Chapter 3066

the two of them looking back, they saw that the old man suddenly slipped, and the whole person was directly dragged down by the big fish caught on the rod, and he went into the water when he saw it. .

“Damn, is this man fishing, or is it fishing for man?” the pangolin said strangely.

George Han rolled his eyes and patted this guy’s head: “What are you still doing? Save people.”

From the sound of that ouch, you can vaguely see his appearance from the moment the figure reached the ground, George Han could determine that the fisherman was already an old man, whether he was a demon or a human, facing such an old man in danger, George Han could not stand by.

With a soft shout, George Han hurried to the lake with the pangolin.

As soon as the pangolin moved on its body, it flew over and grabbed the line of the pole directly in the water, but when it was lifted in its hand, it immediately pulled the fish in the water directly.

On the other side of George Han, although he could not be lucky, his physical fitness itself was good. He rushed to the old man’s side, directly supported him and hugged him to the shore.

The old man was out of danger, and the big fish weighing several jins was also dragged ashore by the pangolin.

The fish is white all over, with a few black scales on the back, and the mouth is like a giant catfish. The old man is wrapped in a cloth, and his body is like firewood. The clothes are almost full of big holes. They are so simple that they can be described as unclothed. George Han When Chijian hugged him ashore, it was really like hugging a bundle of firewood.

Seeing George Han and the pangolin, and looking at the big fish that was almost lying on the shore, the old man smiled and quickly sat up: "Thank you, thank you two for helping me."

"Otherwise, I'm afraid it's not an old fisherman today. , On the contrary, this beast has come to fish for the old."

George Han glanced at the old man. He had dark skin and texture, like snake skin. In addition to his old age and wrinkled skin, he looked more like a snake skin. He was not tall, about one and five meters tall. , As he smiled, the two gill gangs bulged like a bone-shaped toad mouth, which was very inconsistent with his thin face.

"Don't say thank you for your effort." George Han smiled.

"Look at the two dressed up, especially this handsome boy, who doesn't seem to be from the land of my demons, but more like humans?" The old man laughed. George Han did not deny it, nodded.

"The human race and the demons are not at the same time. If you save me, don't you worry about being harmed by the old man?" The old man chuckled.

"You want to kill me and I will fight back. If you die, I will be safe, but if you see death and don't save it, at least you will feel uneasy." George Han said.

"Well, well, one is disturbed." The old man laughed, and then suddenly a knife was drawn out of his hand, and the knife was cold in the moonlight.

The pangolin immediately rushed in front of George Han, and while protecting George Han, he shouted at the old man: "Damn, old man, are you the fuck?"

"You fucking really did it." Is it really good to avenge revenge?" The old man didn't fight back, smiled, got up and walked to the big fish, raised his hand with a knife, and then, skillfully unscrewed a large piece of meat from the fish, put it in his hand and weighed it towards George Han threw it over.

George Han gently walked around the pangolin and took the big piece of fish in his hand.

“The old and the poor are about to starve to death, but they are lingering and panting. It is pitiful for the gods to survive. Why does the old want to kill?” He smiled, and with a knife in his hand, he cut off a small piece of fish and stuffed it on the spot. Into the mouth, chewing slightly.

“This is a moonlight ghost fish. It has a vicious temperament and has eaten everything. Look at this tooth, like a hacksaw. You can tell one or two things. However, although it is fierce, it has good meat quality. The most important thing is that it is a living baby. “The old man laughed while eating.

Although it is not uncommon for Rumao to drink blood in the demons, and George Han had already expected it, but seeing a thin old man like this, it was unavoidable for a time to feel a little shocked.

Looking at the white fish in his hand, George Han frowned and said, “Living baby?”

The old man was about to explain. At this moment, he suddenly raised his head and looked at the sky above his head. A white dot suddenly appeared in the sky, and it was getting bigger and bigger. He hurriedly stopped chewing and looked at George Han and the pangolin in a hurry. Shouting: “No, run!”

Chapter 3067

George Han and the pangolin were obviously taken aback, but when they looked up at the white spot on the top of their head, they were also surprised to find that it was swooping down at a very fast speed. Regardless of so many, just follow the old man. Rushed towards the hillside.

“Fish, fish!” The old man ran a few steps and yelled back in a panic.

The pangolin was full of helplessness. When he moved his hand, the fishing line came into his hand. Then, he lifted the fish with his left hand and hugged George Han with his right hand, and flew directly towards the hillside.

When passing by the old man, this guy simply caught the old man’s body with his feet and took him directly onto the hillside.

Xia Wei was waiting on the other side of the hillside. After seeing the two of them for a long time, she was about to come towards the hillside. Just halfway up the hillside, she saw a white spot about the size of a washbasin, falling from the air and hitting the hill. Quite that side.

She naturally worried about the safety of George Han and the pangolin. Fortunately, at this time, the pangolin was already carrying two people, carrying a big fish and flying up the hillside.

While she exhaled, she couldn't help wondering what the white spot was.

She is like this, so why don't George Han and pangolins be like this? But before he could look more, the old man already pointed his finger in the direction behind Xia Wei, and roared: "Why are you still stunned? Hurry up."

Almost at the same time, under the hillside, a strange sound suddenly sounded, coupled with the old man's urging, pangolin Can only fly in a hurry.

Xia Wei didn't dare to neglect, she turned around and flew behind her with a little luck.

And almost at the same time when the two of them flew together, in the canyon lake behind the hillside behind him, he heard the creak of ice crunching, and George Han couldn't help looking back in surprise, and he was dumbfounded for a moment.

From the center of the lake, almost where the white dots landed, suddenly the anti-Buddha temperature dropped to the extreme. The ice crystals quickly condensed and quickly spread in the direction of George Han and others.

Its speed is so fast and fierce that it almost sees water and frozen ground, but in an instant, the huge lake, including the shore where only a few people have stayed, is already covered with snow and ice. And this ice and snow, at this time, is like a molten eruption, rushing towards George Han and others at a speed.

Everything is frozen wherever I go!

At this moment, George Han finally understood why the old man was so panicked when he saw this white spot appear.

If this is to run slower, don't you know that it will be swallowed by the ice and snow?

"Pangolin, Xia Wei move faster." George Han yelled anxiously.

Xia Wei subconsciously wanted to turn her head back, but this time she was obviously shocked by the scene behind her. Fortunately, when the pangolin flew by, George Han grabbed her arm and dragged her towards Fly forward to avoid being blocked by heavy snow.

"Front, front." The old man yelled anxiously, as if he was younger than a teenager in an instant, his speech was intense and his spirit concentrated.

"I'll take you." Xia Wei, who reflected, stabilized her figure again. While flying forward, she simply pulled George Han directly into her hand, and as her luck accelerated, she took George Han with her. Qian suddenly flew forward.

Without a George Han, the pangolin is obviously also a lot easier, and an acceleration is also dashing forward.

Groups of two were extremely fast. In just a few minutes, a few people had already flown back to the place where they left off. The "plasticine" was still standing at the entrance of the cave, as if to tell a few people that you were back.

"Into the hole, into the hole!" The old man shouted, pointing to the entrance of the hole and said anxiously.

Xia Wei took the lead, followed by the pangolin. However, as soon as the pangolin reached the entrance of the cave, the old man quickly struggling to jump off him, urging the three of them to advance. Then, when the three of them entered the cave very strangely, he Suddenly jumped in from outside the cave, and accompanied it with a huge "plasticine" to cover the cave.

What the fuck is this going to do? Picking up plasticine to hit yourself? !

If this is not frozen by ice and snow, is it possible to be crushed to death by a big “plasticine”?

Looking at the “plasticine” that completely covered the hole without leaving the slightest gap and falling quickly, George Han and three people were all stupid...
