

I AM VARDY

Chapter 10 - Let me go to work?

Valdy no longer knows what he should say to the couple of men and women in front of him, why do they feel so good about themselves!

“You are willing to be a big star, but before you become a big star, can you not block my way, otherwise it only makes me think that you want to be a door dog!”

Vardi said silently, and left this sentence coldly, ignoring the blushing faces of the dogs and men because of their anger, Shi Shi went away.

“What do you want me to be careful about, I must make you look good!” Ruthless words from the strong man came from behind, but in Valdy’s opinion, this product is brave in front of his girlfriend.

Vardi didn’t even return his head, but just waved his hand behind him, the meaning was obvious-I’m waiting!

Now he is quite sure that the vision of this product is really a little low. Perhaps it is not unrelated that he was born in grass roots. Whether it is the girl with strong makeup and the wife of his aunt in the past, it has proved this point deeply.

Now, since I am here, there are so many beautiful women waiting for their own rescue, but there is no time to waste on these exotic species.

When walked into the house, Valdi seemed to have forgotten the anxiety of returning home for the first time, but when he saw his mother rushing to hug herself, the heart that had been put down suddenly hung up suddenly.

“My little Jamie, how is today’s game? You have just entered the first team, it is normal to have no chance to play, don’t be discouraged, you will have a chance!”

may have seen Valdi stunned and mistakenly thought he was frustrated because he didn’t show up, so he quickly comforted.

The father sitting on the sofa is a little dignified, “Boys should be stronger, and loneliness is not enough!”

sounds like a father in his eyes, but Valdy captures the concern from his inadvertent eyes, and this light and warm feeling makes him send his heart back to his stomach.

“It seems my acting is really good, you are all cheated!” Valdy quickly entered the character and smiled.

The parents showed strange expressions, and did not understand what Valdy meant.

“I played off the bench for today’s game. At that time, the team was two goals behind. It was my two counter-attacks that allowed the team to draw the opponent. I am the hero of this game!” Di stood in the middle of the living room, pinched his waist, and raised his head with an exaggerated laugh.

But it was the eyes of the parents who almost looked at the mental patient that greeted Valdi. Needless to say, they must have thought that Valdi was greatly stimulated.

“Sit down and eat, Jamie, we just have something to tell you!” The father interrupted Vardy’s laugh and coughed seriously.

It just happened that Valdy also had to tell his parents about the youth training at Manchester United. This is not a trivial matter.

“This is the case, you are about to become an adult. Judging from the current situation, football is difficult to become a means of making a living in the future, and you are not willing to study, so I discussed it with your mother and planned to let you go to a medical device. The factory does internship work, where your uncle is a middle-level manager, and will not let you suffer!”

Medical device factory?

Isn't this the job that Valdy had played before entering professional football?

Worked in a medical device factory specializing in artificial limbs. His job was to load carbon fiber into the reactor. This was the livelihood work of Vardi at that time. If he only depended on the weekly salary of 30 pounds, Valdi would have starved to death.

didn't expect that he passed by himself, and he still didn't escape!

is different from China. In Europe and the United States, there is no such thing as gnawing old age. In adulthood, one must either go to school or become independent.

In the eyes of his parents, although Valdy has always insisted on football, he has no special talents. In addition to running a little faster than his peers, this is not enough to help him become a big star, otherwise Xie Wednesday such as the third-level league ball The team will not sweep him out, so looking for a job now, at least in the future, has a means of earning a living.

Seeing that Valdy didn't speak, it seemed to be in deep contemplation, and they didn't speak anymore, but left him room to think.

Naturally, it is impossible for Valdi to go to work in any medical device factory. Even without the invitation of Manchester United scouts, he is destined to enter the football field with a systematic presence, not to play any * carbon fiber.

After pondering for a while, Vardy said: “At today’s game, Manchester United scouts just watched the game on the sidelines. He was very interested in me and invited me to Manchester United’s youth training camp. I still want to be a Professional players, so I promised them!”

Vardi’s words almost made his parents jump up from the sofa and looked at him with incredible and incredible sights.

Will he be lying?

This is a common thought in the hearts of parents.

Vardy shrugged. He knew that hearing the news suddenly, his parents were inevitable.

After all, even the youth training camp of the third-level team does not want him, UU reading books www.uukanshu. How could Manchester United, the biggest man in England, be interested in him again!

This is like a young man, being thrown away by an ordinary girl, but was fancy by another Bai Fumei, but madly chased, it really does not make sense. Seeing the doubts in his parents’ eyes, Valdy took out the note, which was the phone Langley had left him.

“Well, this is the phone of the scout, you can call him, and you can also find his information from the Internet!”

Since David has come up with evidence, then the parents have no reason not to believe!

The two looked at each other and both saw surprise and disbelief in each other’s eyes. If Vardy can stand on the third-tier league club on Wednesday, then he can only guarantee that he will live a working-class life in the future. Di can be based on Manchester United, that is the world-famous big star, these are completely two different concepts.

“God, I knew my son was the best!” The mother hugged Valdy tightly, almost leaving tears.

Father has no way to pretend to be majestic, and even has a feeling of helplessness. The name Manchester United is really too deterrent.

Needless to say, for them, it was a sleepless night.

As for working in a medical device factory, sorry, what the * is that?

Lying in bed, Valdy could not sleep for a long time. This was the first night he came to this world. There were too many things that surprised him. These things seemed to be broken into a line, tied together, bound On myself, I feel like I can't breathe.

Big star tease system?

Do you want to be a big star or a funny match?
