Chapter 1369: Hong Lian Emerges, Heading to Jin Kingdom!_2

Lu Miaoge immediately took out a robe and handed it to Hong Lian.

Only to see Hong Lian gently raise her delicate hand, and the crystal-clear wood chips from the previously exploded Peachwood Spirit Womb were directly condensed by her into a red luxurious palace dress.

Although the Peachwood Spirit Womb was used by her to create a physical body, the remaining materials were still precious and rare.

Especially the nine crystal-clear petals on the stump, which could be refined into a Life-bound Magic Treasure.

“Buzz!”

The nine peach petals slowly floated onto her black silky hair, vibrant and brilliant, adding an extra touch of beauty to her.

“Thank you, Daoist Miaoge. As a Spirit Embryo Physique, these remaining materials from the Spirit Womb resonate with me, wearing them long-term will benefit my cultivation.”

Hong Lian, being a person experienced in major events, only blushed slightly for a moment before returning to normal, her voice light and melodious.

“Hong Lian, how is your strength now?”

Lu Changsheng looked at Hong Lian in front of him, curious to inquire.

Although Hong Lian had just emerged and was only at the Third Rank.

But as a Spirit Embryo Physique, her foundation should not be inferior to a Superior Grade Gold Core, or even a First Grade Gold Core.

“Young master, my current cultivation and magical power are enough to rival a First Grade Gold Core.”

“However, my Spirit Embryo has just formed, and I haven’t cultivated any methods yet. Previously, I couldn’t use any divine skills or refine magic treasures, so in terms of combat power, I can only be considered at the Initial Stage of Core Formation.”

Hong Lian voiced.

Originally, she could have allowed the Spirit Embryo to continue nurturing, and even use it to cultivate and perfect her cultivation techniques.

But she knew Lu Changsheng had many tasks entrusted to her, so she spent all her time and energy on reshaping her physical body.

Now that the body has been reshaped, breaking out from the womb equated to a blank slate at the Core Formation stage, and in battle, only relying on magical power suppression.

“Ordinary Core Formation.”

Lu Changsheng nodded.

He understood that this ‘ordinary Core Formation’ did not refer to some low-grade Core Formation novice, but a middle-grade True Elixir.

“However, if I employ certain techniques, I can hold my own against some at the Middle Stage of Core Formation.”

Hong Lian added.

Even though she currently couldn’t use many spells and divine skills.

But during her peak, she was a Nascent Soul True Lord, still possessing some secret techniques as trump cards.

If truly fighting to the death, not to mention the Middle Stage of Core Formation, even the Late Stage, she could hope to severely injure them.

However, she felt there was no need to boast too much about this.

“Alright, I’m preparing to go on a long journey, I need you to be in charge at home...”

Lu Changsheng didn’t focus too much on her combat strength and spoke out.

He had stayed at home all these days to accompany his wives and children, waiting for Hong Lian to be born, so he could then head to the Jin Kingdom.

Now that Hong Lian was born, he naturally did not intend to delay any longer.

“Please rest assured, young master, Hong Lian will certainly oversee everything at home.”

Hong Lian’s voice was gentle and pleasant, like a distant breeze.

After speaking, she looked towards Lu Miaoge and Ling Zixiao, and the others, saying: “Then I will rely on you fellow Daoists for advice.”

“Daoist Hong Lian is too polite.”

Lu Miaoge, Ling Zixiao, and others quickly said.

Although Hong Lian was unassuming and referred to them as peers, they still felt a bit constrained in front of her.

Regarding this, Lu Changsheng said nothing.

With time, after getting along, things will naturally improve.

Lu Changsheng then briefly explained the situation.

The main task for Hong Lian was to take over his usual affairs.

Alchemy, Artifact Refining, and Teaching.

In terms of Alchemy, she would be responsible for creating rare elixirs like the Foundation Establishment Elixir and the Breakthrough Elixir.

As a Third Rank Superior Grade Alchemist, her level was a tier higher than Lu Changsheng's, and creating the elixirs needed by Bi Lake Mountain was naturally not a problem.

As for Artifact Refining, it depended on the need to forge some magic artifacts for family use.

Currently, Lu Changsheng primarily planned to use the 'Heartburn Flame' to forge a Qi Refining Tower.

Lu Changsheng had been very interested in this Qi Refining Tower, but was always too busy, so he planned to leave it for Hong Lian to forge.

With Hong Lian being a Third Rank Artifact Refiner and an Array Master, she was even more suitable for forging this Qi Refining Tower than Lu Changsheng himself.

Additionally, his trip to the Jin Kingdom was expected to take about a year, and if it proved too challenging, they could work together on it upon his return.

As for the last task of Teaching, it was one of the earliest duties Lu Changsheng had intended to assign to Hong Lian.

After finishing, Lu Changsheng extracted the 'Heartburn Flame' from the System Space, letting it float in the Mount Sumeru Cave Heaven.

He then handed over the 'Cave Mystique Treasure Mirror' after erasing his mark on it.

Hong Lian glanced at the invisible Heartburn Flame, accepted the 'Cave Mystique Treasure Mirror', and seriously said: "Please rest assured, young master!"

This act by Lu Changsheng instilled a sense of trust in her.

"By the way, there is also this magic treasure, if you have time, perhaps you could reforge it."

Lu Changsheng took out another magic treasure, which was White Peak Immortal's Life-bound Magic Treasure.

Back when he killed White Peak Immortal, he acquired three magic treasures.

The set of nine small arrows was currently being used by him.

He had initially dismissed the opponent's flying escape treasure, gifting it to his daughter Lu Wangshu for cultivating the Treasure Body Technique.

As for this small platinum mountain, he had considered reforging it himself for use in Body Cultivation techniques.

But, again, he was too busy with work, leaving no time or energy for Artifact Refining.

He barely managed to occasionally create some talismans now, even in the field of Talisman Making.

"Hmm!?"

Ling Zixiao, looking at this watermelon-sized white platinum mountain exuding a thick and heavy aura, couldn't help but take a few extra glances, saying: "This magic treasure seems to resemble White Peak Immortal's Life-bound Magic Treasure?"

Lu Changsheng was a bit surprised that Ling Zixiao recognized this magic treasure.

It seemed that White Peak Immortal was indeed quite famous.
