

His True Colors Novel Chapter 3176 - 3177

Chapter 3176

As long as you wound this George Han, or delay it, you can also use this gang of “tenders” to kill George Han alive.

Thinking of this, Gu Ye smiled coldly, and rushed directly towards George Han.

Seeing the uncle’s surprise attack, Xiao Chunhua hurriedly yelled at George Han who was fighting in the crowd.

Facing this guy’s menacing coming, how could George Han not know?

A few palms opened the group of people in front of him, then turned to face the lonely master and slapped with both palms.

boom!

There was a muffled sound, accompanied by Guye’s body violent squirting, almost just a blink of an eye, and the two of them stood in a stalemate for several seconds.

“Puff!”

George Han suddenly spouted blood, and his whole body retreated a few steps.

Even if George Han’s power is far beyond ordinary people, but at least in the case of male to male, female to mother, but at this time, he has lost his true energy and energy, it is impossible for him to have such a fair confrontation.

No matter how high martial arts is, one is afraid of kitchen knives. This is the reason.

Facing a person like Gu Ye who is quite capable of cultivation, George Han, who relies on his body alone, is clearly invincible.

With the defeat of George Han, the people who had been defeated by George Han quickly became morale and surrounded George Han again.

“Smelly boy, aren’t you fucking good at jumping just now, come again.” Seeing George Han being injured by himself, there was a trace of cold arrogance on Gu Ye’s face.

George Han’s complexion condensed, staring at this guy coldly.

Obviously, although this guy was not a gadget in his heyday, he was just a second hand, but at this time, if he can’t use his real power, he is like a mountain.

“What? Do you think you won?” George Han wiped the blood from his mouth and said with disdain.

“Then...you rubbish, can you still win me?” Xie Xie smiled, Gu Ye didn’t put George Han in his eyes at all.

“However, don’t want to provoke me. You are already injured with just this punch. If you don’t need me to do the rest, you will be beaten to death by them.” When the words fell, Gu Ye laughed coldly, in his In his eyes, what George Han said at this time was just a provocation to make him continue to take action. In this way, his death would be directly related to himself.

Own .....

how can so silly? !

“Really?” George Han was not angry, and smiled slightly.

“Isn’t it?” Gu Ye sneered, and then he waved his hand: “Give me up.”

“Boom!” A

large crowd of people like a tide again besieged George Han.

With Guye’s proofing and George Han’s injury at this time, this group of people is obviously more ferocious than they just rushed.

Looking at George Han who was directly surrounded, Gu Ye sneered, until the end he couldn't help laughing out loud.

In his eyes, George Han at this time was no longer different from the dead.

Xiaochunhua also looked anxiously, and even wanted to rush to help, but she was stunned to see where George Han was at this time.

He was going to be directly overwhelmed by these crowds a long time ago.

At this time, George Han in the crowd did not move at all, but looked at the lonely master who had been laughing wildly indifferently.

For a moment, George Han smiled back at him.

Gu Ye's complexion condensed, at this moment this fool is still laughing out fucking?

But it was too late for him to think about the reason. At this time, George Han moved suddenly.

To be precise, George Han did not move.

He was still standing there, but his clothes trembled slightly, and then...

brush!

A long sword suddenly came out of his sleeves, and suddenly turned around George Han.

Swipe it!

The group of people in the inner circle closest to George Han even felt a burst of light hitting them, and their eyes widened in the next second, and they were horrified to find that they had been choked by the god of death.

"Boom!" All

the people in the inner circle fell directly.

“Swiss!” There was another burst of light and shadow, and the people on the second floor also died on the scene instantly!

More than a dozen living people were all gone on the spot.

At this time, the crowd swayed, and the crowd circle that was approaching George Han, after two circles of people died, at this time the few circles who were closest to George Han, almost all regressed abruptly, and kept the number with George Han. No one dared to get close to the distance of a meter.

At this time, the light and shadow that had been killing them also flew back to George Han’s back obediently, and slowly stood beside him. Although it was not a jade sword, its transparent sword body still exuded a faint murder. The cold light.

“What?!” Gu Ye glared, looking at George Han in disbelief...

Chapter 3177

was just a blow. He obviously retreated easily and injured George Han. Don’t say whether the kid had the strength to fight back, it was impossible for him to fight himself a little bit. of.

Because he clearly discovered that when George Han was fighting against himself, he didn’t even have any real ability.

What kind of person is not really capable?

Isn’t that just ordinary mortal waste!

However, it was such a mortal trash, but at this moment, he suddenly sacrificed a flying sword.

Isn’t this fucking ridiculous?

After all, only cultivators are really qualified to play.

This kid...

chuckling!

Seeing him completely incomprehensible, George Han at this time was unusually indifferent.

His stunned performance was completely expected by George Han. After all, for George Han, if this person was not his own, even he would have no idea what the situation was. .

At this time, George Han naturally couldn't have luck, and naturally couldn't make any movement in Yujian.

But what flies right now is not a flying sword, but a little black stick.

This thing that caused me a headache at the beginning, now at this critical moment has become George Han's almost life-saving existence.

It's also well, the pain of my own confusion at the beginning has now been experienced by other people.

"If you don't want to die, it's best to stay away from me." George Han said coldly, glancing at the crowd with the slightest fear in his eyes.

"Listen to what he is doing and kill him." Gu Ye naturally didn't want to do this, and snorted angrily.

Immediately, someone from the crowd responded, and if they had the courage, they wanted to rush forward.

"brush!"

This guy was almost ready to lift his leg, but suddenly felt a cold attack. He lifted his head in a daze, but he was dumbfounded for a while, and he was silly on the spot.

The long sword was clearly behind George Han, but at this time it was already on the tip of his eye, and it was only a minute away from his eyeball.

This guy suddenly paled with fright, and the cold sweat on his forehead continued to fall. He had experienced life and death before no one knew, but at least one thing was certain, and that was the closest he had died this time.

Not to mention dare not to move the slightest, even if the atmosphere does not dare to take a breath.

Lifting his eyes slightly, he glanced at George Han in fear, but saw that George Han didn't even look at him.

He didn't dare to speak, and just wanted to live at this time. Therefore, the legs that wanted to step out couldn't help but shrank slightly, and almost when he had this idea, the sword swiped back and returned to George Han's. Back.

This guy was stunned. As the person involved, he knew better than anyone else. He wanted to fight and want to retire, but it was just a flash of thought in his mind. He didn't take any action at all, but that sword or that People, as if they can penetrate his mind.

A strong sense of horror suddenly emerged from the bottom of my heart.

Facing a strong enemy may not be terrible, but facing a strong enemy who can even know what you want is a complete breakdown.

"He knows what I'm thinking, he knows what I'm thinking." He backed away in a panic, but his body was paralyzed because of fear.

While being lifted by the crowd, he struggled away from the hands of the crowd and ran out desperately. Every step he ran, he softened to the ground and his scalp was numb, but he continued to do so repeatedly.

He finally escaped, but wherever he went, it also left countless fears on other people.

They looked in their eyes and listened in their ears. When they looked at George Han again, their previous anger was replaced by fear and even fear. They couldn't help but start to back away.

One is so, so are the two, naturally, more and more are starting to be like this.

Soon, the entire crowd that had just been extremely turbulent began to move backwards, and the situation began to slowly change.

Seeing this, the lonely person was furious and hurriedly yelled to make people continue to rush, but no one responded at this time, and instead he was still slowly retreating.

Gu Ye looked back and looked at George Han who sneered indifferently, and was completely furious: "You bastard, it's really hateful. If I don't take your life, I won't be called Gu Ye." After the words fell, Gu Ye suddenly rushed to George Han. thousand...
