Chapter 1399: Nangong Mili: This Dog Man Only Has Eyes for His Daughter!_2

Through her daughter's words, she realized this Gu insect was perfectly matched with her daughter.

As long as this Heavenly Fragrance Gu can be refined into a lifebound Gu worm and properly nurtured, in the future, her daughter's Flawless Heavenly Fragrance Body will reach an unprecedented level.

Additionally, the effects of this Heavenly Fragrance Gu... are very similar to the heritage of the Immortal Lotus Sect.

"Mother, what is this providence?"

Nangong Yaoyao blinked her big eyes in confusion upon hearing her mother's words.

"I've come to find you, as there is something I want to discuss with you."

Nangong Mili took a deep breath and said earnestly.

"Five days ago, an envoy from the Immortal Lotus Sect, White Lotus True Monarch, came to the Five Poisons Cult."

"This visit was partly for matters within the cult, but also to select a few people to go to the Immortal Lotus Sect, to strengthen the relationship between the two sects."

Nangong Mili revealed the affairs of the Immortal Lotus Sect to her daughter.

"Immortal Lotus Sect? Hmm, why does this name sound so familiar?"

Nangong Yaoyao tilted her head, feeling it sounded familiar.

The next moment, her starry eyes brightened, her pink lips slightly parted, and she asked, "Mother, is it that Immortal Lotus Sect that descends to the world and widely saves all beings?"

"Yes."

Nangong Mili nodded, her expression somewhat solemn as she said, "The mortal world is like a prison, all beings suffer, cycles of rebirth endlessly, troubles never cease; pitiful are the people, as the Immortal Lotus descends, to escape the sea of suffering, to forever enjoy peace and bliss, Lotus Holy Mother, pure land of the True Family..."

"The Immortal Lotus Sect is one of the top-level forces in the Southern Wilderness, with a Great True Monarch overseeing it. During the righteous and demonic war, countless righteous and demonic cultivators were brought to the pure land of the True Family by the Immortal Lotus Sect."

"Yaoyao, you have the Flawless Heavenly Fragrance Body, which is highly compatible with the Immortal Lotus Sect. If you could enter the sect, and obtain the sect's cultivation technique, 'Lotus Sutra of Worldly Salvation', there is a high probability you could break through to the Nascent Soul stage in the future."

Nangong Mili spoke, her phoenix-like eyes revealing a bit of longing.

Although she was the Heavenly Spider Envoy of the Five Poisons Cult, she wasn't very confident about breaking through to the Nascent Soul stage.

If her daughter could enter the Immortal Lotus Sect, her prospects would far exceed those in the Five Poisons Cult, making it highly likely for her to reach the Nascent Soul stage.

If she's determined enough to become a Holy Maiden of the Immortal Lotus Sect and receives strong cultivation support, reaching the Nascent Soul would be a certainty, and she might even aspire to become a Great True Monarch!

Nascent Soul peak cultivators are also known as Great True Monarchs by the world!

In places like the Jin Kingdom, Jiang Country, and Yue Country, these cultivation nations have never seen a Great True Monarch in thousands of years, all stopping at the Early Stage of Nascent Soul.

"Immortal Lotus Sect..."

Nangong Yaoyao lightly pressed her delicate lips, feeling somewhat tempted.

As one of the top-level forces in the Southern Wilderness, entering the Immortal Lotus Sect would naturally be a great fortune.

But if entering the sect means separating from her mother...

"The old demon earlier attacked you because of this, trying to prevent you from participating in the selection, reducing a strong competitor for his grandson."

Nangong Mili's eyes glinted coldly as she continued.

After learning about the arrival of the Immortal Lotus Sect's envoy, she surmised why the Wind Centipede Envoy would target her daughter.

Others didn't know about her daughter's constitution, but as one of the Core Formation Immortals in the Five Poisons Cult, the Wind Centipede Envoy was already aware that Nangong Yaoyao possessed a certain spiritual body, a bewitching body.

This constitution was highly compatible with the heritage of the Immortal Lotus Sect.

If his grandson were to compete against Nangong Yaoyao, he would likely not be a match.

Hence, he wanted to deal with Nangong Yaoyao to remove a formidable opponent for his grandson.

"Mother, the matter isn't decided yet. If I enter the Immortal Lotus Sect as an ordinary disciple, then forget about it."

Nangong Yaoyao said playfully without much sentimentality.

If there's an opportunity and the conditions are good, she would naturally choose to enter the Immortal Lotus Sect.

But if it's just as an ordinary disciple, it would be meaningless.

"With my Yaoyao's talent, how could she possibly be an ordinary disciple?"

Nangong Mili's phoenix-like eyes shimmered with motherly warmth as she affectionately pinched her daughter's fair cheek.

Most parents consider their children their pride.

Nangong Mili was no different.

And Nangong Yaoyao indeed was Nangong Mili's pride, whom she had high hopes for, believing her daughter had the potential to reach the Nascent Soul stage in the future.

"Hehe."

The girl in the purple dress giggled in the beautiful woman's embrace, then continued, "Mother, you also haven't told me what's up with dad; is there some conflict?"

"Hmph, don't mention that man!"

Now, when Nangong Mili heard her daughter mention Lu Changsheng, she felt a pang of resentment.

After all, having raised her daughter for so many years, within just two months, she was speaking up for that despicable man, making her feel like her cherished child was slipping away.

Earlier she could still say she could fulfill anything her daughter wanted.

But that despicable man was clearly well-prepared; after a barrage of sweet words and gifts, she was utterly defeated.

"If mother dislikes it, then Yaoyao won't bring it up, don't be angry."

Nangong Yaoyao coaxingly hugged her seeing her mother's demeanor.

Nangong Mili, seeing her daughter's manner, immediately felt her heart soften, thinking that her daughter interacting with Lu Changsheng wasn't all bad.

Although she cursed at the despicable man daily, through their long interactions, she also understood Lu Changsheng's character.

He was very tolerant and forgiving to his own.

Even though she went against him and cursed at him every day, aside from degrading himself, he did nothing much and even helped nurture her Golden Core.

As for regarding children, he was impeccable.

If her daughter spent more time with this father, it would also be a good thing.

But thinking of her beloved daughter having a cordial time with Lu Changsheng made her very uneasy, fearing one day her daughter might be lured away by that despicable man.

But thinking about the matter of the Immortal Lotus Sect, Nangong Mili gently stroked her daughter's head and softly said, "Go say goodbye to him, then come back to the cult with me for a while."
