

I AM VARDY

Chapter 14 - Facing the calendar

“You can run really fast, nailing you a horseshoe is a horse race!” Although everyone at first did not have a cold for the outsider, Valdi, but as the training began, everyone gave up their previous ideas and began to communicate with Valdi Set up almost.

No way, although there is no practice game in the team, but Vardi's speed shows no doubt, in the youth team, this is simply the same as the existence of BUG.

Vardi will naturally not refuse people thousands of miles away, and he does not know how long he will stay in the Manchester United youth training camp. If he always walks alone, it is too strange.

But after warming up, McGuinness arranged for Valdi different training programs than others. Compared with others, he focused more on technical tactics, and Valdi did more basic technical training.

This is probably the reason why McGuinness did not give Vardi a good face. After all, by the U18 echelon, the basic technical training should have been completed long ago. The existence of Valdi will undoubtedly cost him more energy and also drag the entire team. The hind legs, but this is the decision made by the head of the youth training, he has no way to refuse! “

“If you want to practice basic skills, go with U9's elementary school students!” Looking at Valdy, who is seriously training, McGuinness reluctantly slandered.

While training, Valdi did not slack off because it was basic training. He was still trying to adapt the system to the transformation of the body, and he had learned from the system that the system could enhance his ability, but he could not. To ensure his state and maintain his state, he also needs to pass daily training.

According to Langley's prediction, I am afraid that Valdi can only do basic training in the past two months, and cannot participate in joint training or even competition.

Under the training ground, Vardy had a good time with his teammates, especially after Vardy told a few past life-slaughter jokes to make them laugh and roll on the lawn, everyone officially accepted the new teammate Valdi.

"Jamie, you should be fortunate, you have to know that before the new young players have to go through a very terrifying ceremonies!" Clevey used a very regretful tone to Valdy.

The terrifying enrollment ceremony?

Valdy thought he was going to miss. He thought it would be the same as the meeting between the heaven and the dynasty. This leader finished talking about the leader, from sunrise to sunset, from the sky to the old age. For active young people, this is very hard. One thing, maybe this is the horror he said!

Vardi, who had undergone so much training in the past life, gently shook his head and said indifferently: "I don't think there is any horror, I can easily deal with it!"

However, he was greeted by his teammates' terrifying expression.

"If you know that the enrollment ceremony is against Clayton Blackmore's calendar* I don't think you will be so easy!" Shaw Cross said quietly, with a shy expression in his expression.

“Whatafuck? I’m going to step on the horse! Looking at the star’s calendar calendar?” Valdy almost didn’t stare his eyes out.

This is the most sensational thing he has heard in his life, no one!

But looking at the pitiful look of other teammates, Vardy knew that this was definitely not a joke.

“Even Beckham experienced such a bad thing when he joined the team!” Evans might think that Valdy didn’t believe it, and he gave a big star as an example.

Vardi asked doubtfully: “Why haven’t you heard Beckham say that a big star like him should be cleaned of all details, right?”

“If it is you, would you like to let everyone know?” Evans replied angrily.

Vardi nodded involuntarily, this kind of embarrassment still let him bury in his heart, the fewer people know the better!

His eyes rolled, and Valdy asked badly: “So have you experienced the same thing? Tell me, what’s it like to look at the portrait? Is it very ecstatic?”

Vardi’s words came out, and the surroundings were instantly cold.

“Uh, today the weather is good, suitable for booing, are you together?”

“Go with the same!”

“Suddenly think of it, I forgot to close the window, you guys talk, I will go first!”

“I seem to be in the wrong place, goodbye!”

After a few seconds, Valdi was empty, and he was only here and he smiled indifferently.

However, Valdi should really be thankful that this **** enrollment ceremony has already been cancelled because of too many complaints, otherwise he will not escape such a horrible nightmare.

Vardi did not know what kind of mentality was it for the person who came up with such a terrible enrollment ceremony, and how frenzied!

Facing the star calendar calendar, I am afraid that there must be a pilgrimage-like psychology in my head. This is a kind of devastation.

If it's okay to change to a beauty star, although it's a little embarrassing to be so shy in the public, at least it's understandable. If the beauty on the portrait in UU reads www.uukanshu.com, if the beauty in the portrait is replaced by a shaggy man, Valdy feels sleeping at night Will be awakened.

At the end of training, when leaving the training ground, Valdi and McGinese said goodbye, and McGinese also changed his mind because of Valdi's present talent, and he was very kind and good-looking, and finally told Valdi Don't be late tomorrow.

Langley is already waiting for Vardi outside the training ground. The club has found a homestay for Vardi. Now Langley will take Valdi with him.

"How do you feel today's training? I know that McGinness is now arranging basic training for you, but you must not underestimate these basic training. Although you have received formal youth training in an amateur club before, you are with Manchester United. Compared with the youth training of amateur clubs, the amateur club is obviously much worse. These basic trainings can even determine your future achievements. You must be serious!" Langley taught Vardi while driving.

Vardi naturally understood the truths he said, even though he didn't take it seriously, he still listened carefully, but he hadn't known where he went.

“I think you can't stay too much in the youth training camp. At most one year, if you can't enter the first team, then the club may choose to rent you out. You may know that the Belgian team Antwerp is Manchester United's satellite club. You may Will be rented there!”

Vardi froze at Langley's words.

Yeah, it's okay to rent it out. The important thing is to hurry to play the game. The total cat is in the Manchester United Youth Training Camp, and there is no system to use it.

Huh?

Antwerp?

It seems that the Chinese player Dongfangzhuo was rented there after signing?

interesting!

Valdy **** his mouth.
