

His True Colors Novel Chapter 2996 - 2997

Chapter 2996

George Han also hesitated. In fact, he didn't care. After all, he was eager to save people and had no distracting thoughts.

But the big beauty is different. After all, she is just a girl. If you let her know that she is being treated like that, how will she meet people?

But the problem is that this is the only way for George Han in this condition.

Moreover, it is very coincidental to meet the right time and place and people.

If it wasn't for George Han, the Poison King, or if it was George Han who was a descendant of Xianling Island, and had seen the strange medical skills left by the ancestor in the secret room, there was absolutely no possibility of her being saved.

This may be because God didn't want her to die.

What's more, George Han can't die without saving, whether it's from the ancestral precepts of saving people on Xianling Island or from a person's conscience.

"Sorry girl." As soon as George Han's voice fell, he drew close to her scented back slightly and began treatment.

The previous treatment method, in the final analysis, is to suck and pass, sucking is to suck out the large area of toxins accumulated in the wound by artificially sucking the wound.

George Han is the Poison King. His blood is full of various poisons, but at the same time he can be immune to various toxins. Therefore, the general rule is to use George Han to communicate with each other's blood in the process of inhaling her toxins to connect his body. The toxin caused by George Han's body.

When the fingers cut the black palm print on her back, George Han moved his mouth together, as if sucking snake venom, sucking out the black blood on her back mouth by mouth.

Not long after, a large pool of black blood was vomited on the ground, and at this time, as George Han sucked the blood from her back and vomited it out, the blackness of the blood had gradually faded.

This has already shown that the poison agglutinated in the wound has been almost absorbed, and at the moment, there is only the most important step left, through.

This needs to bring all the poison in her blood to George Han, which is the most critical step in the whole treatment of her.

Using the wounds of each other's wrists to intersect and the blood to meet is the best method and the most labor-saving method. It only needs to urge George Han's body to swallow the poison and protect her normal blood flow. can make George Han at this time look like a large blood filter, and all the poisonous blood in her body will be cleaned when passing by the intersection of the two wounds.

Although this process is relatively slow, for George Han, who is unable to transport much magic power today, it is the only extreme that can be done.

From the morning, suddenly to the afternoon, and from the afternoon to the evening.

Although there is still a faint energy protection between the two wounds, the blood flow in the wounds has already dried up and solidified. The paleness on the beauty's face has disappeared, and the blackness on the scented lips has disappeared, and the original delicacy has been restored. appearance.

“En...”

Suddenly, at this moment, the big beautiful woman's head moved slightly, followed by a slight wrinkle in Liu's eyebrows, and slowly opened her eyes.

She wanted to touch her aching temples. Although the toxins had been removed, the little trauma left before and lying on the stone slab for a whole day still made her feel somewhat uncomfortable.

But just when she wanted to stretch out her hand, she accidentally felt that her right hand seemed to be pressed by something, and there seemed to be something on her leg.

She endured uncomfortably, turned her head slightly, and was completely taken aback for a moment.

At this time, George Han has always been connected to her because of his wrist. From a certain point of view, it is as if he is holding her hand. The most exaggerated thing is that because George Han is just healed and is trying to save people. Weariness, long-term fatigue also made him fall asleep.

Because of the need to ventilate her all the time, George Han could only stand by the stone platform. After falling asleep, his head naturally and accidentally crooked beside her leg.

Although she was just beside her, for the big beautiful woman, since childhood, how could she have been so close to a man, and still have their hands close to each other?

At the moment, the big beautiful woman was shocked, she hunched up and sat up subconsciously, but when she sat, she suddenly felt a piece of cold on her back. She touched her hand and looked down and saw that she was pulled a little lower. On the spot, a scream that pierced people's eardrums burst into the entire cave...

Chapter 2997

not only caused George Han, who was too tired, to wake up in a hurry, but even the pangolin and the evil glutton who had been outside the cave for a whole day suddenly awakened from his sleep.

The pangolin glanced at the gluttony of evil, and the glutton of evil opened its eye in confusion and looked at the pangolin strangely.

The pangolin looked back at the outside of the cave. It had used a lot of dry grass and dead wood to make a soundproof hole since it came out. He shook his head helplessly, patted the gluttonous back of evil, and said: "Beasts."

gluttonous evil. He seemed to nodded, then closed one eye, leaned against each other with the pangolin, and fell asleep again.

And in the cave at this time, George Han, who was awakened by the scream, felt a pain in his eardrums, and was about to raise his hand to rub his ears, but the big beauty had already scared her legs.

"What are you doing? Smelly rascal, what do you want to do?"

"You, a beast with a human face and a beast heart, in vain I thought you were a good person, you actually..."

"Ah!!!"

Her legs were straight and slender, and she kicked her upright. George Han was kicked several times in a row, and with the harsh screams, she was depressed and could only reach out and grab her ankle, so that she would stop kicking.

"Can you calm down and listen to me explain?"

She was stunned, staring at George Han in a daze, but the next second, her beautiful eyes suddenly looked at George Han's hand holding her feet in panic. Suddenly, another scream struck... In the cave, even the gray stone on the top of the cave was collapsed in an instant...

George Han covered his ears, and she was almost stunned by her. , And waved his hand very depressed: “Don’t...don’t scream, I beg you.”

“I’m just helping you heal your injuries and detoxify you.”

“Detoxification, detoxification, you...” The big beautiful woman immediately retorted in a cold voice, but halfway through, she suddenly remembered the previous situation. After she was injured by the man in black, she did... “Then you can’t take me off.” Clothes.”

“You hurt your back. I won’t pull your clothes off a bit. How can I check your wounds? How can I help you suck out the drugs?” George Han said helplessly.

Although the clothes on the back were indeed pulled apart a lot, the front of the clothes was not damaged in any way, which proved that the guy in front of him didn’t seem to be indiscriminately, purely to heal himself. However, just when the big beauty seemed to relax her vigilance, she suddenly frowned: “Which one did you just say?”

“You hurt your back. I won’t pull your clothes down. , How to check your wound? How to help you suck out the drug!” George Han repeated, not knowing where the problem was.

“You help me detoxify, aren’t we... hand on hand?” She looked at George Han weirdly, raised her hand from the cut, and asked strangely.

“Hands against your hands are to help you remove the poison in your blood. These poisons have even attacked your heart. As for your back, that is the wounded mouth. The poisonous blood and black blood basically gather there. If you want to pass the blood later, The treatment is smooth, so naturally you need to clean it up first.” George Han explained.

“So, did you take drugs for me? With your mouth?” she asked.

George Han nodded, where can I use it without my mouth?

She didn’t speak, but looked at George Han, and George Han also looked at her, not knowing what happened to her.

“Ah!” The

sound broke thousands of miles, and the cave fell through the rocks. For a while, the whole cave was dusty. George Han also closed his eyes, covering his ears with extremely uncomfortable hands.

If someone else is attacking by voice, she is simply a popping attack!

Before George Han woke up from the sound of the explosion, the beautiful pear flower’s rain-like beautiful feet had already begun to kick George Han arbitrarily.

“You actually took your mouth, kissed... kissed my back, ah!!!”

she shouted loudly while trying to wipe her back with her hand.

However, at this moment, George Han, who had endured the tingling of his eardrums, suddenly stood up, and then, with a slight movement in his hand, he drew out his jade sword.

Seeing George Han withdraw from the sword, the big beauty stopped screaming for a while, and she curled up and moved back, looking at George Han, she was a little scared and horrified: “You...what are you going to do?”

“You ...You don’t want to take advantage and kill people?”

“Dog thief, I warn you, don’t come over.”

However, George Han did not stop at this time, but walked up to her a few steps. before.....
