Chapter 1390: What, Lu Changsheng and Yaoyao Went to Have Fun?_2

Nangong Yaoyao's purple gauze dress was covered with a crystalline and translucent Yin Yang Mysterious Light, faintly glowing, exceedingly beautiful and ethereal.

"Hey, this seems to be Heartless Ridge."

At this moment, she spotted a mountain range below and spoke up.

"Do you want to take a look?"

Lu Changsheng was not really familiar with this place called Heartless Ridge.

His understanding of the Jin Kingdom was limited to the conditions of a few major forces.

"No need, this is a Spirit Land governed by the Five Poisons Cult, I've been here before with Sister Xiaochan."

Nangong Yaoyao spoke up, then began to introduce the situation here to Lu Changsheng.

In this way, the father and daughter laughed and chatted on the Golden-Winged Heavenly Peng.

From the Immortal Spider Marketplace to the branch of the Myriad Beasts Mountain Range was quite a distance.

But with the Golden-Winged Heavenly Peng, they reached there in just seven days.

This speed made Nangong Yaoyao exclaim in surprise.

"Is this the Myriad Beasts Mountain Range?"

She looked at the endless mountains ahead, slightly raised her head, and said: "Father, didn't you say there are many demon beasts in the Myriad Beasts Mountain Range? Why haven't I seen a single one?"

"..."

Lu Changsheng sometimes couldn't tell if his daughter was genuinely clueless or just pretending, and he laughed, "Demon beasts are very sensitive to auras, with the aura of the Golden Peng permeating, of course no demon beasts dare to appear."

"Besides, this is just the outer region of the Myriad Beasts Mountain Range, so the number of demon beasts isn't large either."

With the bloodline effect of the Golden-Winged Heavenly Peng, it reigns supreme in the Myriad Beasts Mountain Range!

Previously, when Lu Changsheng entered the Myriad Beasts Mountain Range to slay Demon Kings and seize Spirit Veins, he had to spend some effort.

But now with the Golden Peng, through bloodline suppression, it could make a Third Rank Demon King inexplicably weaken by three gates.

"Oh, right."

The young girl suddenly looked enlightened, then giggled adorably, her big eyes constantly looking at the mountain range ahead, filled with endless curiosity and exploration.

"Dad, could you catch me a mount?"

Suddenly, she tugged at Lu Changsheng's sleeve, her eyes full of hopeful anticipation.

"No problem."

Lu Changsheng smiled and snapped his fingers.

The Golden-Winged Heavenly Peng immediately spread its wings in the air and shot towards the Myriad Beasts Mountain Range, tearing through the air.

"A Third Rank Demon King!"

"How could a Third Rank Demon King appear here!"

From afar, the originally roaring and howling demon beasts were so frightened they shivered, unable to move.

And some cultivators who were hunting demon beasts in the mountains had cold hands and feet, not daring to move, not knowing why a Third Rank Demon King appeared in the Myriad Beasts Mountain Range.

"It seems someone is on top of that Demon King!"

"Gasp, could this be the spiritual pet and mount of a Nascent Soul Immortal!?"

"To act so arrogantly in the Myriad Beasts Mountain Range, it's definitely not an ordinary Nascent Soul Immortal!"

A Foundation Establishment Demon Hunting Team looked in awe, envy, respect, and admiration at the distant Golden-Winged Heavenly Peng.

"If I could become a Nascent Soul Immortal in this life, it would be amazing..."

Someone sighed in admiration and longing.

"A Nascent Soul Immortal, you sure have big dreams!? Even forming a False Core would be enough to make my ancestors smile in heaven."

"Sigh, my wish is much simpler, just to earn enough Spirit Stones to settle down in Ming Sha City."

"Ming Sha City, really aiming high, a house there costs over a hundred thousand Spirit Stones..."

This group of Foundation Establishment Cultivators chatted and sighed for a bit, then continued to cautiously advance.

"My father is really something..."

Although Nangong Yaoyao had not been to the Myriad Beasts Mountain Range before, she had quite a bit of understanding about it.

Seeing her father travel so blatantly, she was filled with emotion.

During this time, her beautiful eyes scanned the surroundings to see if there were any decent demon beasts suitable as mounts.

Actually, she didn't have much thought about mounts.

If she truly wanted one, her mother Nangong Mili would have already prepared it for her.

She simply thought that since they came to the Myriad Beasts Mountain Range, they should find something to do.

Moreover, by frequently asking her father for help, she could give him a sense of being needed, thereby nurturing the father-daughter bond.

"Golden Peng, restrain your aura a bit."

At this moment, Lu Changsheng spoke to the Golden-Winged Heavenly Peng.

If it continued emitting such spiritual pressure, apart from the Third Rank Demon Kings, no demon beasts would dare to appear.

And if he wanted to train his daughter by catching demon beasts, he naturally could only look for Second Rank demon beasts.

Even if he suppressed a Third Rank Demon King, his daughter could not possibly tame it.

Even capturing Second Rank demon beasts would prove challenging.

"Screech!"

The Golden-Winged Heavenly Peng let out a prolonged cry, and its dazzling body dimmed significantly, its pervasive demon qi dropping from Third Rank to Second Rank.

As a Third Rank Demon King, disguising its aura was naturally not a problem.

However, under such a disguise, its strength and speed would definitely be affected.

With the Golden-Winged Heavenly Peng's aura restrained, occasionally some fierce bird demon beasts would appear, roaring and howling at Lu Changsheng, thinking he was invading their territory.

The bloodline grade of these demon beasts was not bad, so Lu Changsheng began capturing and hunting demon beasts with his daughter.

Occasionally, when encountering some suitable demon beasts, he would let his daughter try her hand, testing her abilities.

"The methods of the Five Poisons Cult are completely not suited for direct combat."

Lu Changsheng thought to himself as he watched his daughter engage a Bear Demon.

Nangong Yaoyao's methods mainly relied on Gu Poison as the main tactic, with Charm as a supplement.

Facing such demon beasts, she was even somewhat restrained.

It was far from the simple, direct, and efficient methods of Sword Cultivators or Talisman Cultivators.

However, as she possessed the Flawless Heavenly Fragrance Body, she couldn't cultivate other techniques, so he just prepared more means for her.

"Ah, father help!"

Nangong Yaoyao cried out for help when she saw the Bear Demon unaffected by poison and continuing to approach her.

"Splat!"

With a flick, Lu Changsheng instantly killed the Bear Demon.

"Wow, father is amazing!"

The young girl immediately looked at Lu Changsheng with adoration, her eyes sparkling like stars.

"This is a bit exaggerated."
