

Honey, Please Love Someone Else

Chapter 103 - Her Kisses

We returned back to the home. As soon I entered, Stella came running at me. She was tensed, her eyes were restless.

" What happened? Is everything all right?" She asked.

" Yes, yes. Everything's fine now. " I pulled her closer to my chest, embracing her into a hug.

" You are not hiding anything from me?...Right? " Frowning at my face she asks.

" Of course not. Calm down. Don't think so negatively. Instead you should prepare yourself for a good news." Pressing her lips firmly together, she raised her right eyebrow.

" Good news?" I released her from my tight embrace. She began to stare at me in confusion wondering about my words. Just then Mr. Carlton came along with Neil.

Funny thing is, he was actually practising the speech before doing it in front of his daughter. I raised my thumb up to cheer him up.

" Stella... ummm I have decided that... you will be working at our company. " Thank god it wasn't too long. He said it without any hesitation. Honestly, it's far better than dragging it out with unnecessary talk.

" Wait what? Are you serious, dad? " Stella's eyes widen with shock. She wasn't ready to believe her own ears.

" Yes. If you really want to work somewhere then you better do it under my watch. Starting from next week, I'll be your new boss. Cool?" I gotta say, my father-in-law is indeed a funny guy. But I shouldn't forget his fearsome side too.

Stella hugs his father with such warmth. Those eyes of her were on the verge of tears. They would start flowing any time soon. A smile so bright, so beautiful shaped on his mouth.

Suddenly there were no sign of the stress. The melancholy of her wounded soul have been cured. All the sadness was gone, lifted away from her life.

She seemed truly happy.

We went back to Stella's room. This will be the second time for me to sleep in her room. I laid my tired body on that cozy bed. My eyes were closed when I felt the weight of my wife on my chest.

" What happened with Adam? " As I half opened my eyes, Stella's beautiful face flashed on me. She was so close. So close that I can admire her stunning features evidently.

" He's never gonna think of you again. " I chuckled remembering the situation. This is going to be most funniest thing I have ever witnessed. " I'll tell you all the details tomorrow. So, don't make that sad face. You should rather be happy. Things are going on the right direction. You dad wants you to work for him. Can you imagine? Your dad, finally agreed!"

" It's all thanks to you." She literally can't stop thanking me.

Just what am I ? Your God? Holy Jesus?

" No, no. I won't take any credit. You're making me blush. Jeez!" I replied back sarcastically, letting out a giggle.

" I'm serious, Theo! I'm really, really, really, grateful to you. I can't repa-" On that moment I remembered a crucial matter.

" On the topic of repaying, make sure your parents never finds out about our contract marriage. Especially your dad." With a serious face I told her.

" Relax. Those papers are destroyed. They'll never find out." She replied with confidence.

" I'm dead serious, Stella. We can't deny the past that happened. The idea may have been yours but I too agreed to it and gave my contribution. Besides you and me only few peoples knows. So, let's take this secret to our graves. Shall we?"

" Yes, of course. I never intended to disclose that matter on the first place."

" I'm not worried about you though. After seeing Neil, I gotta make sure he seals up his mouth." It didn't take her long to understand what I meant. Neil can't keep his thoughts locked up. It can be a real issue someday.

I was getting worried sick thinking about all those possible ways of my death penalties and my lovely wife—— Stella started to laugh.

Like seriously! How can you be so cruel?

" What?..... don't laugh, okay? Your dad can be a dangerous guy for real. And those guns.... image being shot by those bullets from head to toe." My words only made her giggle like a child.

" You are worrying for nothing. He won't go that far." She tried to stop her laughing but failed miserably.

" Excuse me, baby. But I was there with your dad, watching the whole thing. The whole thing. Got it?" Being annoyed and heartbroken by this betrayal, I spoke up about my fears.

" I see. You must have seen something terrible. Let me ease up your mind." Stella brings her face closer to mine and touches my lips with hers.

Now this is what I need the most. I can't remember well when was the last time we had some intimacy. These stressful days were keeping us apart. So, I took this opportunity facetiously.

My large arms were wrapped around her body. The sweet smell of flowers hit on nose. Perhaps she took a bath when we left for Adam's house.

Meanwhile I only washed my face before laying on body on the bed. The smell of sweat wasn't really strong, yet I regretted for not taking a bath.

Trust me, I was too lazy to take one.

Forgetting about that silly insecurity, I focused myself on Stella. Our tongues were tangled into a knot. The more she pushed her tongue into mine, the more I thrust my tongue into her sweet little mouth.

Our breathing was getting faster and heavier. My hand found it's place in her privet spot. I can feel the wetness on my fingers.

Damn! Her sticky juices were leaking already.

I freed myself from the passionate kiss, lowering my head to her glory hole. I inserted two fingers without any notice. She let out a mōàn of pleàsurè, ringing my ears with it.

I continued to play with her clít, inserting my other fingers. More juices begun to flow like a waterfall.

Stella was whimpering, making such lascivious móàns. Those lèwd sounds were driving me crazy.

The torture only continues as I placed my tongue. A replacement for the fingers.

" Ahhhh!" She móàns louder. I suckèd the nectar from her body.

What a delightful taste! I want more and more.

" Please..... put it in." I have been teasing her for long. It's time for my little guy to go on an adventure.

Undoing my pants, I shoved my rock hard pènìs inside her. Since she was drenched already I was able to smoothy penetrate that honey cave at ease.

Tonight, I shall fill her up with all my love.

P.S. - more S-e-x is cùmmìngggggggg. XD
