

I Created 29

Chapter 29 29: Fire Dragon

In addition, he also received an inheritance, a basic skill like dragon claw, dragon tail, dragon roar, and dragon breath. Even though it was a basic skill, however, if a human or any forces get a hold of these skills, they will treat it like a holy treasure.

Suddenly a mechanical voice sounded in his mind.

[The host can say status to see the description of the host's body.]

"Ohh, okay."

Just like what the system told him, he says status in his mind. In the next moment, a transparent screen appeared in front of him.

[Argon

Race: Dragon

Body: Fire Dragon

Cultivation: Peak stage Qi Gathering Realm

Skills: dragon claw, dragon tail, dragon roar, dragon breath]

"I'm already a peak of qi gathering?" He was surprised.

The Qi Gathering Realm was like a milestone for every creature, at this realm, you can use true essence to fly, also, can use more advanced skills. Becoming a Qi Gathering was a dream of every cultivator.

Body Tempering to Opening Qi was still considered a mortal, becoming a Qi Gathering, you can call yourself a real cultivator. Furthermore, can be considered a first step on the road to immortality.

Because stepping into Qi Gathering Realm will give you a thousand lifespans. After stepping into Qi Gathering Realm, every realm after that will only have four stages, early stage, middle stage, late stage, and peak stage.

[That's just natural, every newborn dragon has a cultivation base of Qi Gathering.]

"That's right, as a peak race it should be expected. I really hit a jackpot this time."

Argon then tried transforming into a humanoid form. As for how he knows how to transform, he got it along with the inheritance.

After some time, he finally succeeded in transforming, and looking at his appearance he was satisfied.

He was a two-meter tall, and have void-like scales all over his body looking like armor, well, a dragon's body was not weaker than the divine armor. One thing is for sure though, he needs pants, because he was completely naked.

He still has a lot of soul coins left, so he opened the shop system to buy one. Not too long, he found a suitable pants, which cost him two hundred soul coins. But it's all worth it because the defense is good.

Feeling his new body, Argon just felt full of strength. If he fights Ghorm right now, he can probably defeat the other party with a flick of his fingers.

Argon tried punching the tree on his right lightly.

He was amazed to see he punched a hole in the tree, that was only his casual punch. Imagined his full strength with skill, it would obliterate this place.

While Argon was getting familiar with his strength, a transparent screen abruptly appeared in front of him, which give him another huge surprise.

[Mission complete: successfully defending your dungeon from 2890 invaders.]

Reward: Special Floor]