

His Secret Millionaire's Wife (Lauren)

Chapter 77

What a sentimental girl. Lauren glanced at Kelly and was amused by her. Kelly stood up. Her slender body was powerful and straight but she was also humble and soft.

Kelly was attracted by Lauren's face, and was stunned for a while until Lauren's cold voice came, "I don't care about this at all! No matter what they do, they could not change me a little bit." "Will you go to the banquet after 7 days?" Kelly asked.

"On that day, there was something more important," Lauren answered.

Before Kelly could remember what important thing was, she flew abroad with Lauren. Lauren gave speeches at various famous colleges. Seeing Lauren's devotion to her research and career, Kelly felt it was a right decision for Lauren to ignore the troubles caused by the Bennett family.

Lauren had a big world and she had many great things to do. At this moment, Kelly finally understood Lauren. Money couldn't buy anything but the scientific contributions were of great value for the whole world.

Seven days later, at the banquet:

This dinner party was even grander and bigger than the previous one held for Lauren, including all big names in the business world, politics, and entertainment circles.

Erica stood beside Clara. Clara even announced in public that after she died, she would leave all her property to Erica. As soon as she finished, her words immediately caused an uproar in the crowd.

It was a big fortune for Erica. Even Lauren just got a little shares in the company. Erica was so lucky. She could get so many properties even if she was not related to Clara.

Everyone present had different thoughts but they didn't speak them out.

Someone even mentioned Lauren and said, "On such an important day, why didn't Lauren come?"

Hearing Lauren's name, Erica's face turned pale and if it weren't for Clara's support, Erica couldn't stand steadily. Although Clara missed Lauren so much, who had been lost for many years, she cared more about Erica, who had been by her side for more than ten years. Before Erica's suicide, she didn't find out.

Now Clara realized how important Erica was to her. They had already established their relationship as mother and daughter for so many years of accompany.

Seeing Erica's pale face, Clara quickly spoke, "Lauren has something else to do today."

"Important than Erica?" that man kept asking.

Clara's expression changed, and she was about to rebuke the person. At that moment, someone in the crowd suddenly exclaimed, "Lauren won the Lasker Award!" Everyone was shocked because it was a big award for such a young woman.