Chapter 32 32: The First Subordinate, Cambion

[Congratulations to the host you got Cambion, do you want to summon it?]

"Yes, summon it."

From what Argon saw in the picture, Cambion is a demon that uses a spear as a weapon.

Suddenly, a wormhole appeared in front of him, and shortly after, a red-looking creature come out of the wormhole. Argon used the status on Cambion.

[Cambion

Race: Demon

Cultivation: Late Stage Qi Gathering Realm]

After coming out, Cambion immediately kneeled down.

"Subordinate Cambion, greeted Your Lord." Cambion said with a poker face.

"En, stand up... From now on you will be staying here and helping me defend this place."

Cambion's appearance was similar to that of humans, the only difference was his red skin color, and his fierce eyes where you can see madness and destruction.

In addition, Cambion's armor and weapon also catch Argon's attention. They all looked extraordinary, especially his spear, the killing intent of his spear, even made Argon's heart throbbing.

"By the system, what is the difference between normal monsters of the dungeon and subordinates?" Argon asked in his mind.

[Normal monsters can only stay on their designated floors, whereas the subordinates can enter freely on any floor. In addition, subordinates can exit the dungeon and can roam the outside world without limit. While the normal monsters of the dungeon can only stay outside for a day.]

"Wait, that does mean monsters of the dungeon can go outside the dungeon?"

[Yes, but if the host was planning on attacking the outside forces. I would remind the host to not act rashly, with the current capabilities of the dungeon it will only anger the outside forces.]

"Thanks for your concern system, of course, I know that."

After all, he was not a fool to attack the outside world with his current capabilities. Although he can wait and let the people in the outside world enter his dungeon, he still felt it's slow.

Now that he has the option to attack the outside, he will surely do it.

[The host is imagining things, the system doesn't have emotion, it's just that if the host dies it would be too hassle to find another host.]

Hearing the system, Argon can only smile wryly.

"System is there any treasure or skill that can help me change my appearance?" Argon asked, after knowing that he can attack the outside world, his urge in exploring the outside become even stronger.

[There is, does the host want me to list all the available items and skills?]

"Yes, but only items that don't exceed 300 soul coins."

In the next moment, a transparent screen appeared, with a list of items and skills. Argon skipped the top and go straight to the bottom.

After some time, a mask item caught his attention.

[Mask Of Deception]

Description: A mask that can change your appearance, scent, and cultivation. Take note, it will only take effect on up to Qi Gathering realm creatures. Any creatures higher than that can see through the illusion of the item.]
