Aurora swallowed. The sexual tension in his living room was so thick that she could cut it with a knife. She nodded lightly, words didn't come out of her mouth and that was enough for Liam to understand what she wanted.

He snaked an arm around her and picked her in his arms. Aurora hid her face in his chest, inhaling his spicy masculine scent which intoxicated her mind. Her breathing turned heavy as she watched his massive king size bed.

Liam plopped Aurora on the bed, a smile playing on his lips. Aurora was scared, excited. Anxious. She was having a roller coaster of emotions at this moment and watching Liam unbuttoning his shirt that roller coaster took a wild twisted turn. She flipped her lips inside and left a shivered breath.

He touched her naked leg with his palm, feeling her silky flesh. Every hair on her body arose and Aurora's beat picked an uneven rhythm. She squirmed on the silk bed sheet, fishing it with both her hands. "Liam..." she whispered wildly when his hand travelled to her calf.

"Close your eyes and feel the pleasure, little one. From now on your life will be filled with it only, get used to it." He said and placed a soft kiss on her inner thigh.

He inhaled her intoxicating scent. Liam's body went feral by the fragrance of her arousal. He wanted nothing else than f**k her wildly like he wanted to but he didn't want to scare her.

He shook his head. Frigid! He laughed at the stupid thought about herself. What kind of stupid sexual partner was the ex-fiance. Liam knew she was a virgin, she had told it herself not that he needed her words to know that but the thought of her being some other man irritated him to the core. He wanted nothing else but to show her what pleasure feels like.

"May I take off your panties, Mrs Knight?" He asked.

Aurora didn't have the strength to speak. She was into another world. His touch had made her drunk but she was not ready to... oh she didn't know what to say. Mentally she was not ready to have sex but her body was begging for a kind of release she knew only he could give her.

There was a lot Visit to read the newest content, everyone! what to say and a sob left her throat.

Liam frowned when he heard a sob. It was not the sound of her Visit to read the newest content, everyone! face, Aurora was under his body while his naked chest was rubbing against her bra clad bosom as the red dress was trampled down from her shoulders. His male part touched her lower abdomen. Liam's body demanded pleasure too but he kept denying it. Tonight was about her, he would take his pleasure later but today was about her.

"Look at me, little one." He asked softly. Aurora opened her eyes softly and stared into his. "Liam..." once again, she sobbed.

"Tell me what Visit to read the newest content, everyone! will stop," he tried to stand up but Aurora held his bicep.

"No! Please don't leave me alone. Liam." She said before he could move.

Liam sighed. She was testing his patience but he stayed in that lover boy character. "Then what happened little one?"

Aurora gulped. "I want you close to me. I want to feel..." she stopped herself from speaking further. She didn't want to sound like a mean girl who just cared about her pleasure.

She recalled how once Susan told her about the guy who only wanted to use her for his pleasure but denied reciprocating the favour.

Liam arched his brows. "But you are not ready for the sex, right?" He asked, running his fingers through her cheek. "I understand your hesitation, little one and I promise to not do anything you don't want me to do but let me tell you what pleasure feels like. Let me show you that you are a temptress whose mere presence was enough for me to get wild in want and right now I feel like the world's luckiest man."

Tears rolled down through the corner of her eyes. The gift he was giving her through his words was the world's greatest pleasure he could give her. "Show me," she whispered.

Liam placed a soft kiss on her forehead then like a chain he moved south to her nose, placing a soft kiss on it he pecked on her lips softly. His lips moved to her Adam's apple and then to her collarbone. Aurora gasped when he kissed her bra clad n**ples and then the area between them. Liam placed a soft kiss on her belly button then kissed her pelvic area. She was still wearing her red silk dress, Liam didn't remove it from her body, it clung to her like a second skin. He raised her dress above her hips.

Aurora held her dress above and watched as Liam smiled at her. She frowned, not getting the reason behind his mischievous smile but then his fingers slid down her panty. Aurora's eyes widened. She thought he would try to finger her just like Gabriel did, she was a little scared recalling how painful the experience was for her but Liam did something unexpected.

He kissed her there, an unbelievable sensation ran through her body. "Liam..." she moaned wildly. She thought it was the peak of her pleasure but no it was just the starting because then he ran his tongue over her wetness and Aurora's toes curled in delight and what she felt after it couldn't be described in words.

Aurora struggled to remain on earth; she was flying without wings. She didn't know if she was alive or dead but she was not on earth.

"Oh God Liam please no more!" She couldn't handle the sensations; it was too much for her but Liam didn't stop. She tasted sweet there as if he was tasting a candy. Liam hates sweetness but today he was ready to eat as much as he could. He had waited too long for the moment. This was heaven for him.

He knew she was close to her orgasm, Aurora didn't know what was happening to her body but she felt a pressure building inside her. She wanted to let it go but something stopped her. She didn't know what but then she felt his thumb drawing a circle on her va**na while still licking her and she cried in relief. For a moment blackness came in front of her vision but when she came to her senses and the stars that danced in front of her eyes subsided she found herself out of her dress, only in her undergarments.

Her face was on Liam's chest while he was holding her in his arms. Aurora could feel his naked flesh but he was not naked, just like hers he too was wearing his undies.

"Do you still feel frigid Little one?" Liam asked, kissing her hair.

Aurora smiled. She kissed his chest, held him tightly and shook her head. "No, I feel like a satisfied woman."

Liam arched his brows and tightened his hold on hers. "My woman!"

Aurora smiled. "Only yours," she accepted Liam with her heart at that moment.

Liam slipped out of the bed when he noticed that Aurora had fallen asleep. He picked his cell phone and dialed Mike who answered the first ring.

"Sir."

"Have you caught the man or not?" He asked Mike who was silent for some time then answered. "I almost did sir but..."

Liam's body stiffened. "But, what? Have you caught him or not?"

"He is at the airport right now sir." Liam ended the call in anger and cursed.

"Damn him to hell!"

"Try to find out where he is going?"

Liam ended the call and dialled Ethan who accepted his call on the sixth ring. "I hope there is good news, Liam."

If anything Liam's mood soured even more hearing his authoritarian tone. The bastard couldn't even handle a cheap restaurant owner. "There is good news, your daughter's ex-fiance came to meet her."

Ethan on the other end stood up from his chair with lightning speed. "That's impossible. I have handled him."

"So what was he, a ghost? Goddamn, Ethan, do you know what you have done? The man is alive..."

"He met Aurora. It seems you can't work your magic on my daughter. You want to rule the heart of Canada and couldn't even charm my girl. How would you handle the business?.."

A hot red fury ran through Liam's body. "I think your age is working on you, Ethan. Didn't you hear when I said Ex-fiance? She is mine now, on her free will. Aurora officially broke up with that cheap man and accepted me and I am going to rule the Canadian mafia Ethan, charming your daughter has nothing to Visit to read the newest content, everyone! for the sake of my father, don't take my patience for granted."

Ethan shrank his eyes. If there was any other day and Visit to read the newest content, everyone! depended on him, he wouldn't have listened to Liam. Using guns to solve matters was far easier for men like them than tolerating each other's presence for peace.

"Same goes for you, Liam. If it's not about my daughter's safety I would have killed you by now."

At that Liam chuckled. "May have tried but no one succeeded, old man. My man followed that lover boy, he is at the airport right now. My guess is he is coming back to Churchill and if Visit to read the newest content, everyone! care about him anymore."

Ethan fisted his hands and tolerated his tone. He reminded himself that he was doing it for his daughter's future and Liam was right, Gabriel was alive and he could be a problem in future for them. Aurora was naive, what if she would have a change of heart in the future. Ethan couldn't take the risk. Gabriel James has to die and die he will.

Ethan called Thomas and asked about Gabriel's death. "Then how the hell Visit to read the newest content, everyone! to meet Aurora!"

Even Thomas was shocked hearing Ethan. "Impossible! I asked our alliance in the USA to handle him."

"They said they handled him."

"Call them and find out."

Thomas did as he was asked and once again received the same answer from the assassin. "He is still alive!" Thomas informed him flatly. "Now listen to me you son of a bitch, if you want to stay alive then find out what went wrong?"

Thomas ended the call and glanced at Ethan who was seething in anger.

"This man has become a pain in the ass."

"Let him come to Churchill. I will personally do the job this time," Thomas said, patting Ethan's shoulder.

"I just want my Aurora to have a happy future, Thomas. I want to fulfil my promise to Savannah."

Thomas didn't reply, only patting his shoulder to comfort him.

Meanwhile, Liam went back to his bedroom and watched Aurora sleeping peacefully hugging his pillow. He sighed, going near he touched her face with the back of his fingers. She squirmed a little, a small smile played on her lips in her sleep. Her blonde hair fanned on the pillow and she looked like a goddess.

"You are making me do things I have never done for anyone, little one."

Aurora's eyes fluttered and she slowly opened them. "Don't leave me alone, please, Liam."

He sharpened his eyes. "I am not going anywhere little one," he whispered silkily, touching her lower lip with his thumb.

She held his wrist. "Then why are you out of the bed," she glanced at the window, it was still dark outside. "It's not morning yet?" She stiffened, recalling how tired she got after her relief. She didn't think about his pleasure.

Aurora sat up in the bed and pulled out the sheets to cover bo**m. Liam chuckled at her antics. "I am so sorry, I didnt think about your relief. Do you want me to do something for you?"

Liam scowled. "Something, exactly what you are offering Little one? A blowjob or a handjob? He asked.

Aurora looked down, she felt like a schoolgirl who was asked by the teacher to solve an equation on the board in front of the whole class. The only problem was she didnt know how to solve the equation.

"Whatever you want," she said, quietly.

Liam held her chin between his forefinger and thumb, raising her face to look into her eyes but her eyes were still looking down.

"Look at me little one," he ordered and like a natural submissive she raised her eyes, gazing into his.

"Tonight was about you, I wanted to break that stupid thought you had about yourself and now that you know the reality of you being a hot red vixen in bed, we can do whatever we want. I want to show you a lot of pleasure Aurora but I want a promise from you, little one."

She searched his eyes. "What promise?"

He wrapped an arm around her waist and pulled her closer to himself. Aurora was basically lying on his body. Her golden locks of hair fell on her face. Liam cleared the curtain of hair with his finger and put them behind her ear.

"I want you to promise me that if in future I do something which you don't like then you will say no to me immediately, doesn't matter how far we went. I want you to enjoy our time, not suffer it, Aurora. I don't want to see the fear in your eyes again which I saw last night. You are my equal in every way. Do you understand me?"

A butterfly fluttered in her heart. She couldn't believe he was the same Liam who she thought was a narcissistic bully.

Aurora nodded, touching her head with his. "Join me in the bed, Liam." She said touching his naked chest with her fingers.

Liam inclined and settled in bed with her. Once again her head was in his chest while he was caressing her hair as if she was a child he was trying to sleep but Aurora was not sleepy anymore. If anything she was wide awake, she wanted to talk to him, know him, tease him.

She wanted to do silly things with Liam. A giggle left her throat love the thought but then joy vanished from her eyes. What if he didn't like her true self like Gabriel. What if he was serious and workaholic just like Gabriel.

Liam felt a change in her energy. "Share your thoughts little one." He asked lazily.

"It's nothing."

"Don't lie, Mrs Knight!"

She raised her head and watched his face. His eyes were closed but he was awake. Aurora bit her lip watching his beautiful face. He has a perfect nose, a perfect pair of eyes and lips, he is perfect. Too handsome to be described in words.

"Liam, do you like me the way I am?"

At that Liam opened an eye and peeked at her. He was too lazy to open the other one, "yes, I like the way you are. I like this childlike innocence in you, the way you sing although I didn't like your voice it was hard to hear..."

Aurora slapped his chest for teasing her when she saw the wiggling of his lips. "You are cruel!" She hides her face in his chest.

Liam chuckled seeing her shy away from him, after a while, she fell asleep and he rolled his eyes. He hated her childishness. He didn't want to do stupid Vanilla sex with her after the first time. If anything he wanted to f**k her hard. Liam Knight wanted to imprint himself in her soul.

He wanted her to remember that he was the master of her life with every breath she takes but he couldn't say all these things to her. Not yet at least. He came too far to ruin this for himself.

He was just a few steps away from his goal and he would be damned if he would let anything Visit to read the newest content, everyone! himself.

The next day, when Aurora woke up she was alone in bed. She sighed and hid her face in her hands. "You Visit to read the newest content, everyone! the way you are, he didn't want to change you for himself. He loves you a lot!"

There was no limit to Aurora's happiness, she was flying without wings. She touched her mother's necklace and closed her eyes. "I promise to be the best girl for you, Liam. I promise to do everything for your happiness. I promise you, Liam Knight!"

After the emotional morning, she went to shower but the problem was she didn't bring any clothes with her last night. She curled Visit to read the newest content, everyone! the solution to her problem and an idea popped into her mind. Aurora went to his closet to search for something to wear but what she saw made her eyes widen and her heart stop.

"What the hell is all this?" She mumbled looking at the walk-in closet. Half of it was filled with women's clothes and there was every kind of dress hanging in it. From casual to party, nightdresses to lingerie and not only that there were almost hundreds of footwear Visit to read the newest content, everyone! were makeup products were present there as well. It was clear from the look of his closet that a girl lives with him, in his room.

"Then who am I?" Tears perked in her eyes over the thought. Her legs turned to jelly, she felt claustrophobic all of a sudden and with all her strength she ran out of the closet. She wanted to get out of here as soon as possible.

Tears blurred her vision and in hurry to get away from Visit to read the newest content, everyone! into him harshly.

The food tray in Liam's hand fell on the floor and shattered into pieces. Aurora fell on the floor and yelped in pain when the broken glass stuck into her elbow.

"Aurora..." he took her name sharply when she fell on the floor and the glass stuck on her hand. His eyes widened seeing the blood oozing out of her hand.

"Goddamn it, show me your hand, Aurora," he howled, grabbing her hand.

"Don't touch me you cheat!" She snatched her hand away from his and cried seeing the blood. She never saw this much blood in her life except for her period blood.

Liam's eyes flashed in anger. He grabbed her hand tightly to examine her wound. The glass was stuck deep into her skin. "Leave me!" She tried to wiggle out of his arms when he picked her up and took her to the bed.

The same bed where she felt pleasure for the first time in her life. "Stop moving and let me clear your wound."

He opened the side table drawer and pulled out the medical kit from it. Aurora winced when he clung to the glass from her skin. "It will burn a little." He warned before dabbing the alcohol-based antiseptic liquid on her wound.

"Now tell me why the hell you are crying and calling me a cheater?" He demanded sharply.

"You don't know that? How could you do that to Liam?" She said and stood up from the bed as if it had burned her skin. Even the thought of sleeping in his bed which he shared with another woman burned her alive.

"How could you bring me here when you live with another woman here, how could you?" She yelled in suffocation over the thought.

Liam's nose flared in anger. He grabbed her uninjured hand. "I don't live here with anyone. You are the only girl who ever stepped into my room!"

Aurora snatched her hand and pushed him away from her. "Stop lying, I saw a woman's clothes in your closet. If no girl lives here with you then what was all that?"

Liam closed his eyes to remain calm when all he wanted was violence. She stepped closer to her and gritted out in a dark and scary voice, "the clothes and other accessories in that closet belong to my wife."

Aurora's heart stopped. He has a wife! This was more twisted than she thought. "Your wife? You are married and you still..."

He grabbed her jaw, stopping her from speaking any further "My wife, Mrs Aurora Liam Knight!" Saying that he left her face with a jerk and walked out of the room leaving a stunned Aurora behind.

Aurora watched her move out of the room. She didn't know what to do so she remained standing there like a statue. His words were fixed in her mind.

My wife, Mrs Aurora Liam Knight!

She gulped and forced herself to walk inside the closet. Aurora touched the dresses and as he said everything was up to her size. The dresses were from her favourite designer, the shoes were to her size and the style was just what she wore. The makeup products were from her favourite brand. Every single thing in the closet was customised to her liking.

A heavy lump formed in her throat. She swallowed it painfully and with shaking hands pulled out a casual pair of jeans and top. Once dressed she walked downstairs and tried to find Liam but he was nowhere to be found.

She thought she was alone in his big penthouse until she whiffed the smell of garlic and herbs. It was clear that there was a kitchen there and someone was cooking.

With heavy legs, she walked there and found an old lady cooking. She smiled when her eyes fell on Aurora.

"Welcome, madam. Hope you liked the breakfast of something that was not to your liking. Please share with me. I would be careful not to cook it in future."

"What's your name?" Aurora asked, her voice thick from the unshed tears.

"Oh, I apologise, madam, I am Paulina and I work as the housekeeper here."

Aurora nodded. "I am Aurora Kings."

"I know madam, Mr knight already told me about you. I hope you like the way your clothes were set. If you want to change something, do let me know about it."

If anything, Aurora felt even more guilty for accusing Liam. "No, everything is okay, can you tell me where Liam is?"

Paulina smiled. "Mr Knight left in a hurry Visit to read the newest content, everyone! to ask."

She shook her head. "No, please carry on with your work, I am going to my home," saying that she walked Visit to read the newest content, everyone! please stop."

Aurora halted in her steps and waited for her to speak. She took a breath before speaking, "a driver is waiting for you to take you home or wherever you want to go."

Aurora nodded and left his house. The driver opened the door of a black Mercedes-Benz for her. Aurora watched the passing building through the window.

Last night started as a nightmare and ended up as the most beautiful dream she ever had but she ruined the morning with her stupidity. Visit to read the newest content, everyone! as possible. Aurora glanced at the time in her wristwatch. She was ready late for the office.

She was halfway through her home when she asked the driver to take her to the office. Liam should be there, She thought and her heart picked up the speed at the thought.

Even though everything was the same it still felt different. She went to her cabin and tried to work on the design but she couldn't concentrate on it. She needed to see Liam.

Aurora stood up and went to meet him in his cabin. She asked the floor receptionist to meet Liam but she pinched her lips in a thin line.

"I am sorry, Aurora but Mr Knight is busy."

Aurora fisted her hand and a memory of her apologising to Gabriel flashed in her mind. She recalled how he made her stand all day in his office presenting as if she didn't exist and Aurora refused to be treated in the same manner. She hated it and if this relationship had a single chance of working then Liam needed to understand it too.

She wouldn't walk on the same humiliating path again. She turned and walked towards Liam's office and without bothering with a knock she opened the door with a bang.

"I want to talk to...you," she whispered the last part in shock rather than anger when she saw seven pairs of eyes turned her way.

Aurora bit her lip in apprehension. "There is a meeting going on here!" She whispered, bewildered.

"Yes, that's why I said you can't meet him, Aurora." The receptionist said from behind startling her.

"I guess I have to postpone the meeting for later as you all can see that my girlfriend is demanding my time now, if you don't mind gentleman can we meet again in an hour," Liam said standing up from the head of the chair and everyone in the meeting laughed.

Aurora scolded herself mentally over creating another blunder in a single day. She moved a little, giving the gentlemen space to move out of the cabin. When everyone left Aurora walked inside and stood there looking down, fidgeting her fingers.

She felt stupid for behaving like this. "I am sorry for spoiling your meeting. I didn't know about it until..."

"Until you banged out the door and demanded my time."

If only earth could swallow her! She nodded. "Yes."

Aurora inhaled sharply and gathered all her strength to walk to him. She gazed into his eyes and said: "Liam, I am sorry for accusing you. I was shocked to see feminine clothes in your closet."

His cheek rose. "I will forgive you but only on one condition, Aurora."

She gulped. "What?"

"Accept that you were jealous."

"I accept," she said without a single second's delay. Aurora sighed and touched his chest where his heart was. "I love you, Liam, I didn't know when I fell for you but today after looking at those clothes in your closet I know one thing that I won't be able to see you with another woman, ever. I felt suffocated when the thought of you doing the same things you did to me came to my mind."

Liam was stunned. Loyalty was never on the deal between Ethan and him. He made sure to Ethan that he would not be getting his di*k stuck with Aurora. She was soft and delicate and Liam knew she wouldn't be able to handle his kinky lifestyle but she was demanding his loyalty today and Liam was not sure if he could give it to her.

His Purchased Wife CHAPTER 97

He took her chin between his finger and thumb and raised her chin. “I ordered those clothes and accessories after we returned from the island. I chose every single thing in that closet for you. From Lingerie to shoes, Aurora. There is only you in my mind since I saw you and I would never think about cheating on you, I give you my words.”

Liam didn't know where the words were coming from, all he knew was that he wanted to ease her doubts. He wanted to see her smile all the time.

Aurora swallowed and stepped closer to him. She touched his face and stood on tip-toes to come closer to his face and then she placed her lips on his. Aurora poured her soul into the kiss. She was conveying her feelings for him in her kiss.

Liam took over the kiss and it turned from slow and gentle to urgent and passionate. Liam kissed her as if his life depended on it. He turned around, Aurora's back was facing the mahogany desk while Liam was holding both of their weights on his palm which was flattened on the desk.

They kissed for a long time and only left each other when they struggled for oxygen.

Liam settled on the sofa and Aurora was sitting on his lap with her head in his neck, enjoying the moment of love between them. “Let's get married, Aurora.”

Aurora looked at him with wide eyes. He was staring into her eyes calmly as if he had not just dropped a bomb on Aurora. She chuckled. “Are you joking with me?”

Liam grabbed her elbow, his eyes darkened, “no, absolutely not. I want to marry you as soon as possible, Aurora. I want you to carry my name officially and proudly in front of everyone.”

Aurora inhaled sharply and stood up from his lap. Her back was facing Liam who stood up and went near her. “What happens? Don't you want to get married to me, Aurora?” He asked, his voice turning sharp.

Aurora shook her head, she turned and looked into his eyes. “No, I don't want to repeat the same mistake, Liam. I don't want to make any decision in haste. I want to know you first. I am ready to date you but not for marriage.”

As if someone has poured hot boiling oil over his head. A hot red fury ran through his body. The girl was making him insane with her unnecessary drama. The commission meeting was in two months and she was showing tantrums to him.

Damn her to hell and that sick father of hers for putting that sick deal with him. Visit to read the newest content, everyone! to marry her at gunpoint.

“Are you calling me a mistake, Mrs Knight?”

Aurora sensed a change in his tone. She understood that she Visit to read the newest content, everyone! repeat the same mistake. Aurora went near him and rested her hand against his cheek. He sharpened his eyes, darkness was still visible in his gaze but she knew how to eradicate it.

Aurora smiled. "You are my best decision, Liam. I could never call you a mistake but try to understand my viewpoint. I don't want to jump into unknown water without knowing its depth. I love you, yes. I see my life with you, a hundred times yes. I want to Visit to read the newest content, everyone! I want to enjoy my dating life. I was always envious of Susan's dating life but I knew I could never do it like her. I waited for the right man and now I have found one. I want to live every little fantasy I had with you."

He pulled her closer to him, arched a brow and asked. "What kind of fantasies, Mrs Knight?"

She went near his ear and whispered, "you will get to know them slowly and in time, Mr Knight?" Visit to read the newest content, everyone! "Alright, wife. I will give you forty-five days to accept my marriage proposal and I will do everything in my power to make you accept my proposal in these forty-five days."

"Is this a challenge, Mr Knight?" She asked, linking her hands to his neck.

"Call it anything you want, Mrs Knight."

She raised her brows in pride. "Challenge accepted, Mr Knight."

"Be ready in two hours, we are going out for lunch." He informed her. "Nowhere in particular, right? This outfit will do?"

"It will," Liam nodded but then he removed her hands from his neck, creating a little distance between them, he gave her a look of seriousness.

"Have you completed your new design, Miss Kings?"

Aurora frowned. "What are you talking about Liam?" She asked when he suddenly talked professionally with her.

Liam cleared his throat. "I am asking about the new jewellery design, Aurora, have you finished it yet or not?" He asked again, enjoying her confusing state.

"No, not yet. I would have completed it yesterday but I didn't get the time..."

"And what kept you so busy that you couldn't finish the design?"

Aurora's mouth hung open, "you don't know what kept me busy last night?" She asked in a sharp tone.

Liam sighed. "I am your boss here, Aurora and I have told you once before to talk to me respectfully and I won't tolerate you skipping work just because we have a personal relationship with each other. Pay attention to your work."

The arrogant bully!

“Alright, I apologise for the delay, Mr Knight but my boyfriend kept me busy last night but I promise to be punctual from next time when even if my boyfriend has to suffer from blue balls!” She said in an overly sweet voice with an equivalent over sweet smile.

The look on Liam’s face cracked her up and she laughed freely. “Good day, Mr Knight,” she turned to leave but stopped and looked at him once again.

“And just to save time, I can’t go to lunch with you, Liam. My boss is a little demanding.”

Before he could say anything she ran out of his office smiling and happy.

Accepting Liam’s love proved to be the best decision of her life and she prayed for it to remain this way.
