

I AM VARDY

Chapter 4 - Run boy

Maybe in the reality of the past life is a person who is accustomed to adversity, but now that it has been crossed, then, don't be afraid!

Hao stared at him fiercely without fear, and looked murderous. Although his face was still immature, there was no way to ignore it.

"Huh? A little interesting!" Manchester United scout Langley looked at Vardy with interest and said to himself.

I thought this little fart boy would be red-eared and even run away in the rough mocking of his opponent, but I didn't expect this little guy to show a fierceness that was completely incompatible with his age. This feeling is a bit like the current Golden Boy Rooney in England. , Lu Xiaofan is a face that is not afraid of the sky.

Because of the sudden interest in Vardy, Langley began to take it seriously. He wanted to see if this little guy would bring himself a refreshing performance.

The game continued. The opponents suppressed the steel team's offense with great strength. Although they were not completely pressed back into the half, the steel team's offense was very few. Even if there was a chance of attacking the opponent's hinterland, it was difficult to cause Substantial threat.

Vardi did not immediately enter the game, he wanted to play football on the one hand, but he must first understand the extent to which the system transformed himself.

The sprint was accelerated once. In fact, Valdi only used five points, but this is like the speed and speed of the 100-meter athlete, which made him feel unspeakable.

Originally, Vardi was known for speed and explosiveness. After the system transformation, Vardi believed that if he was on the regular runway, he decided to be able to rush within 11 seconds.

Know that Valdy is only 17 years old, not even an adult, and his body has not fully grown. There is still room for a substantial increase in speed. Now that he has such a violent speed, won't he go to heaven in the future?

As for the technique underfoot, he has not had the opportunity to experiment, but the subconscious minds in his mind tell him that he will not be inferior to anyone.

has played for five minutes. Vardi still hasn't encountered a ball on the field. He sleepwalked on the field. Even the head coach of the steel team began to deny himself. It was right or wrong to throw Valdi on the pitch!

Langley was also a bit disappointed. He had a little anticipation for Vardi, but he didn't expect the guy's performance to be as good as a dog. Shit, at least a dog. Shit has its deterrent, others dare not step on it, but Valdy On the field, it seems to be completely gone.

"Jamie, what the **** are you doing, defending, defending!" The coach's violent roar came from the sidelines, and Valdi, who was adapting to his new physical condition, finally recovered.

Hey, since it has been reborn, let's celebrate with a victory. At the same time, we must say sorry to the opponent in front of us, who made you unlucky!

The sports car started, and with a roar, Valdy started running with his own turbo-charged feet, running to freedom, running to the light, and running to the distant dream of the past.

moved to the midline position, forcing the opponent to attack the player who organized the attack in the midfield. In the previous life, he often saw such actions as Valdi. In this life, Valdi also began to tirelessly run and press. Although it is easy to be seen by the opponent's players and the monkeys, it is also easy to be treated as a fool, but he knows that maybe a hundred full-strikes can only be exchanged for a frontcourt steal, but often this frontcourt steals after counterattack The resulting goals can change the outcome of a game.

Therefore, he must keep such a good habit.

"The silly boy of the steel team is still a stunned person, like a silly boy, look at it, and get rid of yourself in a moment!"

"Yes, how did the steel team send such an idiot, is it really a broken jar, not planning to win?"

"I think there must be shady inside, maybe this idiot is a relative of the steel team coach, go to the back door to play! Otherwise, he has contributed his own chrysanthemum, and the head coach is very satisfied!"

"I think it makes sense to say so!"

.....

Not only did the opponent players laugh at Valdy's almost idiot-like actions in their eyes, but even the few fan audiences in the stands laughed at Valdy.

But Valdy didn't care about this at all. He knew that with the evolution of football skills and tactics, even if the striker returns to the midfield to defend, it is already common to everyone, but now everyone has not realized this. That's it.

Langley in the stands was bright. As a veteran scout and young academy, how could he not know whether Valdy's fight is the quality a professional player should have, and he still runs from David Zhong noticed a clue. From the speed he just showed in sprinting, Valdy has an excellent speed that his peers do not have, and this may not be the current speed limit of Valdi. After all, no forward will sprint completely in the fight. The speed burst out, and he also saw ease in Valdy's movements.

It seems that the little guy really gave himself some surprises!

How could he not see that Vardi is still underage, but this is a superb speed, UU reading www.uukanshu.com may be enough to make Vardi far ahead of his peers.

If the basic skills of the little guy are solid, even if the tactical qualities are not qualified, Langley will persuade Manchester United's youth training director to sign him.

Waldi didn't know that there were Manchester United scouts watching him at this time. He also wanted to go to Manchester United to try out training after the game!

Although the continuous sprint made Vardi slightly breathless, this does not prevent Valdi from harassing the other party. Even if there is no obvious stealing effect, the opponent's offensive organization seems to be a little delayed under his deterrent force. Now, the most intuitive manifestation is that the goal of our side is not as loud as before.

Although the coach of the Iron and Steel team was hay bale, he also understood the situation on the court. He was slightly complacent. He felt that he still had a foresight. This was not. With Valdi, the opponent's oppressive attack seemed to be impossible to fight!

At this moment, the steel team's defender made a big foot after stealing, and the ball was rushed to the opponent's half, where there were only two defensive players behind the opponent.

No one would think that this is an opportunity. After all, there is only one Valdy in the midfield position of Notts County, and the distance between the two defenders is farther than the opponent. After the opponent controls the ball, it is an offensive wave. arrival.

Even the head coach of the steel team did not hold any expectations, he was still frowning and thinking about the next countermeasures, just defending is not enough, they still have to win!

But when no one paid attention, Valdi suddenly accelerated and sprinted from the center line to the other half like the same gust.

When he was killed from the crowd, the horrible speed of the sprint made everyone's wide eyes open their mouths.

Oh, what did they see?