

Honey You're a Billionaire Chapter 221

Chapter 221 Reluctant

Not only that, she could let Oliver destroy Celeste Jewels. Thinking of this, Kelly was extremely excited. After comforting Jamie for a while, she hung up the phone.

As she walked out of the washroom, she heard the bustle of the reception. After a while, she heard Miles's voice.

"Grandpa, go to your room and rest for a while. I'll take care of Rosie."

"I'm old, and my body... Miles, I always feel that Rose is like your aunt. You must take good care of her for me and don't let her be bullied," Oliver specifically told Miles.

of love. The care he

When he mentioned Rose, his tone was much softer, obviously full mentioned was not just the care tonight. Miles understood his meaning. He promised again, "Grandpa, don't worry. I'll take good care of her." "Okay. I feel at ease if you're by her side."

Oliver sighed.

After a moment of silence, he added, "I plan to give Young's House of Jewels to Rosie..."

Kelly couldn't quite hear what he said later. However, his words still echoed in her mind. He planned to give Young's House of Jewels to Rose.

Young's House of Jewels was of great significance to the Young family, how could it be given to Rose. It should belong to her. She seemed to regard herself as the heiress to the Young family.

Upon seeing Oliver go upstairs, she couldn't wait any longer. After Miles sent Oliver to the door, he went downstairs and returned to the reception. Kelly avoided everyone and cautiously went upstairs.

At the reception, Rose was surrounded by guests, chatting about design and jewelry. Many people were trying to be a social climber.

Oliver was already tired and went upstairs to rest. However, her star escort husband hadn't shown up yet. Rose was disappointed. She took the ring from her hand without leaving a trace.

"The person you're waiting for is not coming?"

Howard found an opportunity to tease Rose while there was no one around. Her thoughts were seen through, but she refused to admit it.

“Who said I’m waiting for someone?”

“Aren’t you?”

Howard didn’t believe it at all.

He glanced at her hand and added, “You even took off the ring. I think your husband is not very good. He has let you down twice. Why don’t you return the ring to him and get a divorce?”

Divorce? Her marriage to her star escort husband was an agreement.

She thought about what her star escort husband said that night. She didn’t take it seriously at the time, but she didn’t realize that she had remembered it in her heart.

“You’re reluctant?” Howard guessed based on her reaction.

Rose frowned and glared at him fiercely. Howard raised his eyebrows and smiled.

*You see…”

He crossed his arms and leaned against her.

Then, he glanced around at the people at the reception and asked, “Are there any of the young and handsome people here today?”

“Yes.”

“Are there any talented people?”

“Yes. So what?”

Rose didn’t understand what he wanted to say. Howard’s eyes suddenly locked on one person.

“Look, the man in the suit over there, the one with a capable beauty next to him…”

He pointed in a direction with the hand holding the wine glass. He didn’t know that the person he was referring to was Clover. Rose followed his hand and looked over.

“There’re so many people here, just pick anyone. I believe they’ll all admire you. Why do you bother worrying about that guy?”

Rose understood what he meant. She slowly retracted her gaze and stared at him. After a moment of shock, her eyes suddenly filled with a hint of disgust.

“What’s your gaze?” Howard asked. “I’m talking about them. Don’t get me wrong, I have no intention of recommending myself.”

He seemed to be afraid that she would misunderstand something, so he immediately explained. However, Rose didn’t think about what he thought.

He was the heir to the Chambers family, he wouldn’t have any thoughts about a married woman like her. It’s just that...

“Do you know?” Rose suddenly said with a peculiar look in her eyes.

Her pause whetted Howard’s curiosity.

“What?” he asked expectantly.

“You look like a pimp.”

Howard’s mouth trembled. Seeing the ridicule in Rose’s eyes, he was about to speak when a voice came from behind him. At the same time, Rose’s expression changed instantly.

“Ms. Shaffer, someone wants to see you.”

The visitor was none other than Finley. The moment she saw Finley, a lot of things flashed through her mind. If Finley was here, was her star escort husband also here?

She believed that the person Finley was talking about was her star escort husband. Since he was here, why didn’t he come to her instead of asking Finley to come? Could it be that something happened?

She suddenly became anxious. She had to admit that she was worried about him after all.

“Who are you?” Howard asked as he saw Finley.

He was about to protest that this person interrupted their conversation, Rose said, “Take me there quickly.”

She looked anxious.

“Ms. Shaffer, please...”

Finley walked in front. Rose didn't waste a moment and followed him. As the protagonist of the reception, her every move attracted widespread attention.

Everyone's eyes followed her, some even followed behind her.

"That man looks like

Not far away, Clover, who was waiting to watch the scene, looked at Rose and the man walking in front of her.

Before he finished speaking, the female assistant beside him said, "The assistant next to Mr. Finch... No, he's a bodyguard, the leader of the Azure Clan of the Finches. His name is Finley."

When their car passed by Jonathan's car just now, they saw him and Finley. Clover had been waiting for Jonathan to come to the reception.

However, the reception was coming to an end, and he didn't enter even though he had arrived. He almost thought he had left temporarily because of something.

Unexpectedly, his bodyguard had come and taken away the protagonist of today's reception.

"Interesting."

His intuition told him that Jonathan came to this reception just for the new design director of Young's House of Jewels. However, he came but didn't enter. What was he afraid of?

Upon seeing that some of the guests followed the direction Rose left, he couldn't hold himself anymore.

The female assistant on the side looked confused. It seemed Clover was particularly interested in Jonathan's affairs.

At this time, Rose didn't know that someone was following her. She was only thinking about whether something happened to her star escort husband.

She was so anxious that she almost fell while stepping on her high heels. Fortunately, Finley noticed it in time and stretched out his arm. Rose quickly grabbed it.

After she calmed down from the shock, a car stopped in front of her. She looked up and saw the handsome face of her star escort husband through the lowered car window.

Honey You're a Billionaire Chapter 222

Chapter 222 No Intention to Kiss You

“Get in the car,” her star escort husband said.

Finley immediately opened the car door, and Rose quickly got into the passenger seat. As soon as the door was closed, the car sped away

Even though the car was driving fast, Clover could recognize that it was the car owned by Jonathan. He wasn't the only one to see it. Everyone who came here out of curiosity also saw it.

“Who's the person in the car just now?”

“The car's going too fast. I didn't see him clearly, but that person... I seemed to know him.”

Someone looked at Finley, who was still on the roadside.

“He seems to be the leader of the Azure Clan of the Finches.

“The leader of the Azure Clan? The leader of the Azure Clan of the Finches has always been the person in power who personally protects Finch Group. Since he's here, the man in the car Just now.

“Mr. Finch...”

It must be Mr. Finch. However, why did he drive such an ordinary car? He even took away Rose, the new design director of Young's House of Jewels. What's their relationship?

As the gossip involved Mr. Finch, everyone became more curious. They didn't know the relationship between Rose and Jonathan, but Anastasia knew it very clearly.

Right now, she was standing in an unnoticed corner behind the crowd. Her face was frighteningly gloomy. She expected that Jonathan wouldn't appear publicly on such an occasion.

However, she had taken Rose away, which made her crazy with jealousy. It would be great if she was the one being taken away. As she thought about it, she felt that Rose was a huge obstacle.

After taking a look at Clover, a smile appeared on her face. She had to get the red diamond as soon as possible. Once she got the chance, she would give Rose a fatal blow.

After sending Oliver back, Miles also saw Rose leaving. He concealed his disappointment and continued to greet the guests.

At this time, on the second floor, the door to Oliver's room was slightly open. After sending him to the room, Patrick was going to get medicine for him.

As soon as he went out, he saw a young woman lying at the door. Her face was pale and her eyes were closed tightly. She seemed to have fainted.

Patrick thought she was a guest at today's reception. He immediately called someone out of fear that something might happen. The commotion alarmed Oliver in the room.

He pushed his wheelchair out and asked, "What's going on?"

"Mr. Young Senior, this lady fainted," Patrick reported.

He didn't want this incident to affect Oliver's rest. When he was about to send him back to the room, Oliver stared at the woman lying on the ground with shock in his eyes.

"Quick, call the doctor to see what's wrong with her," he said anxiously.

Patrick noticed his unusual attitude and immediately called the doctor. At the same time, he arranged for someone to help the young lady to the guest room.

Before the doctor came, Kelly woke up slowly. When she opened her eyes, she saw a solemn face. She pretended to be shocked and shrank back. Oliver's face finally relaxed.

He stared at her and asked calmly, "How did you faint?"

Kelly had been fully prepared to face Oliver. She wanted him to discover her and trust her at the same time. Hence, she couldn't act too hastily.

"I... I was curious about my sister's new home, so I wanted to look around. However, I suddenly felt dizzy. Then, I didn't know what happened after that."

Her eyes were full of sincerity. She had always been good at acting, and she always acted as an innocent person. She wanted to make it look like she had passed out from low blood sugar.

She even put on pale makeup in an attempt to hide it from the truth.

"Sister?" Oliver frowned.

Kelly instantly explained, "My sister is Rose. Today is her entry reception. I met you just now. You're my sister's grandfather, right?"

“Yes, I’m her grandfather.”

Oliver’s eyes became softer when he mentioned Rose. When he looked at Kelly, the softness in his eyes was full of exploration.

“I didn’t expect that you and Rosie are sisters.”

Kelly knew that she couldn’t hide her relationship with Rose. Therefore, she might as well take the initiative and at least tell Oliver something before Rose.

Rose and I are not biological sisters. I was adopted by my mother from an orphanage. Later, my mother married Rose’s father

She knew that Chelsea couldn’t pretend to be Oliver’s daughter. Hence, she could only draw a clear line with her.

Not only that, she had even spent money to ask the orphanage to make fake documents. Even if Oliver investigated, there would be no surprises.

“Orphanage...”

Oliver frowned. He thought of the pattern he saw on her back just now. While lying on the ground just now, her clothes on her back were pulled up and revealed the pattern.

He saw it, but since she was a girl, he only took a glance at it. After that, the servant came up and carried her into the guest room. After tidying her clothes, the pattern was covered.

He wanted to confirm the pattern again, but after all men and women were different. Hence, he couldn’t make excessive demands.

“If you like it here, stay here tonight,” he said.

With that, he motioned to Patrick to push his wheelchair away. Kelly thought he was going to continue asking, but she didn’t expect him to leave.

It was obvious that she had deliberately exposed the tattoo, and Oliver’s reaction seemed he was full of interest in her. Why did he leave? She couldn’t figure it out.

Nevertheless, she told herself again not to rush things. At least Oliver asked her to stay. She still had many opportunities to show the similarities between herself and his daughter.

As for Rose... She would give her some time to get over the addiction as the heiress to the Young family. At this time, Rose had no idea what Kelly was thinking.

After getting into her star escort husband's car, the car sped away. She subconsciously reached out and touched the wound on his chest.

It wasn't until she was sure that the wound was nothing serious that she breathed a sigh of relief.

"Are you caring about me?"

Jonathan was satisfied with her concern. Rose was slightly stunned.

"Who cares about you?"

As she relaxed, she said with a hint of coquettishness in her tone. She had given him the invitation letter, and he had come. Why didn't he go in to find her? She had planned to introduce him to Oliver.

Thinking of this, she felt inexplicably unhappy. Until the car stopped, she didn't say a word to him. She looked out the window angrily, as if she wouldn't forgive him. As the car suddenly stopped, Jonathan's body suddenly pressed over her, making her heart tremble.

"What are you doing?" she asked subconsciously as she covered her mouth.

Her actions made Jonathan smile as he said, "Don't worry, I don't mean to kiss you."

Honey You're a Billionaire Chapter 223

Chapter 223 He Is Scared

Rose was stunned for a moment. Then, her face turned red.

The handsome face of her star escort husband was very close at hand. Under his narrow gaze, her actions of covering her mouth looked particularly dishonest.

She coughed lightly and took her hand away.

She straightened up and said, "Then why do you suddenly lean over?"

Looking at her bright red lips, Jonathan's heart was filled with excitement. He couldn't help but kiss her.

"Hmm..."

Rose's eyes widened in shock. As her mind went blank for a moment, she suddenly realized that he was kissing her. However, he clearly said just now that he didn't mean to kiss her.

She forgot to close her eyes, looking at his handsome face with concentration. His face would cause a disaster. Just as she thought this, a big palm covered her eyes.

She was slightly startled. The next moment, Jonathan finally let go of her and buried his head on her shoulder.

"You..."

"You..."

In the weird atmosphere, the two of them suddenly spoke at the same time.

Jonathan laughed as he said, "You say it first."

"You clearly said that you didn't want to kiss..."

Rose was about to say it, but she suddenly realized that if the topic continued, it would only become more embarrassing. She immediately changed the topic.

"Why didn't you come?"

Jonathan knew that she was referring to the entry reception. Why didn't he go?

His eyes darkened slightly as he said, "I want to go in, but I'm afraid..."

"Afraid?"

Rose naturally thought that he was afraid of such an occasion. After all, the Young family only invited prominent figures in the industry.

Although he was a relative of the Finch family, he worked as a host in a bar. He must have seen too many upper-class people's attitudes in making up to someone. She felt a trace of pity in her heart.

Then, she raised her hand and patted his back. Although she didn't say anything, the comfort.

sympathy revealed in her gentle patting made Jonathan startled.

He was afraid of being recognized and his identity exposed. Then, Rose would hate him because he was Mr. Finch. She seemed to have misunderstood something.

He suddenly found her extremely cute. Almost subconsciously, he hugged her tighter. Oliver stayed at the villa at the reception last night and returned to Young Estate early the next morning.

When he went back, he brought Kelly with him.

“Will Rose be unhappy to see me?”

Kelly’s face was full of worry.

Even though they had arrived at Young Estate, she still told Oliver, “Mr. Young Senior, I’d better go home.”

Last night, the doctor came to check on her. She fainted because of hypoglycemia. However, Oliver was thinking about the pattern on her back. He couldn’t let her go until he figured it out.

“You can live here with peace of mind. You and Rosie are sisters, she won’t be unhappy,” Oliver said.

However, Kelly still looked embarrassed.

“But...

She lowered her head and hesitated to speak, looking a little lost and sad.

Her expression fell on Oliver’s eyes as he asked, “But?”

Kelly glanced at him and replied, “Rose dislikes me. She misunderstood me, but I’ve always liked her...”

She knew very well that Oliver liked Rose. Nevertheless, she wanted to make a bet, or it could be a test. She bet a biological granddaughter would be more important than an adopted granddaughter.

She also wanted to test how important Rose was in his heart.

Not only that, she wanted to make a preliminary preparation. Even if Rose badmouthed her and rejected her after seeing her, she would have a way to deal with it.

However, before Oliver could speak, a voice suddenly sounded.

“Grandpa, this is...

The person who spoke was Anastasia. She didn’t stay in the villa last night. Before the reception was over, she left after seeing Clover leave.

She stayed in the hotel and went to meet Clover in the morning. He promised to give her the red diamond within three days. She was extremely satisfied.

She planned to start making the ring herself after getting the red diamond. With her skills and Rose's manuscript, she would be able to make it the same as the one on Rose's hand.

She didn't expect to see Kelly when she returned to Young Estate. Of course, she knew her, but she pretended not to know her. She looked at her in confusion.

"This is Kelly, Rosie's sister. She'll stay in the villa for a while. You're both girls. You can help me to take care of her," Oliver ordered.

Anastasia was extremely surprised. Asking her to take care of Kelly was indeed interesting.

"Okay, Grandpa."

She walked up to Kelly with a warm smile and stretched out her hand. "Hello, may I call you Kelly?"

*Anastasia ... Kelly called affectionately.

She didn't notice a flash of disgust in Anastasia's eyes. The two of them shook hands.

Anastasia then said with concern, "You haven't chosen a room yet. Grandpa, I'll take her to see the room. It's great that our house is getting more and more lively. I also brought Rosie to see her room at that time."

She took Kelly upstairs. The main building in Young Estate had many rooms. Kelly followed her into a room. She had the intention to please Anastasia.

"Kelly ..." she called affectionately.

She still regarded Anastasia as her ally, but as soon as the door was closed, the kindness that Anastasia had just pretended no longer existed.

She glanced at Kelly and said, "Don't call me Kelly. Please call me Ms. Young."

Kelly was slightly startled. Upon seeing the disdain in Anastasia's eyes, displeasure emerged in her heart. Soon, she twitched her lips and changed her address.

"Ms. Young..."

However, Anastasia was still not satisfied. In front of her, it was as if Kelly was just a clown who hated Rose. She was somewhat useful to her.

She stared at her and said, "I don't know what you used to let Grandpa leave you in the villa, but I know that you want to deal with Rose, right?"

Kelly didn't hide anything.

Anastasia looked at her with a more profound look.

"You're quite obsessed with her."

Kelly felt extremely humiliated. However, she didn't say anything but smiled faintly.

"My method can only add trouble to Rose. If you don't mind it, you can order me to do anything, just like before..."

She didn't intend to reveal her identity at this time.

Her identity as the heiress to the Young family could only be discovered by someone else. She had thrown out a bait, and all that was left was to wait for Oliver to discover.

When the time came, Oliver would reveal her identity to others.

Honey You're a Billionaire Chapter 224

Chapter 224 It Must Be Her

Kelly lowered her eyes as if she didn't dare to make a mistake in front of Anastasia. Nevertheless, Anastasia was still very disdainful of her suggestions.

All Kelly could do was add trouble to Rose. It couldn't hurt Rose at all. What she wanted to do was different. Thinking of this, she was in a very good mood.

"Now that you're staying here, just have fun. Young Estate is not just for anyone to come and stay."

With that, she planned to leave. However, as she reached the door, she seemed to have thought of something and suddenly turned to look at Kelly.

"Do you need me to call Rose back? Let's give her a surprise."

She was curious about Rose's reaction when she saw Kelly stay in Young Estate. Nevertheless, Kelly was worried that Rose's return would cause trouble for her.

"It's fine. She'll come back when she wants to."

It would be best if she came back after Oliver confirmed her identity. When the time came, she hoped that Rose would cause a scene because of her existence.

She was also looking forward to Rose and Anastasia's reaction when they knew her identity. Meanwhile, Rose directly went to Young's House of Jewels. Some people welcomed her arrival, while others did not.

"I envy some people's luck. Let's guess how she deals with Mr. Young Senior?"

"Who knows? Don't underestimate her. Mr. Young also likes her very much. With the support of two men, she could easily get the position of the design director."

"Could she be relying on her body..."

At the lounge, two people were gossiping. Rose was holding the coffee cup. They didn't mention her name, but she knew that they were referring to her.

Initially, she just wanted to ignore them, but they started to use insulting words she coughed heavily.

The two people were shocked, but they didn't panic. They were just gossiping. Even if someone heard it and agreed, they could join them and gossip together.

Even if they disagreed, no one would stand up for someone who had just come to the company.

However, as the two of them turned around to see who was listening, their expressions instantly changed when they saw Rose.

"Rose It was the focus of their gossip. They turned pale in fright, even forgetting to address Rose. Rose glanced at the two of them and walked straight to the coffee machine to make a cup of coffee.

Although she didn't speak, her invisible aura was overwhelming. As Rose was about to leave with the coffee in hand, the two of them were about to breathe a sigh of relief.

However, Rose suddenly stopped and turned around to look at them. Their hearts trembled. They wanted to explain to her.

However, before they could speak, Rose said slowly, "Destroying people's reputation and spreading rumors... What do you think will happen if my brother and Grandpa find out about it?"

"Ms. Shaffer ...

The two of them were even more panicked. Oliver didn't need to know about this matter. If it only reached Miles's ears, they would be in huge trouble.

They wanted to plead for mercy, but Rose corrected them coldly, “Call me Director Shaffer.”

There was a strong warning in her tone. Before the two of them came to their senses, she turned around and left. The two left behind were weak.

“Will she tell Mr. Young?”

They were extremely frightened. They carefully returned to their workstations and paid attention to Rose’s every move. It wasn’t until they saw Rose leaving the company that they breathed a sigh of relief.

Nevertheless, before they could calm down, they were called into the office by personnel.

“You two are fired.”

They were stunned. Their first reaction was that Rose had filed a complaint.

“Is it Director Shaffer’s decision?”

The HR manager smiled and shook his head.

“No.”

“Is it Mr. Young?”

“No.”

The HR manager didn’t want to say too much. He immediately asked the two to go through the formalities.

+15 BONUS

They were very angry. The salary working at Young’s House of Jewels was far higher than that of other companies in the industry. They had lost such a good job due to Rose.

They felt a sense of unwillingness in their hearts. After they left, the HR manager made a phone call.

On the other end of the phone, Anastasia raised her lips slightly as she said, “Is it done?”

“Yes.”

“Good. Spread the news and ban those two people.”

Although Anastasia didn't go to the company today, there were many informers in the company. She was happy to be able to help Rose make enemies.

Even though they were just small figures, they would be useful one day. She glanced at Kelly in the garden downstairs. She had stayed at Young Estate all day without doing anything.

It was beyond her expectations. In the evening, Rose and Miles didn't return to the villa. After dinner, Oliver and Anastasia went back to their rooms.

In the dead of night, Kelly walked out of Rose's room. She was so cautious that no one paid attention to her. Early the next morning, May carefully opened the door of Kelly's room.

While sleeping, the quilt was covered below her waist. A large part of her back was exposed, to the air. Thinking of what Oliver had told her, she quickly took a photo of her back with her phone.

Perhaps she was too panicked, the photo taken was a bit blurry. When she was about to take another photo, Kelly woke up.

“May, I'm sorry for getting up late.”

Her innocent appearance was particularly pitiful. May was a bit guilty.

She immediately hid her phone and said, “Ms. Shaffer, you're a guest, how can you say sorry to me? I'm the one who disturbed you. Please sleep a little longer.”

After finishing speaking, she quickly left the room. The moment the door was closed, a sneer appeared on Kelly's face. She had already woken up.

She knew that Oliver wanted to confirm the tattoo on her back.

However, he was a decent person. Even though he suspected that she might be his granddaughter, he wouldn't come and observe her back in person. Therefore; taking pictures was the best way.

This was just what she wanted. After all, the tattoo had just been done. If someone looked at it carefully, her lie might be exposed in an instant

However, one couldn't tell whether the tattoo was old or new in a blurry photo. It was enough. to have that one photo.

After that, she just had to protect the tattoo on her back, and everything would go smoothly. After leaving Kelly's room, May entered Oliver's room. He was sitting in the wheelchair in front of the window.

Patrick had just given him medicine. He couldn't hide his excitement when he saw the phone in May's hand. He knew that she accomplished what he asked her to do.

"Mr. Young Senior, this is what you want... May handed over the phone.

Oliver took the phone with trembling hands and looked at the photo on the phone eagerly. Although the photo was a bit blurry, he recognized the lines on the photo immediately.

"It must be her!"

Honey You're a Billionaire Chapter 225

Chapter 225 Blood Test

The tattoo on Kelly's back was the same as the pattern on the badge. The badge was the only thing left by his wife, Henrietta's biological mother.

Back then, he also used that badge to confirm Henrietta's identity and brought her back to the Young family. Within half a year, the conflict between him and Henrietta broke out.

What did the pattern on Kelly's back mean?

"It's her. I found it

He looked excited.

Patrick on the side couldn't hide his joy as he said, "Your efforts have paid off. Mr. Young Senior, judging from Ms. Shaffer's age, she should be after Ms. Rietta ..."

"Yes. She must be Rietta's daughter..."

Oliver had already given up. He felt that God's arrangement for him and Rose to meet was already his salvation. Unexpectedly, God treated him so well..

He had found Henrietta's daughter, and he would soon know the whereabouts of Henrietta.

"Quick, take me to see Kelly," he said happily.

His eyes were filled with kindness as an elder.

However, Patrick advised, "Mr. Young Senior, you're scared Ms. Kelly. Furthermore, this tattoo, alone cannot prove everything. Shouldn't we do a blood test ..."

Oliver calmed down. If Kelly was Henrietta's daughter, he couldn't be impatient. He had to be completely sure about it.

He took a deep breath and called May in again. He asked her to find a way to get Kelly's hair.

Just half an hour later, while Kelly left the room, May went into the guest room. With the excuse of cleaning up the room, she successfully got the hair from the comb.

This hair was stolen by Kelly from Rose's room the night before. She expected that the blood test was an inevitable step, so she had planned it earlier.

When Miles returned to Young Estate, Oliver called him to the room.

"I found your aunt's daughter."

Oliver suppressed his excitement and handed a document bag to Miles. Miles was surprised, but joy soon followed. Finding his aunt was Oliver's last wish in this life.

Finding his aunt's daughter was equivalent to finding her.

"Congratulations, Grandpa. Where's she? I'll pick her up," he said.

He was truly happy for Oliver. At the same time, he was curious about who his aunt's daughter was.

Oliver smiled faintly and said, "Don't worry, you go and finish your things first. As for Rietta's daughter, I know where she is."

"Alright."

Miles didn't delay at all and left the villa in a hurry. When he went out, he saw a figure in the garden.

He didn't think much about it. Thinking of what Oliver told him, he opened the document bag as soon as he got in the car. Inside the document bag were two hairs with hair follicles, one long and one short.

He followed the instructions and sent the hair to the hospital for urgent treatment. Then, he followed a location stated in the document bag and arrived at an orphanage.

However, he frowned when he saw Kelly's name. In the next few days, Rose didn't see Miles at the company. She just took office, but she was present every day.

In just a few days, several sets of jewelry that she personally designed were ordered by several rich people in Aquastead at high prices for exclusive customization.

She knew that this was all because she was Oliver's granddaughter. Even Madeline found her. As soon as she arrived at the company, she was looking for Miles, but she didn't see him.

As Rose saw it, she understood in her heart and said, "Miles hasn't been here these past few days."

As Madeline's thoughts were seen through, a hint of shyness flashed across her face.

She couldn't help but be curious about Miles's whereabouts as she asked, "Is he very busy recently?"

"Probably."

Rose hadn't seen him for several days.

However, Madeline was not satisfied with her answer and asked eagerly, "What is he busy with?"

"I don't know."

Upon seeing the disappointment in her eyes, Rose immediately diverted her attention.

"Ms. Chambers, is this what you want?"

Madeline didn't have any opinions of her own on jewelry. She was just pursuing famous brands. Coming here today, she used it as an excuse to customize jewelry. She was here for Miles.

However, when she saw the brooch designed by Rose, her eyes flashed with surprise.

"This is... tea..."

The brooch was exquisitely designed in the shape of a tea leaf. It was graceful and fresh. Since she liked tea, she had received tea leaf-style jewelry since she was a child.

Nevertheless, none of the jewelry surprised her as the brooch. She looked at Rose.

"No wonder..."

"No wonder?" Rose asked.

This was the second time they had close communication. She felt pretty good about her.

Madeline didn't hide her admiration as she said, "No wonder you became the design director of Young's House of Jewels. I just entered the door, and what you drew touched my Rose thought of the rumors she heard from others a few days ago heart."

"It's just a coincidence. Everyone shows respect to me on the surface, but they secretly think that I'm in this position because of good luck or some other means."

She smiled bitterly.

"Who dares to say such a thing? You have the ability."

Madeline felt unfair for her. The indignant look made Rose's heart warm.

"It doesn't matter, I don't care."

She agreed to Oliver to be the design director of Young's House of Jewels with no selfish motives. She simply wanted to make him feel at ease. She didn't care about the rumors that hurt her.

If she cared about it one day, she would tell Miles and Oliver so that they could deal with those people who were gossiping. Anyway, she wouldn't make herself feel unhappy.

Just as she finished speaking, her phone rang. Upon seeing the caller's name, she subconsciously glanced at Madeline.

"It's Miles..."

She blinked at Madeline. Upon seeing Madeline's eyes suddenly light up, she decided to make a match between the two of them.

"Miles, are you free tonight? I'll treat you to dinner."

As the call was connected, she first extended the invitation. However, there was silence on the other end of the phone. Rose frowned slightly and took a glance at the phone.

After making sure that the call was connected, she called out tentatively, "Miles?"

"Rosie, go back to the villa tonight."

Miles's tone was solemn as if something big had happened.

Honey You're a Billionaire Chapter 226

Chapter 226 Her Backer

Rose realized that something was unusual when she heard his tone.

She immediately asked, "What happened? Has something happened to Grandpa?"

"You come back first."

Miles didn't say much.

As soon as he finished speaking, he continued worriedly, "I'll pick you up."

With that, he hung up the phone. Rose stared at the phone in a daze. What had happened that made Miles so nervous? Madeline noticed her abnormality.

"Ms. Shaffer, what's wrong?"

Rose twitched her lips and replied, "I'm fine, but I can't keep you here anymore. I'll have this brooch made for you as soon as possible. I'll let you know when the time comes to pick it up."

While saying that, she packed the documents on the table.

"Okay, I'll leave first."

Madeline didn't ask much. Before leaving, she glanced at Rose worriedly.

At this time, Anastasia had obtained the red diamond from Clover. She couldn't wait to make the red diamond according to Rose's manuscript. Halfway through, she received a call from Patrick.

"Ms. Anastasia, please come back to the villa tonight

Patrick rarely called her and asked her to go back. In the past, even when Oliver summoned them for something, Patrick always delivered the message in a consultative manner.

Something was different today.

"Has anything happened to Grandpa?"

She knew about Oliver's physical condition. If something happened to him, she didn't dare to waste any time. Hence, as she asked Patrick, she had taken off her apron.

After putting away the unfinished red diamond, she took her bag and left. Half an hour later, Miles picked Rose up. In the car, his face was solemn. He didn't say a word.

Although Rose wanted to know what happened, she didn't bear to ask any more questions. As the car stopped outside Young Estate, Miles held her back when she was about to get out of the car.

"Rosie.

He stared at her worriedly. Rose also noticed his worry

"Miles, no matter what happens, I'm fine with it. If Grandpa...

If something happened to Oliver Rose's heart throbbed slightly. Miles immediately comforted her.

"Grandpa is alright. It's just that there's a new member in the family."

Rose didn't care if there was a new member in the family. She was also a new member of the Young family. She didn't have the right to care about the extra new member.

As long as Oliver was fine, nothing would be a problem

She raised a smile and said, "Miles, let's go in. It's getting dark soon."

During this time, May had already prepared the meal. She hadn't returned to Young Estate for a few days. It just happened that she could have dinner with Oliver tonight.

Thinking of this, she got out of the car happily. Miles followed her in a worry.

As she entered the living room, Rose saw Oliver sitting on the sofa. He was in a good mood today as he was humming his favorite song.

"Grandpa..."

Upon seeing that he was in good spirits, Rose felt completely relieved. She threw away the bag in her hand.

Then, she ran toward Oliver like a child and squatted at his feet as she said, "Grandpa, I haven't seen you for a few days. I miss you so much."

It's rare for her to act coquettishly. Oliver looked at her happily. He raised his hand and stroked her head. As she raised her head, her eyes were still very much like the eyes of his daughter in his memory.

He was in a trance for a while. He thought he was lucky enough to have met Rose. He didn't expect that he could find Henrietta's daughter. God treated him well.

Kelly didn't look much like Henrietta in his memory, but the blood test report Miles brought back confirmed that they were related by blood.

In this world, apart from the missing Henrietta, the only person who had a blood relationship with her should be her descendants. Kelly was her granddaughter, but he still liked Rose very much.

"How are you working at Young's House of Jewels these days? Is there anyone who disobeys you? Tell me if anyone dares to speak against you, I'll have him fired."

His expression was fierce but cute at the same time.

Rose laughed and said, "Who dares to disobey me? I'm the design director you appointed. Even if they disobey me, they'll be afraid of you."

She put her hands on her waist, acting as if she had a backer, which made Oliver laugh even more. Miles felt slightly relieved as he looked at them.

He had been worried that Oliver would abandon Rose after finding his granddaughter. He seemed to be overthinking. Oliver caressed Rose's head with kindness in his eyes.

"Don't worry, as long as I'm here... No, no matter if I'm here or not, you can do anything in the Young family."

These words touched Rose. As she looked at Oliver's face, she seemed to feel that she had a backer.

There's someone who loved her and cared for her. She had never had this feeling after her mother passed away. At this time, the feeling emerged again. It felt so good to have someone to back her up.

She felt sour and suddenly threw herself into Oliver's arms.

"Grandpa, you must always be there..."

Oliver was slightly startled. How could he always be there? At his age and illness, death might not be far away. He could hear Rose's subtle nasal voice. She seemed to have cried.

A strange feeling emerged in his heart. His eyes became more loving as he said, "Okay, I'm here. I'll always be here."

Upstairs, a hint of jealousy flashed in her eyes as Kelly looked at the scene. Oliver indeed treated Rose very well. She could do anything in the Young family?

Even after finding his granddaughter, Oliver still loved and cared so much for Rose. Was it because of the blood relation, or had Rose played some tricks against him?

She was a little unwilling. Oliver was her grandfather, and everything in the Young family belonged to her. Why could Rose do anything?

Taking a deep breath, she hid the viciousness on her face and showed a smile. An hour ago, Patrick call Anastasia to come back to the villa. Miles and Rose had also come back.

she heard

Oliver might plan to introduce her to them. Thinking of the grand meeting that Oliver held for Rose when she was adopted, she was unwilling as she found that there was just a simple introduction for her arrival.

However, she knew that as long as she was Oliver's blood-related granddaughter, she could get anything she wanted. She was planning in her mind.

She raised the most innocent smile and walked slowly downstairs.

When she arrived in the living room, before Rose noticed her, she deliberately called out, "Rose."

Honey You're a Billionaire Chapter 227

Chapter 227 Will I Die

"Rose."

Kelly's voice was neither loud nor low. Rose almost felt she heard it wrong. Why was Kelly at Young Estate?

She ignored it, but Kelly called again, "Rose..."

Rose frowned and turned her head slowly to see Kelly behind the sofa. She felt an instinctive dislike for Jamie and Kelly. When she saw Kelly in Young Estate, she instinctively became defensive.

"Why are you here?" she asked.

Her voice was too loud and seemed to scare Kelly. Kelly visibly shrank as if she was frightened. Her eyes were full of fear for Rose, but she seemed to desperately want to get close to her.

“Rose, I missed you so much. I’ve secretly gone to your entry reception that day. I saw you from a distance that day. You’re so beautiful and talented. You can show more talent in Young’s House of Jewels.

When she said these words, her eyes were full of admiration for Rose. It was as if Rose was the light, and she was one silently following the light in the shadows, Rose had seen too much of her attitude..

She was always like this—looking innocent and harmless in front of others, but she was best at stabbing people in the back.

It wasn’t enough for her, Jamie, and Nixon to disgust her. She even came to Young Estate. What did she want to do?

“Rose...”

Kelly suddenly strode toward Rose. Almost instinctively, Rose wanted to protect Oliver behind her. When she approached her, she subconsciously reached out her hand.

When Kelly came closer, she happened to touch her hand, but she pushed it away. Kelly looked panicked and took a few steps back. Rose’s push wouldn’t cause her to fall.

However, she wouldn’t let go of such an opportunity. She would pretend to fall due to her push.

“Ah... Her face was full of horror.

From the corner of her eyes, she saw worry appearing on Oliver’s face, which made her even more pleased. With a bang, she fell to the ground hard. Her head even hit the corner of the table.

A sharp pain came from her head. She raised her hand and touched the wound. Her hand appeared red.

“Blood... blood

The bleeding was unexpected by her. However, she could take advantage of it to blame Rose. Her eyes flashed with fear, and she instantly looked at Rose and cried pitifully.

Rose, why...”

The sudden incident made everyone present dumbfounded.

Oliver's heart trembled and immediately shouted, "Call an ambulance. Miles, hurry up, take your sister to the hospital."

He quickly made arrangements and ordered Patrick, "Let the doctor get ready first and prepare the car. I'll go to the hospital together."

The living room was in chaos. Miles reacted and immediately stepped forward to hug Kelly. Anastasia saw this scene as soon as she came back.

Miles took Kelly and ran out in front of her. Meanwhile, after contacting the doctor, Patrick pushed Oliver into the wheelchair and followed. Rose was left standing there in shock. Kelly fell and bled.

Nevertheless, the push she gave just now was light. She didn't even use much force, but she still fell. She frowned. She didn't notice that Oliver used the word "your sister" when he gave Miles instructions

However, Anastasia noticed it. Besides her, Rose was the only sister to Miles. As for Kelly...

She noticed that something was unusual. She wanted to go to the hospital to find out what was going on. Before leaving, she called Rose.

Rose came back to her senses after hearing her voice. She looked at her.

"Didn't you go to the hospital?" Anastasia asked.

Rose's eyebrows couldn't relax. She felt that it was Kelly's trick. She didn't even bother. Before she refused, Anastasia stepped forward and pulled her.

"Let's go and take a look together. If anything happens, we'll have a way to deal with it."

Even if she said so, she never considered herself Rose's ally. She then took Rose into the car. The car was speeding. The car that Miles and Oliver were in arrived at Harmony Hospital earlier.

As soon as the car stopped, Miles hurriedly got out of the car with Kelly in his arms. When entering the hospital, Kelly trembled in his arms.

Her eyes looked frightened as she said, "Mr. Young, will I die?"

Miles frowned. He had always disliked Kelly. Because of the conflict between her and Rose at the museum last time, he had seen her scheming,

After all, she was Oliver's bloodline and the real heiress to the Young family.

"You won't die," he said.

"But I'm so scared!"

Kelly subconsciously grabbed his shirt. She deliberately got the blood on her hands onto his white clothes. As she looked up at his profile, she felt extremely pleased.

The dignified Mr. Young was holding her like this. His anxious look was truly satisfying. At this moment, she seemed to feel Rose's happiness for being cared about by Miles.

She was even more determined that she would grab everything that belonged to Rose.

"You'll be okay. Harmony Hospital is under the Finches, It has the best equipment and doctors," Miles reassured.

After entering the hospital, Kelly was sent to the operating room. It was just a slight bruise, but her pale face looked extremely scary. Oliver directly called the director.

Half an hour later, Kelly received two stitches behind her eyes. Lying on the hospital bed, her tears kept falling, as if she had been disfigured.

In front of Oliver, she still consoled him sensibly, "I'm fine. It's all my fault. I don't blame Rose

Rose heard her sentence as soon as she entered the ward. A trace of sarcasm appeared on the corner of her mouth.

*Kelly, who are you acting for?" she asked.

What she hated the most was her innocent face. She went to ask the doctor just now and found out her true condition.

Moreover, she never felt that she was the one that caused her to bump into the corner of the table.

"Rose..."

When Kelly saw her, she immediately shrank in fright. Oliver's face darkened as he saw her fright. Rose cast a glance at him.

She was worried that Kelly might hurt Oliver, and she would never allow it. Hence, she showed no mercy to Kelly.

“Kelly, I’m not your sister. Whatever you want to do, come to me. But if you want to do anything to the Young family, I’ll tear you apart.

With that, she walked to Oliver and comforted him.

“Grandpa, I’ll take you home.”

Honey You’re a Billionaire Chapter 228

Chapter 228 She Is the Bloodline of the Young Family

When Rose stepped forward, Kelly shrank visibly. She was particularly conflicted toward Rose. It seemed that she liked her and wanted to get closer, but was afraid of her at the same time.

Even Anastasia, who followed Rose in, couldn’t help but find that Kelly was good at acting. If she hadn’t known that Kelly hated Rose so much, she would have believed what she showed now.

She glanced at Oliver with interest. Oliver’s face was dark at this moment. Rose didn’t receive a response from him as she stood beside her.

“Grandpa, let’s go,” she said again.

She was worried about Oliver since he was old and sick.

When she reached out to push the wheelchair, Oliver suddenly said, “Rose!”

His tone was cold as he called her “Rose“, but not “Rosie“. Rose couldn’t adapt to his address, but she didn’t pay attention.

Then, she heard Oliver say, “Apologize to your sister!”

Rose glanced at him doubtfully. Soon, she understood that he ultimately believed in Kelly’s trick.

“Grandpa, I wasn’t the one who pushed her just now.”

She didn’t want to take the blame. However, as soon as she finished speaking, Oliver looked at her with disappointment.

Just then, Kelly bit her lip and said with a tearful voice, “Please don’t blame Rose. It’s my fault just now. Rose didn’t push me.”

She knew that if she made the claim, Oliver would pity her. After all, Rose reached out to touch her just now in Young Estate. Even if she wasn't the one who pushed her, who would believe it?

Not only that, she also knew that she would only irritate Rose with her words. She hoped that she would confront her out of anger. Then, Oliver would pity her more and hate Rose more.

"Kelly!"

Rose wanted to slap her. However, she was worried that the chaos would affect Oliver. Hence, she only stared at her with a warning look.

Nevertheless, Oliver glanced at her sternly and ordered, "Rose, apologize to your sister!"

Rose furrowed her brows. She couldn't apologize to Kelly. Just then, Miles stepped forward and grabbed her wrist, pulling her behind him.

He looked at Kelly and said, "I apologize for Rosie. I'm sorry, Kelly."

Rose was shocked that he apologized to her. She looked at him in disbelief and wanted to protest.

Before she could react, Kelly raised an innocent smile and said, "No need to apologize. I've said that! don't blame Rose."

Her harmless smile was filled with flattery, which made Oliver feel even more pity. Over the years, Kelly had suffered so much hardship as a drag on the Shaffer family. That's why she was careful with others. "Miles, she should be the one who apologizes. Why do you want to apologize to her?" Oliver said displeased.

He didn't want to let the matter go easily.

Henrietta had been missing and he failed to fulfill his responsibilities as a father. Now that Kelly was found back, he wouldn't be worthy of his daughter if he made Kelly suffer. He stared at Rose.

Even though he was old and less powerful than before, the pressure in his eyes made people dare not disobey him. Rose's heart trembled slightly.

It was the first time Oliver looked at her like she was an enemy. What happened? She looked at Miles questioningly. Miles knew Oliver's thoughts and Rose's temper.

"Grandpa, Rosie, and Anastasia are back. Don't you want to announce anything? Look

His hand holding Rose's wrist gradually tightened. He was a little regretful. If he had expected this incident, he would have told Rose about Kelly's identity when he met her just now.

Rose could feel his nervousness.

Then, she heard Oliver say, "I called you back today because I have something to announce. I have a daughter who has been missing for many years. Not long ago, I found her bloodline."

"Congratulations, Grandpa."

Rose felt happy from the bottom of her heart.

She knew that the only person Oliver couldn't let go of was his unfound daughter. Now that he had found his daughter's bloodline, it meant that he had found his daughter.

However, Anastasia became wary..

"Grandpa, where's aunt's bloodline? I'll pick her up personally," she volunteered.

Both Rose and Anastasia didn't think about Kelly. After all, a shameless woman like her was not possible to be the bloodline of the Young family.

Nevertheless, Oliver didn't even look at Anastasia as he said, "It's fine. She's already with me. Kelly, I didn't tell you in advance. I've been looking for your mother for many years. I didn't mean to leave your mother alone outside. You've suffered over the years."

He looked at Kelly, He originally wanted to recognize his real granddaughter in front of all his adopted grandchildren. Unexpectedly, his granddaughter was hurt and she had to be introduced in the hospital.

He glanced at Rose with a warning look, as if he was telling her that Kelly's identity was extraordinary, and she had to be polite to her in the future. Rose could feel his gaze. However, her brain was blank.

She seemed to have heard a big joke and even suspected that she had a hearing problem. Kelly... Oliver ...How could Chelsea be Oliver's daughter? Her first reaction was that Oliver had been deceived.

She immediately revealed Kelly.

"Grandpa, don't be deceived by her. Her mother is Chelsea, Jamie's second wife. Kelly is their daughter."

However, as soon as she finished speaking, Oliver's face darkened. Kelly also expected that Rose would expose her. Before she did all this, she had made complete preparations.

There's no point Rose knew that she was the illegitimate daughter of Jamie and Chelsea, as she was the only one who knew it. In the eyes of outsiders, she was always a drag on the family.

As for her mother, Chelsea... She bit her lip and looked at Rose with an aggrieved look. As if she had been greatly hurt, she suddenly started crying.

"Rose, I know you don't like me, but where did I lie?"

She pretended not to know her background and looked at Oliver in surprise.

"Mr. Young Senior, what did you mean by what you just said?"

Honey You're a Billionaire Chapter 229

Chapter 229 Apologize

Oliver felt even more pity for her when he saw her crying so hard and looking innocent. He held her hand and told her what Miles had found out.

"Did your name used to be Kelly Willis?"

Kelly frowned.

"How do you know? My previous name was Kelly Willis, After my mother married my current father, I followed my current father and changed my last name to Shaffer, but She bit her lip and asked Oliver, "How do you know?"

Of course it was Miles who found out.

Oliver looked at Kelly with a more loving look as he said, "Do you know why your surname was Willis?"

"Mom said that when she brought me back from the orphanage, my last name was Willis. She originally wanted me to maintain the last name, but she was worried that others might look down upon me if my last name was different from my father's. Hence, I changed my last name to Shaffer."

Oliver sighed.

"She was also considerate to you. Your last name used to be Willis because of your mother—which is my daughter. Her last name is Willis."

Kelly was stunned and asked, "But how come your daughter has the surname Willis?"

Her been so long that he had forgotten her appearance.

question brought deep self-blame within Oliver's heart. Henrietta's figure appeared in his mind. It

It's funny to say that Henrietta had disappeared since childhood. She was later found and brought back. He didn't even have time to leave a photo of her, and the two of them broke out because of a conflict. He still remembered the anger and sarcasm in her eyes when he slapped her on the face that night. "In my entire life, I'll disdain anything of yours, including your property, status, and even the name!" Henrietta left these words before running out. He thought that as soon as her anger subsided, she would come back and admit her mistake. After all, it was her fault.

He didn't expect that he wouldn't see her again for several days. When he came to his senses, he tried all means to find her. She seemed to have disappeared, from the world.

"Your mother was stubborn. She really meant it when she said she wanted to abandon her last name," he slowly said.

His tone was full of guilt for Henrietta. Back then, if he hadn't been deceived, how could he have misunderstood her? As he misunderstood her, she disdained him and the Young family even more.

On the hospital bed, Kelly couldn't help but feel funny when she heard the reason. Angelica was indeed the person who knew Celeste the best.

For some reason, Celeste changed her full name in order not to be found by the Young family. Perhaps there were other reasons.

Oliver was so sure that she didn't want to be related to the Young family. That was great. She glanced at Rose without any trace and sneered in her heart.

On the surface, she pretended not to understand the situation as she said, "But, Mr. Young Senior and I She looked confused. Oliver understood her meaning.

He patted her hand lovingly and explained, "You're the daughter to my daughter. You're my blood-related granddaughter..."

Kelly seemed to understand as she looked shocked.

After thinking about it for a while, she seemed not to believe it as she said, "How is it possible? How can I be your granddaughter? Are you mistaken? You must be mistaken!"

Rose came to her senses. She also felt that Oliver must have been mistaken. Not only her, but Anastasia also hoped that everything was a misunderstanding.

Someone had suddenly appeared as Oliver's granddaughter, and this person was Kelly.

However, Oliver said seriously, "Mistaken? How come I'm mistaken? I'm sorry that I took your hair and asked Miles to do a blood test without your consent. We are blood-related. Your mother is my only daughter. Since we are blood-related, if you're not my granddaughter, who will it be? Furthermore, Miles had gone to the orphanage to investigate. The result is that you're the bloodline of the Young family."

He seemed to have completed a knot that had been in his heart for so many years. Looking at Kelly, he decided to give her the best things in the world. Kelly pretended to be shocked by the news.

Her pupils were slightly dilated as if she was at a loss

"Mr. Young Senior..." she called.

As soon as she spoke, Oliver corrected her, "You should call me Grandpa."

"But..."

Kelly gritted her teeth as she looked awkward. As she met Rose gaze, she looked aggrieved and frightened. Rose secretly rolled her eyes.

She was good at acting. She was putting the blame on her at Young Estate just now, and now she was trying to blame her again.

She didn't expect Kelly to be Oliver's granddaughter. However, she found it weird.

Kelly's look fell into Oliver's eyes. He immediately looked at Rose and said, "Rosie, Kelly is my granddaughter. If you care for her, you'll still be my granddaughter. Apologize to Kelly for what happened earlier, then I'll let it go."

The implication was that he wouldn't pursue her responsibility if she apologized to Kelly. However, she had never had any intention of reviving Oliver of the Young family.

The reason why she became Oliver's granddaughter was just because he regarded her as a consolation for losing his daughter. Now that he had found his granddaughter, her existence became meaningless. She was not attached to the identity of the heiress to the Young family. However, after getting along with him during this time, she developed feelings for him in her heart.

She met Oliver's gaze with a smile on her face. That smile made him feel particularly uncomfortable.

He looked away and urged, "Apologize!"

Rose never intended to apologize. Even though Kelly became Oliver's granddaughter, it wouldn't change her heartfelt dislike for her.

She couldn't apologize since she was not the one who hurt Kelly.

"Grandpa..." she called.

Her tone was full of emotion, which made Oliver frown.

Then, she continued, "Congratulations to Grandpa for finding your biological granddaughter and reuniting with her. Today is a good day. However, I don't like her, and I can't go against my will to protect her. It's even impossible for me to apologize."

As she said this, not only Oliver, but Miles's face also darkened. He looked at her in shock and tried to stop her from talking.

grateful that Grandpa has However, Rose didn't give him a chance as she continued with a smile, "I'm been supporting me for so long and making me so prosperous. You have to live well in the future. If you want to make a public announcement to expel me from the Young family, please do so. There's no need to worry about me."

Her words were beyond everyone's expectations.

Honey You're a Billionaire Chapter 230

Chapter 230 She Chose to Step Back

Even Kelly and Anastasia were surprised. Rose... She chose to sever ties with the Young family rather than apologize! Mr. Young Senior's face darkened and frowned.

He didn't want to exile her from the Young family. He merely aimed to stand up for Kelly and assert some authority for his recently found granddaughter. He wanted her to earn their respect

But Rose's words caught him off guard. Mr. Young Senior looked displeased.

Miles wanted to explain and mediate, but before he could speak, Rose crouched down and gently stroked Mr. Young Senior's furrowed brow.

A moment of surprise flickered across Mr. Young Senior's face. His anger faded.

"Grandpa, you shouldn't be angry," Rose whispered as she rested her head on his knee, reminiscent of their time in the Young Estate's living room.

Although Rose had decided to cut ties with the Young family, she couldn't help feeling a twinge of reluctance toward Mr. Young Senior. Yet, it couldn't be helped. Kelly and she couldn't coexist.

She found the idea of lowering herself to Kelly repulsive. Kelly would find ways to drive her away even if she didn't leave voluntarily. Rose didn't want Kelly to disrupt the peace of the Young family for her sake.

Nor did she want Grandpa to be hurt in the process. Therefore, she chose to step back. Rose took a deep breath. Suppressing her reluctance, she raised her head and stood up.

Then, she bowed to Mr. Young Senior and left the hospital room. Throughout, she wore a smile. Even as her figure disappeared entirely from the room, the others inside remained immersed.

It was Kelly who snapped out of it first. Kelly glanced at the bewildered Mr. Young Senior, fearing he might soften towards Rose. Feeling guilty, she almost cried.

"Sir, Rose is upset. I don't want her to apologize. It's not Rose's fault. I'll go bring her back."

Kelly attempted to get off the bed. With needles in her hand for the IV, the needle accidentally shifted and caused the tubing on her hand to start bleeding.

Mr. Young Senior saw this and immediately shifted his attention from Kelly.

"Kelly, don't move," he urged. Miles was concerned about him falling and quickly supported him.

However, Mr. Young Senior was solely focused on Kelly. Hearing Kelly's painful cry, Mr. Young Senior couldn't care less about himself.

He urged Miles, "Miles, quickly, check on Kelly."

Although Miles didn't like Kelly, he couldn't defy Mr. Young Senior's words. Miles grabbed Kelly, and Patrick swiftly called a doctor to remove the IV needle from her hand.

Kelly's hand had a swelling spot, but her mind was still on Rose.

"I need to find Rose. She must have gone far away." Kelly's apparent concern for Rose made her seem even more immature.

Mr. Young Senior's strange feeling towards Rose vanished instantly after Kelly's commotion, only to be replaced by displeasure.

“If she’s left, let her be gone,” Mr. Young Senior said sternly.

“But, Sir...”

Kelly wanted to say more, but Mr. Young Senior interrupted, “Kelly, I’m your grandfather, so stop calling me Sir. I only have one daughter, and that’s your mother. Call me Grandpa.”

Mr. Young Senior looked at Kelly with anticipation. Kelly hesitated for a moment, her innocent expression tinged with fear.

She even glanced nervously at Miles and Anastasia, as if she hadn’t fully processed the shocking revelation that she was Mr. Young Senior’s biological granddaughter.

In that fleeting glance at Anastasia, the sneer in Anastasia’s heart couldn’t be concealed. Unexpectedly, Kelly was Mr. Young Senior’s biological granddaughter.

Even if her begging for Rose was true, the way she acted seemed genuinely deceptive. Anastasia was certain that Kelly deliberately wanted to drive Rose away.

“Kelly, what are you waiting for? Grandpa said you’re his granddaughter. Call Grandpa!”

Anastasia stepped in with a warm smile. Mr. Young Senior wanted them to treat Kelly well. She couldn’t oppose that “Gr... Grandpa... Kelly stammered.

Though Mr. Young Senior hadn’t found his daughter, hearing Kelly call him Grandpa made him happy.

“Good, good, good,” he repeated thrice, seemingly putting Rose completely out of mind.

Mr. Young Senior instructed sternly as he looked at Miles and Anastasia, “Kelly has suffered a lot over the years. As her siblings, you must protect her well.”

“Grandpa, rest assured. Now that Kelly’s back with the Young family, she won’t suffer anymore,” Anastasia said as she affectionately held Kelly’s hand.

Anastasia’s flattering attitude pleased Kelly. Just days ago, Anastasia had been disdainful, but now, she was trying to please her.

Kelly felt a hint of disdain toward Anastasia, yet she dared not show it in front of Mr. Young Senior.

After getting Anastasia’s assurance, Kelly cautiously glanced at Miles. Following her gaze, Mr. Young Senior noticed Miles, who seemed lost in thought.

Miles

He called out, what about you?"

Anastasia had expressed her stance, what about him? Miles couldn't focus as his mind was on Rose. But catching Mr. Young Senior's gaze, he forced a smile and said against his will.

"Grandpa, don't worry, I'll take good care of her."

A smile finally appeared on Kelly's face. In her mind, Rose had to be eliminated to solidify her current position. Kelly wouldn't allow Rose a chance to disrupt her life. Moreover, there was also Jonathan.

While Kelly was thinking about Jonathan, Anastasia, too, had Jonathan on her mind.

In the entire hospital room, except for Mr. Young Senior and Patrick, who were overjoyed, the other three were lost in thought.

Suddenly, Anastasia loudly suggested, "Grandpa, since Kelly is back, shouldn't we let everyone know? After all, when you acknowledged Rose as your granddaughter, it caused quite a stir in Aquastead!"

Her implication was clear. Just as Rose had her place, the true Young family heiress should also be recognized. Mr. Young Senior, already happy, found this suggestion very much to his liking.

"Good, good, Anastasia, you arrange it! The grander, the better!"

Mr. Young Senior felt excited as he held Kelly's hand.

"Kelly, you don't have to do anything. Just focus on recovering from your injuries. Oh, and Miles, select a few sets of dresses for Kelly, along with jewelry. Everything must be top-notch!"