

I CREATED A DUNGEON IN A CULTIVATION WORLD

Chapter 13 13: Returner Stone

"Captain, we are ready." Eryx said, after some rest, everyone recovered their strength.

"Alright, let's continue."

They traverse the forest carefully, if they saw a pack of wolves, they will make a detour immediately.

Thirty minutes have passed.

They killed a lot of wolves in the past thirty minutes, furthermore, two people broke through. So, now they have one second-layer and five one-layer body tempering.

Even if they encounter a pack of wolves they won't be as helpless as they first enter the dungeon.

Because most packs they saw here have five to nine wolves. As long as they won't provoke a pack of wolves first, everything should be fine.

"Captain, what do you think of these stones." Nox said, looking at the two mysterious stones in his hand. It was dark blue in color, with an unfamiliar pattern around it.

They got it from the last wolves they killed, when the body of the three wolves they killed disappeared, these two stones emerged from it.

"Let me see."

Nox throws the stone to Arnoux, right now they are recuperating. Since he doesn't have anything to do might as well inspect the stone.

The stone is quite small, the size of a pebble you see on a roadside.

"Nox, did you try using your spiritual power?" he asked.

"Ohh, I didn't." Nox replied a little embarrassed.

It's common knowledge to identify an item with spiritual power. However, since they don't get to see any item that needs to identify using spiritual power, he almost forgot about it. He didn't even see any ungraded items at all.

In this world, people in this world graded the item from one-star magic item to eight-star magic item. Every star corresponds to the eighth realm in this world.

"It's ok, I will try it."

Arnoux used his spiritual power, a thin spiritual power drilled through the stone. Arnoux's spiritual was so thin that you almost can't see it. That's why people in body tempering won't usually use their spiritual, since for the most part, it won't get any result using it to identify things.

In the next moment, he receives a piece of information in his brain, that made him stand up in surprise. Everyone was surprised when they saw Arnoux stand up abruptly, then become vigilant, and picked up their weapon.

They thought that their captain detect some wolves around. Seeing his companion's actions, he spoke.

"You guys need to relax, I didn't detect any enemies nearby, I'm just surprised by the information I got from identifying the stone." He said.

He was a little embarrassed, this was his first experience identifying an item so it caught him off-guard.

"Really captain, what it is?!" Nox asked in excitement, everyone stopped what they were doing and focused on Arnoux.

"From the information I received it's called returner stone, It's an item that will teleport you out of the dungeon, however, each stone can only teleport six people."

Everyone was surprised, since they entered the dungeon a lot of unexplainable things happened to them. They were just small villagers after all, whose only worries every day was bandit and monsters attacking their village.
