Chapter 121 The Situation Worsens

person

Rose and Miles turned back at the same time. Upon seeing the behind them, their expressions changed. The person who came was Anastasia.

Miles frowned deeply as if he didn't want to be disturbed by her at this time. Meanwhile, it was rare for Anastasia to see Miles with any woman, and this woman... Her eyes wandered on Rose's face.

When Rose saw her, her whole body froze. Even though she was wearing sunglasses, she could recognize her at a glance—she was her star escort husband's new investor.

She didn't expect to see her at this place. Where was her star escort husband? Did he come. as well?

Almost subconsciously, she glanced around and breathed a sigh of relief when she didn't see her star escort husband's figure.

The next moment, she realized that she was a little afraid of facing the two of them standing together again. Especially after last night, she felt a little stuffy.

Miles noticed that her face was a little pale. He asked with concern, "Rose, are you okay?"

According to the information he had, Anastasia did not find out that the person Jonathan. was interested in was Rose. However, Rose's reaction seemed like she had met Anastasia before.

Rose raised her lips in a comforting manner as she replied, "Miles, I'm fine. This lady..."

She immediately regretted it after asking. Why was she going to find out about her star escort husband's new investor? Anastasia also saw her unusual expression.

She didn't know that Rose had seen her and Jonathan together. She just felt that her eyes were very similar to hers.

She smiled deeply at Miles and asked, "Miles, don't you introduce me?"

Ever since someone disappeared, Miles wouldn't even look at a woman in the entire Regalia. It's the same when that person was around. His eyes would only follow her.

Rose was a replacement. She took another glance at Rose and came to a conclusion—she was much prettier than someone else.

Miles's face darkened slightly. He didn't like the way Anastasia looked at Rose. Rose looked at Miles with some confusion. Was she his sister?

It was clear that before going to the amusement park just now, his eyes were gentle and sad when he mentioned his sister. However, why was he looking at Anastasia with disgust right now?

She seemed to have heard Anastasia's name somewhere.

Before she could think much, Miles grabbed her wrist and said, "She likes to make a fuss. Just ignore her, let's continue watching the exhibition."

That protective gesture shocked Anastasia's jaw. It was only in the past when that person was still alive that he had such an attitude toward someone.

Anastasia looked at the people's backs and thought of Miles's attitude toward her that day at Aquastead Hotel. She raised her eyebrows and followed them leisurely.

Not far away, Jonathan was hiding with a gloomy face. Fortunately, he hid quickly. Otherwise, Rose would have seen him.

He stuck his head out and glanced at the three people not far away. Rose and Miles walked in front, and Anastasia was not too close but not too far away. The situation seemed to be worse.

"Damn it!"

He gritted his teeth and cursed. Finley understood what he was thinking.

He carefully confronted him, "Mr. Finch, from another perspective, if Ms. Young is following, it'll be even harder for Mr. Young to do anything to Mrs. Finch..."

However, these words seemed to ignite Jonathan instantly.

He stared at Finley fiercely and roared in a low voice, "What can he do?!"

His fists became hard. Finley felt sad in his heart, but he dared not say it. Since Miles couldn't do anything or dared not do anything, there was no point for Jonathan to be so anxious.

He looked around and felt that he was probably the most aggrieved person in the entire museum exhibition area. Besides him, there was another person who felt aggrieved.

Ezra had come in a long time ago. At this time, he was in the washroom of the exhibition hall with a displeased face.

He used the endorsement in exchange for a ticket, wanting to get to know Rose through Miles. However, he didn't expect to see Jonathan.

Jonathan followed step by step as if monitoring his daughter's date with her boyfriend. He couldn't do anything about Miles, but he had a way about himself.

In order not to be taken back to Regalia again, he decided to endure it for the time being.

After preparing himself mentally, he put on the mask and the cap. After leaving the washroom, he carefully blended into the crowd in the exhibition area and followed somewhere with his eyes.

Throughout the exhibition area, everyone admired the antique collections on display, as if there was nothing unusual about them.

Finally, Rose and Miles finished looking at all the collections. She intended to go to the washroom. There was a distance between the men's and women's washrooms, making it difficult for Miles to follow.

He could only watch her go to the women's washroom.

"Miles, I'm going to the washroom too."

Miles realized her intention and immediately warned, "You..."

Before he could finish speaking, Anastasia turned back and smiled triumphantly at him.

"Miles, why are you so worried? I wish you could find a sister-in-law. Don't worry, I'll put in a good word for you."

Honey You're a Billionaire Chapter 122

Chapter 122 You Think She Will Like You

Miles's face could not be darker. Jonathan, who was not far away, also heard this.

He strode up to Miles and said, "It's impossible for Rose to like you."

Miles cast a glance at him. A moment ago, he was worried that Anastasia would say something she shouldn't say in front of Rose and cause a misunderstanding.

However, at this moment, he hoped that she would expose his good impression of Rose.

“Do you think she will like you?”

He smiled nonchalantly.

“Of course. She and I...”

Jonathan almost revealed the fact that he and Rose were married, but he soon stopped. The divorce agreement was still in his hands, and Rose had a very bad impression of “Mr. Finch”.

He couldn't let Miles know that Rose didn't know his identity. Otherwise, he would choose to expose it. He suddenly felt a headache.

Meanwhile, in the washroom, Anastasia looked at Rose in a trance through the huge mirror in front of her. Rose raised her eyes and met her gaze in the mirror.

At that moment, both of them were stunned. Anastasia first stretched out her hand to Rose.

“Hello, I'm Anastasia. My brother rarely dates women. If I hadn't seen the way he looked at you just now, I would have thought that he likes men.”

Realizing that what she said seemed to be a misunderstanding, Rose immediately explained, “Ms. Young, you misunderstood. Miles and I are just friends, so...”

“I understand.”

However, it was

Anastasia was full of interest. It's not difficult to go from friends to lovers obvious that Rose had no other intentions toward Miles. She was a little disappointed.

It seemed that Rose looked a little unnatural when facing her, but she didn't think much about it. For a moment, the two looked at each other in silence.

Rose smiled awkwardly. She was about to go out when three acquaintances suddenly came in and blocked her way.

The visitors were none other than Maya and Mandy, as well as Kelly, who looked like an innocent person standing behind them. Jamie had gotten two tickets for today's antique exhibition.

He intended to let Kelly bring Nixon with her, but after she got the tickets, she did not invite him. Although Nixon was lifted by Hayden in the past two days, his bank card had been frozen.

He called Kelly several times to urge her to get married as soon as possible, but now Kelly's thoughts were on Jonathan. She was unwilling to marry Nixon like this.

Just now, they saw Rose and Miles watching the exhibition together from a distance. Kelly felt jealous. Especially when she thought about last night, Rose took advantage of her plan.

It made her angry just thinking about it. Hence, she provoked Maya and Mandy to come over and prepare to teach Rose some lessons.

Rose saw that these people came with bad intentions. She didn't want to get involved with them.

However, several times when she wanted to go out of the washroom, Maya and Mandy deliberately blocked her.

She became a little angry and said, "Get out of the way!"

Maya smiled disdainfully as she said, "What if we don't want to? Rose, you are really capable. How did you seduce Mr. Young?"

Rose frowned. She and Miles were completely innocent.

"If you can't speak, I can teach you."

There was a hint of warning in her tone. Maya seemed to have been stepped on. She suddenly rushed forward to hit Rose. Just as she was about to get closer to her, Rose grabbed her hair.

"Ah..." she grimaced in pain.

The strength in Rose's hand didn't weaken at all.

"Maya, you seem to be very forgetful of beatings. Did you forget about the last time we were in the Nightfall Bar?"

Maya got angry when she mentioned Nightfall Bar. Suddenly, she seemed to be going crazy, waving her hands widely, calling Mandy and Kelly behind her to help.

“Mandy, Kelly, come and help me. I don’t believe that the three of us can’t cure her.”

Mandy, who was on the side, failed to set Rose up at the celebration banquet last time. When she left, she found that Evan had already left without even calling her.

After that, Evan left Aquastead temporarily because of work. He became even more indifferent to her than before. Mandy blamed all this on Rose.

At this moment, as Maya called, she stepped forward to help without hesitation. However, even the two of them were no match for Rose. Soon, she grabbed their hair with both hands.

Outside the washroom, Kelly saw the situation in front of her. She knew Rose had learned Taekwondo, and the next few people might not be her opponents.

Nevertheless, she suddenly thought of something. Her eyes lit up. She touched her belly subconsciously, feeling that she could make good use of the chaos in front of her.

Ever since she saw a little hope from Jonathan, she no longer wanted to marry Nixon. Hence, there’s no need to keep the child in her stomach.

She could use Rose’s hand and have a miscarriage. When the time came, the Lane family would make trouble for Rose.

With this in mind, she stepped forward without hesitation and joined the battle.

Honey You’re a Billionaire Chapter 123

Chapter 123 Bleeding

The three people pulled Rose together at the same time. Rose felt that Maya and Kelly were indeed pestering. At the antique exhibition, she didn’t want to get into a fight and affect the atmosphere.

As she was about to push the three of them away and ask the museum security guards to subdue them, Maya suddenly stumbled on her foot.

“Ah...” she cried out in pain and failed to stabilize her body.

As she fell, she tried to make a final struggle to stabilize her body. Hence, she let go of her hand on Rose’s clothes, but it was obvious that she became even more unstable as she lost her fulcrum.

She could only grab the hair of someone next to her.

“Ah... Kelly’s hair was grabbed, and her scalp hurt.

She also couldn’t bear the weight of one person. The moment Maya fell to the ground, Kelly also landed heavily.

“Ah... It hurts...”

She held her lower abdomen with her hand. Soon, a pool of blood flowed out from under her body, staining her white skirt red.

For a moment, Maya also panicked. She was the one who grabbed Kelly and made her fall.

She knew that she was pregnant. If anything happened to her and the child in her belly, not to mention that Kelly and Jamie would not let her go, the Lane family would probably pursue the case.

“Kelly, I...”

She looked panicked as she wanted to say that she didn’t mean it.

However, Kelly suddenly looked at Rose and accused sternly, “Rose, why did you push me?!” Not only Rose, but Maya, Mandy, and Anastasia who were watching all this not far away were surprised by her accusation. Rose frowned. It was Maya who was holding Kelly and causing her to fall.

Was she going to blame her? A sneer appeared at the corner of her mouth.

After taking a look at the blood flowing out from Kelly’s body, the most important thing to do in this situation was to call an ambulance. She took out the phone without saying anything.

Sensing her intention, Kelly crawled toward her and grabbed her feet. Under that touch, Rose’s body trembled. Her phone suddenly fell to the ground.

Kelly’s face was full of tears as she continued, Rose, why did you push me? I’m your sister after all. I know you hate me for marrying Nixon. You can take revenge on me any way you want, but you hurt my child. Rose, how can you be so cruel...”

She simply accused Rose. Even though she was good–tempered, Rose was angry at this time.

“I don’t care at all whether you have a baby in your belly. I didn’t push you just now.”

Kelly sneered as if she was determined to blame Rose.

“Whether you push or not, they are all watching. Maya, Mandy...”

She called the two of them. Suddenly, she saw Anastasia standing by the sink.

She was slightly startled, but ignored her and continued, “You all saw it; did Rose push me?”

Maya was stunned and didn’t react for a long time. Meanwhile, Mandy instantly understood Kelly’s intention.

“Yes, I saw it. It was Rose who pushed Kelly.”

Kelly’s eyes flashed triumphant.

She glanced sideways at Maya and asked, “Maya, what about you?”

Maya was startled. “Yes, it’s Rose...”

She soon calmed down a lot. As if she had figured it out, she blamed Rose.

“Rose, you pushed Kelly. You did push her!”

Rose smiled bitterly looking at them targeting her. What could she do? Could she attack back? She was reluctant to do that. However, Kelly came here for her.

She glanced around. There was no surveillance in the washroom, so the scene just now couldn’t be retrieved. She turned around and saw Anastasia behind her.

Their eyes met, and Anastasia smiled slightly at her. Knowing Rose’s situation at this time, she didn’t say anything. Rose was not sure whether she would help her.

The commotion here attracted people from the other side of the exhibition area.

Noticing the crowd approaching, Kelly immediately screamed and cried, “My baby. I’m sorry for you. Rose, why did you push me ...”

She seemed incoherent at the situation before her. Every word conveyed the message she wanted to convey.

Suddenly, someone in the crowd shouted, “Call an ambulance... With a situation like this, why don’t you call the ambulance?”

However, Maya and Mandy didn’t call an ambulance. Maya stepped forward and pushed Rose hard.

“Rose, you hurt her like this and you’re not calling an ambulance. You are killing someone!”

Rose was pushed by her and staggered. Just when she was about to hit the wall behind her, two figures suddenly rushed up and blocked her behind.

Honey You’re a Billionaire Chapter 124

Chapter 124 The Child Was Not Saved

As the two people broke in, everyone was stunned for a long time. Especially when Kelly saw Jonathan, a flash of panic flashed in her eyes. She wondered why he was there.

Didn’t Rose come with Miles? At this time, she couldn’t care much anymore. She tried her best to keep her head down so that Jonathan wouldn’t see her.

When Rose saw her star escort husband, a flash of surprise flashed in her eyes. She thought he should have come with Anastasia,

His investor was behind him, and Rose suddenly felt that the atmosphere was extremely strange. However, she didn’t have the chance to think too much about the situation in front of her.

Kelly gritted her teeth and told Maya, “Call the police, and call Mr. Lane...”

Maya was stunned for a moment before she nodded.

“Alright.”

She and Mandy made a phone call together. The ambulance and the police arrived at the same time. The ambulance took Kelly away. The police had no choice but to take Rose for investigation.

An hour later, the doctor announced that Kelly had miscarried. In the hospital, Kelly cried so hard that her heart broke out. When Nixon arrived, he felt extremely distressed when he saw her appearance.

“Maya said that Rose pushed you. What happened?”

He clenched his fists, looking as if he wanted to kill someone. Lying in his arms, Kelly cried as if she was going to faint.

“Nixon, I’m sorry, I couldn’t save the child... but don’t blame Rose. She didn’t push me on purpose. It was all me... Because of what happened between the two of us, she has never let go. Even if I got engaged that day and I apologized to her in private, she still wouldn’t forgive me. It’s my fault...”

Nixon gritted his teeth. As much as he felt sorry for Kelly, he hated Rose at that moment for killing his child. He would never let her have an easy time with this matter.

“Wait for me here. I’ll make Rose pay the price.”

He put Kelly on the bed and lay down. As he was about to leave, Kelly suddenly grabbed his hand.

“Nixon...”

She choked with sobs. She was a little worried that Jonathan was still with Rose. If Nixon had seen Jonathan, his identity might have been exposed.

She had calculated everything, but she never expected Jonathan was also present. However, she was unwilling to stop Nixon from causing trouble to Rose.

After hesitating for a moment, she released her hand and said, “Nixon, I saw Mr. Finch. He seemed to be protecting Rose. If he’s still there, you just don’t go and don’t conflict with him. I don’t want you to provoke him and affect the Lane family because of this matter

Nixon frowned, then nodded comfortingly to her before he turned and left. When he heard that Jonathan was also there, he was looking forward to it.

It would be best for Jonathan to see Rose's true colors clearly so that he would no longer be interested in her. He wanted to cut off any chance Rose had of hooking up with Jonathan.

As soon as he left, Kelly sent a message to Maya.

"Is Rose's husband still there?"

Maya and Mandy were also taken to the police station as witnesses who also accused Rose of wounding. Maya had just come out of the interrogation room after recording her statement.

After receiving the message from Kelly, she looked up and saw Rose's husband and Miles not far away. He was talking to a police officer.

"He's still here. What's wrong, Kelly? How is the situation over there?"

Kelly's face changed slightly when she received the news.

However, she had no way to get rid of Jonathan at this time. She could only pray secretly that when Nixon rushed over, Jonathan had left because of something.

Then, she told Maya, "Don't think that I don't know that you grabbed me and made me fall, Now my child has been lost. You either have to bite Rose to death, otherwise, I definitely won't let you go."

Maya's face turned pale as she looked at her phone. Kelly had been accusing Rose. In the interrogation room earlier, she and Mandy kept accusing Rose as well.

She even had the illusion that the person who truly caused Kelly to fall was Rose. Now that Kelly mentioned the truth, she was panicked.

She swallowed and edited the text before sending it out.

"Kelly, don't worry. I'll make sure Rose pays the price for pushing you today and causing you to miscarry."

After sending it, she deleted the conversation record. Taking a deep breath, she was thinking of how to accuse Rose until the end. Just then, she was startled to see a certain figure.

That was the woman in the washroom. At this time, she was outside the police station and looking inside, as if she was hesitating to come in. She must have seen what happened.

Did she come here to tell the truth and testify for Rose? This guess popped into Maya's mind. She suddenly lost her composure.

Not caring about anything else, she quietly walked out of the police station and walked quietly to Anastasia.

"Come with me, I have money for you," she said directly.

When she came here just now, she had already thought about it. It was just a matter of spending some money to shut her mouth.

There was no surveillance anyway. If she helped them speak, Rose would not be able to testify herself. Anastasia glanced at her in surprise.

Suddenly, she said with great interest, "Can you tell me what kind of money you can make?"

Maya hooked her fingers and motioned for her to follow. Anastasia followed her to a secluded place.

Maya then said, "Did you see what happened in the washroom just now? I'll give you a sum of money, so just pretend you didn't see it."

Honey You're a Billionaire Chapter 125

Chapter 125 How Do You Repay Me

Anastasia found it funny. She was the daughter of the Lane family in Regalia. Since that person disappeared, she was the only princess in the family.

This was the first time someone wanted to use money to buy her over.

"How much do you give?"

Maya looked her over. Although she wanted to bribe her with money, it hurt her heart to give too much.

"20 thousand. Just don't go in. If someone comes to ask you, just say that you also saw Kelly being pushed by that woman. It's just a matter of words, and you'll make 20 thousand."

Anastasia listened silently without saying anything. Seeing that she didn't refuse, Maya naturally understood that she agreed. After all, who would refuse 20 thousand given for free?

"This is for you. When you do what I just said, I'll naturally give you the money."

Maya wrote her a phone number. She was afraid that the other party would not do as agreed if she gave her money in advance. She then entered the police station.

There was a hint of disdain in the smile on Anastasia's face. 20 thousand... that's a lot! However, she was also considering whether to do what the woman just suggested.

After all, Rose seemed to not only know Miles deeply but also probably had a close relationship with Jonathan. She looked at Jonathan from a distance.

Even from a long distance, she could see the anxiety and worry on his face. Who was Rose?

Suddenly, she thought of the word "wife" that she saw on Jonathan's phone that day. Her face suddenly darkened and gradually turned pale. Was it her?

She unconsciously clenched the phone number in her hand. In the police station, Jonathan and Miles both had gloomy expressions.

Since there was no surveillance in the washroom, everyone present accused Rose of pushing Kelly. The current situation was unfavorable to Rose.

Ten minutes ago, the police received a call that Kelly had miscarried at the hospital. If pursued, Rose would at least face detention.

None of them believed that Rose pushed Kelly, but there was no evidence to prove her innocence. Suddenly, Miles thought of someone. "Anastasia!"

"She was in the toilet just now, maybe she saw it. He looked excited.

Jonathan frowned. When he rushed over just now, he only had eyes for Rose, so he didn't notice anyone else was there. If Anastasia was there, there would be witnesses. The two looked at each other.

As members of the Young family, the relationship between Miles and Anastasia was only superficially harmonious. In recent years, the two had been in a competitive relationship due to their family business.

However, Jonathan was different. Anastasia liked him, which was a secret known to the entire Regalia.

Even she made such a big fuss about getting divorced this time because she couldn't forget her old love for him. Miles looked deeply at Jonathan, his meaning was self-evident.

Jonathan gritted his teeth as he took out his phone to call Anastasia. When the call was connected, he only asked for her location.

The next moment, he hung up the phone and walked out of the police station. In the night, seeing Jonathan approaching, Anastasia felt an unprecedented sense of crisis in her heart..

Rose was indeed extraordinary to him. She knew the reason why he was looking for her.

Sure enough, he walked up to her and asked, "You saw it, right?"

"Yes, I saw it."

She didn't hide it.

"Rose didn't push her," Jonathan said firmly.

Indeed not, but....

She met his gaze.

"Are you looking for me because you want me to testify? Are you begging me?"

Jonathan frowned. If she needed him to beg her to testify for Rose, he could do so. Just as he was about to speak, a hint of guilt flashed in Anastasia's eyes.

Before he spoke, she suddenly smiled and said, "Don't worry, I'll help her testify, but you owe me a favor. How are you going to repay me?"

She looked at him playfully and expectantly. At this moment, in the police station, Nixon arrived just in time when Rose came out of the interrogation room.

He was filled with anger as he rushed toward Rose, raising his hand to hit her. Rose reacted and tilted her head slightly, but his fingertips still messed up her hair.

Just as he was about to raise his hand again, Miles stepped forward and grabbed his hand.

Nixon couldn't struggle, so he could only shout at Rose, "Rose, you bitch! You murderer! I'll tear you apart!"

Honey You're a Billionaire Chapter 126

Chapter 126 Three of Them Cannot Beat One

As Nixon finished roaring, Miles's fist hit him hard in the face. His mouth was bleeding and his eyes were burning red. However, he didn't dare to make a mistake with Miles.

“Mr. Young, don’t be deceived by her. She must have seduced you. As I told you, she and Mr. Finch ...

“Nixon ...”

Even though he was used to being refined, Miles was also angry. It was too much for him to humiliate Rose like this.

Just as he was about to tell him to shut up, Rose stepped forward and slapped Nixon on the face before he finished speaking. With a snap, everyone around was startled.

“Rose, you ...”

Nixon gritted his teeth and wanted to step forward, but Miles held him deeply, unable to move.

Rose met his fierce gaze and said, “Nixon, when you say I’m the murderer, you must have found the wrong person. Do you believe Kelly when she told you that I pushed her? Although hate her, I also disdain to do such a vicious thing.

“Rose, you’re just making excuses. You just hate Kelly for snatching me from you...”

Rose suddenly laughed.

“Where do you get your confidence? You don’t have a mirror and you don’t pee? Try to pee and look at yourself. I should have thanked her for taking a scumbag like you from me.”

“You...”

Nixon’s face turned pale. He felt a little guilty when she mentioned the past.

Suddenly, he saw Maya on the side and seemed to have caught something as he said, “Maya, you were there, right? You saw Rose push Kelly and told the police that she hurt her intentionally. I’ll have the best lawyer to send her into the prison.”

When he mentioned the word “prison“, Maya’s heart trembled. Then, she immediately nodded firmly.

“Yes, it was her. I saw it with my own eyes. She pushed Kelly. Mr. Lane, I’ve told the police. Don’t worry.

Mandy, who was watching the show, quickly agreed..

“Yes, I also witnessed it. I’ve also told the police what I saw.”

“Then, who can tell me what the crime of perjury is?”

A voice suddenly came from outside. As Rose looked over, her heart trembled when she saw her star escort husband.

However, her heart tightened even more when she saw Anastasia coming in behind him. When Nixon saw Jonathan, his eyes became even more eager.

Just as he was about to speak, Jonathan glanced at Rose with a guilty look in his eyes. He hurriedly interrupted his greeting.

“I also have someone here who saw what happened just now.”

He let Anastasia behind him to step forward. When Maya saw her, she couldn't help but sneer at the corner of her mouth.

She had bought her over with money. She knew that Rose's husband would do the same. As a . host in a bar, he would become an unemployed vagrant after following Rose.

Even if he paid, he couldn't pay more than her. She was full of confidence. Anastasia glanced at Maya, then looked at Rose,

Looking at Rose, there was a hint of gloominess in her eyes, which flashed away.

“Sir, I did see it. However, this young lady was the one who pushed the victim instead of Ms.

Shaffer.

“She pulled the victim, causing her to fall. Not only does this matter have nothing to do wit Ms. Shaffer, but she is also the one being bullied,”

She finished speaking slowly. The expressions of several people changed instantly. Maya couldn't help but step forward and grab her.

“What nonsense are you talking about? You just clearly...”

She glared at her fiercely, seeming to blame her for taking the money and not doing anything.

However, Anastasia met her gaze calmly and asked, “Did something happen just now?”

A purchase of 20 thousand—an unpaid credit. Maya understood Anastasia’s attitude. Rose’s husband must have paid a higher price.

At this time, she didn’t dare to talk about the bribery.

She threw away her hand in displeasure as she said, “You’re talking nonsense. We both saw Rose pushing Kelly. That’s the truth. Do you think the police believe the two of us or you alone?”

“The truth? Is it true that the three of you beat Ms. Shaffer together?*

Anastasia glanced at Rose. None of the three could defeat her, she was truly someone who couldn’t be underestimated.

“You’re talking nonsense!”

Maya’s face darkened. Suddenly, she felt a line of sight and looked over subconsciously, meeting the cold eyes of Rose’s husband. Her heart trembled as she felt a trace of fear.

At this time, Nixon also recovered from what he just heard. He glanced at Maya, still believing that it was Rose who pushed Kelly.

“Yes. You haven’t witnessed the scene, please don’t talk nonsense.

He felt Anastasia was not an ordinary person, so he didn’t dare to speak too offensively. Today, he wanted to send Rose to prison no matter what.

He didn’t believe that Rose could make Jonathan and Miles treat her differently if she had a criminal record. Just as he was about to speak, a museum staff member ran out from outside the police station.

He took a phone and handed it to Rose.

“Ms. Shaffer, a man asked me to give this to you, He said it was a small gift for you.”

Not only Rose but also Jonathan and Miles couldn’t help but take a second look at the phone, wondering what gift it was.

Honey You’re a Billionaire Chapter 127

Chapter 127 The Truth

As Rose turned on the phone, a video came into view. The video started when Maya stepped forward to block her. In addition to the picture, even the sound was recorded very clearly.

“Mandy, Kelly, come and help me. I don’t believe the three of us can’t cure her!”

As the voice came out, Maya’s expression changed even more. Rose realized that this video. recorded what happened just now.

After taking a look at Jonathan, he immediately understood her meaning. He called the two police to the side to watch the video together.

At the same time, Miles also grabbed Nixon and walked to Rose to let him see clearly what happened.

In the video, the three of them attacked Rose together, while she only defended. Suddenly, Maya sprained her foot. When she fell, she grabbed Kelly beside her, and they fell to the ground together.

The truth came to light. Nixon was stunned on the spot. Kelly had clearly said that Rose pushed her and caused her to miscarry.

However, in the video, it was obvious that Maya was the one who caused her to fall. He also noticed her guilty conscience and panic.

However, the look in Kelly’s eyes when she accused Rose was so determined. He suddenly felt angry. He was angry that he couldn’t blame Rose for death because of this incident and teach her a lesson.

Feeling uneasy, he stared fiercely at Maya. Not only he, but the two police also looked at her and walked toward her.

“Ms. Maya, you are suspected of hurting someone and committing perjury. You may not be able to leave for the time being.”

Maya was flustered as she tried to explain, “It’s not me; it’s Rose. I didn’t commit perjury.”

However, the video was clear. It was useless for her to quibble. The police directly detained Maya and Mandy.

Then, one of the police told Rose, “Ms. Shaffer, now that the matter is clear and has nothing to do with you, you can leave. You can pursue them for provoking trouble if you want.”

Rose had no intention of pursuing those people for provoking trouble. She knew that someone would pursue it. She looked at Nixon, who had an awful look on his face.

He came in such a hurry because Kelly must have said something to him. She just wanted to frame her and encourage him to teach her a lesson.

Thinking of Kelly, Rose frowned and told the police, "Thank you. I won't pursue charges for provoking trouble. However, if someone wrongly accuses me of killing someone and damaging my reputation, it should be reasonable and legal for me to demand an apology from the other party, right?"

"Of course, you can even ask the other party to compensate for the loss," the police said.

Rose raised an eyebrow and smiled at Nixon, whose face turned red with anger.

There was nowhere to vent the anger in his heart. He could only stare fiercely in the direction where Maya was taken away, clenching his fists. He left not long after.

As soon as he left the police station, he called Kelly. Kelly was lying on the hospital bed. Jamie temporarily left the ward, leaving Chelsea sitting in front of the hospital bed.

"You're doing fine, but why didn't you protect your belly? Why did you get involved when you knew you were pregnant? It's enough to teach Rose a lesson and let Maya take action!"

Chelsea looked distressed. However, Kelly didn't take it seriously. She was not sad at all about losing her child. Instead, she was extremely happy.

"If I don't get involved, how can I blame Rose?"

Chelsea paused while peeling the apple.

"You..."

Kelly looked at her and smiled strangely.

"Yes, it's what you think. I did it on purpose. I purposely didn't want this child and blamed Rose. I also purposely made Nixon go to Rose angrily to get clarification."

"But without the child, if the Lane family regrets the engagement..."

Kelly snorted disdainfully.

"It would be better for him to regret it. He is the eldest son of the Lane family, but he's just an idiot.

“In the past, I only knew that I would snatch Rose’s things, but I didn’t see if Nixon was really capable.

“I didn’t know there were problems with several of his projects before, let alone that Hayden was supporting an illegitimate child. Everyone regarded Nixon as Mr. Lane, but he may be kicked out any day. How can I marry such a man?”

She looked disgusted when she mentioned Nixon.

Chelsea was still frowning as she said, “The Lane family has some wealth after all Kelly wanted to say the Lane family wouldn’t have as much wealth as Jonathan. One day, she would be able to capture this richest and most powerful man and take the position of Mrs. Finch.

However, she didn’t say much. Just then, her phone rang. It was Nixon. She thought he must. have taught Rose a lesson, and now he came over to report to her and comfort her.

She couldn’t wait to answer the phone. As soon as she spoke, she changed her indifferent attitude. Every voice and every tone was full of weakness.

“Nixon...”

On the other end, Nixon was filled with anger and questions. He wanted to know why Kelly wrongly accused Rose of pushing her. However, when he heard her voice, his heart softened.

“Kelly, was it Rose who pushed you just now?” he still asked.

Kelly was stunned for a moment.

Then, she asked innocently, “Nixon, what do you mean?”

A bad premonition emerged in her heart.

Nixon hesitated for a moment and said what happened just now, “Someone sent a video. In the video, Maya pulled you, causing you to fall.”

The more Kelly listened, the paler her face turned. Nixon still had too many questions in his mind.

“Kelly, why did you try to pull Rose away? And you said she pushed you, but it’s obvious

Kelly was extremely upset. She interrupted him.

“Nixon...”

After the words came out of her mouth, she felt that her tone seemed cold. Although Nixon didn’t have much ability, she still needed someone like him to protect her.

Taking a deep breath, she pretended to be pitiful again.

“Nixon, as your

Rose has learned Taekwondo. Maya and her had a conflict. I was afraid that Maya would suffer, so I went up, but who knows...”

She sobbed and continued, “I didn’t know Maya caught me and caused me to fall. It was so chaotic at the time. My stomach hurt and I was bleeding again. In the panic, I thought it was Rose. I wronged her... what should I do?”

She was crying, as if she was filled with guilt because she had wronged Rose. She was furious. There was no surveillance in the washroom, so she dared to frame Rose.

She couldn’t figure out where the video came from. Now that she failed to blame Rose and her child was gone, she could only blame Maya to divert Nixon’s attention.

With that in mind, she cried even harder.

“Nixon, it’s my fault. Maya and Rose had a conflict. I should have persuaded them instead of helping Maya and hurting our child...”

Only Maya could bear this matter. Sure enough, Nixon’s anger was directed at Maya.

“Kelly, it’s not your fault. You’re the victim; you’re too kind and can’t bear to be bullied by Rose. However, our children cannot die without reason. Maya caused you to miscarry, she must pay the price.”

He spoke firmly. A sneer flashed in Kelly’s eyes as her plan succeeded. She thought that as long as his attention was diverted, he wouldn’t continue to ask questions.

However, he said worriedly, “Kelly, Rose... she said she was wrongly accused of killing and wounding others, and her reputation would be damaged. Considering her attitude, she seemed to want us to apologize.”

The smile that Kelly was about to raise suddenly froze.

“What?”

She seemed to think she heard wrongly.

Nixon thought she didn’t hear clearly and said again, “You said Rose pushed you, so I accused her of being the murderer as soon as I arrived at the police station. Now she wants us to apologize.”

Kelly’s originally pale face suddenly showed a twisted expression.

“Kelly...”

Nixon was about to say something else when Kelly hung up the phone.

Chelsea was frightened by the look on her face as she asked, “Kelly, what’s wrong?”

She knew that Nixon had called just now. However, Kelly looked pitiful and aggrieved just now, as if she was considering everything; why did she suddenly look like this?

Kelly seemed not to hear what she said. Nixon’s words kept echoing in her mind. She felt unwilling for not being able to blame Rose. However, Rose wanted her to apologize.

Her eyes flashed with madness. She couldn’t apologize.

As if to escape, she pulled the quilt and covered herself tightly. She wanted to have a good sleep and think about how to deal with Rose tomorrow morning.

The next day, when Kelly just woke up, there was a slight noise outside the ward.

“What are you doing? Rose, I was looking for you...”

Jamie had just answered a work call and was about to enter the ward when he saw several police officers walking toward Kelly’s ward with Rose.

They were followed by a man with an extraordinary temperament.

'Rose, you caused Kelly to miscarry, I just

Jamie stared at Rose. Last time, he suffered a big loss at the hands of Rose, which made him very angry. Even if Kelly didn't pursue the case this time, he would take action against Rose,

Before he finished speaking, Rose looked over with strange eyes. Immediately, a sneer appeared on her face.

"What must you do? Because of our relationship, I need to remind you that before doing anything, you must first take a look at the situation. Don't be too aggressive."

With that, she retracted her smile. The change in her expression showed full domineering power. Even Jamie was stunned by the momentum.

Just when he was stunned, Rose had already passed him and walked toward the ward, with the police following behind her.

In the ward, Kelly was lying on the bed. When she heard the noise outside, she panicked. At this moment, her glance met with Rose's. She clenched her fists tightly under the quilt.

Chelsea on the side saw her and said, "Rose, don't you feel embarrassed to come here? Are you here to apologize to Kelly? Let me tell you, you caused Kelly to have a miscarriage. This matter is not easy to resolve. Don't even think about just apologizing. She won't accept it."

Chapter 129 Exposing Her Trick

Rose just smiled faintly without saying anything. It seemed that they deliberately said harsh words to her. The harsher the words were spoken now, the more fun it would be to apologize later.

Chelsea looked at the smile on her face and suddenly felt a little numb. She knew that Jamie hated Rose as well. Hence, she let him in to join the battle.

"Jamie, you have to speak for Kelly..."

Jamie stepped forward aggressively. Before he could say anything, Miles, who was following, stood in front of him.

He was dressed in a casual outfit, looked like a refined nobleman, and had the natural attitude of a high-ranking person. Jamie felt a little guilty. Rose walked directly to the sofa in the ward and sat down.

This move stimulated Jamie and Chelsea even more.

“You don’t even have the attitude to apologize. Sir, we don’t accept her apology. We will take legal channels to resolve this matter.”

The police officers were also confused. They glanced at Chelsea, and their eyes fell on Kelly on the hospital bed. One of the female police officers walked up to Kelly holding a document.

“Ms. Kelly, we have investigated clearly what happened at the museum yesterday. The person who caused your miscarriage has been identified and is currently detained at the police station. However, the cause of the matter was that the three of you took the initiative to entangle Ms. Rose. She was also a victim. You accused her of causing your miscarriage, which is inconsistent with the facts and has damaged her reputation. Therefore, she requires you to apologize, which is legal and reasonable. If you have no objection, please sign it.”

She handed the documents to Kelly. Kelly’s face turned pale as she looked at the document. The matter was a foregone conclusion. She knew that if she didn’t apologize, Rose wouldn’t give up.

She came to beat her purposely. She was extremely angry. She clenched her fists tightly, feeling very reluctant to kill Rose. However, facing the police, she had to pretend to be an aggrieved victim.

“I’m sorry, I didn’t know. I’ll apologize...”

As soon as she opened her mouth, tears kept flowing out, as if a floodgate had been opened. It made several police officers feel pity.

However, Rose knew too well the methods and true face of Kelly.

“Apologize? Aren’t you supposed to apologize to me? You’re looking for the wrong person; you shouldn’t apologize to the police.”

She smiled and exposed her trick. She couldn’t let her get away by getting sympathy with ambiguity and confusion. Kelly was extremely angry. She bit her lip, her eyes aggrieved, she looked pitiful.

Chelsea didn’t realize what was going on after listening to what the police said.

After coming back to her senses, she immediately walked up to the police and asked, “What’s going on? Isn’t it Rose who should apologize?”

The female police officer explained patiently, "No. It was Maya who caused your daughter's miscarriage. However, your daughter indiscriminately wronged Ms. Rose and damaged her reputation. She deserves an apology."

Chelsea was startled when she understood. Thinking of what she had just said to Rose, her face turned pale. She glanced at Rose angrily. When she was about to say something, Kelly's voice rang out.

"Mom

She looked over. A smile appeared on Kelly's pale face. She was full of brokenness.

"Mom, I don't have the strength, can you help me?"

When she spoke, she struggled to get out of bed. It seemed that as she said, she didn't have, the strength. Her efforts failed several times.

Chelsea remembered that she was able to get out of bed last night. Soon, she understood what she meant. She immediately stepped forward, pretending to support her.

*Just apologize. Otherwise, you won't get out of bed," she said with concern.

"No, I wronged Rose. It was my fault. If I apologize, I should do it sincerely."

Kelly looked sincere as if she was truly sorry for Rose. Rose saw through these tricks at a glance. The apology must be sincere. Otherwise, she would feel sorry for making herself such a trip.

Seeing her still pretending to be unable to get out of bed, a sudden glint appeared in Rose's eyes.

"Snake! Why is there a snake in the hospital?"

She suddenly jumped up in shock and pointed behind Kelly with a look of horror. Kelly was most afraid of snakes. When Rose told her, she was filled with instinctive fear.

She didn't even realize whether it was Rose's trick, let alone whether there was a real snake. She immediately jumped off the bed.

"Snake... Mom, snake

She panicked and looked for a sense of security. Apart from her voice, the ward remained quiet. Everyone's eyes were on her. Their expressions changed several times.

"Can't you get out of bed?" Rose's voice sounded again, breaking the weirdness in the ward..

Chapter 130 Assistance from Miles

Kelly realized something and her body stiffened suddenly. The police on the side also saw through her trick. One of them couldn't hold back his laughter.

Although the laughter stopped in the next second, it was a huge shame to Kelly. Her face instantly turned red. For a moment, all the resentment in her heart was concentrated on Rose.

It was Rose who made her look embarrassed.

"Ms. Rose said that an apology must be sincere. I agree with this point. In this case, then kneel and apologize."

Miles, who had been silent, suddenly spoke. He came because he was afraid that Rose would be bullied. However, it was obvious that she was not easy to bully.

He took a deep look at Rose with a doting look in his eyes. Rose met his gaze and was very surprised that he would assist her. She smiled and nodded to express her gratitude. Then, she looked at Kelly.

"Kneel and apologize."

She raised her eyebrows and smiled brightly. Kelly was filled with hatred. She knew that person was the eldest son of the Youngs. Since he supported Rose, it was inevitable that she would kneel.

Although she felt unwilling to do so, she still knelt on the ground.

"Kelly..."

Jamie and Chelsea stepped forward, trying to pull her up. Kelly had knelt, thinking that since she couldn't avoid the humiliation, she would let Jamie and Chelsea hate Rose even more.

She shook off Chelsea's hand. Jamie and Chelsea both stared at Rose fiercely.

"Rose, don't go too far."

However, Rose seemed not to hear it and still smiled. Kelly deliberately framed her. If she succeeded, they would already be attacking her. She was just giving her a little counterattack, was she going too far?

"Kelly, I'm sorry. I was too panicked and confused at the time. I wronged you before I figured it out. Please forgive me, okay?"

Kelly looked at Rose sincerely. Nevertheless, the resentment in her heart had reached its extreme.

Rose knew that even if she apologized, she wouldn't be sincere. She probably wanted to kill her at this moment.

Therefore, she walked up to her nonchalantly and leaned down, without any intention of helping her up.

She looked directly into her eyes as she said, "I accept your apology, but next time, it'll be more than just an apology."

There was a limit to human patience. When she couldn't bear it anymore, she didn't mind tearing Kelly completely.

With that, she smiled at her and straightened up. Then, she turned around and strode out of the ward. Not long after her departure, Nixon arrived.

As soon as he entered the ward, he saw Kelly kneeling on the ground.

"Kelly, what's going on? Why are you kneeling?" His face was full of concern.

Kelly burst into tears as she saw him. However, she simply cried without saying anything.

Nixon became even more anxious as he asked, "Kelly, tell me what happened."

Suddenly, he seemed to think of something and asked, "Has Rose been here?"

Kelly cried even more aggrieved. On the side, Chelsea sighed.

“Rose doesn’t care about sisterhood at all. She forced Kelly to kneel and apologize to her in such a weak condition.”

Nixon gritted his teeth as he picked up Kelly and put her on the bed.

“Kelly, don’t worry. I won’t let her bully you like this in vain,” he said firmly.

This was exactly what Kelly wanted. She disdained marrying Nixon, but he could be a good tool to be used. She would make Rose regret today’s humiliation.

Thinking of this, she suddenly hugged Nixon and cried even more pitifully. After leaving the hospital, a car stopped in front of Rose and Miles.

The car window was lowered, and the person in the car was Anastasia.

“Miles, Ms. Shaffer, come up quickly.”

She waved at them. Miles and Rose came in a police car just now. When they left the hospital, Miles had notified his assistant to pick them up, but he hadn’t arrived yet.

They originally refused to get in the car, but Anastasia got out of the car in person and took Rose’s arm affectionately.

“Ms. Shaffer, I testified for you yesterday. We can be considered friends after all. I just like you and want to be friends with you. You won’t refuse, right?”

Her face was full of sincerity. However, Rose felt a bit awkward.

She should be grateful to Anastasia for testifying for her, but being friends with her star escort husband’s new investor was a bit awkward when she thought about it.

It would be too ungrateful for her to reject her directly.

“Of course not. You have helped me. I should thank you properly. In this way, can I treat you to lunch?” she invited.

“Alright, but don’t call me Ms. Young; it sounds so unfamiliar. You can call me Harriette.” Rose had heard this name before. Miles said that her eyes resembled hers, and she seemed to be Mr. Finch’s favorite. It’s just that they often referred to her as “Anastasia” before.

She met the person today. However, Anastasia was wearing sunglasses, and she didn’t know if her eyes looked like hers. While she was thinking, Miles’s face looked particularly dark.

He even ignored Rose's presence as he warned Anastasia sternly, "You don't have the right to use this name."
