The Wedding

Another bonus chapter!!! Hope you guys like!

"Rose! We need to go shopping, like stat." Julie exclaims running into the room.

I jump from the bed at the words shopping. It may make my feet hurt but it's worth it.

I get some clothes on and race down the stairs with Julie following. When we get at the bottom she has an amused look on her face.

"Do you even know what we are shopping for?" She asks me.

I shake my head and smile a little. I know that my wedding was coming up soon, and I literally couldn't wait.

"We are shopping for your wedding dress, silly. And Lizzy is going to join us so we can pick out bridesmaids dresses." She says right as Lizzy walks down the stairs.

Lizzy and I have became closer ever since Violet had turned on our pack, well more like using it to her advantage, Lizzy has been there for me the whole way. I couldn't thank her enough, that's why she is my Maid of Honor.

I run into her arms and we hug tightly. Hello, my maid of honor. You ready to go shopping? ask her still tight in our embrace.

You bet ya. I can't wait to be standing up there with you. We are finally going to become sisters the says excitedly.

I smile wide and we all walk out to the car. We drive to a wedding dress shop and enter.

"Hello, ladies. And who is looking for their wedding dress today?" A man in his early 40's asks.

"This one right here." Julie replies pointing to me.

I let out a smile and he starts walking to the back a er inspecting my figure.

"These should be your size. What were you looking for, poofy, bedazzled, skin tight?" He asks me.

I don't want skin-tight, but I don't want it to poof out. And could lace be a possible choice? ask Julie.

She tells him what I said in her mind and he leads us to the lace section. He pulls out three dresses that he think would be perfect for me then he leads us to the changing rooms.

The first dress had a lace corset then a plain white skirt. It went to the floor and had no straps. It was a really pretty it just didn't suit me as much as I would like it to.

I walked out of the dressing room the show Lizzy and Julie the dress. They all shook their heads and I agreed with them. I didn't want to wear this dress for my wedding and they agreed.

The second dress was a lace pattern going down the whole thing. It had straps that lead to making a pentagon shape on my back. I liked it but it showed to much back.

When I walked out and did a spin for the girls, they immediately started shaking their head. I agreed with them in my mind.

The third dress was di erent then he others. It was lace going all the way down and the back draping behind like it's going to follow me. The back was all lace and the front had a sweetheart neckline with lace and was short sleeve. The rest of the dress was a flowery, swirl lace. At the waist, there was a white ribbon tying in the back with a bow. The dress was beautiful itself.

I walked out slowly then spun around slowly. When I looked at the girl's faces they were priceless. A look of shock mixed with amazement.

It looks beautiful, RoseLizzy says.

I nod at her compliment and realize that this is the one. The dress that I wanted to walk down the Isle with. Gray, my wolf, was purring and the others were admiring it.

"Is that the dress you want?" The man asks.

I nod my head and smile brightly.

"Yes. We would like this dress." Julie answers for me.

"Have her put her clothes back on then you guys can come to the front to pay for it." The salesman exclaims then walks o to the desk.

I walk back to the dressing room and put my regular clothes back on. I bring the dress out and give it to Julie while she pays.

We walk out of the store and go to the one right next to it. The bridesmaid store.

We look around for dresses of any color. I didn't exactly know what I wanted but we called my other bridesmaids over to help out.

Soon, Sasha, Jessica, Lizzy, Mariah, Lauren, and my flower girl Lilly, are all walking around looking at dresses. I stay with Lilly as we look for little flower girl dresses.

"Rose, I found the perfect dress for Lilly!" Sasha exclaims while squealing.

I go over to her with Lilly, and she was right, the dress was perfect for Lilly. It was a pink lace with the straps connecting at the top of the back.

ď

a

"Here, go try it on Lilly!" Sasha says and Lilly goes and tries it on.

A few minutes she comes out looking beautiful. The dress fitted her and brought out her dark hair and medium skin tone. Lilly does suit pink.

"I love it!" Lilly exclaims. We all agree and she goes back to change.

Soon enough, Lauren finds a few dresses for all five of them to try on. The first one was a short dress that was light green. It didn't match Lilly's so we didn't do it.

The second one they tried on was perfect. It was the same shade of pink as Lilly's and had a drape in the back. It fit all the girls perfectly. It was bedazzled from the waist up, and was strapless.

We walked out of that store with six, perfect, pink dresses. Now we just need shoes.

We ended up getting Lilly some silver flats, the girls some cream colored heels with a bow on it, and me some white heels with silver sparkles going down the heels. Everything matched our dresses and we went home feeling satisfied.

Two weeks later

"Rose, get up! We have to get you ready for your wedding tonight." Julie says coming into my room.

I slowly wake up and frown at Jake's absence.

"Sorry, sweetie. He went to go do one last Alpha duty before he started getting ready for the wedding." Julie explains.

I nod my head then get up throwing on some sweats.

"Kay, everyone is getting their hair done first today. Do you have any ideas of what you want for everyone?" She asks.

Well, I would just like my hair to be in curls. Then I saw this cool braid online, it's called the waterfall braid. Could all the bridesmaids and Lilly have that for their hair?ask her.

"Sure. Let's get going so we can fit everything in today." She explains and we head o .

All the girls meet at the hair salon and the people get right to work. When they are all done it looks so beautiful. We all go to the other salon next door to get our nails done.

I get all white nails with light pink roses and the girls get the opposite with light pink nail polish that has white roses on it.

A er all of those things are done we head home and Lizzy starts on my makeup. In the end I have light pink lip gloss on, my eyeshadow is white with some pink accents, and none of my freckles show.

The bridesmaids makeup was a light pink shadow with some pink lip gloss.

I put my dress on along with the others and we all look beautiful. I am so nervous. I finally get to marry Jake!

"You nervous?" Mariah asks.

I nod my head. "We are here for you girl!" Jessica exclaims.

I let out a laugh and we all do a group hug.

"Girls the ceremony is starting, let's all go downstairs now." Julie says.

We all cascade down the stairs and the bridesmaid go out first. Jake's father shows up.

"Hey. I'm going to be walking you down the isle, okay?" He asks.

I nod my head as a rush of sadness washes over me. My parents won't be able to see me get married. They won't get to see if I have children, they won't get to become grandparents.

I put my hand on his arm as we walk to the place where the wedding takes place. In my other hand, I have a bouquet of white and pink roses. My step follows the beat of the so music playing as I let out a small grin.

When Jake comes into view, my breath is knocked out of me. He looks so handsome. He is in an all black tuxedo with a pink rose in the pocket. His hair is swept back and he is standing there nervously. When he sees me, a huge smile breaks into his face and it causes me to smile also.

As I approach him, Chandler hands me over to Jake and we stand under the flower decorated arch.

"You look beautiful." Jake whispers in my ear.

"You look ravishing." I say and let out a small giggle.

The pasture says his things and I say "I do." without hesitation when I have to.

ď

Jake says his "I do." and it is his time to read vows.

"Rose, when I first entered the Silver Moon's pack house, I immediately smelt a perfect scent of vanilla and rose. I just couldn't wait to find you. There was those girls that tried to get to me, but I had my mind on you and you only. When I saw you, it was the most beautiful thing I have ever seen. You standing there, looking all shy and innocent. You looked perfect. When I saw all those things that they did to you livet couldn't help get mad you were my love at first sight. We have had our ups and downs, and I am happy to be able to say that I am married to you, my little mate." Jake states out.	a

I stand there in awe. I am so tempted to kiss him.
"Jake, ever since you walked into my pack house, I couldn't even think to believe that I would get you as a mate. As soon as you whisked me away from that horrible place, I couldn't help but try and get to know you. Everyday, you looked so handsome and you were so nice to me, I couldn't help but fall in love with you. You will always be) my one and only, I love you, Jake." I say completely clearly.	ď
Jake nods his head to the pasture. He has a huge smile on his face and he doesn't stop giving me little goofy grins.
"You may now kiss the bride." The pasture says.	a
I don't even know how fast it happened but next thing I know, I'm in Jake's arms and we are kissing. His arms are wound tightly around my waist and my arms tangled in his hair.

Everyone cheers breaking Jake and I apart. I smile at him and we walk down and give everyone hugs.

The little party went well and we all just hung out and drank a little. I had dances with a few people, including Jake. In the end everyone ended up dancing and I walked back outside to where Jake and I got married.

I finally took in the scenery. The chairs were white and set up in rows with flowers lining them. There was lanterns on the end of each row. Where I was standing earlier, there were two white drapes with a white rose arch behind it. There was white, rose flowers making a path up on the grass. It was perfect. I played the moment back in my head until someone's arms wrapped around my waist. The immediate warmth told me it was Jake.

"Hey. You looked truly beautiful tonight. I meant every word I said to you." He says to me.

"I meant every word I said too." I reply to him.

We smile and dance to know music, just swaying to the wind.

"You ready to go on our honeymoon?" He asks. I nod my head. "Let's get back inside and say 'bye' to everyone. Then we can go for our moon." He explains and we make our why back inside.

"Hey, everyone. Just wanted to say, thank you for coming tonight. It meant a lot to your Luna and I, and we wanted to thank you. If you guys would like to keep dancing and partying, do as you wish. Luna Rose and I are going to hit the hay and go for our honeymoon. See you guys next week, and again thanks." Jake says into the microphone.

Before I step o stage I go up to the mic. "Hey, everyone. Thank you for coming. I love you Blood Moon Pack. Goodnight!" I say and hear cheers as Jake and I leave.

ď

a

We get into the woods and strip from our wedding clothes then change into our wolves. We both take o , and I follow him as he leads me to where our honeymoon will be placed.

Continue reading next part 🗆