hurt Sally so she stopped. But she continued, "Do you think the Effie family would accept you when they know you are the illegitimate child of the Bennett family."

Sandy looked at Sally, not knowing how to react.

Sally clenched her fingers, stared at Lauren, and said word by word, "How do you know?" "It is impossible! She couldn't know that!" Sally thought.

Sally couldn't figure it out why Lauren would know this secret. In fact, she looked like Mona and had the slightest resemblance to Mr. Bennett. No one would thought she might be his illegitimate daughter at all.

"Is it hard to guess?" Lauren calmly asked, "In the whole Bennett family, only my parents and Darren are biased to you. Darren grew up with you and you once accompanied my mom for that hard period so I could understand their bias to you."

There was surprise and fear in her eyes when Sally looked at Lauren. Sally couldn't believe that Lauren could be so careful. "What do you want?" Sally gave up pretending to be a soft and gentle woman, and asked, "You want to tell this to the members of the Bennett family?"

Sally sneered, "Your mother almost went insane after you were lost. If you tell this to her right now, aren't you afraid to make her crazy again? How could she accept this?"

Lauren lowered her head and seemed to considerate.

Seeing this, Sally continued, "Grandpa knows this and he acquiesces to my existence. Do you still want to tell this to them? If you tell this to Mom, it must be bad to her health and the Bennett family would not like you as a result. Even Grandpa and Jeffery would blame you!"

"You're right," Lauren said to Sally.

Sally thought she finally managed to persuade Lauren into not telling this to the Bennett family.

However, she saw Lauren suddenly turning to Sandy.

"Now you know this," Lauren's tone was still calm, "I think now you don't want to marry such a scheming woman."

Sally was shocked. She focused on preventing Lauren from telling the truth to the Bennett family, but she forgot that Sandy was also here.

In Sandy's mind, Sally had always been kind and knowledgeable. If he knew that she was hiding her identity in order to stay in the Bennett family, he would definitely dislike her. Thinking of this, Lauren was extremely nervous, and subconsciously looked at Sandy pleadingly, but he didn't look at her.

Sandy just left, leaving Sally and Lauren alone.

“Sandy!” Sally was desperate. “It’s over! They are done because of Lauren!” Sally stared at Lauren in anger.

Lauren lowered her head and fiddled her fingers, saying, “I told you to piss off!”

Sally immediately said, “This is your real purpose! You want to separate Sandy and me!”

“From beginning to end, her purpose was to make it impossible for her to marry Sandy.” Sandy thought.

Lauren ignored her and directly walked towards the door, saying when she passed Sally, “Don’t make any trouble for me.” Lauren didn’t like playing tricks unless someone kept irritating her.

She doesn’t like the twists and turns of the intrigue, and rarely shoots, but when she shoots, she will hit the snake seven inches!
