

I Created 28

Chapter 28 28: Ancestral Dragon

"System, if I pick dragon what kind of dragon I would get?"

Argon asked because there were many kinds of dragons. For example, elemental dragons, void dragons, time dragons... Etc.

[First, the host will get a fire dragon, a dragon that has access to all fire element skills. The host can evolve the fire dragon by using soul coins, the last evolution of the dragon race is an Ancestral Dragon. But to evolve it the host need a huge amount of soul coin.]

"If that's the case, then, the dragon is the best choice in these four races." He thought.

As far as he knows, Ancestral Dragon was born when the universe was created, and also the one that created the dragon race.

"System, I will choose the dragon race."

Shortly after, Argon's surrounding blackens. In the next moment, he found himself in a void... Again.

"This void again."

While looking around, Argon suddenly frowned looking in the distance, at the depths of the void where all he can see was pitch black, he felt like something.

In the next moment, Argon was petrified in his place, he saw a massive eye slowly opening, it was so huge, he can even see galaxies revolving in the pupil. In front of this eye, Argon can't even be called a speck of dust.

The eye just looked at him, and in the next moment, he suddenly felt a huge headache.

"AAAHHHH"

Argon hold his head in pain, he felt like his head was about to burst.

After some time, the headache was slowly fading, and he was about to go crazy, if it goes on a little longer, he was sure that he will die in pain.

Even though it only took a minute, he felt like he got tortured for an hour.

Argon open his eyes, and he found trees around him, he was back in the dungeon.

"System!! What just happened?! What the hell did I experience?!!"

[It's a spiritual will of the Ancestral Dragon.]

"That huge eye is an eye of the Ancestral Dragon? Then how big is the body?" He can't even imagine how big the body of that ancestral dragon is.

Argon stands up, for some reason he felt weird about his body, something off...

"No way."

Argon slowly inspects his body, and yeah... He was already a dragon, a long dragon, a snake-like dragon that has four legs, and a void-like scale that adds mysteriousness to Argon.

It was a seventy feet long dragon, it was not big for a dragon, but also not small for a human.