

I. Family 1367

Chapter 1367: Each Fulfills Their Duties, Bai Ling Has Been Pregnant for 1 Year and 4 Months_3

Lu Qingzhu herself usually likes to read books and has trained in Pupil Skills, making her somewhat of a treasure appraiser.

So Lu Qingshan opened this shop for his sister, doing business in this area.

Every time he came back from a mission, he would consign the Heavenly and Earthly Treasures he obtained to his sister's shop, making the 'Little Bamboo Loft' business quite successful in the Jinyang Sect's marketplace.

"Little Bamboo, I don't have anything to do next, and just in half a month, the spiritual vessel of the Jinyang Sect will head to Azure Phoenix Immortal City, so we can go home for a visit."

Lu Qingshan looked at his sister's quiet demeanor, smiled, and said.

He actually felt indifferent about going home.

After all, a man travels the world, how can he always long for his hometown!

The day he truly wants to return must be the day he's famous, makes a great name, shakes the Yue Country, and forms his Golden Core.

However, his sister Lu Qingzhu is different from him in personality and is very attached to home.

Now that he has time, he is naturally willing to accompany his sister to visit home.

Additionally, he remembered his father advised earlier to return when there's time to reforge the Heavenly Circulation Starry Sword.

But besides reforging the sword, he has one more thing he wants to ask his father.

As time passes, his cultivation level increases, and his Sword Dao continues to advance, the Sword Seed within him has almost fused with him.

In this process, he can clearly feel the increasing enhancement it brings to him.

In such a situation, he is also somewhat curious about where his father obtained this Sword Seed.

After all, he's no longer a novice in cultivation.

He clearly realizes the preciousness of this 'Sword Seed,' which is definitely not something his father picked up casually as he'd said.

"Yeah, okay."

Upon hearing this, Lu Qingzhu's eyebrows curved with a smile, and she happily responded.

Then she immediately asked her brother what gifts she should prepare.

"Just a token will do."

Lu Qingshan said somewhat speechlessly.

Even with their situation, no matter how rich, they can't afford it.

Moreover, it's not easy for his sister to earn Spirit Stones.

After chatting for a while, he also asked his sister if she acquired any treasures lately.

Lu Qingshan has always disliked owing favors.

In the past, he obtained the Heavenly Circulation Starry Sword Embryo from Lu Ruyi, and he's always remembered this matter.

So, over the years, he has also prepared a few treasures.

But in his view, these few treasures still fall short compared to the Heavenly Circulation Starry Sword Embryo, so he's planning to prepare more.

...

Bi Lake Mountain.

Mount Sumeru Cave Heaven.

In Changsheng Hall, Lu Changsheng sat cross-legged, a green lotus seat spinning in front of him.

"Hoo, refining this Treasure Emperor Lotus is not easy."

After a long while, he opened his eyes, took a deep breath, and said with emotion.

If not for the Tianyuan True Monarch helping him establish a connection with the Treasure Emperor Lotus, it would take three to five years to refine this lotus seat into a Second Dantian.

He didn't bury himself in refining, he walked out of the cave mansion, intending to relax... oh no, to strive for the family's future.

"Hmm?"

Just as he exited Changsheng Hall, Lu Changsheng saw in the distance the stump-like Peachwood Spirit Womb flowing with pink radiance, nine peach blossoms, exquisitely crafted like jade, breathing in spiritual energy, extraordinarily beautiful.

Lu Changsheng knew that this sign indicated Hong Lian would soon complete the reconstruction of her physical body and break out of the womb.

He was delighted.

Once Hong Lian's physical body is reconstructed, he could head to the Jin Kingdom without worry.

“Hmm?”

As soon as he stepped out of the Cave Heaven, Lu Changsheng raised an eyebrow, seeing a swirl of nature's spiritual energy forming a vortex in the distant back mountain, indicating someone was attempting a Foundation Establishment breakthrough.

And judging by the looks of it, the breakthrough seemed imminent.

Lu Changsheng went to the Lu Family Mansion, casually inquiring and learned that the person undergoing Foundation Establishment was from the Hundred Birds Lake Bai Family.

“Bai Family...”

Lu Changsheng heard this and felt somewhat emotional.

Over the years, apart from not providing them with Foundation Establishment Elixirs, he had given them considerable support, ensuring no shortage of shared benefits.

The Bai Family also used these resources to support two people towards Foundation Establishment, but both failed their breakthrough.

Now, seeing that the Bai Family finally produced a second Foundation Establishment cultivator, Lu Changsheng was happy for them.

Beside him, Lu Miaoyun, Lu Miaohuan, and others also felt somewhat emotional.

They recalled the past when Bi Lake Mountain, Qingzhu Mountain, Hundred Birds Lake, and Wugong Ridge formed an alliance.

Now, decades later, Wugong Ridge has changed hands, Hundred Birds Lake has finally nurtured its second Foundation Establishment cultivator, and Qingzhu Mountain also has three Foundation Establishment cultivators.

As for Bi Lake Mountain, it has already become a False Core Family, with more than twenty Foundation Establishment cultivators.

Usually, they felt somewhat emotional, but not much else.

Yet, at this moment, compared with Qingzhu Mountain and Hundred Birds Lake, they clearly realized how impressive their growth was, no wonder it made many families jealous.

“Hmm, Xingchen has a Dao Companion?”

During dinner, while Lu Changsheng was chatting with his wives and concubines, he heard something, lightly raised his brow, and laughed.

Nowadays, as the children of Bi Lake Mountain grow older, they gradually start families.

He was happy to see such situations, and hearing that his son Lu Xingchen has a Dao Companion, he was slightly pleased.

“It seems they’re not quite Dao Companions yet, but I’ve heard from Caizhen that the two almost have that intent...”

Xia Zhizue briefly mentioned the situation of the girl.

Upon hearing this, Lu Changsheng nodded slightly, not saying much.

The descendants will have their own fortunes, and he is happy to see such matters but would not interfere.

However, hearing that the other party was a Loose Cultivator, he still instructed the family to investigate her background slightly.

After all, with the current situation of the Lu Family, many people have their eyes on them, and some might think of making a breakthrough from the Lu Family disciples.
