

I Created 40

Chapter 40 40: Arrive At The Liar Of Goblin/Hobgoblin Riders

Inside the special floor.

Argon was sitting leisurely on his dragon throne while scrolling through the system shop.

'Sigh' "I should stop, seeing all these impressive items, this is just making me salivate."

Because of boredom, he thought of going through the system shop to find some items to buy next after he got some soul coins.

'Let's see what Cambion has been doing' he thought, since Cambion was a subordinate, he can send messages even if the other party was in the other world.

"Cambion, did you arrive at the capital already?" he asked.

"Yes, My Lord... I'm currently in the inn right now. Does Your Lord have some orders?"

"No, I don't have... You can do it as you see fit, it's just, if everything goes awry, if you can, I want you to retreat. Although you can be revived, after all, it will take a month for subordinates to get revived." Argon said.

Although one month might not be that long, however, for his current dungeon, the loss of a Qi Gathering powerhouse for a month was a big hole for the dungeon's defenses.

"Understood, My Lord."

"Ok, good luck." Argon then cut off the call.

Suddenly, Argon who was observing the dungeon was surprised to see a stream of people coming to the dungeon, one thousand, two thousand, three thousand, until it stopped at five thousand plus people.

Argon immediately scanned these people to find the strongest. After some time, he found two people.

[San

Cultivation: First-Stage Opening Qi Realm

Special Blood: None

Race: Human]

[Tan Zong

Cultivation: Second-Stage Opening Qi Realm

Special Blood: None

Race: Hybrid]

"Ooh, a hybrid? Interesting."

The person called Tan Zong piqued Argon's interest. On the outside, this guy's cultivation was only a seventh-stage Building Base Realm.

"System, do you know what kind of hybrid is this guy?" He asked, because, in terms of appearance, he can't find anything that makes this guy a hybrid.

[Host, what about using qi to see if this person using an illusion to change his appearance.]

Hearing the system he felt a little embarrassed, he forgot about it. Well, you can't blame him for it, he got this power just a few days ago.

Argon then uses it, as a peak of the Qi Gathering Realm, it was easy for him to manipulate the qi on his body.

He then looked at Tan Zong on the screen again, and shortly after, an amicable old man's appearance of Tan Zong slowly faded and changed to that of a withered body.

[Host, I think this person is an evil cultivator... Evil cultivators are humans, but become a hybrid after injecting the blood of a powerful evil cultivator.]

"Hhmm... Thanks for the explanation, system."

'This guy must be plotting something to the humans, a typical evil cultivator.' He thought.

He doesn't really care what this guy is about to do, however, since he comes into his dungeon he will make him stay.

"Let's see..." Argon checked his soul coins and saw two hundred soul coins.

"Two hundred soul coins is just right to upgrade Ghorm to the next stage."

To upgrade Ghorm to the second stage of Opening Qi Realm, will cost him two hundred soul coins. Which was enough soul coins he got the whole night.

Argon then teleported directly to Ghorm, and upgrade his realm. He just reminded him, that there will be an army of humans coming. After that, he left.

For now, he just gonna observe the situation.

On the screen, he can see that they already started moving. Ghorm already ordered all the goblin riders to come back to the den. So, what was left in the forest were low-level goblin riders who doesn't have time to come back and died at the hands of the humans.

Since there were not many obstacles in their way, the human army successfully arrived at the lair.

The three leaders ordered everyone to move forward. The rogue cultivators and small forces gritted their teeth and moved forward, they don't have a choice. As for the forces under the three leaders, they followed behind.